25 cents

As though one death weren't enough for any man, a group of local youths decided to trash Wildwood Cemetery recently, knocking down about 100 gravestones, shattering some of them. Many of the stones, located mostly near the cemetery office, are more than 100 years old.

Tax rate set: down to $73.40

Winchester's tax rate has been approved at $73.40, a decrease of 20 cents per $1000 of value.

In disclosing the rate, Board of Assessors Chairman George L. Andersen said, "The board of assessors and the town comptroller went to the Department of Corporation and Taxation Tuesday and had the town tax rate approved."

"The tax rate was decreased to $73.40 because of several factors. All the town departments, town officials, the town boards and committees are to be lauded for their austere attitudes. The town meeting members especially, the favorable state reimbursements, the increase in assessed values, and the transfer of $400,000 from general surplus are some of the reasons our tax rate decreased to $73.40.

"It takes hundreds of dedicated, interested, and involved people to make a town function effectively and efficiently. 'Thanks to all those hundreds of people who make Winchester Winchester.'"

The last tax rate decrease for a 12-month fiscal year was back in 1971-72 when the rate dropped from $61.30 to $61.

In addition to Andersen, the members of the board of assessors are Sumner M. Beal, Jr., and John R. Wiseman, Jr. The town comptroller is James J. Costello.

Sign up for kids' theater Sept. 8 & 9

Signups for this year's Winchester Children's Theater are Sept. 8 and 9. Old-timers should show up on the eighth between 1-3 p.m.; newcomers should sign up between 1-3 p.m. on the ninth.

The children's theater is for local children aged 4-14. Elaine Casparian of Belmont is the new director, and Celia Schneider, who worked with the theater last year, is choreographer.

Spring election

Seven candidates neglect to file papers

Seven of the 23 candidates in last spring's town elections did not file campaign financial statements, which is required under state law.

The law, Chapter 55, outlines requirements for disclosure and regulation of campaign expenditures and contributions and states, "Whether or not a contribution has been received or an expenditure has been made during any reporting period as described in this section, a candidate or political committee shall file the required report for said reporting period."

Candidates John Twomey, Stephen Edgell III, Austin Broadhurst, Eugene Rotondi, Anthony Paone, Michael Scotti and Charles Tsekares did not file the forms with the town clerk's office. Not all of those who did file did so for all reporting periods.

Of those who did file, Selectman candidate

Arthur E. Dunbar spent the most money on his campaign: $838. An additional $203.90 was received "in kind." The filed statement lists 11 persons who contributed more than $15 to Dunbar's campaign, including Dunbar himself. He won a seat on the board.

Selectman Richard N. Wilsack raised the most money: $1065, with 20 persons contributing more than $15, again including the candidate himself. Of this, Wilsack spent $721.65 in his successful campaign.

Catherine Alexander raised and spent $719.12 in her unsuccessful bid for a seat on the school committee. She listed 24 contributors of more than $15. She also received $18.34 "in kind" for her campaign.

Heinrich Holland, who won a seat on the school board, raised and spent $720 with 16 persons chipping in more than $15.

Of the other candidates for school committee who turned in statements, Charles Friou raised and spent $493.53 (with six major contributors) and Peter Philiou raised and spent $242 (with seven major contributors).

Assessor George L. Andersen spent $656.85 of his own money, according to the records. The only others to report raising any money were the two men who ran for Northeast Metropolitan Regional Vocational School representative: Michael McGann, who raised and spent $81.60; and Gerard Donahoe, who raised and spent $57.05. Donahoe won.

Most of the money was spent on advertising and postage.

Seven candidates reported spending no money in their campaigns. They are, with the offices they ran for:

Alvan G. Smith Jr., selectman; John J. Sullivan, moderator; Joseph V. Bentley, assessor; Lawrence F. Quigley, board of health; Loretta C. Redding, library trustee; Susan McGonagle, library trustee; and John H. Van Dyke, housing authority.

The campaign finance legislation was amended by three acts in 1975. Copies of the law are on file at the town clerk's office in Town Hall.

Ambulance called out for accidents

Winchester Firemen had a quiet week, responding to a number of routine calls. The ambulance crew was called out to three accidents.

The ambulance responded at 1:58 Tuesday afternoon to a one-car accident at Thornberry road and Berkshire drive where Martha Lynch, 17, of 9 Fairlane terr. skidded into an Edison pole.

According to police reports, Miss Lynch was turning from Johnson road onto Berkshire when her brakes locked and she

Selectmen consider veto of town manager appointment; but Graffeo wins approval

The selectmen ran up against a quirk in the town charter Monday night when they voted against their better judgment to accept an appointment made by Town Manager Thomas Groux.

While the charter gives the manager the power to make appointments, the selectmen have the power to veto them. The board has 15 days for such review, says the charter.

In this particular case, Groux appointed A. Paul Graffeo two weeks ago to the position of operations manager for buildings and grounds in the department of public works. Groux reportedly told Graffeo that he should give his former employer, Somerville Hospital, his notice. Graffeo did this.

Because Graffeo had given notice, the selectmen felt they could not turn down his appointment, even though a majority of the board felt he did not meet the qualifications for the job.

Selectmen Harry Chelaflo and Richard Wilsack voted to veto the appointment in the end. However both men expressed reservations as to whether or not they in good conscience could veto the appointment, considering the circumstances. "Had this appointment been handled differently I would not vote to approve it," Wilsack said, before the lengthy discussion which led him to change his mind.

Selectman Edward O'Connell, though he recognized the power to veto and opposed the appointment, voted to accept Groux's choice.

Monday night was the last day under the 15-day period set up for selectmen review of the appointment; a decision had to be reached. O'Connell said, "I cannot vote against this appointment because it would be grossly unfair to Mr. Graffeo's personal and professional security." He asked that his remarks be recorded. Chelaflo and Wilsack voted to veto Groux's appointment based on their belief that Graffeo's qualifications did not meet the advertised requirements for the job.

Selectman Chairman Barbara S. Hankins countered the predicament in which the three members found themselves. She said, "If you feel that way you have the power to veto this appointment. You do have this power."

When the motion to veto was made by Chelaflo and seconded by Wilsack, O'Connell said, "I'll bail you out of this one, Harry." He voted against the veto, stating, however, that his sympathies were with the vote in favor. Mrs. Hankins and Arthur Dunbar also voted against the veto. The town manager was on vacation and not present at this meeting.

Although Harry E. Chelaflo's motion to veto failed passage by one vote, it was the first time that a veto had even been considered by the board. The discussion was fraught with questions of interpretation of job descriptions and advertised notices, of professional ethics in a case where an appointment had already been made, and of possible changes in the charter to avoid future problems of this kind.

Under the reorganization of the various public works divisions into one department, the town manager appointed three operations managers, directly below the DPW director. Two had been previously appointed with no discussion in public session of the selectmen's meetings. They are Edward J. Murphy (highway division) and William Conlon (water and sewer). After Monday night's meeting, Selectman Arthur E. Dunbar said that the board felt there was no need to call those two men in for an interview. He added, however, that in this case, some members of the board felt an interview was necessary.

Selectmen questioned 32 year old Graffeo intensively about his job as supervisor of the grounds and buildings at the Somerville Hospital, where he has been employed in a supervisory capacity for six years. He told the board that he expects to receive a B.S. in business administration in November and that he currently holds journeyman and master's licenses as an electrician. The ad calls for a mechanical or electrical degree. Selectman Harry E. Chelaflo, referring to the advertisement for the job, said, "Did you read the job description before you applied?" "Yes." "You don't qualify. You don't now have that degree. Do you have the ten years of experience which are required?"

Graffeo responded, "I have six years of supervisory experience and an associate's degree. I thought that background would be adequate."

DPW Director Walter J. Tonaszuck, who accompanied Graffeo to the meeting, interjected, "Mr. Graffeo's experience goes back. When we drew up the job description we did it with no one in particular in mind. In the screening process we found intangible properties which enhance certain persons although they may not have exact qualifications called for. Mr. Graffeo certainly has some of the qualifications."

Barbara Hankins noted that the job description calls for "equivalent experience" in lieu of certain educational and supervisory criteria. "It is possible to make up a deficiency in a specific field with experience," she said.

Town Counsel Douglas A. Randall, responding to a question from Chelaflo, said, "Qualifications are oftentimes guidelines for hiring and not necessarily stringent requirements. For example, if a job calls for

Appointments made to DPW posts

The six major positions in the department of public works have been filled. Thomas J. Groux, town manager, made the following appointments since July 1:

Water and sewer division: Operations manager is William T. Conlon, 55, of Canal street. The former superintendent of the water and sewer department joined the department in January of 1956. Field supervisor in this division is Albert Olivadoti, 57, of Richardson street. Olivadoti, an 18-year veteran of the department, was the former assistant superintendent of water and sewer.

Highway division: Operations manager is Edward J. Murphy, former assistant superintendent of streets. Murphy, a resident of Avalon road in Stoneham, is 48. He came to work in September of 1948. Working with him as field supervisor is John Murphy, a 28-year-old Nelson street resident. Murphy worked in the engineering department since 1970.

Buildings and grounds division: A. Paul Graffeo, 32 of Medford, was just appointed to this position. He had been employed by Somerville Hospital. Field supervisor in this division is Richard Tofuri, former foreman in the park department and acting superintendent in the absence of the park department superintendent. Tofuri, 42, lives at Ardley place and came to work in 1953.

Police news

Early riser surprises burglar

If it's true the early birds get the worms, then there's more than one meaning to the phrase.

Albampton road resident Edward Brule woke up around 5:30 a.m. on Aug. 23 and noticed a man run out in front of his neighbor's house. Brule walked around and looked out in front of his own house and saw the man walking across the lawn carrying Brule's two chainsaws.

"Those were my bread and butter," says Brule, who is in the construction business. So he quickly pulled on some pants, grabbed his shotgun (unloaded) and ran out after the thief.

"I hollered at him, and when he saw the gun he dropped the chainsaws and ran," relates Brule. The thief left his car behind; Brule walked over and found most of his tools lying in the trunk, worth about $1100 altogether. Lying on the front lawn were some other items, including a tape deck and a saw, belonging to some of Brule's neighbors on the street.

Brule's wife called the police, and Brule, after chasing the thief away, waited for their arrival.

Officers Kenneth Albertelli and Theodore Yencapoulos responded to the call and found that the thief—who they believe had some help—had been rifling goods from cars and garages up and down the street in the early morning hours.

Inspector William O'Neil is investigating, and police say they are close to making an arrest.

In other police news, there were scattered reports of vandalism in an otherwise quiet week.

Two Somerville men in their 20s were found trespassing in the Fells; one was arrested and charged with idle and disorderly conduct as well as trespassing. Police are seeking a summons for the other man.

On Aug. 22 the medical building on Church street was broken into. Entry was gained through a side window, and a small amount of drugs and cash were reported missing from one of the offices.

A Sheffield road resident reported Aug. 25 that a tape deck had been stolen from a car. The equipment was valued at $45.

Mike Leavitt, suburban reporter for Channel 7, came out to interview local personalities on the back steps of the Wyman School last week for a new program on suburban issues. Gathered on the steps are, clockwise from lower left, Selectmen Chairman Barbara Hankins, Moderator John Sullivan, Wyman parent Nancy Mills, and School Committeewoman Constance Papas. The issue of the day? School closings, of course.

Early deadline for Sept. 8 issue

Due to the Labor Day holiday Monday, The Star's offices will be closed all day. News deadline for the Sept. 8 issue will be Friday, Sept. 2 at 5 p.m.

Advertising deadlines for the Sept. 8 paper will remain the same: Tuesday at noon for display advertising; Tuesday at 4 p.m. for classified advertising.

The ambulance responded to a one-car accident at Thornberry road and Berkshire drive Tuesday where the car operated by Martha Lynch, 17, of 9 Fairlane terr. skidded into an Edison pole. Both she and her sister Amy, 15, were taken to the hospital. Assisting here are Lt. Joseph Faga, Officer Dan Pearson, Firefighter John Nowell, and Firefighter Frank Encalada. Both young women suffered minor cuts and bruises.

Selectmen set fees

The board of selectmen have set the new fee schedule for licenses. Most of the fees have remained as they were with a couple of notable exceptions.

A major change was made in the fees for hackney carriages. They will be $15 per license now and a new application will cost $50. Former fees were one dollar for both types.

The $25 fee to cover DPW costs in moving the chuck wagon and other activities was not approved, selectmen voting instead to retain the one dollar fee. The board withheld final decision on the public amusement license, currently set at one dollar and recommended at five dollars, wishing clarification on non-profit and profit making organization use of the license.

James Vanar, staff assistant for budgeting and purchasing made the recommendations following communication with various departments. The following table includes only those fees set by the board of selectmen. It does not include those set by statute. The board wants further information about those particular fees and will await the results of Vanar's research into the individual statutes. One problem, for example, is whether a statutory fee of $15 is the maximum which can be charged or the actual set fee itself.

As Vanar comes up with the statutes, the board will take those fees under advisement. An asterisk before the type of license indicates that the applicant is to complete a printed form.

Dr. Susan M. Swap named to Wheelock

Susan Mcallister Swap, a leading authority on special education, has been appointed to a faculty position at Wheelock College in Boston.

Dr. Swap, a local resident, will serve as coordinator of Wheelock's undergraduate special education program and as an associate professor in the departments of early childhood education, psychology and sociology.

Her primary responsibility will involve program development, teaching and student advisement in Wheelock's special education program, according to Academic Dean Dr. Brunetta Wolfman.

"We are very pleased that Dr. Swap has accepted this important academic appointment," Dr. Wolfman said. "She is an outstanding teacher and researcher."

Dr. Swap gained her reputation in special education at Tufts University where she was an assistant professor; directed the school's graduate program in special education, and developed a number of courses for the Eliot-Pearson Department of Child Study. She also served as a psychological consultant to the Medford Public Schools. She has published a number of articles in the field of special education.

Dr. Swap holds Ph.D. and M.S. degrees from the University of Michigan and an A.B. from Radcliffe College.

★ Appointment

an electrical engineering degree, a person whose education was completed at the high school level would probably not apply."

A 32-year-old Medford resident, Graffeo told the board that he had been chief electrician at the Somerville Hospital before becoming supervisor. He was in charge of planning, organizing, and directing 23 or 24 men. He was also responsible for the security of the building and served as fire marshal as well.

Under his management, he said, about 75 percent of the employees left their union. "I try to run a department as if I were a worker, and the men responded by resigning from the union." He acknowledged that the union was not a strong one and that grievance procedures were similar for both union and non-union members.

Graffeo said that while he did not profess to know "everything about everything" which would fall under his supervision, he did believe in a philosophy of "compassion and fairness." He said that he would seek opinions from employees who had worked for the DPW for a long time. "It is important for employees to have responsibility and to give credit for ideas," he said. "The last thing I want is to have anyone afraid to approach me because of an inconsistent attitude on my part."

Graffeo explained that a firm and fair policy which is consistent every day was his first major accomplishment. Selectman Wilsack asked Graffeo what he considered his four most important accomplishments.

In addition to "personal credibility," Graffeo enumerated the following three attainments: Setting up a plant maintenance system of cataloging and filing by number every piece of mechanical equipment. He said that job took two and a half years. Decreasing boiler pressure from 90 to 70 pounds, thereby saving on wear and tear of the boiler but without adverse effects to the hospital. Running refrigeration and heating at 85 percent capability, resulting in a savings of $30,000 to $40,000.

As to future plans, Graffeo said he would like to continue taking courses and perhaps attain a fireman's license and a real estate license as well as pursuing a mechanical engineering degree.

Before discussion on the appointment Mrs. Hankins thanked Graffeo for meeting with the board. She said, "I'm sure this must have felt like the Spanish Inquisition."

After Graffeo and Tonaszuck left the meeting, the board debated their role as a vetoing body. Chafalo said, "I am very impressed but I don't know what to do with the job description."

O'Connell concurred: "The ad chafes a bit."

Wilsack said, "I don't feel we do have much of a veto role."

Mrs. Hankins explained how the predicament came about. "The board of selectmen has tried very hard to be sure that there is no undue political influence over Mr. Groux's appointments. We do not know which choices have been considered for an appointment until the final decision has been made by him. The charter, approved by the town, gives us the power, within 15 days of an appointment, to veto that appointment. If you feel strongly, then veto the appointment. You do have that power."

The board then voted on Chafalo's motion to veto. The vote failed and A. Paul Graffeo is the operations manager for buildings and grounds.

New projects underway at WHS

Four new projects are getting underway, all related to problems and procedures at the high school. Listed in the current high school newsletter, they are:

1) A committee of parents, students and staff has been established to review the school philosophy and make any changes deemed necessary.

2) A committee of parents, students and staff has been established to review scheduling procedures.

3) A committee of parents, students and staff has been established to review disciplinary procedures and establish new rules and regulations if deemed necessary or determine viable alternatives to the disciplinary methods now being used.

4) Each department has been directed to review its curriculum and establish necessary changes as they would be deemed necessary to cover the eventuality of the high school becoming a four year school instead of the present three year school.

Children's council to hold elections

The Mystic Valley Council for Children is having its annual election to the board of directors at 7:30 on September 8, at the First Congregational Church in Winchester.

Areas needing board members are: parent of children with special needs; representatives from parent advisory groups; foster care and adoptive providers; and kids between the ages of 14 and 17.

Though these specific categories need to be filled, anyone interested in children is urged to participate in the Council's activities.

Proposed sub-committees of the council are day care, adolescent needs, legislative advocacy, proposal review, needs assessment, children's resource directory and campership consortium. In addition, the council hopes to carry out local advocacy projects.

The Mystic Valley Council for Children is interested in recruiting board members who would enjoy working with these committees.

Interested persons can call Carla Masse at 729-4350 or simply attend the elections. Nominations will be taken from the floor.

THE WINCHESTER STAR

Serving The Community For Over 95 Years

Breathing space

The tax rate was approved this week, and it is down 20 cents from last year to $73.40.

In an age of inflation and increasing pressures from state mandated programs, that's an accomplishment. The assessors have cited three main reasons for the drop.

First of all, the final figures on state aid for Winchester are up substantially from the estimates released last spring. Second, Winchester has seen the addition of enough new homes in the past year to add a good chunk to the tax base. And thirdly, town meeting last spring voted a hefty $400,000 to be applied from general surplus to the tax rate this year.

The latter move drew criticism from some finance committee members as fiscally unsound. The argument used to support this view was that while the tax base is increasing at a rate of about one percent per year, the town's expenditures are rising by about five percent per year.

If this discrepancy continues, which seems likely, the cautious words of the finance committee should not go unheeded — sooner or later, perhaps next year, such fiscal realities will catch up with the town.

Though houses continue to go up in Winchester, the growth rate has slowed and will continue to slow down, unless, of course, Winchester's zoning laws change radically in the next few years to allow for more multiple-unit dwellings. As far as expenditures go, it seems quite unlikely the upward pressure on wages will disappear. Costs for equipment and services will no doubt also continue to rise.

But nonetheless, there are some encouraging signs for the town's economy.

For one thing, the comptroller's office reports a surplus left over from last year's budget appropriation. Much of the $1.3 million as yet unspent will have to go for outstanding bills, uncompleted contracts, legal claims, and special projects in the town. But at least a few hundred thousand of that sum should be reverting back to general surplus — money in the bank, which is something we all like to have.

Why the surplus? Some of the funds were set aside to cover contract negotiations, and some of it was undoubtedly set aside as a safety valve against unanticipated expenditures. But it is also quite possible that some of the money is there because the committees and departments in this town are careful about how they spend their money.

Another healthy sign is the town manager's recent recommendation to the selectmen that nearly $56,000 left over in back accounts be turned back to the surplus fund. Some of those funds have been sitting idle for several years. The suggestion that these accounts be reviewed came at the spring town meeting, and the town manager has responded accordingly. Other departments ought to follow suit, and the review process should become an annual procedure. This at the least will provide a more accurate picture of the town's fiscal health.

While Chapter 766 (special education) has placed a heavy burden on the school system, the costs of the program should begin to level out in coming years. Start-up costs for the special programs and personnel will be replaced by operating costs, and as the system settles down, increases should more closely follow the trend of other, more established expenditures.

It may be a bit early to gauge the economic effects of the charter reorganization, but there are some signs here too. While some complain that the use of federally-paid CETA workers in the department of public works is an artificial savings, this does not seem to be the case. These workers are laboring at special projects in the town, projects which would amount to extra expenditures were Winchester to try to finance them on its own. Even if they are one-time savings, that is certainly better than no-time savings.

The town should keep a close watch on the new administration to see if the reorganization will indeed increase efficiency and save the town money.

There are few who believe costs will not continue to rise. And it is not hard to believe that at some point the tax rate will start back up again. But for one year at least, it's nice to have a little breathing space. — DKF

R.I.P.

On the surface, Winchester has little in common with New York City. But, by some proportion, the looting and rioting that took place during this summer's blackout in the city is no less outrageous than a small band of teenagers rioting among the dead in Wildwood Cemetery last week, knocking over and damaging nearly 100 gravestones.

In some respects, the act is even more outrageous. The uptown ghetto in New York is an incredibly destructive and demeaning environment, one which raises persons who share neither the benefits nor the values of the larger portion of our society — persons who are practically beyond the reach of that society, beyond its influence.

But the few who took their adolescent frustrations out on those silent old stone grave markers have no such excuse. There's no economic justification, hardly a social one — are they bored? oppressed? What do they suffer from?

It's hard to say what motivates someone to perform such a hellish deed. If only they understood how much life means to some folks, they might have more respect for the dead. — DKF

Pictorial editorial

Nineteen of the CETA workers employed by Winchester have at one time or another been working on a clean-up project around the reservoirs in the Fells. The project includes thinning out the woods, clearing drainage into the reservoirs, and keeping the utility roads in shape. The 19 men, who have been under the direction of town employee Larry Penta, include 10 Wilmington residents, two Reading residents, and seven men from Winchester.

Seeking donations

EDITOR OF THE STAR:

The Winchester Jaycee-ettes will hold their "Fabulous Flea Market" at the Winchester Town Hall parking lot on Saturday, September 24, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

The stores which have allowed the Jaycee-ettes to place posters in their windows and the cooperation of the newspapers, radio stations and church groups in the area have helped greatly in making both dealers and prospective patrons aware of the flea market. While many donations have been received for the Jaycee-ettes' white elephant table, Barbara Joyce, 17 Lloyd St., and Joanna Pywell, 44 Wildwood St., would appreciate hearing from anyone else with anything that could be sold at the table. They will be happy to arrange for pick up. If you are cleaning house, please remember what you no longer want may be just what someone else needs. If you are having a garage sale why not give your left overs to the Winchester Jaycee-ettes?

Mrs. Joanne La Pointe
11 Maxwell Rd.

One vote matters

EDITOR OF THE STAR:

A bill is coming up soon in the State Senate which is of great importance to the taxpayers of Massachusetts. Introduced in the House by Representatives Charles Doyle and Ray Flynn, it would prohibit the use of state funds to pay for elective abortions.

The bill was recently passed in the House by a wide margin, with our local representative Sherman W. Saltmarsh Jr. voting for it. It will now go to the Senate where it is also expected to pass. However Governor Dukakis is certain to veto the bill when it comes before him. In order to override the Governor's veto, a two-thirds vote is needed in both houses. One or two votes could mean the difference of whether or not Massachusetts will spend one million dollars next year to abort 500 babies. For this reason each senator's vote is vitally important.

It is understood by those who have spoken to him, that our senator, Sam Rotondi, is leaning toward voting against the Doyle-Flynn bill regardless of the fact that he has received hundreds of letters from constituents in Winchester, Woburn, and Arlington requesting him to vote for it. His reason seems to be that since wealthy women can afford to have abortions, the taxpayer should pay for abortions for the poor. The Senator apparently does not realize that the woman who pays for her abortion is totally responsible for it, while the Medicaid-paid abortion makes us all unwilling accomplices in the death of an unborn child. Surely in this great and humane country of ours we can find better ways of helping the poor than by killing their offspring.

We are asking all persons who oppose the use of their tax money to pay for abortions, to write or phone (727-8822) Senator Rotondi at the State House, Boston, Mass. asking him to vote for the Doyle-Flynn bill when it comes up next week before the Senate, and also to vote to override the Governor's veto. Again his vote could be the one which decides the fate of the bill.

Alice Hassett

(Ed's note: Sen. Rotondi has been offered the space in The Star to explain his views on the Doyle-Flynn bill. The senator is preparing a statement for the press.)

Nothing to do

EDITOR OF THE STAR:

Winchester is supposed to be one of the top ten suburbs, but the kids don't think so. There is absolutely nothing to do around here! When people complain about kids hanging around on the streets they should think first about what else there is to do. When you come to think about it, there's nothing.

People say that there are tennis courts and swimming areas, but can you swim at night? No. Play tennis at night? No. Go to the movies at night? Yes. Although the movie theatre was abused, there is nothing else to do but hang around.

In our opinion we need a movie theatre or some type of recreation place where kids could go at night.

Please think about it!

Letters to the editor on any subject of interest to Winchester residents are welcome. They should be typed and not exceed 250 words. All letters must be signed with name and address and a telephone number. Names will be held on request. Deadline for letters is 5 p.m. Monday.

Kindnesses

EDITOR OF THE STAR:

Dear Friends,

Perhaps you sent a lovely card,
Or sat quietly in a chair;
Perhaps you sent a floral piece,
If so, we saw it there.

Perhaps you spoke the kindest words,
That any friend could say;
Perhaps you were not there at all,
Just thought of us that day.

Whatever you did to console our hearts,
We thank you so much, whatever the part.
The family of the late
Arthur J. Hewis Jr.

EDITOR OF THE STAR:

No question, had Arthur Hewis and I been in the same room, I would have been on the left and Arthur on the right. So be it. One thing I do know, every time one of our elected officials thought, maybe if we cut out this or speeded up that, or whatever, Arthur reminded them that this is a democracy. Whatever your political feeling, Arthur will be missed. He was a citizen who cared. I hope to hell there are more Arthur Hewis's in the wings.

Invasion plans

EDITOR OF THE STAR:

With endless talk about tax reform, perhaps you wonder why the mass media, usually hungry for national scandal, ignore the great tax-free foundations, with their billions of dollar tax-exempt money. But that, dear reader, is a forbidden word.

While the foundations have done some legitimate good in the fields of medicine, public health, and scientific inquiry, the sad truth is that such philanthropy has provided a cover for the enormous harm they have done in the spheres of international relations, the social sciences, and education.

As witness: A climate of sympathy for the Black Nationalists (terrorists) and hatred of the governments in Southern Africa is being diligently created nightly on the air waves. But for years (they) have withheld shocking news in that connection.

In 1965 the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace prepared a 170-page report entitled, "Apartheid and United Nations Collective Measures," advocating UN invasion of the anti-communist country of South Africa. The report contains a blueprint, worked out to the last detail, for the attack and invasion and was distributed to all the then 114 representatives of the UN.

The Carnegie Battle Plan contains a detailed estimate of the forces necessary which include 30,000 assault and 63,000 other troops, 145 warships, transports and supply vessels and 300 aircraft, and 200 transport aircraft requiring "3000 total flying hours for direct assault."

On page 150 the Battle Plan estimates the cost at $94,537,000 for each 30-day period, and states, "The assault phase might be expected to last up to two weeks, with complete control being secured within four months. Casualties among the UN forces would be expected to be between 19,000 and 38,000 killed and wounded."

If this true story repels and frightens you, it might be significant to remember that Soviet spy Alger Hiss headed the Carnegie Endowment from 1946 to 1949 and was named to that post even after Carnegie Trustees had been briefed on his activities as a communist agent. Hiss, of course, was one of the founders of the UN and was its first secretary-general.

In light of the above, Carter's UN representative Andrew Young's recent statement that American troops would be fighting in Southern Africa before the end of the year, takes on added significance.

Town watch...

Make it a safe one

By The Observer

The statistics are always grim and the deaths are always needless when Labor Day traffic fatalities are totaled. This weekend more than two and a half million cars will be out on the state's highways in what the registry and the Massachusetts Safety Council call one of the biggest driving holidays of the year.

Registrar of Motor Vehicles Alan Mackey will be assigning specially trained enforcement personnel to highway accident prevention duty between Friday and mid-night Monday. Their particular areas of expertise will be speeding, driving under the influence, failure to obey signs and signals, and other moving violations.

One of the more frightening aspects of holiday deaths is the fact that 85 percent of all accidents result not from vehicle defect or roadside hazard, but from driver error.

Reckless drivers risk not only injury and death to themselves, their loved ones, and others on the road, they also risk losing their license and upping their insurance premiums.

The Safety Council makes some common sense suggestions:

Obe the rules of the road, be sure your car is in good operating condition (remember fall inspection starts today), use seat belts, and, if you are planning a trip, get enough rest before you set out.

More advice from the council: If your car starts to overheat while you are stopped in heavy traffic, turn on the heater, turn off the air conditioning, shift to neutral, and "rev" the engine. The fans will help lower the vehicle heat. When safe to do so, pull over to the side of the road.

Carry flares or other signalling devices so that other motorists can be alerted if your car becomes disabled.

And a final note for fall driving: School starts next week. Watch for children crossing to and from schools and remember to stop when the school bus stops.

Have a safe finale to the summer season!

It's that time again — that twice a year "Will we make it through this time" moment of truth when you wonder if the muffler will be quiet just this once.

It's inspection time on the home front beginning today and going through October 15. Inspection is more than a question of just getting by, however. Is that four-wheeler safe for you, your family, and other motorists and pedestrians? Can you drive with confidence, knowing that you aren't about to lose your brakes on 93 or find your windshield wipers failing on a rainy school day when all the kids are huddled up in their slickers on the way to school?

Get your yellow sticker. Get it early and avoid long lines. Be safe. Not only is it the law, it's the responsibility of every motorist. Don't forget your vehicle registration.

The Massachusetts corrections department and the office of manpower development have gotten together to stage the fourth annual job mart for ex-offenders to be held September 14 at the Copley Plaza.

About 200 companies will be represented in individual booths to offer employment to ex-offenders. Those eligible to participate in the program include men and women still incarcerated and on the work-release program, those on probation or parole, and ex-offenders experiencing difficulty securing meaningful employment.

The job mart is the only one of its kind in the nation. For the first time, CETA consortiums, including Winchester's Medford Consortium, will be on hand to explain eligibility for jobs under the program.

There are four vacancies on the permanent building committee. The notice posted on the town clerk's bulletin board indicates that those persons interested in serving should send resumes to the town moderator.

The Observer notes with pride the condition of the town common this summer. The grounds have been extraordinarily well kept and the department of public works has given residents and visitors alike a reason to be proud.

There will be a new timetable in effect starting September 10 for the route 701 buses between Woburn and Boston.

The buses will leave Haymarket square for Woburn every ten minutes during the evening rush hour. Winchester stops are made at the Winchester Country Club and at Foxcroft road. The new schedule will be in effect until December 30.

On Columbus Day, celebrated October 10 this year, the Sunday schedule will be operated. Buses will also follow the Sunday schedule on Thanksgiving Day, November 24 and on Monday, December 26. The Saturday schedule will be operated on Veterans' Day, November 11.

All that is very well, you say, but you do not know what the Sunday, Saturday, or any other day schedule is. Neither does The Observer but the word is out that there should be bus schedules available at The Star office sometime soon.

Meanwhile printed timetables are available at MBTA garages and carhouses, at the MBTA's customer service center at 50 High St., Boston, at the MBTA operations center at 45 High St. and at the Park Street information booth.

From beginning indoor gardening to solar-heated greenhouses — the Massachusetts Horticultural Society offers courses on a wide range of subjects, all open to the general public.

The non-profit institution has classes on many different topics, including nature photography, landscape design, canning & preserving, basic botany, and flower arranging.

Students could learn about mushrooms, ferns, cacti, orchids, african violets, growing under lights and even job opportunities in the field of horticulture.

A calendar listing all the courses is available free to anyone who sends a stamped, self-addressed business-size envelope to: Courses, Mass. Horticultural Society, 300 Massachusetts ave., Boston, Mass. 02115.

...out of joint

The boob tube

By David Funkhouser

The Federal Communications Commission reports that the television broadcast networks and local stations made $1.25 billion, before taxes, in 1976.

What are they gonna do with all that money?

For one thing, they're going to pay their performers, some of them quite well. The performers have a controlling interest in the tube: they dominate the air waves. Of course, what they do with their time on the air is their responsibility.

Most of the performers are acting, some of them excellently. They do a good job, reflecting much of what surrounds us outside the tube. Then again, they also have a tendency (not exactly THEIR fault) to create what lives outside the tube: IT reflects THEM. Of course, no matter how outrageous the performance, real life manages to outdo them every time.

The dimension of performing on television puts a sticky burden on the rest of TV content — the ads, the news, the educational stuff, the sports. All of these have become slightly warped by TV.

To get the ratings to get the ads to get the money to pay the performers, you need a good performance — and a demand for one. Across continental air waves, the audience, you and I, are demanding, and getting, performances. In all the excitement, a lot of very useful information is being overlooked.

At the most basic level, advertising has to be exciting and imaginative to convince us to buy whatever they're selling. The sales pitch tends to ignore the facts of the matter to concentrate on tantalizing symbols of self-gratification. The most successful ads on TV are often the most obnoxious ones, simply because they pound a jingle and a brand name into your sub-conscious, trying to create an artificial familiarity with the product in the buyer's mind.

Since the networks profits rose 60 per cent last year, you might think they'd have a bit more freedom in dealing with advertisers. In quality and content, and in timing, there is much room for improvement.

In sports, the problems lie not with the events themselves, which carry their own excitement and drama, but with those charged with talking about it. The competition for broadcast rights and for the viewer's attention has led many of the announcers to become performers. They may talk too much about themselves and not allow the sport to carry itself.

The main problem with the educational stuff is most networks see it as public service and refuse to believe it can compete with entertainment programs. So the truly informational shows don't get the best time slots.

Then there's the news. The TV news is in a tight spot. Unlike newspapers, the tube cannot go into stories in great detail. They have to keep it short, and this in turn creates technical problems — condensing the language, orchestrating film clips, choosing the news. And to compete, the news is forced to adopt showmanship — would you listen to your neighbor recite Walter Cronkite's part every night?

The result is that TV news stories come off like a 45-second carnival ride. There's the initial attraction of flashing lights and audio stimuli, then it's over before you have a clear idea of what really happened.

An offshoot of this competition is the recent phenomenon of ads for TV news teams. By this rather mindless attempt to corral viewers, the medium has really sold out.

Television is neither an entertainment medium nor an educational medium. It's an electronic box, and human beings have responsibility for what's transmitted. Why so much drivel and so little useful information? The grand profits of 1976 should allow the networks much more leeway in programming and make them less accountable to the advertisers.

If the television executives say the public gets what it wants, they are avoiding the issue. It's not that simple. The extent to which viewers get what they want or take what they can get is hard to determine.

The medium has a tremendous opportunity, and a responsibility, being in such good financial shape, to grow into something more than a boob tube.

St. Mary's opens on 7th

St. Mary's School will be opening for the fall term Sept. 7 for grades 1-6; Sept. 8 for grade 7; and Sept. 9 for grade 8. Pre-kindergarten and kindergarten classes begin Sept. 12.

There will be a mass for the opening of the school year Sept. 12 at 7:30 p.m. in the church. On Sept. 19 at 9:15 a.m., there will be the new mothers' coffee at the convent. This event is for those whose children are starting out at St. Mary's this year. Coffee chairperson is Mrs. Ralph D'Agostino.

The grounds crews were out working on the schools last week, mowing lawns, painting and patching, cementing new sidewalks, and performing other chores to prepare for the opening of school this week.

Northeast Voke

The Northeast Metropolitan Regional Vocational School, off Farm street in Wakefield, starts classes Wednesday, Sept. 7 at 8:05 a.m.

The late afternoon program also begins Wednesday; adult education classes start in October.

AP results encouraging

The Winchester High School Newsletter reports that last year a total of 74 students took 124 Advanced Placement Exams.

Of the 124, 22 scored fives (out of a possible five); 42 scored fours; 44 scored threes; 13 scored twos; and three scored ones.

A five or a four is equivalent to a college grade of A, a three is equivalent to the college B, and a two is equivalent to the college C (acceptance of these scores varies from one college to another). A high score on an AP course qualifies a student for extra college credits.

Immunization

State law requires that all children entering kindergarten this month must be successfully immunized by Oct. 14.

The law requires immunization against diphtheria, tetanus, pertussis (whooping cough), polio and measles. Immunization against mumps and rubella, although not mandated, are strongly recommended.

To comply with the law, parents must either present a certificate listing immunizations given and/or the diseases the child has had (a parent or guardian's statement will do if a physician's record is unavailable); a physician's certificate stating immunization is contraindicated for health reasons; or a parent or guardian's statement that immunization conflicts with their religious beliefs.

The school department also encourages parents of older children to make sure immunizations are up to date.

Schedule for schools opening

The Winchester Public Schools will open on Wednesday, September 7.

Elementary schools will be on half session Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday, September 7, 8, and 9 from 8:45 a.m. until 11:45 a.m. Parents of kindergarten pupils will be advised by the principals of the kindergarten schedule for the first week of school.

The elementary lunch program will commence on Monday, September 12. Parents will be given the choice of having their child or children remain in school or return home during the lunch period. Option forms will be distributed on the opening day of school to students in Grades 1 through 6 and must be returned by Friday, September 9.

School hours for 1977-1978 are as follows:

KINDERGARTEN
Morning Session — 8:45 a.m. to 11:45 a.m.
Afternoon Session — 12:45 p.m. to 2:45 p.m.
The changeover date for kindergarten sessions is January 30, 1978.

Crossing guards on Lincoln route

The town safety officer and the superintendent of schools have worked out what they consider is the safest route to the Lincoln School for children living in the Ginn road-Lakeview area.

There will be a crossing guard for these children at the intersection of Everett avenue and Bacon street. The suggested walking route is to go up Bacon street, cross Bacon with the guard, down Central street, out to Church street, and down Waterfield road to the Lincoln School. There will be another crossing guard stationed at Waterfield road.

No school signal

On days when school has been canceled, the fire whistle will blow two pairs of blasts (2-2) four times in a row. The whistle will sound at 6:45 a.m. when there is no school for all schools. If the whistle blows at 7 a.m., there will be no morning session at the elementary schools; if the signal comes at 11:45 a.m., there will be no afternoon session at the elementary schools (these last two instances are rare). In addition to the fire whistle, announcements for no school will be made on the following radio stations: WRKO, WHDH, WMEX, WHSR, WEEI, WBZ, and WEZE.

GRADES 1 THROUGH 6

8:45 a.m. to 2:45 p.m.

A half-hour lunch period will be scheduled for each student between 11:45 a.m. and 12:45 p.m. and will be preceded or followed by a fifteen minute, teacher supervised recess. Those students electing to return home at lunch time may use the fifteen minute recess as part of their lunch period.

JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOLS

8 a.m. to 2:15 p.m.

Students in Grade 7 will report to Lynch or McCall Junior High School at 8 a.m. on Wednesday, September 7, for a full school day. Students in Grades 8 and 9 will report at 8 a.m. on Thursday, September 8. Lunch will be served to junior high students starting September 7.

WINCHESTER HIGH SCHOOL

8 a.m. to 2:23 p.m.

Students in Grade 10 will report to Winchester High School at 8 a.m. on Wednesday, September 7, for a full school day. Students in Grades 11 and 12 will report at 8 a.m. on Thursday, September 8. Lunch will be served to high school students commencing on September 7.

Released Time:
Elementary 11:45 a.m.
Jr. High Schools 11:15 a.m.
Sr. High School 11:30 a.m.

College board testing dates

Students should check with their counselors for appropriate test dates which meet their specific needs. What follows is the schedule for this year's tests.

The Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Tests (PSAT) and the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test will be held given Oct. 22. No registration is required.

SAT and Achievement tests may be taken on the following dates (note: students cannot take both on the same date), with the regular registration dates following each test date in parentheses:

Nov. 5 (Sept. 30); Dec. 3 (Oct. 28); Jan. 28 (Dec. 23); Mar. 11 (Feb. 3); May 6 (Mar. 31); June 3 (Apr. 28). Late registration, which entails an extra fee, can be made for the tests the month before the test, on the following dates: Oct. 14, Nov. 11, Jan. 6, Feb. 17, Apr. 14, May 12.

Recycle!

Recycle in Winchester at the town dump off Swanton street.
Material should be separated into the following categories: rags, used clothing, cans, newspapers and glass. Glass must be sorted by color: amber, clear and green.

Thanks to some art students at the high school, getting around from corridor to corridor won't be so confusing anymore. The hand-painted signs provide easy-to-spot labels for all the departments at the school.

Humanities tops list of new courses at high school

There are a number of new programs going into effect this year, including the new humanities course at the high school, a new catalog system at the high school library, and a number of other curriculum changes throughout the system.

First proposed seven years ago, the humanities course will involve four teachers and about 50 students this year. The full-year course is designed to offer students an interdisciplinary look at the progress of Western culture through the ages.

The main emphasis will be on social studies, music, art and English. The four teachers are Lorin Mahoney in social studies, Cortland White in English, Thomas Tracy in art, and Burton Cowgill in music.

Maloney, who has a strong background in the classics, according to history department head William O'Connor, has taught English and Western Civilization. White's background is primarily in literature, and he has taught in both private and public schools. Tracy and Cowgill are both heads of their respective departments.

The course will be meeting for two periods a day in the music complex, and the instructors plan to coordinate their teaching closely, rather than having one teacher in the classroom each day. After an initial survey, leading up to the Renaissance, the 50 or so students will break up into smaller groups to look at the various aspects of culture from the 1500s to the present in more detail. The history itself will be the thread tying the styles of the different periods together.

In addition to the classroom study, the four teachers plan several trips to local museums and possibly a trip to New York City to visit museums there. Students will be receiving two credits, in English and social studies.

O'Connor, head of the history department and one of those who has been active in planning out the course, says the materials for the course are well-developed, since the project has been in the works for so many years. The school committee approved the course at a meeting last spring.

Another new feature at the high school this fall is a universal card catalog in the library. Parental volunteers have been assisting school staff in setting up the system, whereby any piece of research material, regardless of where it is housed in the school, can be located through the catalog in the library.

The administration at the high school says this system will serve two major functions: 1) Students can use material in any department by checking the catalog, and 2) It serves an economic function by making it easier for the staff to determine whether or not a contemplated purchase will duplicate research material already available.

Parent-faculty officers

The officers of the parent-faculty association at the high school for this year are: president, Charles and Fran Haley; vice president, James and Mary Barger; recording secretary, Ronald and Cecile Bradshaw; corresponding secretary, Noel and Judy Thyson; and treasurer, Roy and Joan Johnson.

Two new courses are being offered through the home economics department at the high school: family relations and child growth and development. Both are half-year courses.

Project Adventure is the name of a new physical education section at WHS. The course emphasizes values of self reliance and group reliance, and students will be working with ropes and climbing, both in and out of doors.

The English department is initiating writing laboratory courses in grades 7-9 at both junior high schools. Assistant Superintendent for Curriculum Walter Gleason says the department is working to establish a sequence of instruction for grades 7-10 for this year (the 10th grade course is already required) and eventually for grades 1-10.

Both teachers and students have indicated that last year's 10th grade labs were highly successful in improving students' writing skills.

In all, the English department has added six periods of English instruction focusing on reading and writing at the seventh grade level at Lynch Junior High. These pilot courses may lead to a more expanded program in basic skills.

Part of the impetus for the pilot courses is the fact that instruction in the mechanics of reading — that is, how to read, pronounce, and comprehend — presently stops at the sixth grade.

Changes in the math curriculum include more emphasis on decimals and metrics, as well as more work with calculators.

High school sets parking regulations

Due to the lack of parking spaces at the high school campus, and because of the problems that arise as a result of the demand for parking being greater than the supply of spaces, a towing policy for illegally parked cars has been initiated by the high school administration.

Illegal parking will consist of the following: 1) Cars parked in fire lanes (posted); 2) student cars parked in the visitor parking area (directly in front of the school); 3) cars parked on lawns; and 4) student cars parked in areas reserved for staff (posted).

The parking lot just off Skillings road will be for student parking; the lots to the side and behind the academic building will be for staff parking; and the lot between the gym and the railroad tracks will be for both student and staff parking.

If a car must be towed, the owner will have the full responsibility of paying all charges involved in the towing prior to the time the car is claimed.

All parking areas are open to the public after school hours for appropriate school or town functions. Fire lanes surrounding the building must be kept clear at all times.

At Winchester Hospital

Nuclear lab pioneers lung-scan technique

The following article is reprinted, with permission, from The Highlander, Winchester Hospital's monthly publication of news about the hospital.

The author, Kerrie Osborne Wiltsee, is editor of The Highlander and works in the public relations department at the hospital.

Late at night, a female patient in her late 50's is admitted to the emergency room. She complains of a pain in her chest, and is examined by a physician, who rules out heart attack. Because of her medical history, the physician orders an emergency lung scan to determine if the patient has a pulmonary embolus, a blood clot in the main artery to her lungs.

The patient is taken to the nuclear medicine lab. The room is dim, except for the bright light from a video screen. A technician is preparing the data system which will carry, store, and analyze the test results. Watching the video screen, she positions the patient under a large overhead camera.

A radioactive chemical is prepared for injection into the patient's bloodstream, through a vein in her arm. The chemical is not harmful to the patient, but gives off energy which is picked up by the camera, allowing the technician to follow and record the flow of the blood to the patient's heart and lungs.

As soon as the chemical is injected the camera begins to photograph. Once every half-second the data system records the flow up as it proceeds the patient's arm, into the right side of her heart, through the pulmonary artery, and into her lungs. In as little as ten seconds, the chemical has completed its journey from the arm into the lungs, where it remains. On the screen, the technician can now see an image of the patient's lungs.

The result of the patient's lung scan is negative; the blood circulation to her lungs is even and complete - no pulmonary embolus is indicated.

Had there been a clot normal flow of blood would have been interrupted, and the blood supply to a portion of her lung tissue would have been cut off. Final pictures of the patient's lungs would outline uneven, irregular shapes, indicating uneven blood supply.

Had there been a clot, photographs taken during the "flow" phase of the scan would have disclosed further information about the arteries and blood flow, and would have greatly aided in the diagnosis. If treated in time, the tissue in her lungs could be restored to health.

The patient acted wisely. By paying attention to the first symptoms she had, she avoided possible damage to her lungs or a threat to her life which could have been caused by a pulmonary embolism.

Except for the drama of the examination, the circumstances described here are not unusual. Lung scans are often done in an emergency at Winchester and at other hospitals, and they are an accurate and helpful tool in the diagnosis of pulmonary embolism.

What is unusual is the procedure. The nuclear medicine lab at Winchester Hospital is pioneering a new method of performing lung scans. The procedure has been proven to give more information than the conventional method, and was developed at no risk to the patient. In fact, it was there all along, but it was being overlooked by everyone else.

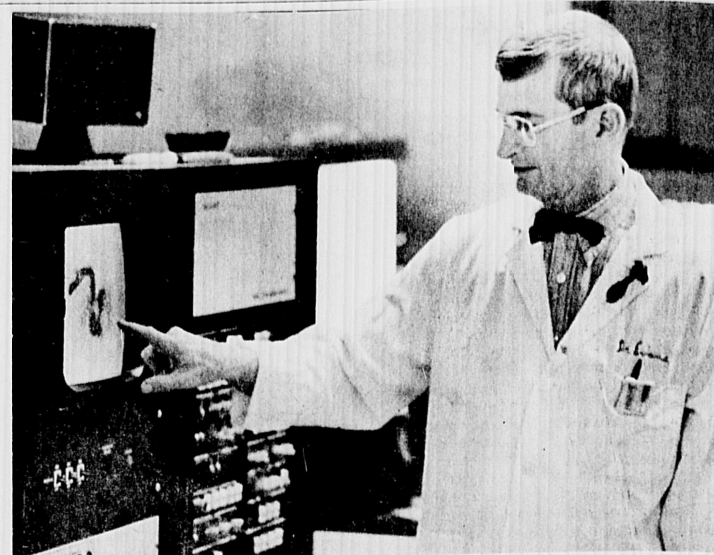

It is the flow study, the process of taking pictures of the radioactive chemical while it is flowing from the arm into the lungs.

"What most people do is inject the agent wait a few minutes, and then they begin to take pictures. We inject it and we follow it through the veins, through the right side of the heart, and out into the lungs."

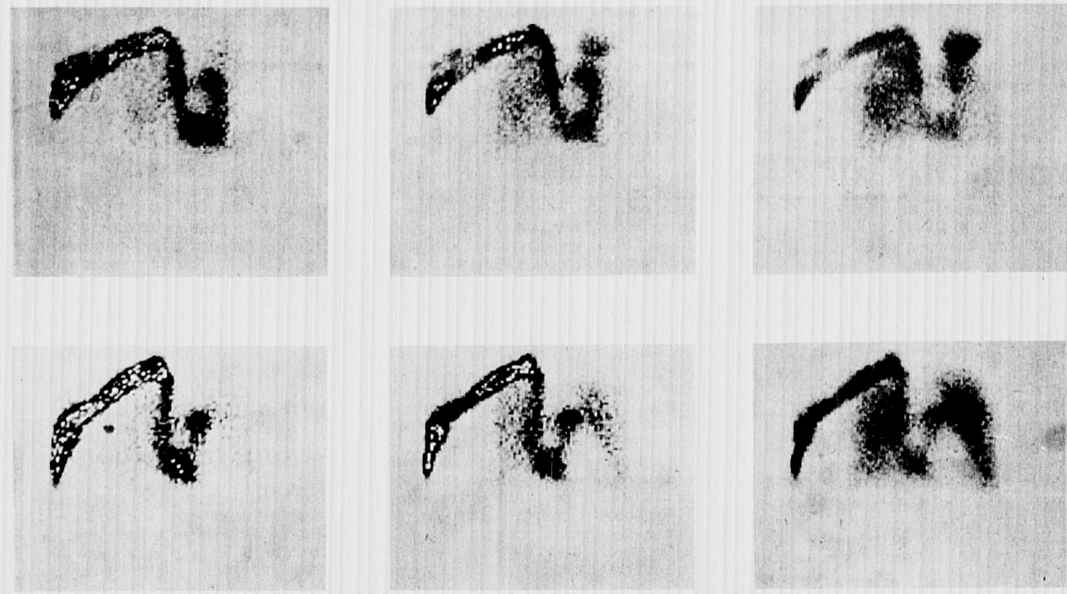

George W. Evans, MD, is chairman of the Department of pathology at Winchester Hospital and the driving force behind the new procedure. With James Kieran and Sheila Williamson of the nuclear medicine lab and Drs. McCarthy, Curtin, and Hinnendael, Dr. Evans researched and documented the importance of including the flow study in the lung scan procedure. Their work was recently published in "Clinical Nuclear Medicine," a national journal.

"If you don't follow the flow, it's like picking up the paper and reading that the score of last night's ball game was 7 to 3 - you know what happened, but you don't know how it happened, you didn't see it happen. And the best part of the game, really, is being there."

Information from the flow study adds to

Dr. George Evans, chairman of the department of pathology at Winchester Hospital, explains the workings of the lung scan being used in the nuclear lab.

Career center set up

With the new school year about to begin, business and educational interests are jointly cooperating in an effort to assist students in career awareness.

A Career Center Consortium has been sponsored, and organized by the North Suburban Chamber of Commerce to serve the communities of Winchester, Burlington, Reading, Everett, Stoneham, Malden, Wakefield, Medford, Wilmington, Melrose, North Reading and Woburn. Close liaison is being formed with the school superintendents, administrators and educators developing various methods for career awareness in conjunction with student needs.

A source directory will be published and distributed to all school systems indicating the business institutions in the 12 cities and towns who encourage career awareness and would be available to be represented in one or more programs during the school year. Field personnel from the Career Center are visiting the business and industry sector explaining the benefits or participation and the methods of involvement.

The Career Center Consortium advisory board consists of prominent regional educators and businessmen who volunteer their time in behalf of the future of our community.

Included on the board are: Dr. Gloria Lombard, principal of Fox Hill School, Burlington; Jim Burns - division of employment, security, Malden; Bob Lyons - executive director of SEEM, North Reading; Richard Burns - teacher-co-ordinator, Stoneham; Jean Shattuck - business education, Wakefield High School; Thomas Budrewicz - assistant principal, Winchester High School; Dr. Leo Lieberman - counseling psychologist, Winchester; Paul Andrews - assistant superintendent, Woburn; Philip Hatfield - president of the North Suburban Chamber of Commerce; George Longergan - Wilcox-Hodges Insurance Agency, Woburn; and Donald Manzelli - Manzelli Construction, Woburn.

Persons with individual skills or abilities wishing to volunteer career awareness services to students are also invited to participate and be listed in the directory.

Inquiries can be made by contacting the Career Center at 933-7240 or 933-7241.

Miss Maravigna leads foray into town forest to find mushrooms

Under the leadership of Maria Maravigna of Winchester, famous for her mushroom sculptures, 53 members of the Boston Mycological Club recently met at her home and then went out to search the Brooks Street area of the Town Forest for fungi. Several in the group were Winchesterites - Miss Sally Wund, Mrs. Ellen Garnis and Mr. and Mrs. John J. Giuliani. A number of children and grandchildren were there too. A goodly number of fungi specimens were found but not sufficient for gastronomic enjoyment, for nature did not favor the area with rain, a necessity for mushroom growth.

After the foray the group returned to Maria Maravigna's home to identify the finds and eat their lunches. Miss Maravigna added her garden delicacies and refreshments.

The Boston Mycological Club is the oldest mycological club in the country with a present membership of over 325 and with more and more persons joining the club to gain the necessary knowledge on collecting mushrooms, without which no one should hunt mushrooms. The members hunt mushrooms throughout New England as a unit from June to November in woods, fields and forests. An expert leader leads each hunt. The Club is an expert study source for beginners and expert mycologists. Weekly summer identification meetings and monthly winter meetings and lectures are held at the Harvard Herbarium.

The Winchester High School Class of 1977 decided to put their school's name right out front, along with the red and black Sachem symbol mounted earlier this year. The sign is the class gift to the school, and the effort to get it up there was coordinated by class president Phyllis Errico. The school administration has become quite attached to the Sachem symbol, and they plan to use it on sports gear and other school items. (Staff photo)

Complaints filed against police

Four youths arrested July 16 on assault charges went to trial in Woburn District Court Aug. 12. The defendants have filed complaints against police, charging that the arresting officers had assaulted them while making the arrests.

William Swymer, 21, and Stephen Swymer, 19, both of Rumford street, and Scott McNutt, 18, of Medford, were found guilty of idle and disorderly conduct and assault and battery on a police officer. The fourth defendant, James Sullivan of Hill street, was found guilty of the idle and disorderly charge and innocent of the assault charge.

Sentencing has been set for Sept. 9.

The complaints have been filed against Officers Theodore Yeanacopolis, Francis Manzie, and John Morgan. The board of selectmen was informed at a recent meeting that town counsel would be assisting the officers in obtaining counsel.

Several other cases have come to trial in Woburn Court recently.

Frank G. Cavaretta, 18, of Hinds road was found innocent Aug. 12 of charges of leaving the scene of an accident and operating under the influence of alcohol.

Thomas Desher of Dothan street, arrested July 31 for attempted larceny, malicious damage to property, and possession of burglarious tools, was found guilty Aug. 15 and sentenced to one year's probation. He was also directed to make restitution for the damage.

Italians are compulsive builders. Their towns are masses of stone and marble, skillfully cut and fashioned. To the Italian a wooden house is a real degradation. Italian house decorations are likely to be stone statues, reliefs and monuments, and even gardens are likely to be enclosed in stone. The abundance of the country's Romanesque and Gothic cathedrals is the result not of a religious but of an architectural and civic enthusiasm. Virginia Louise Cox and Alexander Armstrong Randall were married August 27 at St. John the Evangelist Church in Hingham.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. Dewhurst Cox of Hingham. Her husband is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas A. Randall of 36 Pilgrim dr. Mr. Randall is town counsel for Winchester.

Mrs. Virginia Cox Randall

The Rev. John M. Gallop officiated at the afternoon ceremony in which Mr. Dewhurst gave his daughter in marriage. Mr. Rodger Randall of Winchester, the groom's brother, was the organist for the service. A reception followed the wedding at the Higham Historical Society.

Miss Haggerty plans to marry Mr. Haggerty

Mary Arlene Haggerty, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James D. Haggerty Sr. of Woburn, is engaged to marry Kevin Charles Haggerty, son of Police Lt. and Mrs. James T. Haggerty of Sr. of 41 Middlesex st.

Miss Haggerty, who works in the advertising department of the Woburn Daily Times, graduated from St. Charles High School and the University of New Hampshire.

Mr. Haggerty, who graduated from Winchester High School and Northeastern University, is a technical representative for the photo products division of E.I. du Pont de Nemours & Co., Inc.

The bride wore a gown of antique ivory silk organza over peau de soie fashioned with an empire bodice of french lace with a scoop neckline. The skirt, appliqued in french lace, formed a chapel train. The veil of silk illusion edged in french lace was attached to a small hat of the same lace. She carried a cascade bouquet of white gladiolus and stephanotis.

Mrs. Rob Roy MacGregor of New Castle, Del., was matron of honor. She was attired in a gown of light blue and beige striped sheer over pale blue with a matching cape. Her head piece was of pink baby's breath and sweetheart roses. She carried a cloud bouquet of pink baby's breath and pink sweetheart roses, white daisy chrysanthemums and ivy streamers.

The flower girl was Miss Erica Reifenberg, niece of the groom, of New Haven, Conn. She wore a pale blue dotted swiss gown with a headdress of blue baby's breath and roses. She carried a small white basket of pink sweetheart roses, blue baby's breath, white daisy chrysanthemums and ivy.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. Daniel Rigney of Quincy, Miss Cheryl Yetman of Hingham, and Mrs. James M. Shannon, Jr., of Birmingham, cousin of the bride. They were attired like the matron of honor except that their head pieces were of blue baby's breath and sweetheart roses. They carried cloud bouquets of blue baby's breath, pink sweetheart roses, white daisy chrysanthemums and ivy streamers.

Serving as best man for his brother was Mr. Nathan Randall of Quincy. Ushers were Mr. Rob Roy MacGregor of New Castle, Del., Mr. Barry Randall, brother of the groom, of Winchester, and Mr. Louis D. Cox, Jr., brother of the bride, of Hingham.

The bride graduated from the Katharine Gibbs School and her husband is attending Boston University. The couple will be making their home in Hingham.

Scalesse's honored on 40th anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Salvatore Scalesse of 37 Allen rd. celebrated their upcoming 40th wedding anniversary with a reception and dinner in their honor at the Montvale Plaza August 27. The official wedding date for Rose and "Sam" is September 5.

Hosting the party were the Scalesse children, Marie, a Woburn High School teacher, and Frank of Wilmington with his wife, Barbara Daley. Granddaughters Lauren and Cara presided over the guest book.

As a tribute to the Scalesse's, 150 relatives and friends from Florida, New York, Pennsylvania, New Hampshire, and Massachusetts joined in toasting the couple.

Margaret V. Mauger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Mauger, 11 Warren st., graduated magna cum laude and earned dean's list grades at Norwich University during the last semester of the 1976-77 college year.

Salem State College

Mary A. Outwater, 14 Mystic ave., has graduated from Salem State with a B.S. in nursing.

Linda Lane, Paul Holland wed in Lawrence August 13

Linda Lois Lane of Lawrence, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David R. Lane, 29 Coolidge st., Lawrence, was married Aug. 13 to Mark Robinson Holland of Woburn, son of Mrs. Elaine R. Holland of 10 Bacon st. and Paul C. Holland of Columbus, Ohio.

The afternoon service took place at St. Patrick's Church in Lawrence, with Rev. Thomas D. Conway officiating. The bride's father gave her away.

A reception was held at the Jaunting Car Restaurant in Danvers.

The bride wore a gown of English net, accented with schiffli embroidery and venise lace, with appliques on the empire bodice, cap sleeves, and A-line skirt, which terminated in a chapel train. She also wore a veil of imported silk illusion, edged with lace and attached to a matching toque. She carried white roses, stephanotis and baby's breath.

Kathleen Lane of Methuen was the maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. David T. Lane of Methuen and Leslie Holland of Ohio.

Peter S. Holland of 10 Bacon st. served as best man. David T. Lane of Methuen and John A. Holland of Ohio were the ushers.

The former Miss Lane attended St. Patrick's High School in Lawrence and earned her BA summa cum laude from Salem State College. The groom graduated from Winchester High School, attended the Boston Architectural Center and graduated from Wentworth Institute. He is a self-employed architect and engineer.

After a wedding trip to Ireland, the couple are making their home at 241 Lexington st., Woburn.

Ambrose-Price exchange vows at Wayside Inn

In a small, candlelight ceremony held at the Martha-Mary Chapel at the Wayside Inn in Sudbury Aug. 23, Catherine Anastasia Ambrose of Cambridge was married to Timothy Field Price.

The former Miss Ambrose is the daughter of Richard P. Ambrose. Mr. Price, formerly of Winchester, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Warren L. Price of 50N Lake st. and Dennis.

The Service was performed by Rev. Murry Kenny, and the bride was given away by her father. A reception was held afterwards at the Wayside Inn.

Mary Ambrose, sister of the bride, was maid of honor; William W. Price of New York City, brother of the groom, served as best man. Ushers were Dr. Peter Cressman of Plymouth, brother-in-law to the groom; Gregory Fish of Brookline; and Stewart Dougherty of Philadelphia.

The groom attended Belmont Hill School and graduated from Tufts University.

Cynthia Choate married Aug. 20 to Mr. Harrison

Cynthia Choate, daughter of Mrs. Jhan E. Choate of Manchester and Charles F. Choate of Winchester, was married August 20 to Thomas A. Harrison, son of Mrs. and Dr. David Harrison of Bayside, N.Y.

Natalie Choate was her sister's attendant. Dr. Steven Colan was best man. The garden wedding took place on Beacon Hill with the Rev. Holland Beal officiating.

The bride, who will retain her maiden name professionally, and her husband are second year medical students at the University of Massachusetts Medical School. The bride is a graduate of Westover School, Middlebury, Conn., and the University of Pennsylvania. Mr. Harrison is a graduate of Stuyvesant High School of Science in New York, and of Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Scout Troop 333 seeks special boys

Retarded Boy Scout Troop 333 is interested in boys 11 or older to join the troop. Any boy from Winchester or its surrounding communities is welcome to join.

Meetings take place every Thursday at the Washington School from 7 to 8 p.m.

Events planned for this year include major holiday parties, hikes, camping, field trips, and a special fund raising event. There are also other activities planned for the coming months.

Troop 333 is an official Middlesex Council Boy Scout troop and is sponsored by the Winchester Jaycees. Its leaders are very familiar with the special needs of each and every scout in the troop. Leaders this year are John Augello, John Ciampa, Mark Augello, John Feeney, and Mark Pearce.

Any boy interested in joining should call 729-0024 before September 18.

Marilynn Meeks plans fall wedding to Mr. Lisberger

Mr. and Mrs. James Hampton Meeks of Lynchburg, Va., announce the engagement of their daughter, Marilynn, to Charles Sylvan Lisberger, son of Mrs. Daniel S. Lisberger and the late Mr. Lisberger. Miss Meeks and Mr. Lisberger both live in Los Angeles.

Miss Meeks graduated from Randolph-Macon Woman's College in Virginia and is employed by Filmways Motion Pictures, Inc., in Los Angeles. Her grandparents are the late Mr. and Mrs. Thomas H. Meeks of Lynchburg, Va., and the late Mr. and Mrs. Anthony J. Kane of Pittston, Pa.

Mr. Lisberger, who graduated from Winchester High School in 1967, received his master's degree in journalism from the University of California at Los Angeles. He also graduated from Drew University in Madison, N.J. He is president of Storytellers, Inc., a communications company in Los Angeles.

His grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Gates B. Aufesser of Albany, N.Y., and Mrs. Sylvan J. Lisberger of San Francisco and the late Mr. Lisberger.

The wedding will take place October 8 at the Church of the Good Shepherd in Beverly Hills.

Local doctor designs new way to shape up your teeth

R. M. Associates International, Inc. of Denver, the world's largest producer of orthodontic appliances is producing an entirely new series of treatment appliances designed by Dr. William L. Wilson of Oneida rd.

For some time, Dr. Wilson has been intensively involved in research and design of the new modular type appliances which exhibit extremely high efficiency in treatment of many orthodontic deformities, some of which had been previously considered extremely difficult to treat.

Dr. Wilson first described the new concepts of multi-directional orthodontic treatment addressing the recent Third International Orthodontic Congress in London. Following this, at the recent national meeting of The American Association of Orthodontists at the World Congress Center in Atlanta, he presented a scientific paper introducing the new series of orthodontic appliances for use in the treatment of dental facial deformities. Following the presentation, he conducted a round table discussion on orthodontic treatment and with his associates, Dr. John C. Brown and Dr. Robert C. Wilson of Winchester, presented a clinical demonstration showing the use of the new modular appliances in the treatment of a wide variety of orthodontic problems.

This new treatment method utilizes very small interchangeable modules, which are designed to coordinate with selective appliances for the treatment of various and different types of dental deformities. Their use will reduce both the future need for tooth extraction and the objectionable daytime wearing of headgears in orthodontic treatment.

Further, the small modules are easily inserted and removed with no discomfort to the patient. They are also designed to eliminate much of the objectionable appearance of "braces," which in the past has deterred many adults and children from having needed treatment. This is made possible by utilizing newly designed fine components with very small resin-bonded metallic units.

Dr. Wilson's treatment appliances are designed to coordinate with new transparent plastic units simultaneously designed by Dr. Fujio Miura of the University of Tokyo, Japan and introduced at the same time in Atlanta. These small plastic units are attached to the front teeth instead of the usual metal bands and are nearly invisible. This whole new orthodontic technology, designed by Dr. Wilson and by Dr. Miura, is possible through recent advances in plastic technology and developments in metallurgy.

Both of these treatment appliances are being produced by R. M. Associates International, Inc. and will now be available for use by orthodontists in the United States and throughout the Western Hemisphere. Shortly, they are being introduced into Europe, Japan and Australia and ultimately will be distributed in 42 countries where orthodontics is practiced.

For sometime, Dr. Wilson has been involved in teaching and treatment research. He is lecturer on post-doctoral orthodontics at the Harvard University School of Dental Medicine, staff affiliate of the Forsyth Dental Center, and frequent lecturer presenting courses on orthodontic treatment at many other university dental schools throughout the United States and Canada. He is author of numerous articles on orthodontic treatment, published in national and foreign scientific journals.

La Leche League to meet Tuesday

The local chapter of La Leche League will discuss "The Baby Arrives: The Family and the Breastfed Baby," when the group holds its monthly meeting Tuesday evening at eight at the home of Susan Van Horne, 244 Highland Ave., Arlington.

Expectant and new mothers (who are invited to bring their babies) are especially welcome. The league's series of discussion meetings is designed to help prepare expectant mothers and continue to inform experienced mothers regarding nursing and other aspects of infant and child care.

Finlay bridge

The results from Ida Finlay's Duplicate Bridge, played Friday at the Belmont Women's Club, is as follows:

North-south: tied at first, Ruth Flanagan and Paul Portanova, Lee Salani and Ida Finlay; third, Priscilla Willard and Mike Portanova.

East-west: first, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Cincotta; second, Peggy Earls and Emma Poindexter; tied at third, Imelda Connors and Bob Prevois, John Bent and John Donoghue.

Shanahan girl

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Shanahan announce the birth of their first child, Karen Elizabeth, born June 10 at Boston Hospital for Women. Grandparents are Mrs. Arthur Sullivan and Mr. and Mrs. John Shanahan of Winchester.

Insultab moves

John B. Zocchi, president of INSULTAB, Inc., has completed his company's move from Mishawum road in Woburn to new headquarters in the Woburn Industrial Park. Zocchi, a Taft drive resident, needed to make the move because of upcoming construction of the new Mishawum road railroad bridge and the approach roads.

INSULTAB specializes in the manufacture of high-temperature and heat shrinkable polymer tubings for computers and communication systems.

Habitat offers fall courses in natural history

Have you wondered why the leaves change color in the fall? Or how to distinguish edible from non-edible mushrooms? Or where to observe the fall migration of hawks?

Habitat Institute for the Environment in Belmont will provide answers to these questions, and others natural history questions in nearly 40 courses for adults and children starting Sept. 19. In addition to the courses, Habitat has a slide lecture series on Thursdays at 8 p.m. The general public is invited for a small fee; members attend for free.

For more information and a brochure on the fall program, contact Habitat at 10 Juniper rd. (Box 136), Belmont, 02178.

Youth hockey tryouts, plans ready for 1977-78 season

Winchester Youth Hockey has formulated plans for the 1977-78 season. There will be various programs to suit boys of all ages and abilities.

For the past several years Winchester Youth Hockey has sponsored teams in the renowned Middlesex Youth Hockey League composed of teams representing cities and towns of Middlesex County.

First tryouts for the Winchester teams will be held as follows:

MIDGETS
Boys born in 1961-1962
Burlington Ice Palace
September 10, 1977
4:20-5:20 p.m.

BANTAMS
Boys born in 1963-1964
USA Rink, Winchester
September 11, 1977
10:50-11:50 a.m.

PEEWEEES
Boys born in 1965-1966
USA Rink, Winchester
September 11, 1977
7:20-8:20 p.m.

SQUIRITS
Boys born in 1967-1968
USA Rink, Winchester
September 11, 1977
9:40-10:40 a.m.

MITEES
Boys born in 1969-1970-1971
USA Rink, Winchester
September 11, 1977
8:30-9:30 a.m.

All boys must report at least 30 minutes before ice time to allow for registration. A fee will be charged for all tryouts.

All Winchester residents are encouraged to register for these tryouts as the directors intend to enter more than one team in each division.

Former college and high school players who would like to coach or assist in teaching the fundamentals of hockey to the youngsters are most welcome and encouraged to share their talents. Please contact President Al Ross, 9 Norfolk Rd.

Plans for a skating and hockey instructional clinic in October are under way. It is hoped that there will be two clinics, one for beginners and one for those who can skate, but would like to improve their skills. These clinics will be open for all interested boys regardless of residency. Details will be published at a later date.

The traditional Intramural House Hockey program will start in mid November and continue through March as it has for many successful years for all boys between five and sixteen. Leagues and teams will be formed in appropriate age groups.

Winchester Youth Hockey, Inc. is a non-profit organization of men who volunteer their time and talents to provide boys with an enjoyable sports experience during the long winter months.

Thousands of boys have participated over the years and many have gone on to play high school and college hockey after learning the fundamentals in the clinics and with the various teams in the Winchester Youth Hockey program.

Another great season of fun is approaching and the welcome mat is out for all who are interested including newcomers and those who were affiliated in the past with other programs.

Fall tennis tourney on Sept. weekends

The Winchester annual fall tournament will be held on the weekends of September 10, 17 and 24 at the Packer courts. There will be ladies singles, ladies doubles, men's singles, men's doubles, and mixed doubles.

Anyone interested should pick up an application at the Sports Shop or from Whit Gray, supervisor of the Packer courts.

Two in tourney at Waltham club

Two local youths participated recently in the Junior Boys and Girls Tennis Tournament held at the Waltham Racquet Club.

Jim Philiou stroked his way through three rounds in the 16 and under division before falling in the final, 6-2, 6-2, to Bill Feniman of Acton.

In the 16 and under girls division, Therese Aylward had a bye in the first round, won her second round match, and dropped her semi-final set with Brenda Sabbag of Newton, 10-7. Sabbag went on to win the division final.

When you're going back to school, there are different kinds of feelings about it. When you are entering seventh grade, you are also entering a whole new experience. David Donahue of 4 Alesworth (left) will be a seventhgrader at McCall Junior High starting Wednesday. His reaction: "I don't mind going back to school, considering it's a new school." His friend, Gregory Cassano of 73 Bacon st. will be going to St. Sebastian Country Day School. "I don't mind going back to school," he says. "It's been a good summer, but I'm ready to go back."

Kiwanis team tops B league rec softball

The Kiwanis softball team is the 1977 Winchester Recreational B Champions.

This result became finalized when the Kiwanis utilized a whirlwind finish to eliminate regular season champion Purity Supreme, three games to one.

In the final game, Purity took a 6-0 lead into the sixth inning. Here the Kiwanis stormed back for five runs. Rocky Farrina, the veteran Kiwanis pitcher held Purity at bay in the top of the seventh.

Then in the home end of the inning, Skin Crotty led off with a double. He went to third on a single by Ken Binding. The winning and tying runs were driven in by Pigeon Guarente.

A tip of the hat goes to both teams in this exciting series as sportsmanship was demonstrated by the hand-shaking and back-slapping at the end of the game.

Youth soccer signups close September 6th

Registrations for fall soccer for girls in grades 2-12 and boys in grades 2-10 will close Tuesday. However, if some teams are full before this time, registrants will be wait-listed. Registration forms are available and can be completed at the Winchester Sports Shop.

On Saturday at Leonards Field from 9:30-12, there will be a preliminary workout for any interested girls in grades 7-12, and registrations for both boys and girls will be accepted at this time.

The official season opening day will be September 10, when teams will be announced, shirts distributed, and practices held at various fields in town. The exact locations for players to report will be announced next week.

600 residents turn out for rec dept.'s summer tennis

The Winchester Recreation Department has recently completed another successful summer tennis program. Involved in the program were more than 600 residents ranging in age from 6 to 72 years old, the largest turnout yet. Instructors were: Kathy McInnis, Carolyn Mooney, Julie Quinn, Ellen Kermond and Drennan Lowell.

Part of the program is a challenge ladder for kids under 16 years old. The top boy and girls play matches against other towns in the Suburban Junior Tennis League. Both teams turned in records of 28-17, good enough to earn the boys fourth place and the girls third place.

In their respective divisions. Playing for the boys were: Jim Philiou, Steve Rothmann, Tod Chambers, John Provenzano, Brian McQuillin, Barry McQuillin, Paul Aides, Scott Fackert, Rolin Khauad, Laszlo vonLazar, Donny Raso, John Raso, Philippe Baumann, Steve Dionne, John DeBerardinis, Willie Muggia, Peter Papastathis, Brian Donnellan and Eric Fiecke. Playing for the girls were: Karen Feldmann, Lisa Richtmann, Patty Ricciardelli, Paula Ricciardelli, Karen Champoux, Kristen McNamara, Alison McPhail, Lisa Melilli, Patty Meyer, Jackie McIsaac, and Mary Pat Furey.

Paul Williamson places first at N-10 championship regatta

The National Ten Association (N-10) held its New England Championship regatta August 20 and 21 at the Massapoag Yacht Club in Sharon.

With a fleet of 16 N-10s in competition, Paul Williamson, 13, of 35 Yale st., sailing out of the Winchester Boat Club, was awarded the first place trophy by virtue of winning all but one race.

All other positions, including that of the other WBC entrant, Lisa Thyson, remained undecided at this time, pending an appeal to the U.S. Yacht Racing Union relative to the legality of the Massapoag race committee's cancellation of a race. A decision is expected by September 30.

Fall sports season gets rolling 13th

The fall sports season for Winchester's junior and senior high school teams gets underway the second week of September. Opening games for the various sports are lined up as follows:

At the high school
Varsity soccer, Sept. 13, at home against Melrose, 3:30 p.m.

Early treatment may prevent surgery for periodontal ills

This the third and final part of a three-part series on periodontal disease, dealing with the treatment of the disease in various stages.

Prepared by Aline Hauffer for the American Academy of Periodontology, these articles were turned over to the Star by local periodontist J.D. Murray, DDS. They represent part of the academy's nationwide effort to increase awareness of the causes and effects of periodontal diseases, which attack the structures surrounding and supporting the teeth (i.e. bones and gum).

Part III

There is nothing the dentist can do to overcome what the patient will not do, but thanks to dental knowledge and technology, the neglectful patient may be given a second chance.

Periodontal disease, which affects the gums and the bone around the teeth, may be completely corrected if detected and treated soon enough. The treatment may be simply a thorough cleaning and polishing, followed by good oral hygiene on the patient's part, until the problem is cleared. But if the disease is advanced, the dentist may have to take more drastic measures, sometimes complex surgery, to restore the patient's oral health.

At any stage of the game, periodontal disease must be treated. For if unchecked, the disease spawned by bacterial irritation will destroy bone and cause loss of teeth. It is, in fact the cause of more than half the tooth loss in America today.

While good family dentists can handle most dental problems, sometimes a specialist needs to be consulted. For treatment of periodontal disease, the specialist usually called upon is the periodontist. He is an expert in the structures supporting and surrounding the teeth. He will assess the severity of the individual's periodontal disease and decide upon the appropriate treatment.

If the disease is caught early in development, the dentist may employ curettage... a procedure in which an instrument called a curette is used to remove plaque, tartar, and diseased tissue from beneath the gums. By removing the bacteria and other irritants, the disease can usually be stopped.

Following the thorough cleaning job, the patient must continue the routine of regular brushing and use of dental floss for a favorable result. His dentist will probably tell him, "You don't have to get this disease again. Periodontal disease will not develop in a mouth kept clean."

Dental surgery comes into play when the disease has reached an advanced stage. If periodontal pockets (spaces between the gums and teeth) remain after removal of the irritating deposits around the teeth, the dentist may remove the "pockets" by performing a minor surgical procedure called gingivectomy. The patient receives a local anesthetic, and the periodontal pockets are removed easily and painlessly.

A similar procedure called gingivoplasty involves removing excess gum tissue and providing a new, healthier shape for the gums.

When periodontal disease is so advanced that supporting bone round the teeth is affected, the dentists may perform a "flap procedure." The gum tissue in the affected area is lifted away from the bone and teeth.

This allows the dentist to assess the severity of the condition. He will then remove all irritants that were hidden by the gums and will inspect the bone itself. Then, if indicated, the bone will be recontoured to a normal shape to provide a favorable substructure for healthy gums. When the bone is reshaped to correct the ravages of periodontal disease, the procedure is called osseous (bone) surgery.

Gingivectomy, flap procedures, and osseous surgery... the major surgical approaches to treatment of periodontal disease... are not at all new. History shows that gingivectomies were performed as early as the second century, and flap procedures were developed during the nineteenth century. Calculus removal was practiced by Arabian dentists in the eleventh century. The techniques have merely been refined, and modern technology has made the treatments less and less painful for the patients.

Newer advances in periodontal disease are being concentrated on rebuilding bone and gum tissues destroyed by the infection. Attempts are being made to rebuild new bone by grafts of bone particles removed from other areas of the mouth or from the patient's hip bone. Plastic surgical techniques are also being utilized to replace gum tissue that has been destroyed by periodontal disease. Grafts of soft tissue may be taken from the roof of the mouth or wherever gum tissue can be spared.

In conditions where some hopeless teeth must be extracted, the remaining teeth may be splinted (united to each other) to provide them with greater support. Where there are not enough natural teeth available, dentists are experimenting with various artificial tooth implants to provide the necessary tooth support.

There is even a "remedy" available for persons who injure their periodontal issues by grinding their teeth at night. Special appliances have been constructed for such individuals to wear while sleeping to protect the teeth from excessive pressures.

All of these and more modern dental treatments are available to provide the neglectful patient a second chance. Yet regardless of what the dentist might do to help him, he must remember his own responsibility in preventing recurrence of the disease. Plaque forms every day so that the patient must faithfully remove all of it for adequate prevention.

The Winchester Swim Club held a tennis tournament recently for boys aged 17 and under. The winners in the doubles match are (l.-r.) Billy Ferry, Brian Berkley, Steven Rothmann, and John Provenzano. Their scores were 3-6, 6-3, 6-4.

Correction

The results of the annual town swim meet, printed last week on page 13 of The Star, incorrectly listed Monet Rowan as the winner of the freestyle event for girls aged 16 and under; the real winner was her sister, Martine Rowan.

Kids in the kitchen

By Elizabeth Mahoney Correspondent

If it is not too hot to cook, the summer months are often a good time for kids to try their hand at cooking. Several parents have told me that kids-in-the-kitchen solves those recurring problems of youthful appetites and gee-mom-what-can-we-do-now?

Michelle Dickson, Sargent road, won a prize once with a popular cake for kids to try baking. The name is appropriate for the recipe.

Dump Cake

- 1 can pie-sliced apples
- 1/2 cup raisins
- 1/2 cup nuts (optional)
- 1/4 cup brown sugar
- 1/4 teaspoon cinnamon
- 1 pkg. (9 oz.) Jiffy yellow cake mix
- 1 stick butter

Preheat oven to 350 degrees. Dump drained apple slices into a 9-inch square pan. Dump brown sugar and cinnamon evenly over apple layer. Dump nuts and raisins over sugar. Dump cake mix evenly over raisins. Dump melted butter over cake layer. Bake at 350 degrees for about 30 to 40 minutes until top is brown. Watch carefully for time is roughly estimated. Serve warm or cold, with or without ice cream.

Karen Serieka, Lincoln street, likes traditional oatmeal cookies, when she does a turn in the kitchen.

Oatmeal Cookies

- 1 cup margarine
- 2 tablespoons water
- 2 tablespoons maple syrup
- 1 cup flour
- 1 cup sugar
- 1/2 teaspoon baking soda
- 1/2 teaspoon baking powder
- 2 1/2 cups oatmeal

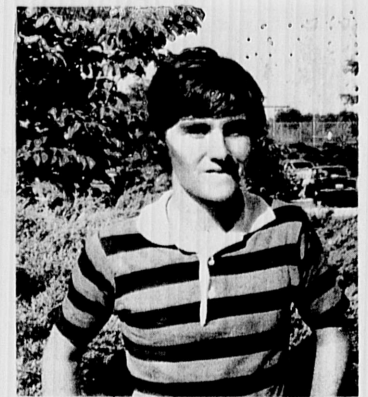

Melt together margarine, water, and maple syrup. Sift dry ingredients and mix together melted mixture and sifted ingredients. Stir in oatmeal. Form into balls. Place on pan. Bake at 350 degrees for 10 to 12 minutes.

Selectman Barbara Hankins' daughter Patricia contributed this recipe to the junior division of the town day baking contest in the past.

Blender Impossible Pie

- 4 eggs
- 4 tsp. soft butter or margarine
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 1/2 cup Bisquick
- 1/2 cup shredded coconut
- 1 tsp. vanilla
- 2 cups milk

Grease well and flour a 9-inch glass pie pan. Place all ingredients in a blender. Run on "Stir" or "Blend" for two minutes, scraping from sides to thoroughly mix. Bake 45 minutes. Cool on rack. Chill in refrigerator uncovered for three or more hours. ENJOY.

Glen Herlihy beat Brad Cowen, 6-3, 6-1 to win the singles match sponsored by the Winchester Swim Club for boys aged 17 and under.

Softball all-stars to take on Woburn

State House roll call

Both the Senate and the House concerned themselves with votes on Gov. Michael Dukakis's recent vetoes.

Week of August 15-19

The House gained the needed two-thirds vote to override the governor's breakfast program, a voluntary one million with local school committee option to participate. Rep. Sherman W. Saltmarsh, Jr., voted for the program.

He also voted to override the veto on nine separate votes for $824,000 worth of jobs including probate court judges, registers, assistant registers, clerical assistants and other personnel in the superior court and in county probate courts. In each case the House voted to override the veto.

The Senate faced two votes to override the governor's vetoes of two assistant clerk jobs, one in Holyoke and the other in Plymouth District Court. In both cases, Sen. Sam Rotondi voted with the two-thirds majority of the Senate.

Bloodmobile at Lutheran Church in Woburn Sept. 13

The Red Cross Bloodmobile will be at the Lutheran Church of the Redeemer, Forest Park Road, Woburn Sept. 13 from 12:30 to 6:15 p.m.

Blood of all types is urgently needed throughout the whole Boston Metropolitan area. Daily emergency calls for blood are being broadcast by local

Radio and TV stations. Blood is needed to preserve and save lives of many persons now hospitalized. Blood is also needed by those who require surgery but are now denied.

Anyone between the ages of 18 and 66 who is in good health and weighs over 110 pounds can give blood. A donor can give blood every eight weeks up to five times a year. The individual donor can designate his blood for any person, group or organization of his choice. The Massachusetts Red Cross guarantees the donor and his family all blood and/or blood derivatives needed for a full year.

This is the eighth year that Redeemer has hosted this inter-community service. The church is centrally located just off Route 128. It is reached by taking Exit 39 north (Route 39), turn right at first traffic light (Alfred street) and follow the Red Cross arrows. There is parking space.

Contact Mrs. George Garland at the church office 933-4600 from 9 a.m. to 12 noon, Monday through Friday for an appointment. Mr. K.B. Woodworth, 245-5388, may be called at any other time. If you are unable to make an appointment, come and give blood anyway.

The life you save may be your own. Child care will be provided for donors with small children. Limited transportation will be available for those without automobiles.

Edward McKenzie

A funeral mass was said Monday at the Immaculate Conception Church for Edward A. McKenzie, 72, of 8 Hemingway St. Mr. McKenzie, who retired 12 years ago after many years as forestry foreman for the town, died Aug. 25 after a lengthy illness.

He was born and raised here and attended Winchester schools. While with the forestry department, he was responsible for new tree planting in the town, and he served as chairman of the town forest board. His parents were Edward P. and Mary Ann (Burke)

Margaret Currie

Word was received here of the death Sunday of Mrs. Margaret Crosby Currie, a former Winchester resident who was making her home in South Yarmouth. Mrs. Currie, who had resided at 1 Mid-Iron Dr., was 79.

She was born in Melrose, the daughter of the late Freeman M. and Emma L. (Oakes) Crosby. She attended Melrose High School and St. Mary's Episcopal School in Concord, N.H.

Mrs. Currie lived in Winchester for 30 years, moving to South Yarmouth in 1971. She is survived by her husband, Walter S. Currie, a son, Blair C. Currie of Geneva, N.Y., four grandchildren, a sister, Mrs. John F. Carmody of Porterville, Cal., one niece and one nephew.

Funeral services were held yesterday afternoon at Doane, Beal and Ames Funeral Chapel in South Yarmouth. Interment followed in Ancient Cemetery, Yarmouth.

Mary A. Doherty

Mary A. Doherty, 90, formerly of 826 Main St., died Aug. 25 at New England Memorial Hospital in Stoneham after a long illness.

Miss Doherty was a school teacher in Winchester for more than 50 years. She is a Winchester native and went through the schools here. She graduated from Lowell Teachers College.

She was a member of the Immaculate Conception Church Ladies Sodality. A funeral mass was said for her at the church Monday morning, celebrated by Rev. George Murray. She was buried in Calvary Cemetery in Woburn.

Miss Doherty leaves no immediate survivors. Lane Funeral Home handled the arrangements.

Edwin A. Meyer

Funeral services will be held tomorrow at St. Mary's Church for Edwin A. Meyer who died Tuesday while on a business trip to Denver. Mr. Meyer, who resided at 23 Glen Green, was 47.

He is survived by his wife, Mercedes Bermudez Meyer, first consul from Venezuela. Mr. Meyer was born in Pawkaska, Okla., on December 27, 1929. He attended schools in Oklahoma and received a degree in chemical engineering from the University of Oklahoma in 1951. For ten years he worked with Badger Pan-America, Inc. of Cambridge, serving as the company's vice president at the time of his death. Before joining Badger, Mr. Meyer was previous owner and manager of an engineering consulting company in Caracas, Venezuela for seven years. He also served as a second lieutenant in the Korean War.

In addition to his wife, Mr. Meyer leaves a son, Edwin A. Meyer III of Easton, Penn., a daughter, Patricia Isabel Meyer of Winchester, and three stepchildren, Mrs. Cynthia Kantz of Indiana, Mrs. Shirley Nunez of Venezuela, and Mrs. Julie Claudio of Woburn. Also surviving is a sister, Mrs. Charles (Rosemary) Boutcher of Stonington, Conn.

Visiting hours at Lane Funeral Home will be from 2 to 4 this afternoon and from 7 to 9 p.m. Monday.

to 9 this evening. The funeral tomorrow will be at 10 a.m. with burial in Wildwood Cemetery following.

Contributions in his memory may be made to the American Heart Association, 112 Cypress St., Brookline.

Margaret G. Port

Margaret G. (O'Connell) Port of 54 Hemingway St. died unexpectedly Tuesday at Winchester Hospital at the age of 71.

Mrs. Port, a Winchester resident for 37 years, was employed as a medical secretary at Lawrence Memorial Hospital, Medford, for 18 years until her retirement in 1974.

Mrs. Port was the wife of the late Aubrey M. Port. She is survived by two sons, State Police Sgt. James G. Port of the general headquarters in Concord, a resident of Billerica, and Roy G. Port of Hanover, Mass. She also leaves seven grandchildren.

The funeral service will be tomorrow at Immaculate Conception Church at 9 with burial following at Holy Cross Cemetery in Malden. Visiting hours at the Lane Funeral Home are this afternoon from 2 to 4, and this evening from 7 to 9.

Contributions in her memory may be made to the charity of your choice.

John Quilty

John Quilty, 3 Crescent rd., died Aug. 24 at his home. A native of Limerick, Ire., Mr.

Quilty was a 25-year resident of Winchester. He attended the Christian Brothers' School in Limerick. He retired 11 years ago as foreman for the Farrington Manufacturing Company of Boston.

Before moving to Winchester, he had lived in West Somerville and East Cambridge.

He was the husband of the late Jane (Buckley) Quilty and the son of the late Michael and Mary Quilty. He was the father of Mary E., Margaret A., Rita J., and Dorothy R. Quilty, all of Winchester, and the late Jean Quilty.

A funeral mass was said Friday at St. Mary's Church. Interment was in Wildwood Cemetery in the family lot. Costello Funeral Home handled the arrangements.

Page Richardson

Page W. Richardson of Chebeague Is., Me., formerly of Winchester, died Aug. 24 in Portland.

She was the wife of Howard P. and the mother of Mrs. Charles F. (Mary Lee) Hilly Jr. of California and Mrs. R. Harper (Anne) Brown of Illinois. She is also survived by six grandchildren and a sister, Mrs. J. Morgan Ash III of Maine.

A memorial service was held at the Chebeague United Methodist Church Monday afternoon. Gifts in her memory may be made to the Page West Richardson Trust Memorial, Chebeague United Methodist Church, Chebeague Is., Me., 04017.

Danger of Wrong Pricing

Since human nature is predictable, there is a better than even chance that you'll put the wrong selling price on your home if you arrive at it yourself.

You may price it far above its fair market value because of sentimental attachment, expenditures you have made, or by heeding a well-meaning friend's advice. A home remaining on the market for months due to wrong pricing, a "White Elephant," it eventually sells for a much lower figure than it would have brought originally - had it been priced realistically.

On the other hand, you might under-price it because of unfamiliarity with the local market. This would be financial folly. Your safest bet is to list your home with a Realtor who will help you price it correctly from the start and sell it for the best profit.

If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone or drop in at ANN BLACKHAM & CO., 11 Thompson St., Winchester, Phone 729-1663. We're here to help!

Hill awarded by Tufts

Percy H. Hill of Winchester and Silver Lake, NH, chairman of the department of engineering design at Tufts University in Medford, recently received the distinguished service award from the division of Engineering Design Graphics for his outstanding contributions to the organization and to engineering education.

The award is the highest honor given by the organization, a division of the American Society for Engineering Education, to one of its members.

A member of the faculty at Tufts since 1948, Hill was named acting department head in 1954 before being appointed permanent chairman a year later. He is currently in the process of establishing an all-university course on decision- and policy-making at the request of Tufts President Jean Mayer.

He previously has been director of an engineering curriculum for General Electric, co-founder and the first chairman of the faculty board of Tufts' Experimental College and director and principal investigator of biodesign engineering research.

Hill has been a member of the American Society for Engineering Education since 1948.

In addition to his academic accomplishments, Hill is co-inventor of a uniquely designed toothbrush, called "Reach," intended to remove significantly more cavity-causing plaque from tooth surfaces than conventional brushes.

Hill also is the author of The Science of Engineering Design and four other books, and has written numerous articles on descriptive geometry, engineering graphics, creative engineering design and human factors for over a dozen professional publications. He has also published a number of papers in dental journals and was invited last March to give a paper at the International Association for Dental Research in Copenhagen, Denmark.

Before coming to Tufts, he was on the faculty at Virginia Polytechnic Institute. He received his bachelor's degree from Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute in New York and a master's degree from Harvard University. He was also a lecturer at Northeastern University.

Hill previously has received the Frank Oppenheimer Award in 1968 and has been cited in Who's Who in American Education, Who's Who in Massachusetts and Engineers of Distinction.

He lives at 11 Stratford rd., and maintains a summer home in the Silver Lake region of Madison, NH.

Jack Kean (right), owner of Kean's Flowers, was recently honored by the Winchester Rotary Club when past president Craig Wark presented him with the coveted Rotarian of the Year Award for his outstanding work on various Rotary projects during the past year. Kean exemplified Rotary's motto "service above self" in all his endeavors for the Winchester Rotary Club. His enthusiasm and willingness to direct or assist on all Rotary functions have been an inspiration to the other members of the Club.

Robert Hallisey honored by Tufts

The XI XI Chapter of Omicron Kappa Upsilon at Tufts University School of Dental Medicine has bestowed honorary membership to Robert M. Hallisey of 2 Summit ave.

The OKU is a National Dental Honor Society. In addition to the upper 12 per cent of the graduating class, OKU also recognizes those persons who are not members of the dental profession but have made an outstanding contribution to the advancement of dentistry.

Induction took place at the Annual Dinner Meeting June 15 at the "57" Restaurant in Boston.

Captain Hallisey — a commissioned officer in the US Public Health Service — is the regional radiological health representative for the US Food and Drug Administration in Region I. In this capacity, he serves as a special assistant to the regional food and drug director, providing the technical and program management functions for radiological health and medical device activities in the New England area.

Since 1967, Captain Hallisey has been a faculty member in the Radiology Department of Tufts University School of Dental Medicine; and as such he conducts training courses for dental students and ancillary personnel in the area of radiation protection.

Robert M. Hallisey has been a commissioned officer in the US Public Health Service since 1960 and received a special promotion to the rank of captain in October, 1975. He and his wife Peg have resided in Winchester for the past 15 years. Their three children — Robert Jr., Barbara, and Christopher — are students in the Winchester Public School system.

John P. Harris, 35, (left) of 5 Holton st., received a B.A. degree in liberal arts from Northeastern University in June, and was also honored at Class Day exercises held before graduation. Harris accepts the History Honors Program award from Harold Naidus, associate dean and director of University College's liberal arts program. University College is NU's part-time educational facility.

Lt. Oleson with US Seventh Fleet

Navy Lieutenant Gary Oleson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Yngve L. Oleson of 75 Dunster lane, is currently on an extended deployment in the Western Pacific.

He is serving as the naval air training and operations procedures standardization officer of Helicopter Anti-Submarine Squadron Six, homebased at the North Island Naval Air Station in San Diego. His squadron is embarked aboard the aircraft carrier USS Constellation, which is operating as a unit of the US Seventh Fleet.

He and his fellow squadron members recently conducted jungle environment survival training support flights while at the Cubi Point Naval Air Station at Subic Bay, Republic of the Philippines. Additionally, he had the opportunity to visit Pattaya Beach, Thailand during a five-day call, participating in athletic events with local citizens and donating his time to civic action projects.

During the remainder of the cruise, his squadron is scheduled to participate in several training operations with other Seventh Fleet units and with ships of allied nations. In addition to the training exercises, port visits in a number of Far Eastern countries are scheduled.

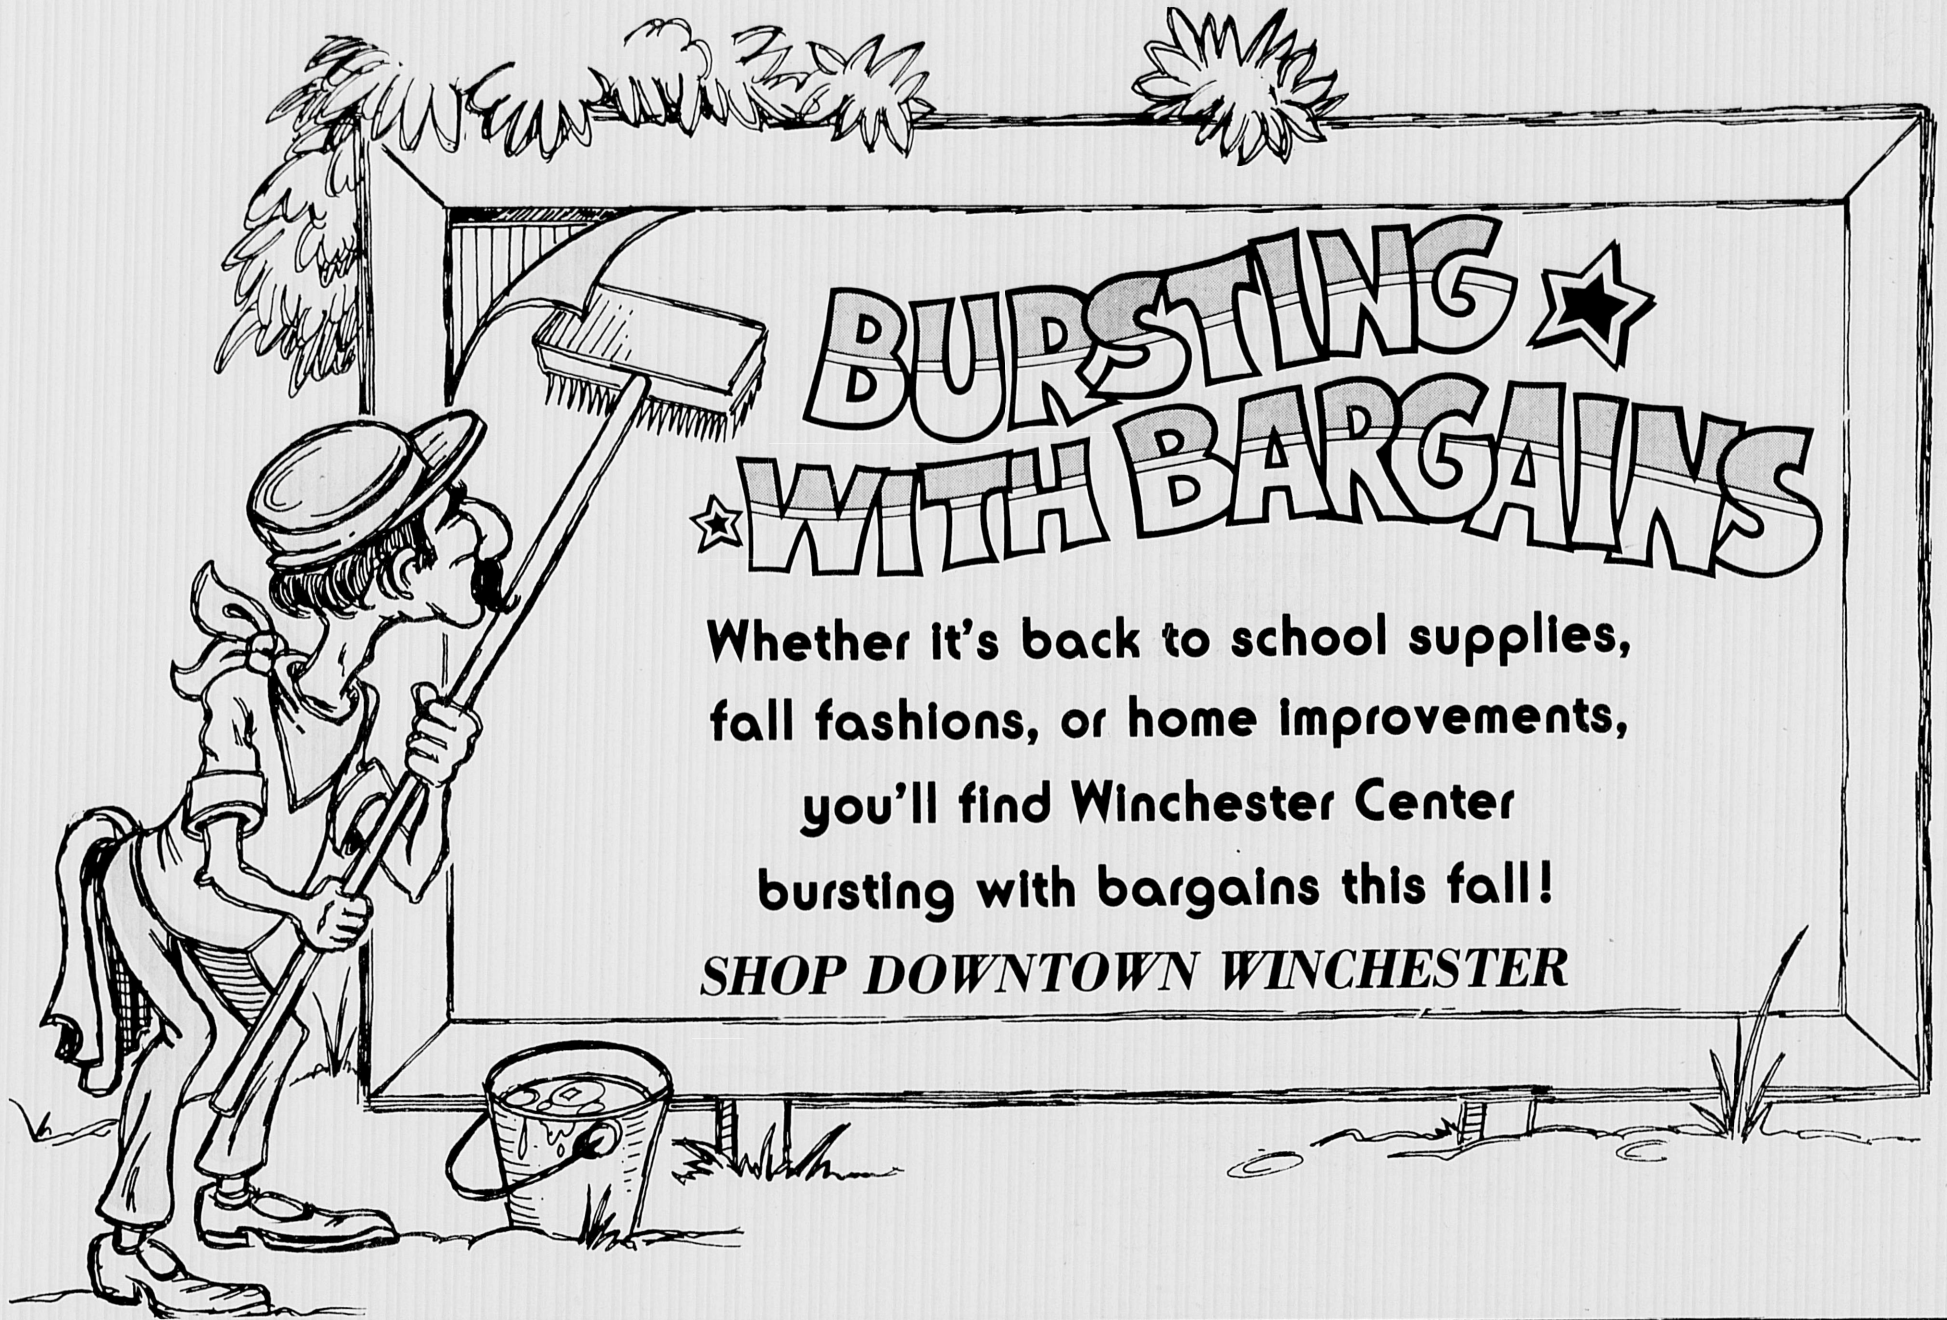

A 1970 graduate of Lafayette College, Easton, Pa., with a bachelor of science degree, he joined the Navy in September 1970.

Divorced?

"Recovery from Separation and Divorce," a group for persons who have recently experienced a separation or divorce from their mate, will be held Monday evenings, beginning Sept. 19, from 7:30-9 p.m. at the Central Middlesex YWCA, 6 Spruce Hill rd., Burlington.

Interested persons should contact the YWCA by Sept. 9, as space is limited. All ages are welcome.

Three new systems to aid with records, communications

Winchester's police are moving into the age of computers with three new data and communications systems.

The three systems, including an alarm monitoring computer, a dispatch information system, and telephone monitoring equipment, will be operational by the end of the month.

The newest weapon in Winchester's anti-burglary campaign, the Varitech alarm monitoring computer will monitor the alarm lines which enter the police headquarters directly from Winchester homes and businesses. When an alarm is detected, the machine will automatically notify the police dispatcher and simultaneously print a permanent record of the exact time of day and date of the occurrence.

The practical significance of the new system to Winchester homeowners, according to Chief John P. McHugh, is that "now we can accept direct lines to headquarters from residential alarm systems. The new computer can monitor up to 999 alarm lines, whereas the capacity of the existing module system is only 60 lines. Because the old system has been saturated, we've had to discourage residential use in the past in order to keep space available for essential business and municipal needs."

According to Safety Officer John W. McKinley, who is supervising the installation of the new equipment, some alarm owners with an automatic dialer or digital communicator are likely to switch to a direct headquarters line because "it is the only notification system that is 'failsafe'—it will automatically go into alarm in the event of equipment failure or if the telephone line is cut."

The new headquarters monitoring system is the latest of a coordinated series of steps in Winchester's continuing anti-burglary campaign. It follows the four-year-old property identification program, the addition of a canine to the police force, improvements in radio communications, and the redeployment of on-duty officers to emphasize coverage of Winchester neighborhoods in the late evening hours.

The computer installation itself culminates two years of study by Chief John P. McHugh and his predecessor, Edward F. Bowler.

The cost of the computer and related equipment and of its maintenance will be borne by American Alarm & Communications, Inc., of Winchester, one of the 21 contractors which submitted proposals to the police department. The company will have responsibility for maintenance of the computer system and for certain administrative functions, including the updating of records relating to individual alarm users and special instructions for police response.

Donahoe reports

Voke gets high marks; but politics plays a role

To hear about it, you might think the high school is ideal — motivated students, interesting courses, no graffiti or discipline problems, suburban setting. All this is true. There are, however, some "highly political" aspects to the Northeast Metropolitan Regional Vocational School, according to Gerard P. Donahoe, Winchester's representative to the 12-community facility.

Donahoe presented an update on the high school, which counts 100 Winchester young people among its population, to a recent meeting of the board of selectmen. The board throughout the summer has been meeting regularly with various department heads and town representatives to keep in touch with matters affecting the town.

Donahoe reported that where in previous years Winchester has been unable to fill its quota, last year there were 19 students on a waiting list for a school which prepares students with vocational and technical skills for work.

There are several programs at the Voke, each tailored for specific needs of the students, but all have in common the enhancing of a student's skills so that he or she can maintain an academic program and technical training.

Students are eligible to enter at the ninth grade after aptitude tests and recommendations from the junior high school. Later on in the high school career, a student may choose to specialize in one field like health service or data processing. There is a late afternoon program which enables students to remain at the local "feeder" high school for academic subjects and then go on to the Voke for late afternoon training. There are adult courses.

There are also political pressures. Donahoe says, "The situation in other cities and towns is highly political. Jobs are being created so that somebody's brother or uncle can have a job. There were 12 such jobs created last year and I voted against every one of them."

Donahoe has been concerned with excess costs. He anticipates that teachers will go along with a zero dollar pay increase this year, "but next year we anticipate a raise." Selectman Richard W. Wilsack asked Donahoe specifically about what he called the Users of the new system will pay a use fee of $35 annually to American Alarm as well as a non-recurring initial connection charge of $50.

The second new system being installed is the Dispatch Information System (DIS). Provided by the Mass. Police Institute (MPI), the system will operate for a trial period of four to six months, after which the results will be reviewed.

Under the DIS, all police activities will be recorded on special cards, in triplicate. The cards are analyzed by computer to give the department an accurate picture of its activities.

Eventually the system would provide Winchester with one compartment of information including all types of records, data, and statistics (excluding traffic records). The information bank would provide easy access and aide in crime analysis, according to Chief McHugh.

A side benefit of this system is that coordination with such a computerized information bank may help qualify Winchester for special funding for police programs. Chief McHugh says the system could also be adapted to coordinate with the town's own computer.

Michael Price from the MPI is setting up the system, and the MPI itself will be doing the information analysis for the time being.

The initial package of equipment has just arrived for a third system which will allow for monitoring of telephone calls coming into the police station. The equipment includes a console and some of the tapes, which record the time and content of calls.

The chief says he hopes this addition to the department will improve police response to emergency calls, serve as a record to help "establish the integrity of the department," and clear up disputes with the public over whether or not reports are indeed made to the police.

As town forest

Brooks estate still thriving land

In 1941 Winchester took its first step into land conservation, according to Bruce Stone's History of Winchester, when it bought 23 acres of the Brooks estate. Those original acres and some more acquired later, make up the town forest, a quiet tract of century-old hemlock groves, oaks, grassy spots and shade, at the edge of the town.

Largely through the efforts of Richard

The town forest is a peaceful place where pine needles cushion your footsteps and 150-year-old trees give you shade. The forest, open to walkers, is located off Chardon road.

Parkhurst, Winchester saved the land from real estate developers. The History of Winchester tells us that Mrs. Shepard Brooks, last owner of the Peter Chardon Brooks estate, died after several years in a nursing home, leaving about 30 acres in Medford and 23 in Winchester. She left the land to the Massachusetts Audubon Society in the hopes that it would remain in a natural state, but there was no money left along with the estate to provide for its upkeep and maintenance. Mass. Audubon turned down the gift because they too were without sufficient funds, and the heirs offered the tract to the Metropolitan District Commission. They could not provide for the maintenance of the property and turned down the gift.

By this time real estate developers had taken a look at the land and wanted it for construction. The heirs and Parkhurst came up with a plan which the town meeting of 1941 passed. Winchester bought ten acres for $1000 an acre and acquired the remaining 13 acres "more or less free," as Stone says. A town forest committee was set up for the administration of the land as a town forest. The original three members were Richard Parkhurst, Sherman Russell, and Edward McKenzie. The committee now claims Stephen Parkhurst, who stepped in for his father and Sherman Russell. There is currently a vacancy for the third seat but Director of Public Works Walter J. Tonaszuck is expected to be named.

The committee started clearing out brush and pruning deadwood. Today the committee still takes on these chores. In addition, the town departments are called in for assistance when needed.

Stephen Parkhurst has many, many memories of the town forest. He grew up just a stone's throw from its boundaries. "I remember as a little boy hiding in the three-foot high rye field and making tunnels through it," he recalled on a recent visit to the forest. He remembers the cows grazing under the trees and keeping the grass down all the way to the base of the trees.

You can walk along and suddenly come

Hospital tours give first grades look at emergency room

First grade children in Winchester, Reading and Wilmington will have an opportunity to visit Winchester Hospital when tours begin Monday, September 29. The Friends of Winchester Hospital and the Community Relations Department will conduct tours on Monday afternoons from 12:30 to 2 p.m. throughout the school year.

The children will have a short classroom session which will include a discussion and demonstration of some of the more commonly used equipment in the hospital. The pupils will then be taken on a tour of the emergency rooms, the x-ray department and the pediatric department.

Since only one classroom of children at a time can take the tour, reservations may be made by calling Mrs. Helen Abbott, Community Relations Department, Winchester Hospital.

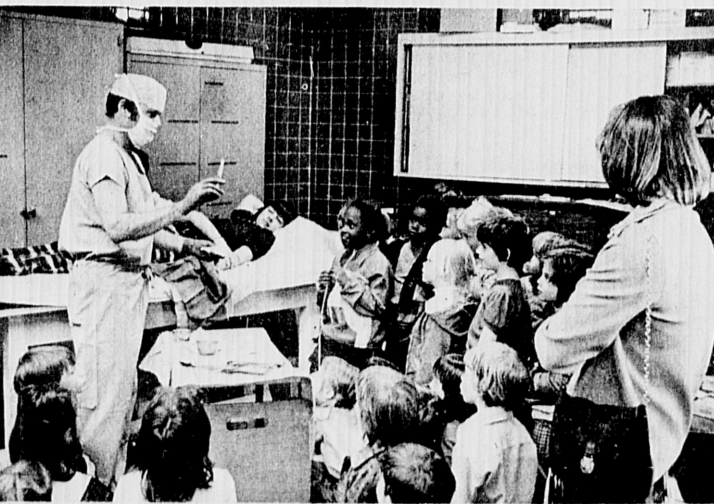

across several large chunks of granite brought there, probably by sledge, when the Middlesex Canal was taken down. The Brooks family held a large share in the Middlesex Canal.

The basic idea behind the maintenance of the land has been to keep it as a country park. The town forest has been likened to Germany's Black Forest where every piece of scrap wood is gathered up for firewood. Consequently the floor of the forest is clear. Only pine needles soften the footsteps of the passer-through.

Such practices of clearing underbrush and deadwood, do, however, lead some ecologists to question the ultimate character of the land. For example, many birds depend on the insect life under rotting bark for their food. When the rotted trees are removed, some bird life is also removed. Flowers which grow in a wooded area are generally broad-leaved to gather in every ray of sun which filters through the tall trees. In cleared areas, the broad-leaved plants are replaced by more narrow-leaved species. Another item of concern is the underbrush needed by certain animals for foraging or hiding.

Winchester has woods of both types, natural as in the Fells and maintained as in the forest.

The town forest is located off Chardon road. There are pedestrian entrances at Ox Pasture, and Sussex road as well as Chardon. Vehicular traffic is forbidden, as are motorcycles and trail bikes, but there is a problem for Winchester in maintaining these rules. The forest is also in Medford and part of it belongs to that city. Medford, however, has different rules for the use of its part of the woods and there is little communication between Winchester's forest committee and Medford, according to Parkhurst, and Medford does not seem to have a body set up specifically for town forest matters.

"So that you will feel no pain..." Dr. Hugh McCarthy explains why a shot is given before an injury is attended to. First graders from the Washington School paid a recent visit to the Winchester Hospital facilities.

Graffeo bows out

Manager defends role in appointing process

A. Paul Graffeo, whose appointment to the DPW sparked a debate last week over the role of the selectmen in the appointing process, has turned down his position.

Town Manager Thomas Groux, who was not present at last week's discussion, strongly defended his role as appointing authority before the board of selectmen Monday night.

Groux appointed Graffeo to the position of operations manager for buildings and grounds in the middle of August. At that time he advised Graffeo to let his employers at Somerville Hospital know about the appointment, rather than wait for an announcement to appear in the newspaper.

Two weeks later, at the request of one of the selectmen, the appointment came before the board for review. Under the town charter, the selectmen have the power to veto the manager's appointments.

A majority of the selectmen at that time felt the appointment should be vetoed. However, by a 3-2 vote, Graffeo was approved. A majority of the board said they had problems with the advertising for the job and noted that Graffeo did not specifically meet the qualifications asked for in the advertising. "I was quite vexed," said Selectman Edward O'Connell of the fact that Graffeo and the stated job requirements did not match up. "A number of people didn't know they didn't have to have the specific requirements in the ad and therefore didn't apply for the job."

Board member Richard Wilsack supported this view, saying the advertising "was very strict." He suggested that had the job qualifications been more general, more local persons might have applied for the job.

"I think the man I appointed was the best qualified of all the applicants," replied Groux. He noted that a number of the applicants were less qualified than Graffeo and concluded, "I don't think it (the advertisement) necessarily turned people off."

Groux insisted that the advertisement, which appeared twice in The Boston Globe and once in the Beacon, (a publication of the Mass. League of Cities and Towns), did not preclude those who had enough self-confidence in their abilities from applying, even if they did not meet the exact requirements.

Groux plans to reset the specifications for the job and advertise again, this time in The Globe, The Star, and The Woburn Times.

Selectman Harry Chelalo affirmed that he had nothing against the appointee, his gripe was with the advertisement and the job description. "I don't think two men could fill that job," he said.

Groux defended the advertisement on the grounds that an applicant will know better than most whether or not he can handle a particular job. He noted that one cannot always measure qualifications for a management position by degree or years of experience. "We were looking for someone with a technical background who had some exhibited ability to work with people and motivate them and bring new ideas in."

Groux defended his appointing role when Selectman Richard Wilsack suggested that the board take a look at some job candidates before they are formally appointed (and before they give notice to their employers). O'Connell supported Wilsack, saying that appointments "should be subject to the action of the board when the board so chooses. . . We should not shirk our responsibility."

Groux argued that a decision has to be made first, and that the role of the selectmen

60-day trial

Shore road to be one-way

Shore road will become a one-way street for a trial 60-day period. The board of selectmen voted the change after public discussion Monday night.

Intended to reduce traffic congestion and improve parking in the area, the move will make Shore road one-way from the rotary to Skillings road. Parking along the railroad side of the street will be at a 40 degree angle; parking on the opposite side of the road will remain parallel.

According to Town Engineer Jake Ciarcia, who presented the plan to the selectmen, the change would mean a net gain of 10 parking spaces, making 39 in all.

Ciarcia said the proposal arose out of recommendations from both the police and engineering departments that something be done to alleviate the traffic congestion in the Shore road-Winchester place area.

Selectman Arthur Dunbar was the only member of the board voting against the proposal. He argued that the new arrangement would feed more traffic into the parking area behind the Purity Supreme Market and encourage more traffic on Winchester place.

Ciarcia said the cost of the change has not been worked out but added it would only involve painting new parking lines on one side of the street and putting up a few signs. He said the funds could probably be taken from a public works project or absorbed by maintenance costs.

Safety Officer John McKinley, who helped design the plan, said he had spoken with the owners and occupants of the buildings on Shore road, and he said they were generally in favor of some improvement over the present situation.

"I'm not entirely sure we aren't creating more problems than we solve," commented Selectman Edward Connell, who eventually voted for the proposal. He pointed out that recent reports from the center study committee indicate there is adequate parking in the center of town.

Town Manager Thomas Groux pointed out that while that was true in general, there were specific problems associated with the supermarket on Shore road. Deliveries have been a problem, with the large trucks blocking entry to Shore road (although the deliveries are now being made from Winchester place).

"Our volume and sales have dropped a little bit," said Purity representative James Simmons. "Ten spaces is not a lot, but it means dozens of customers a day to us. . . We're losing customers to the Woburn store, and we'd like to keep them here."

Commenting on the possibility of increased traffic on Winchester place, Police Chief John McHugh said he didn't think the situation under the proposed changes would be any worse than it is now. "We have a bad situation presently, and I hope we can improve it by bettering the flow."

Officer McKinley added that the lights at the intersection of Shore road and Skillings road were designed for one-way traffic (heading towards Skillings road). He indicated that a more regular light pattern than now exists at that intersection would make it safer.

As for the traffic on Winchester place, Ciarcia said about 75-80 percent of the cars going down Shore road from the rotary now turn into the municipal lot, many of them turning down Winchester place.

MCAB calls for rush meeting in wake of firing

James Miceli, co-chairman of the Middlesex County Advisory Board, has called for an emergency meeting of the MCAB for today at 7:30 p.m. at Estabrook Hall of the Carey Memorial, Lexington.

The meeting is to discuss the situation at the Middlesex County Hospital and the dismissal of Miles Mahoney. Mahoney was fired August 30 by County Commissioners Michael E. McLaughlin and John L. Danehy from his $23,000 a year job as director of the Waltham facility. In a two-page statement issued by the commissioners at their regular weekly meeting, McLaughlin cited 14 reasons for the dismissal.

There have been allegations of a $600,000 operating deficit last year, irresponsibility, and poor morale. Mahoney and County Commissioner S. Lester Ralph, who voted against the firing, charge that McLaughlin and Danehy are using this method for securing patronage jobs. Thomas Stathis, the hospital personnel director, was fired along with Mahoney.

With charges and countercharges spewing from both sides, tonight's meeting in Lexington is open to the public. The county commissioners have been requested to attend. James Miceli of the MCAB said, "Since the 54 cities and towns contribute to the support of the hospital, they should know what justification exists for the commissioners' action in firing the hospital's administrator."

★ Selectmen

is as a check on the manager rather than an integral part of the appointment process. The manager added, "I don't want to be influenced by the personal desires of board members."

He said appointments would not be effective until the board had had a chance to veto them and cautioned that "to bring all nominees before the board would make the manager more of an executive secretary rather than a decision maker." He further suggested that if appointments had to be repeatedly called up for review, then there might be some problem with the town manager.

Defending Groux's position, Selectman Arthur Dunbar said, "The charter lays out the powers of the selectmen and the manager. If he brings an appointment we don't approve of then we should use that power and veto it." He added, "I wouldn't want it any other way."

Politics may have played a role in the Graffeo appointment issue. "There are too many coincidences for this to be simply based on problems with the DPW reorganization itself," Groux said. "Why did it come at this particular time?" he asked the board, noting that no such problems arose with his own or DPW Director Walter Tonaszuk's appointments. Because of the discussion over the operations manager position at town meeting last spring, and because Graffeo is from out of town, Groux suggested there might be personal interests involved.

O'Connell responded by saying that the fact that the other operations managers were from within the town and that Graffeo comes from outside led the board to desire a closer look at the applicant. "The others were known quantities," said O'Connell. He denied any personal interest, saying to Groux, "I don't think the board acted on behalf of the vested interests of any other individual."

There are three basic methods of making appointments in town manager government, explained Groux: either the manager makes the appointments entirely on his own authority; or the manager makes the appointments with some sort of check by another part of the government; or the selectmen or other elected authority approve all appointments.

Winchester's system is the compromise, Groux said. "I think we can live with that, though I think it has problems. I would personally rather the selectmen not get involved with the personnel function." Because the veto power is there, Groux said he felt he would work closely with the selectmen in making appointments.

Groux noted that the public nature of the appointments made for a difficult situation vis-a-vis the former employer. Because the information is public knowledge, the individual involved is almost compelled to reveal his appointment to the employer, even though it may not be final and may jeopardize the appointee's position and professional status.

"The public's right to know in this case may in fact work against the public interest," Groux contended. "The net result is that there are people who are beginning to shy away from public employment."

Selectmen Chairman Barbara Hanks suggested the best the manager could do would be to inform the appointees of the potential for a veto and leave it up to them as to whether or not they should give notice.

"That may be our only alternative," said Groux.

Clearing house still has youth job applications

Applications for the youth job clearing house are still available at the fire station, high school, and the Dairy Barn on Main street.

The clearing house will be running throughout the winter with jobs for young people 12-18. Anyone needing an odd job done can call 729-2111 and ask Doris Nash for information.

Jake Horn testimonial Oct 1

The cutoff date for ticket reservations to the testimonial dinner-dance honoring Winchester's John "Jake" Horn is Sept. 24. Judging by the response, reports committee chairman John Hennelly, reservations should be made as soon as possible.

The event will take place Oct. 1 from 6:30 to midnight at the Woburn State Armory. For information and reservations, contact John Hennelly at 729-1841. The following biography of Jake Horn was submitted by the dinner committee.

John T. Horn was born September 14, 1915 and raised in Winchester. He was educated in the Winchester Public Schools and graduated from Boston's North Bennett Industrial School.

He married Louise Dawn Murphy August 26, 1934 and has four children: Mrs. Roland (Dawn) Farrow of Largo, Fla.; Mrs. Timothy (Judy) Walsh III, of Woburn; John T. Horn Jr., married to former Winchester resident Lynne Goodwin, of Danvers; and Mrs. William (Debbie) Carroll of Winchester. He has 12 grandchildren from ages one to 21, the oldest granddaughter in Florida being married.

John (Jake) comes from a family well known in Winchester consisting of six boys and six girls. His parents, Gertrude and Gordo, were active members of the VFW Post 3719 in Winchester. Gertrude was president of the Ladies Auxiliary, as was Jake's sister Margie. His brothers, Sid, Creighton, Robert and Richard also served as officers of the VFW. His parents and brothers Sid and Robert are now deceased.

He is a veteran of World War II, having enlisted in the US Navy and served in the Pacific Theatre. Incidentally, he trained in boot camp with his twin brothers Robert and Richard.

Jake has been a town meeting member for over 25 years and has been Veterans' Graves Officer since 1948. He also has been the parade marshal for the Memorial Day Parade since 1948. He is also a member of the personnel board, the American Red Cross, Past Commander of the American Legion and Winchester Lodge of Elks. He has served on many civic drives in town and was associated with the management of the Immaculate Conception Drum and Bugle Corps for many years.

Jake and his wife Dawn decorate all veterans' graves for our town in Wildwood Cemetery (Winchester), Calvary and Woodbrook Cemeteries (Woburn) and Oak Grove Cemetery (Medford) with flags and wreaths on Memorial Day. This includes at least 1200 graves.

He is also responsible for proposing the new War Memorials at Wildwood and Calvary Cemeteries along with the Town Honor Roll at the Town Hall. At the present time he is meeting with the board of selectment and has been instrumental in acquiring two new wings for the Honor Roll recognizing those men and women who served in the Korean and Vietnam Wars.

Exalted Ruler John Mawn of the Winchester Lodge of Elks has named Horn, honorary chairman of the Memorial Day Service and the veterans committee for the Lodge.

Jake has worked for the town as a supervisory foreman for 40 years. He had charge of all street painting and sign work and all maintenance. He is also a retired member of the Winchester Fire Department, having received a gold badge for our late Chief I. Francis Amico in 1975 for 25 years of dedicated service.

On November 1, 1974, Jake fell from a leaf machine on the highway department while doing repair work and fractured four vertebrae and has been out of work since. He was confined to the Winchester Hospital on a Stryker frame bed for two months and then recuperated for another two months at the Woburn Rehabilitation Center. With the help of his wife, nurses, doctors and family, he has made a fine recovery, with still some minor problems, but is now up and about.

Need food, items

Seniors call for more help for second fall fiesta fair

Although the response to requests for the Winchester Seniors' Association Second Fall Fiesta Fair has been good, there are still many needs to be handled in preparation for this event at St. Eulalia's Hall in a few short weeks. An appeal is being sent out for people to make the Chicken Divan Casseroles as well as giving articles for the several tables. The recipe for the main dish at the luncheon may be obtained from the office of the Council on Aging.

The following chairpersons are working hard with their committees to make this event a real success: Plants - Clarence Borggaard; Knit Goods - May Hamby; White Elephants - Mary McLaughlin; Christmas Table - Gertrude Walker; Silent Auction - Polly McGuigan; Cheese Table - Margaret and Ben Goodwin; Baked Goods - Dorothy Cullen; Chance Books - Carol Mawdsley and Connie Davy. Needed are more people to handle the luncheon and the Wishing Well. Volunteer your services for any one of these tables by calling the office of the Council on Aging - 729-2111.

Chances on the quilt, the afghan, and the pine cone wreath will soon be available for distribution. The drawings for these items will take place on the day of the fair.

and enthusiastically, this second big venture will bring forth a substantial sum to be used by the Winchester Seniors' Association for worthy purposes. Search your attics and basements for items that can be used on the White Elephant Table. The Ways and Means Committee is also seeking donations of plantings for Clarence's Potting Shed. Food is requisite for the Bake Table as well as desserts for the luncheon. With dozens of hands helping to pull the load, the results are bound to be worth the effort.

hearing set

The selectmen will hold several hearings at their meeting Monday night.

The board will meet with the center study committee at 8:30 p.m. to talk about that group's latest report on business conditions in the center of town.

At 9 p.m. the topic will be hackney licenses. The board has issued 12 instead of the usual 16 licenses so far this year, and they are seeking some public input as to what an appropriate number of such licenses might be.

Another hearing will be held Wednesday evening at eight in the library meeting room on the TOPICS program. At issue is a $240,000 program designed to improve traffic conditions at five intersections in town.

7 hydrants opened up in one day

Police believe a group of local youths were responsible for opening seven fire hydrants around town last Sunday evening. They are seeking complaints against two of the youths.

The activity began around 8:45 p.m. when a report came in for an opened hydrant at Forest and Charles streets. Shortly after nine o'clock, box alarm 341 sounded, and another hydrant was found opened up at the Alford Manufacturing Company on Cross street.

The reports continued until about 10 p.m., with hydrants being opened on Charles road, Sawmill Brook road, the Ambrose School, Westland and Robinhood roads, and at Windercrest and Ridge streets.

Around 10 p.m. police spotted a carload of youths whom they believed were responsible for the activity. All are believed to be 17 and 18 years old. Complaints are being sought against two of them for sounding a false alarm and malicious damage to property.

In other police news, five break-ins and one attempted break-in were reported this week. On Monday a woman returning from vacation reported her home had been broken into on South Main street. The house had been ransacked, according to police reports, and silverware and watches had been stolen. The woman had been employing someone to keep watch on the house.

Jewelry and silver were taken in a break-in Sunday evening on South Gateway. Entry was through a porch and a bathroom window while the residents were away for the evening.

On Saturday evening a man broke into the Maytag Laudromat on Washington street, apparently to retrieve his own clothes which had been locked in at closing time.

Another break-in occurred on Marchant road the same day. Someone apparently took a ladder out of the garage and used it to gain entrance through a kitchen window. Because of the small size of the entrance, police believe someone of slight build, or possibly a youngster, committed the burglary. Whoever it was took a look in the refrigerator and made off with a dozen bottles of liquor, an antique clock, and some silver dollars.

Friday night $140 was reported stolen from a Park street apartment. There was no sign of forced entry, police say.

Other incidents this week included the theft of a parking meter from Park street Sunday night and the arrest Friday of a 44-year-old Woburn resident for driving under the influence.

An attempted break-in was reported on Forest street, where a resident had collected a number of paintings to be sold at a church fair. The resident was still in the house when the attempt was made, and police believe her movements might have scared the burglar off.

A Roslindale resident, Patrick F. Morehouse (who was arrested as Kirk Morrison), was found guilty on five counts revolving around the theft of motor vehicles. For larceny of a motor vehicle, he was given two years in the Billerica House of Correction, suspended for three years; for larceny of a motor cycle and possession of burglarious tools he was given the same sentence, also suspended; for receiving stolen property (credit cards) he was given one year suspended; and for malicious damage to property he was directed to give restitution of $631.50.

The case has been appealed to a jury trial.

Political power

Selectmen found themselves stuck in a bit of political muck recently when they considered a veto of a town manager appointment to the DPW.

A. Paul Graffeo received his appointment from Town Manager Thomas Groux effective Aug. 30; however, the board almost rejected the appointment, and Graffeo has since decided to bow out, declining the position of operations manager for buildings and grounds.

The problem arose when selectmen questioned the appointment within the 15 days allotted by the charter for consideration of a veto. Though the final vote was 3-2 in favor of approval, selectmen felt the fact that Graffeo had already given his notice put them in an awkward position.

Groux says he suggested that Graffeo give notice rather than wait and possibly have his former employer find out about Graffeo's leaving through the newspaper — not a very pleasant experience. So Graffeo went ahead and told his boss at Somerville Hospital that he'd be leaving for Winchester. In fact, by the charter, the appointment was final.

Only the selectmen have a check on it. The reason Groux can go ahead and make the appointments is to avoid having him influenced by one elected official or another in his decisions — that is, to keep politics out of the game.

Selectmen Chairman Barbara Hankins explained that the board has tried very hard not to put undue political pressure on the town manager when he makes an appointment. Groux himself asked the board, when he came to work here two years ago, if they would prefer to be made aware of potential appointments before the actual announcement. Mrs. Hankins at that time said the board would prefer NOT to know, so that there could never be a question of political honesty.

The pressure, therefore, comes when the board feels an appointment is not suitable. What to do? Put a person's professional standing in jeopardy by refusing the job already assured him? Vote against your better judgment?

The problem is severe enough to have caused two members of the board to say that they thought morally they did not have the power to veto, despite what the charter says.

Then again, it is the responsibility of the selectmen to veto an appointment if they find valid grounds for rejection. The problem of whether or not an appointee has given notice is not theirs — it rests with the appointee, and to a lesser extent, with the town manager.

The charter could be amended to allow the selectmen to review appointees before the formal announcement is made. But as Mrs. Hankins said, this would open up the process to political pressures. In fact, there is some evidence that even the veto power is subject to some manipulation.

Until a better solution comes along, we must rely on the ability of the manager to judge character and make appointments, and on the ability of the selectmen to use their power with the best interests of the town in mind. — DKF.

The forest is clean

Hiding our heads beneath grandma's mob cap and blanketing ourselves under the covers of ignorance, we must confess that we are the wolf in the recent editorial about Red Riding Hood's unfortunate walk through the town forest.

It was brought to our attention by someone who knows about things like this, that the litter and debris in the forest is almost entirely in the Medford end. We must acknowledge that we were not even aware that there is a Medford part of the woods or that our neighboring city is responsible for keeping that end clean.

Stephen R. Parkhurst, a member of the town forest committee, and son of a former member of that board, was kind enough to point out the error of our ways. A visit with him through the forest confirmed his point. Today's Star contains a story about the forest. Winchester has 27 acres...27 clean and quiet acres of hickory groves, ancient trees, and grassy places.

We would stick our wolf-like noses out from under the blankets long enough to suggest that Medford take a look at the article and perhaps see what can be done by a group dedicated to the preservation of a precious commodity — nature. — KLF-F

Town watch...

Keep an eye out

By The Observer

Most school children skipped along to their first day of classes yesterday and some more will be calling today the first school day in Winchester.

Whether you are driving within the town limits or driving through other cities and towns in the state, remember the school bus law. Drivers must stop when school bus lights are flashing for passengers to alight from or board that bus. It doesn't matter which side of the street you're on, when those lights flash and the kids are getting on or off you must stop. The only exception is when you are traveling in the opposite direction on a divided highway.

Keep a good eye out for children at corners, intersections, crosswalks, near playgrounds and other recreational areas as well as in school zones. Parents, too, should be especially attentive to children going to school for the first time.

Remember that some of these children only come as high as your door handle. Be careful.

The board of selectmen went through an inventory of committees under its jurisdiction Monday night and found two openings on active committees.

The board is looking for persons to fill posts on the town forest committee and the conservation commission. Interested parties should contact the selectmen's office in Town Hall.

As for their other committees, the selectmen voted to formally discharge several groups, including the ad hoc building committee, established in 1973 to study the state building codes; the ad hoc Civil Service study committee; and the ad hoc center committee set up in 1972, an inactive group not associated directly with the present center study committee.

The board also recommended that a number of town meeting committees be discharged.

Winchester's tax rate is down 20c this year, which puts us in a somewhat rare group.

According to the Massachusetts Taxpayers Foundation, of the first 86 Massachusetts communities reporting fiscal 1978 tax rates, 70 were above the 1977 rate, six showed no change and ten were lower. Five of the lowered rates were due to revaluations.

The 86 communities represent 23 percent of the state's total tax base and are mostly rural or suburban towns. None of the state's large cities is included.

If you balk at the $73.40 in Winchester, look at Acushnet, which set a tax rate this year of $252. Of course, there's always New Ashford, where taxpayers will pay $9 on every $1000.

A new federal Surplus Property Act, which goes into effect on October 17, is designed to allow organizations to qualify for free surplus federal property like office equipment, a computer, maybe even a ship.

The Metropolitan Area Planning Council (MAPC) is holding a workshop, free and open to the public, to explain to community officials and non-profit organizations the best way to take advantage of the Act.

The workshop is today from 9 to noon at 27 School st., second floor, Boston.

How about a surplus fountain for the common?

Massachusetts unemployment insurance (UI) benefits have been extended from a maximum of 30 weeks to a maximum of 39 weeks because of an upward change in the national insured unemployment rate.

The reinstatement of the federal-state extended benefit program (TREX) began August 28 and will continue for at least 13 weeks.

Information on individual claims will be provided by local Division of Employment Security claims centers when claimants report at their regularly scheduled times.

For those of you who read last week's report on campaign finances and didn't know better, Cathy Alexander is indeed on the school committee. Some sort of a slip led us to report that her bid for the seat last spring had been "unsuccessful."

Letters from readers

Letters to the editor on any subject of interest to Winchester residents are welcome. They should be typed and not exceed 250 words. All letters must be signed with name and address and a telephone number. Names will be held on request. Deadline for letters is 5 p.m. Monday.

Thanks nurses

EDITOR OF THE STAR:

I want to thank all the nurses at the pediatrics floor for being so helpful, professional and human during part of my son's sickness at the Winchester Hospital.

Nora Castro
208 Forest st.

Right or wrong

EDITOR OF THE STAR:

With the crazy driving that goes on these days, it's a wonder there aren't more awful accidents.

While waiting for a ride the other day I saw a car almost tip over on Church street. It was going too fast and didn't slow down at Central street and almost hit another car coming across from Wildwood street and then blamed the other guy.

What is it about the young today. Don't they know right from wrong? I don't think they were taught anything growing up, either that or what brains they do have do not function.

Mothers should put more good old fashioned discipline into these young people on their way up.

P.S. I do not blame the men in these families as they have to work 8 hours for daily bread.

Louise Chase

Helpful

EDITOR OF THE STAR:

I would like to take this time to thank the Winchester Fire Dept. for their quick assistance in getting a friend who became ill at my house to the hospital last Tuesday night.

I would also like to thank Officer Gerry Turner and Firefighter Ken Duffy whose off duty assistance was appreciated deeply. It's good to see that some of the police and firefighters can be very helpful on or off duty.

Thanks again

In the mood ...

With your help, teacher

By Karen Whittlesey-First

Say, I didn't bargain for this. I want equal time. After all I'm his mother.

Last year I left him at the kindergarten door — thoughts of separation anxiety, just like the textbook, vying with delight at having half a day alone, just like a mother. Now you pull this first grade scene on me. What's up? Last year you taught him to write numerals and letters with the right curves going the right direction. You showed him why it isn't nice to pull Lisa's pigtails and why little boys who fight with each other usually end up looking scowls at each other from across the room.

You showed him the magic of reading which, with a lot of luck he'll never get over, and the magic of friendship which, with more luck, he'll remember until the end of his days. You took him, an unformed five-year-old ready to grasp into his sponge-like being whatever you saw fit to teach him.

I could handle that. After all, it had happened three other times in this family. Nothing new, nothing different.

But now you're saying you want him for six hours a day, every weekday.

Hold on. What's happening to that special time when everyone else was in school and we could do the marketing together? There was always a special treat at the end. What happened to the walks down to the school to meet the other kids at 3? There's no one to walk with me now and it's a long walk.

And what about those late mornings when I saw him peeping lazily out his window watching to see what the day would bring. Now the day will include him walking down the street in those morning hours, ready to put in a full day of work.

You have him for six hours a day. If he gets home by 3:30, goes to swimming lessons and plays outside and goes to bed at 8:30, that gives me no more than three hours of his time every day.

Three hours to tell him that it's more than learning cursive writing and addition. It's more than dodge ball because sometimes the dodges are real life and you can't just jump out of the way. Three hours to tell him that what seems silly now is important later and that his name is special even if it is very long and that people who are friends sometimes say nasty things and that at the end of every day there is a place to come home to.

You have a monopoly on my son. Please remember that I gave him all the care and love I could, knowing that someday they would have to get him through, no matter what the kids on the corner tell him. He'll have to weigh their ideas and dreams now against that caring and loving I've given him.

With your help, teacher, they'll stand him in good stead and he and the future will be in good hands.

But did it have to come so soon?

All kinds of nuts

By Elizabeth Mahoney Correspondent

The Presidential family interest in peanuts has resulted in a rising national interest in all variety of nuts for eating and cooking.

Goodies for cocktail parties may be a Washington fad, but nuts have been in use since our country was founded. North America has always had a plentiful supply of nuts and they were welcomed by the early colonists as a relief from the poor diet they existed on.

Many unusual ways of preparing nuts were practiced by the Indians and the colonists learned to copy them. They were eaten out-of-hand, roasted, added to stews and meat dishes. Indians ground the kernels and made bread and puddings.

In addition to the native American hickory, the colonists found chestnuts, pecan black walnuts, beechnuts and acorns.

Two following recipes are quite different but feature nuts. Susan L. Patch is a young single woman in her 20's who enjoys cooking. She is a creative cook who will try her hand at any type of dish, grows her own her garden and likes to bake cake and cookies. There is a difference: Susan is blind.

Although she is now living and working in Agawam in the area of rehabilitation of the blind for the state, Susan returns home regularly to visit her mother and friends. Most often she is cooking.

Susan's Fudge Nut Cake

1/2 cup shortening
2 cups sugar
2 eggs

2 cups sifted cake flour
12 oz. milk
Generous teaspoon salt
2 teaspoons vanilla
4 squares unsweetened chocolate
1 cup chopped nuts.

Cream shortening and sugar. Add lightly beaten eggs, then sifted dry ingredients alternately with liquids. Melt chocolate and add together with nuts.

Prepare butter frosting by blending one-fourth cup butter, 2 cups sifted powdered sugar, 4 teaspoons milk, 1 teaspoon vanilla and a dash salt.

Linda Popp, of Pond street, is a busy local reading teacher. She likes to use her refrigerator instead of the oven for desserts and she rates this unusual dessert very high. Guests have enjoyed it, she says.

Peanut Butter Pie
2 pkgs. (3 oz. each) cream cheese, softened
1/2 cup peanut butter, smooth variety
3/4 cup sifted powdered sugar
2 tablespoons milk
1 envelope Dream Whip topping, prepared
Graham cracker crust

In a small mixer bowl on low speed beat together cream cheese and sugar until mixture is light and fluffy. Add peanut butter and milk, beating until smooth and creamy. Mixture will be sticky at first. Prepare Dream Whip according to directions. Blend in and turn mixture into prepared crust. Chill at least six hours or overnight. Garnish with a few reserved crumbs.

State House roll call

Before adjourning for a brief end-of-August recess, the House and Senate met in joint session as a constitutional convention to consider several proposed amendments to the state constitution. The four proposed amendments considered on roll call votes have all been approved by previous joint sessions of the legislature and with this year's subsequent approval, now go on the 1978 state ballot.

Governor and Budgets (S 1390): This amendment allows a governor who has not served the previous year as governor, eight weeks to submit his proposed budget for the fiscal year to the legislature. Sen. Sam Rotondi and Rep. Sherman W. Saltmarsh, Jr., both voted with the majority in favoring this amendment and each of the following three amendments.

Voter Information (S 1454): This amendment authorizes the secretary of state to send voter information material to each household with one or more voters, rather than to every individual voter.

Census Taking (S 1455): Under this constitutional amendment, the state census would conform to federal census standards.

Charter and Charter Revision (H 6011): Both branches of the legislature approved an amendment which would increase from ten to 18 months the time for a final charter revision to be submitted to a city council or board of selectmen.

County hearing on how they'll spend revenue sharing $

The commissioners of Middlesex County will hold a hearing Wednesday to discuss how the county intends to utilize its share of General Revenue Sharing funds. The money will come out of the $1,538,223 allocated for January-September 1977, and from the $2,201,332 allocated for October 1977-September 1978.

The hearing will be held at 11 a.m. in Room 341 of the New Superior Courthouse, 40 Thorndike st., Cambridge.

The commissioners propose to use the funds for law libraries, salaries and expenses, jails and houses of correction, maintenance and operation. The public has a right to present oral and written comments at the hearing.

Registration today, Fri. for children's theatre productions

Abortion bill "only symbolic"

By Sen. Samuel Rotondi

To begin with, I must state my strong moral opposition to abortion. "How can I be against abortion and also against the Doyle-Flynn bill?" This question brings to the surface the most widely held misunderstanding of the bill.

The Doyle-Flynn bill does not outlaw abortion. Nowhere in its wording does it even label abortion as morally wrong. The sole effect of the bill would be that the state would no longer pay for abortions obtained by Medicaid patients. Far from striking a significant blow against abortion, this legislation would not affect the incidence of abortion at all.

It would still be legal, thus the Medicaid patient could seek help from private clinics, hospitals, doctors, etc., or resort to boosting the business of the back alley butchers.

Thus, the Doyle-Flynn bill is only symbolic in its impact against abortion. It is illusory, falsely leading us nowhere.

The United States Supreme Court declared in Roe vs. Wade that every woman in this country has a constitutional right to an abortion within certain time periods and under specific guidelines. It is only this court or the United States Congress through a constitutional amendment, that can reverse that decision. The State simply does not have the power to declare abortions illegal, and the pro-life groups are the first to recognize that fact.

The Doyle-Flynn bill comes as a result of a recent United States Supreme Court decision which specifically gives the states the power to cut off public funding of abortions. Here, in effect the Court says, "you cannot declare abortions illegal but you can cut off the funding of them."

The very same US Supreme Court that in 1973 said in Roe vs. Wade that all women had a constitutional right to make the decision, four years later said that states have the power to limit the availability of that right to anyone with the private ability to pay for it.

Whether you agree with Roe vs. Wade or not, do you agree that a constitutional right should be enjoyed by only those Americans who can pay for it?

The Doyle-Flynn incorporates this patently undemocratic concept inappropriately offered by our US Supreme Court.

Also, it is sheer hypocrisy to cut off state financing of abortions for the poor when tax dollars will continue to subsidize abortions for the well-to-do. State employees are covered by health insurance that encompasses abortion.

Many workers in the private sector enjoy similar coverage and use it as a tax write-off. Since every tax loop hole is actually a form of government aid, affluent insurance policy holders benefit from much the same kind of abortion subsidy that Doyle-Flynn threatens to eliminate for the poor.

Finally, the awesome stringency of Doyle-Flynn subverts the humane intentions that motivate the pro-life movement. The bill provides Medicaid funds for abortions only when the operation is critical to the mother's life. It makes no provision for victims of rape and incest which places immense psychological strains on the woman who has been criminally violated.

I realize that there are few reported cases of pregnancy resulting from such acts, but even if there was one, I believe that one deserves every consideration. Also, does anyone question the number of rapes and incestuous acts that go unreported?

My own opposition to abortion stems from a deeply ingrained regard for the helpless unborn. However, I believe that a woman who has become pregnant as a result of a criminal act is equally helpless and deserving of my sympathy. Supporters of the Doyle-Flynn bill have strenuously and successfully opposed exceptions for cases of rape and incest.

Finally, I would like to discuss some ways that the state can act in limiting the numbers of abortions in this state. First, we should commit ourselves to supporting programs throughout our state which could give advice and support to women with unwanted pregnancies and attempt to encourage them to consider the alternative of carrying to full-term. Everyone recognizes the demand for babies in our adoption market. Also the state should support clinics which will provide education in the areas of birth control and family planning in an attempt to obviate the need for abortions in this Commonwealth.

The intensive lobbying effort of pro-life groups and the overwhelming support for the bill in the legislature would have made it easy for me to endorse this legislation. But, without a clear consensus among my constituents, I have nothing but an informed opinion and my own conscience to guide me. Now as in the past, it has led me to the harder of two roads.

I don't believe that the people I serve want or expect me to vote for what a bill pretends to do, but rather for what it really does. I know the difference on this bill.

I would like to thank all of you who have communicated your feelings on this matter. I have not been able to answer you all, but will continue to attempt to do so.

School's back in session; watch out for the kids! Drive carefully.

Former resident fighting to save rare tortoises

What do teeth and turtles have in common?

They're the two prime interests of a former Winchester resident, Dr. William H. Zovickian, a dentist now living in Sharon. A childhood interest in reptiles has led to a more serious commitment on the doctor's part: he is engaged in an effort to breed a rare form of tortoise, the yellow-domed "Plovershares" tortoise of Madagascar.

This type of tortoise is on the verge of extinction, and Dr. Zovickian has collected three of the species, hoping to breed a new generation. There are but 10 Plovershares tortoises known to be alive in the world.

He keeps 36 tortoises in all in low corrals on his lawn in Sharon. Through his efforts, he has become a world authority on the animals. He is a field associate of the Bronx Zoo, which lent him one of his three Plovershares tortoises, and he has delivered a paper on the subject for an international symposium in Cleveland.

Recently he was selected president of the Housatonic Audubon Society in recognition of his work with the tortoises.

First aid course to begin Oct. 11 at Red Cross House

The first of the Winchester Red Cross fall courses in First Aid and personal safety will begin October 11.

The class will meet at the Red Cross Chapter House at 39 Church street from 7-10 in the evening. The other dates of class meeting are October 13, 17, 19, 21, and 24. To those who qualify at the end of the course, Red Cross issues certificates of First Aid proficiency.

The instruction is free, but the students pay a modest fee for textbooks, bandages and materials used, and manikin maintenance.

Hubert LeFever, chairman of the chapter's health and safety services, himself will teach this first class of the season. The enrollment is limited, and men and women who wish to join the class must preregister and pay the "materials" fee at the chapter house.

The Red Cross also reports that the Winchester Swim Club has passed five members of the CPR Modular Course and have been granted Red Cross Certificates of Proficiency in Cardiopulmonary Resuscitation. The CPR course was taught by Andrea Golden and Carol Minutoli.

Those certified in the CPR courses are: Martha Pacetti, Joe Petitti, Jennifer Karp, John Hayes, and Michael Minutoli.

Dance classes at Crawford Church begin Sept. 19th

Winchester and Woburn Social Dance Classes, featuring ballroom, disco, and novelty dance instruction, will start Sept. 19 at the Crawford Memorial Church on Dix Street and Sept. 23 at the United Methodist Church in Woburn.

Classes are for teens and adults, beginner through intermediate levels. Open to the public, they will be conducted by Susan Ehrreich and Dance Associates and will continue for 10 weeks.

In Winchester on Mondays there will be an adult beginner class at 8:30 p.m., a teen beginner class at 6 p.m., and an adult intermediate class at 7 p.m.

In Woburn on Fridays there will be an adult beginner class at 7 p.m. and an adult intermediate class at 8:30 p.m.

Registration is now in progress. For information, contact Susan Ehrreich, 34 Grove st., Wayland, 01778 (check advertisement in this week's paper).

Rigney appointed v-p at Univ. of Lowell

Recently appointed vice president for business affairs and treasurer of the University of Lowell was Raymond I. Rigney of Winchester. Mr. Rigney, who lives at 8 Stowell rd., is a 1947 graduate of Holy Cross College. He received his masters degree from Boston College in 1953 and has since completed extensive graduate work at Boston University.

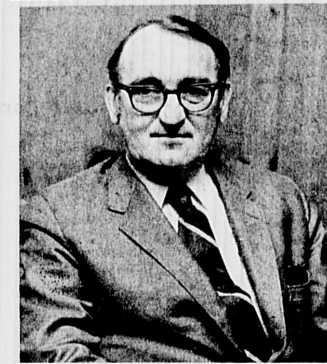

A former teacher in both Boston and Somerville school system, Mr. Rigney served as deputy commissioner for the Massachusetts Department of Commerce. As deputy commissioner, he planned and developed extensive advertising campaigns for industrial and tourist development.

From 1958 - 1963, he served as chairman of The Massachusetts Commission on Atomic Development working directly with the governor whom he represented in matters pertaining to the developmental and regulatory use of atomic energy.

From 1960 - 1963, Rigney served as budget commissioner for the Commonwealth and was later appointed first deputy commissioner executive office for administrations and finance.

Rigney's experience as treasurer of Southeastern Massachusetts University provides special expertise for his position at the University of Lowell. Southeastern Massachusetts Technological Institute, now Southeastern Massachusetts University, was the result of Bradford - Durfee Technological Institute and New Bradford Technological Institute while University of Lowell resulted from the merger of Lowell State College and Lowell Technological Institute.

Before his appointment as vice president of University of Lowell, Rigney was budget director for the ways and means committee of the Massachusetts Senate.

Rigney is married and the father of seven children.

Named industrial gas consultant

Joseph R. Nunziato of 15 Bacon st., an industrial gas engineer with Boston Gas, has been named a Chartered Industrial Gas Consultant (C.I.G.C.) by the American Gas Association and the Institute of Gas Technology.

Nunziato was awarded his C.I.G.C. certificate by the A.G.A. upon his completion of an intensive three-year program of study sponsored by the IGT in affiliation with the Illinois Institute of Technology in Chicago.

Over the past three years, the Winchester man attended three separate two-week classroom sessions at the Institute, undertaking a very comprehensive curriculum which included lectures and homework. In Massachusetts, Nunziato for three years was actively engaged in numerous related field assignments, projects, and reports, all required by the IGT as part of the course.

Following the last classroom session, and in order to receive his certificate, he was required to write a publishable thesis which had to pass the scrutiny of the C.I.G.C. Board of Review, a committee composed of six highly qualified and experienced gas industry officials.

Nunziato is a member of the American Society of Gas Engineers and the Malden Lions. He and his wife, Mary, have lived in Winchester for the past 16 years and have two daughters and one son.

Merit Breakthrough Remains Unduplicated.

'Enriched Flavor' tobacco makes MERIT unique among low tar cigarettes.

---

Since the introduction of MERIT, a number of other low tar brands have come along. But MERIT remains unique—the only low tar cigarette with 'Enriched Flavor' tobacco.

MERIT delivers what others can only promise: the flavor of higher tar cigarettes. The kind of flavor made possible by a breakthrough in tobacco technology.

Here's how it was done:

By cracking cigarette smoke down into separate elements, researchers were able to isolate certain flavor-rich ingredients that delivered taste way out of proportion to tar.

These flavor essentials were then packed into MERIT, giving it extraordinary flavor.

Taste tests against a number of higher tar cigarettes proved it.

Overall, smokers reported they liked the taste of MERIT and MERIT 100's as much as the taste of the higher tar cigarettes tested. Cigarettes with up to 60% more tar!

Only one cigarette has 'Enriched Flavor' tobacco.

And you can taste it.

During Mark Twain's days as a newspaperman, he was editor of a small Missouri paper. One day he received a letter from a subscriber, stating that he had found a spider in his paper, and asked if this was an omen of good or bad luck. Twain replied: "Finding a spider in your paper is neither good nor bad luck. The spider was merely looking over our paper to see which merchant was not advertising so that he could go to that store, spin his web across the door, and lead a life of undisturbed peace ever afterward."

Howard E. Hunter of 3 Madison Ave., professor and chairman of the department of religion at Tufts University, recently was elected president of the Society for the Arts, Religion and Contemporary Culture at its annual meeting, held on the Tufts campus. The society, a group of theologians, artists and authors, publishes books and materials dealing with these subjects. Hunter is editor of the book, Humanities, Religion and the Arts of Tomorrow. He also received a gift of books on behalf of the department of religion, from the National Federation of Temple Brotherhoods, for use in the Tufts library.

Worry clinic

Do you worry too much? Or too little? Informal talk sessions where you can discuss "worry" and how you can worry less will be held Monday mornings, 9:30-11 a.m., at the Central Middlesex YWCA from Sept. 19-Oct. 31. Contact the YWCA, located at 6 Spruce Hill rd.,

Burlington, for further information.

Private lessons in swimming at Y

The North Suburban YMCA offers semi-private swimming lessons for youngsters 6-17 of age. Each student will receive eight personalized lessons (three students per instructor) using the National YMCA Progressive Swim Program. Registration for fall classes is Sept. 11. For further information, contact the North Suburban YMCA at 37 Lexington St., Woburn.

Singles club has bi-monthly dances

The North-Boston singles club, a non-profit organization, serves as the nucleus for many promising social activities: dances, parties, ski-trips, clambakes, resort weekends, concerts, bowling, hayrides, dinner-theatres.

To become part of NOBS is easy. There's no age limit; simply be single or formerly married. The executive board reserves the right to accept qualifying members on a balanced ratio of men to women. The dues include a subscription to the Hob Nobber, a monthly publication, and reduced or free rates on all events.

Dances are always held on the first and third Friday every month at the New Elks Lodge, Fellowship Exit from Route 1, Main St., Saugus. Dances to alternating live bands run from 8:30 - 12:30 p.m. For further info and a calendar of events write to NOBS, Box 633, Marblehead, Ma. 01945.

Coop nursery

The Neighborhood Cooperative Nursery School which is located at First Congregational Church, Winchester, is accepting fall enrollment for four-year-old classes mornings and afternoons. There is a waiting list for three-year-olds.

Diet Workshop open house is

September 15th

The Diet Workshop will hold open house Sept. 15 at the Church of the Epiphany, 70 Church St., at 9:30 a.m. and 7:30 p.m.

The public is welcome to attend at no obligation.

Fitness at YWCA

The Central Middlesex YWCA has a variety of exercise classes this fall. Classes range from yoga to modern dance. Contact them in Burlington.

Correction

In reporting the academic achievements of the Style daughters in last week's Star, we had the names mixed up. Virginia Styles is entering her senior year this fall at Bonaventure College. Maria is employed as a clinical coordinator medical technician at Quinnipiac College in Connecticut. The two are the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Styles of Winchester.

Mr. and Mrs. James Ed Rife

Miss Salerno, Mr. Rife exchange vows at St. Mary's

Wedding vows were exchanged between Theresa Ann Salerno and James Ed Rife August 6 in Saint Mary's Church.

Close friends and relatives joined in the ecumenical service, led by Father Bernard Hoy of Sacred Heart Parish, Lexington, and Glen Barton, of the Church of Christ, Bedford.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore an empire waist gown of white organza and lace with bishop sleeves and chapel length train. She carried a bouquet of pink roses, white chrysanthemums, and baby's breath.

Among her attendants were bridesmaid Tina Hogan and maid of honor Marilyn Shapleigh, friends of the bride, and matron of honor, Frances Reilly, sister of the bride. They wore green polyester gowns accepted by print chiffon capes and carried baskets of fresh garden flowers.

The mother of the bride was escorted down the aisle by the ushers Charles and Paul Salerno, brothers of the bride. Assisting the groom was the best man, Dick Gardner, cousin of the groom.

After the ceremony, the wedding guests were invited to a garden reception at the home of the bride's parents.

The bride is the daughter of Frank and Clara Salerno of 127 Highland ave., while the groom is the son of Jim and Lucille Rife of RR3, Lawrenceville, Ill. After a honeymoon in New England, the couple returned home to Madison, Wis.

Winnie Kelbley, former resident, married in Cal.

Former Winchesterite Winnie Kelbley was married August 6 to Dan Gremmer in Sacramento. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Kelbley of Rancho Palos Verdes and her husband, a comedy writer, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Gremmer of Wisconsin.

The bride, who is employed by the postal service, received a bachelor's degree in psychology from the University of California at Santa Cruz. In Winchester she attended the old Lincoln School and McCall Junior High School. She was the winner (with her sister) of the Gladys F. Dutton Memorial Trophy awarded by the Winchester Red Cross in 1959.

Mr. and Mrs. Gremmer will be moving to the Los Angeles area in the fall.

Director of English named to nat'l office

Francis M. Russell, director of English for the Winchester schools, will serve for a two-year term as associate chairman of secondary English for the National Council of Teachers of English. Major among the duties will be serving as liaison between the NCTE committees and commissions, reading and passing judgment on manuscripts being considered for publication by the NCTE editorial board, speaking to other professional groups, and serving on the NCTE executive board. Winchester in serving in a leadership way will receive the benefits of the resources of the national organization.

Local talent in dinner-theater

After a successful dinner-theatre engagement last spring at the Lenox Hotel, several local thespians will give a repeat performance of Neil Simon's "Plaza Suite" at the Boston Park Plaza Hotel on September 17.

Directed by ex-Winchesterite Jay Sibley, the cast includes many faces familiar to area audiences: Anne Foskett, Mary Klug, Betty Vallee, Ken Astill, Jack Guilderson, all of Winchester; Shep Wenglin, Maureen Longmire, and Jeff Ryan from Lexington, Arlington, and Belmont respectively.

Tickets include parking, buffet dinner, theatre, and dancing following the play. For reservations call Annette at the Park Plaza Hotel.

Yard sale Sat. to benefit ABC House

The Winchester ABC Committee is holding a yard sale to benefit the ABC House this Saturday in the First Congregational parking lot from 10 a.m.-3 p.m. In case of rain the sale will be held inside at the church.

Proceeds from the sale will go to defray the cost of major repairs needed at the house.

Shown here are Shep Wenglin of Lexington and Betty Vallee from Winchester going through the paces of Neil Simon's "Plaza Suite." They are among the cast presenting the play at the Park Plaza Hotel dinner-theatre September 17.

Susan O'Grady married here to Robert Salvucci

Susan Kathleen O'Grady and Robert Gerard Salvucci were married at St. Mary's Church on August 19.

Rev. Mark Sheehan officiated at the 6 o'clock service in the church decorated with baskets of white gladiolas, baby's breath, and greens. The bride, given in marriage by her father, is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. John W. O'Grady of 21 Sheffield west. Her husband is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerard Salvucci of 30 Ridge st.

The bride wore a qiana gown with bodice and cap sleeves of venise lace. Her headpiece was a Juliet cap with fingertip veil bordered in venise lace.

She carried a cascade of white sweetheart roses and white daisies.

Mary V. O'Grady was her sister's maid of honor. She wore a lime green jersey gown trimmed with matching lace and carried a cascade of yellow and white daisies and baby's breath.

Similarly gowned were bridesmaids Mrs. Kim Carpenter of Somerville, Mrs. Stephen Conroy of Merrimack, N.H., sister of the bride, Miss Megan O'Grady of Winchester, also the bride's sister, and Miss Mary Ann Salvucci of Winchester, sister of the groom.

Mr. James Beck of 1 Ivy circle was best man. Assisting as ushers were the groom's cousin, Mr. Carl Cocuzzo of Brighton, Mr. Gary Fincke of 9 Foxcroft rd., and two of the bride's brothers, Mr. John O'Grady of Rockport and Mr. Lawrence O'Grady of Winchester.

The bride's mother wore an ice-blue lycra gown, while the groom's mother chose a mauve qiana gown.

Mr. and Mrs. Salvucci are both 1971 graduates of Winchester High School. The bride, a gymnastics instructor, also graduated from Salem State College in 1976. Her husband, a Boston University graduate, was a physical education instructor at McCall Junior High School last year and will be teaching in Westford this fall.

Following a reception at the Towne Lyne House in Lynnfield, the couple left for a wedding trip to Bermuda. They will be making their home in Woburn.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert G. Salvucci

'Pink Lemonade' wraps up summer for drama group

To mark the end of the summer season, the recreation department's drama workshop group performed a fantasy play, "Pink Lemonade," Aug. 17 at the high school.

Written and directed by Mary Piccione, the play gave everyone involved a special part and interwove scenes from a real-life situation with scenes from a dream.

Paul David Murray played Paul, the protagonist, who at the start of the play is denied some pink lemonade because it is his bedtime. He falls into a dreamland and ends up learning a few lessons about loving, hoping and dreaming.

The presentation was dedicated to Mrs. Bella D'Agostino and Mrs. Constance Piccione, in celebration of their birthdays.

Members of the cast included Dawn Maccone, Leilanie D'Agostino, Mary Elizabeth Baraffaldi, Tracy Maccone, Linda Doucette, Camille Ducharme, Jane Ward, Anne Jane Ward, John, James, Matthew and Andrew Ward, David Ducharme, Ralph D'Agostino, Maria Massaro, Marie Murray, Therese Ducharme, Dianne Doucette, and Marie Ward.

Produced by the Winchester Recreation Department and director Donald Spinney, the play was narrated by Matthew Piccione. Artistic director was Nancy Lombardo; musical director was Claude Fournier (who wrote an overture for the performance); assistant and technical director was James Lombardo; and the technical crew consisted of Bill Rolli and Tom O'Leary.

Two of the characters in the recreation department's season-end production, "Pink Lemonade," strike a pose during performance recently. At left is Marie Murray, portraying the Lost Little Girl; at right, Paul David Murray plays Paul, whose desire for some pink lemonade started it all.

Troop 506 starts its eleventh season Mon.

Troop 506 will be starting again for the 11th scouting season on Monday at 7:15 p.m. in the Unitarian Church parking lot. The troop is working toward another great year of camping, canoeing and many fun-filled activities.

Any boy who is in the 6th grade or 11 years old can join. Also needed: parents who like to camp, cook and canoe in the wilderness. All boys who are interested are welcome to a cookout with their parents at the above date and time.

Clark University

Richard Blendon Wunder of 69 Wedgemere ave. received his bachelor of arts degree from Clark University at the school's summer commencement ceremonies.

College Club plans new groups for photography, trips

The Winchester College Club is organizing two new interest groups this fall. One will be in photography, the other for day trips. Anyone interested should call 641-0185.

Newcomers Club kicks off season

Winchester Newcomers Club, which provides new residents with opportunities to meet one another and to get acquainted with the community has scheduled its first meeting of the 1977-78 season for 8 p.m., Sept. 13, at the home of Mrs. Barbara Ashley, 11 Plato terr.

Women who have moved into Winchester within the past three years are cordially invited to attend and to consider membership.

The main purpose of the meeting will be to introduce newcomers to the club and to preview the programs and social activities that are being planned for the new season. There will also be brief descriptions of their organizations by Mrs. Bruce Brown, president of the Jaycee-ettes; Mrs. John Reno, president of the College Club; Mrs. Leila Jane Roberts, Librarian of Winchester; and a representative of the League of Women Voters. Light refreshments will be served at the end of the meeting.

Although Newcomers Club is an organization of women, men are welcome at most meetings. And social events are normally planned to include husbands and sometimes families.

Monthly meetings are usually devoted to such subjects as civic matters, hobbies and home management. In addition, Newcomers sponsors several special-interest activities. These include bridge, tennis, arts and crafts, and diners' groups. Members desiring to participate in such activities will be able to indicate their interest at the Sept. 13 meeting.

Additional information about Newcomers and its activities may be obtained from President Jan Carrigan, 53 Everett ave. Membership Chairwoman Joan Wallwork, 14 Park ave.

St. Mary's to hold back-to-school mass

On Monday St. Mary's will have its traditional opening of school mass at 7:30 p.m. at St. Mary's Church. All St. Mary's School children, parents, and friends are invited.

The annual New Mothers' Coffee for all the new mothers of St. Mary's School will be held on September 19 at 9:30 a.m. at the convent. The chairman for this event is Mrs. Leilani D'Agostino.

This year St. Mary's School has an increased enrollment of 232 students. School chaplain for this year is Fr. Curley.

Winchester claims five swimmers named 'outstanding' by NEAAU

Five Winchester residents have been cited by the New England Association of the Amateur Athletic Union for outstanding performance in competitive swimming. The youngsters were presented engraved certificates commemorating their achievements at the annual awards banquet of the N.E.A.A.U.

Named to the Top Ten Times List in Long Course (Metric) Competition were Hugh Murray, Scott Van Ummerson, Peter Webber, and Jackie Hart. Young Scott was ranked second in the 50-meter butterfly, fourth in the 50-breaststroke, eighth in the 50-freestyle, and ninth in the 50-backstroke and 100-freestyle in the 8 and under boys' division. Scott also placed ninth in 10 and under boys' 50-meter fly rankings. Peter Webber ranked fourth in the 100-breast, fifth in the 50-breast, sixth in the 50-back, seventh in the 200 individual medley (50 meters each stroke), and ninth in the 100 back in 10 and under boys' competition.

Hugh Murray, also 10 and under boys' age group, ranked first in the 200 free, second in the 100 free, fourth in the 100 back and 200 I.M., fifth in the 50 back, sixth in the 50 free, and was designated outstanding swimmer by being one of the top five in all-around rankings. Jackie Hart placed fourth in the 50 free and seventh in the 100 fly for 13 and 14 girls. Jackie also ranked fourth in the 50 free in the girls' open division.

For the recent Short Course (Yards)

Winchester's Hugh Murray was one of five locals cited by the N.E.A.A.U. for accomplishments in competitive swimming. Not present for photo were Peter Webber, Lynn and Scott Van Ummerson, and Jackie Hart.

Season, Peter, Hugh, and Jackie were doubly honored. Pete attained ninth place ranking in the 100 yard breast for 10 and under boys. Hugh found himself moved up in age class to the 11 and 12 boys' division. The gutsy young competitor responded to the challenge by placing fourth in the demanding 500 yard freestyle in the tougher age group.

Jackie Hart ranked sixth in the 50 free for 13 and 14 girls, and achieved a similar ranking in the same event in the girls' open division.

Lynn Van Ummerson was recently named to the New England A.A.U. All-Star Team, which will compete against a similar team from Connecticut in New London, Conn.

The five youngsters will all be reporting for fall team tryouts, to be held at the North Suburban YMCA Pool in Woburn, Sept. 12-15, after their annual summers end break.

Local 4-H winner

Lisa Katz of Winchester has won an award for her best exhibit in the art category of the Middlesex County Extension Service 4-H. The 4-H is sponsored by the extension service in cooperation with UMass Amherst and the United States Department of Agriculture.

Todd DeAngelis of Bigelow drive was recently awarded a trophy for placing first as best net scorer in the annual Winchester Country Club father-son golf tournament held in August. Todd, age 7, competed with his father, Dr. Vincent DeAngelis, in the 12 years and younger division and finished the eighteenth-hole tournament with a net score of 57.

Winchester High School tennis players Patricia Welch and Lloyd Thomas III receive Tew Memorial Awards from Carmen W. Elio at the annual breakfast dinner given to the Winchester High School boys and girls tennis teams at Mr. Elio's home, 21 Taft dr. The Committee awards annually the Lelma "KEW" Tew Award and the Caroline Tew Award to the most improved player on each of the tennis teams. These awards are presented in memory of Ken Tew, the professional at the Winchester Indoor Tennis Center, and his wife, Caroline who were both killed in a tragic accident in 1971. They were very active with the youth programs at the WITC. Left to right, are John Koslowski, Doug Ankersen, Marge Sexton, Patricia Welch, Mr. Elio, Lloyd Thomas III, Paul Mulloy, and Bill Collella.

Starts Saturday

Entries due tonight for town tennis tournament

By James R. Stewart Jr.

What all Winchester tennis players have been waiting for, the annual residents and town employees tennis tournament gets under way this Saturday.

Six events are scheduled to be run off between the 10th and the 25th of September. Featuring a brand new "senior men's singles" event (for those admitting at least 45 years of age), competition will be held in men's and women's singles and doubles and the ever popular mixed doubles, where few husbands and wives seem to be entered as a team.

Pat and Wil Aldrich of 5 Ainsworth rd. (Wil is president of the Winchester Tennis Association, sponsor of the championship) are the co-chairpersons for the tournament and will be accepting entries up to 6 P.M. tonight, September 8. Wil emphasizes, "We will have the draw sheets up for display at the William S. Packer courts, where the tournament will be held in its entirety, on Friday evening, September 9. It will be up to all persons who enter the various events to inspect the draw that evening and be at the courts, ready to play at the time to be specified on the draw sheets." Although there has been an age limitation in previous years, the 1977 version of this exciting Tournament does not make this distinction. The only requisite is that an entrant be a resident of Winchester or an employee of the Town of Winchester, and pay his or her entry fee before starting to play.

Entry blanks are available at the Winchester Sport Shop, 743 Main st., and from Whit Gray, supervisor at the Packer Courts. Appropriate prizes will be awarded winners and runners-up in each event. Other pertinent details will be posted with the draw sheets.

WBC awards top '77 sailors

The Winchester Boat Club awarded its top junior sailors for 1977 following a pizza party at the club last week. The WBC sailing instructors presented awards to 31 young skippers in the following categories:

Banshee-Lasers: Monday and Wednesday: 1. Craig Harms, 2. Paul Casco, 3. Lisa Thyson; Tuesday and Thursday: 1. Craig Harms, 2. Paul Williamson, 3. John Keyes.

Turnabouts A: Monday and Wednesday: 1. Lisa Levaggi, 2. Paul Williamson, 3. Suzanne Poirer; Tuesday and Thursday: 1. Lisa Levaggi, 2. Lisa Thyson, 3. Beth Towle.

Turnabouts B: Monday and Wednesday: 1. Wayne Simpson, 2. Lesli Levaggi and Jennifer Poirer; Tuesday and Thursday: 1. Lori Levaggi, 2. John Williamson.

Class Regattas:

Advanced beginners: 1. Michele Adams, 2. Chris Livingston, 3. Lori Levaggi.

Beginners: 1. Lesli Levaggi, 2. Jennifer Poirer, 3. Tracey Poirer.

Tactics class singlehanded: 1. Charles Hagedorn, 2. Lisa Thyson, 3. Craig Harms.

Ladies class regatta winner: Mrs. Jean Weylman.

In other sailing news, the National Ten Championship Regatta was held at the Quannapowitt Yacht Club Aug. 25-6. WBC entrant Charles Hagedorn took first prize with wins in all five races, and Lisa Thyson placed third with races of 2-3-4-4-5.

The Wood Trophy Races (under 14 years old) were held Aug. 30-1 at MIT on the Charles River. Skipper Paul Williamson with crew Pete Milles tied for fourth place overall in competition with 11 other sailing clubs.

Fall junior tennis tournament set for boys, girls Sept. 19-30

Personal growth for men and women

Ross Meny will lead a six-week discussion group for men and women wanting to explore themselves and their relationships. The course begins September 19 at the Central Middlesex YMCA, 6 Spruce Hill rd., Burlington.

Pool rentals

The "Y" pool is available for rental on Friday nights from 9 - 10 p.m. and on Saturday nights from 7 - 8 p.m. The YMCA will supply you with lifeguards.

For further information visit or call the North Suburban YMCA at 137 Lexington st., Woburn.

Antiques fair

The North Reading Historical Society will hold its 22nd annual fair and sale Sept. 16, from 6-10 p.m. and Sept. 17, from 10 a.m.-4 p.m. It will be at the Union Congregational Church, Haverhill st., North Reading.

SCUBA course

Tanks, snorkel and fins can put you right into the inner depths of the sea, but they can also put you into your coffin.

SCUBA diving can be fun and wholesome recreation, but it can be dangerous, too. That's why the YMCA strongly recommends a total SCUBA course conducted by a certified YMCA instructor. SCUBA is just one of the many water safety classes being offered now at the North Suburban YMCA. Classes start the week of Sept. 19. For further information, call the YMCA, 137 Lexington st., Woburn.

Springboard diving

The North Suburban YMCA offers a movement exploration springboard diving course. Divers will learn correct approach, front dive, back dive, half-twist dive, inward dive, reverse dive, forward and backward somersault. Students should have already passed YMCA Minnow or Red Cross Advanced Beginner levels.

Classes begin the week of Sept. 19.

Medical Improvement Deductible

Home improvements are generally not tax deductible, but they can be - if they're a medical necessity. For example, a swimming pool to provide treatment for a polio victim, a chairlift elevator for a heart patient, central air conditioning for a child afflicted with cystic fibrosis.

How much of the expense is deductible? The amount over which it increases the property value. For example, if an elevator costs $5,000, and the property value is increased by $1,000, the $4,000 excess is deductible.

If there's no increase in property value, it's all deductible. But you'll need two documents to support this claim. A letter from a doctor stating that it is a medical necessity and a written opinion from a competent real estate appraiser stating the amount (if any) the improvement adds to the value of your property.

If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone or drop in at ANN BLACKHAM & CO., 11 Thompson St., Winchester, Phone 729-1663. We're here to help!

PUBLIC SERVICE PROJECTS

Medford CETA announces that additional funds are available for projects which provide public services to the community by employing CETA workers, under the recent extension of Title VI of the Comprehensive Employment and Training Act.

Government and non-profit organizations serving the Medford Consortium area are eligible to submit proposals for projects of 3 to 12 months duration. Organizations serving low income, long-term unemployed and minority groups are encouraged to apply. Non-profit agencies are especially encouraged to apply.

This is the fourth round of funding for Title VI projects. Proposal deadline is September 30, 1977. Project guidelines, details on submitting proposals, and application forms are available through the Medford CETA Office. Call 395-7600, attention: Carol Steele. Technical assistance in preparing Request for Proposal applications is available from CETA.

LWV meets at Town Hall today

The Massachusetts League of Women Voters is holding its fall conference in Town Hall today. Registration is at 9:30 a.m., with a morning meeting at 10 and workshops from 12:30-2 p.m. Selectmen Chairman Barbara Hankins will welcome the League to Winchester.

The morning meeting will be on "Perspectives on Financing Government." Speakers include Margaret Spengler, Arlington Selectwoman; James V. Young, Boston's Deputy Mayor and Collector-Treasurer; William J. Powers, Franklin County Treasurer; and James Kelly Jr., State Senator and chairman of the Senate Ways and Means Committee.

The afternoon workshops will cover administration of justice, birth control and abortion laws, cities and urban crisis, energy — preparing for consensus, financing government — outlook for work, human resources and welfare, natural resources — coastal zone management, and transportation.

Local man identifies MDC cop in assault case

The case of an MDC Police Detective, charged with assault with intent to murder of a Winchester man on South Border road last February, has been bound over for a grand jury.

Probable cause was found Sept. 9 in Woburn District Court by Judge Francis A.

Board keeps cab licenses at 16

The number of taxi licenses issued will remain at 16 for the time being even though there are only seven cabs in active use in Winchester.

Selectmen held a public hearing Monday night to determine if the maximum number of hackney carriage licenses should be reduced from the 16. After James T. Sullivan closed his taxi business and opened as a private livery, the number of licenses held was reduced to 12.

Barbara Hankins, chairman of the board of selectmen, indicated that the school department generally contracts for taxi service. Sara Dillon, from the council on aging, said that of about 100 senior citizens she was in touch with, all found service "perfectly adequate" with the only problems being in the beginning and end of the school day.

Police Lt. Andrew Crawford, in attendance at the meeting, said he thought taxi service was adequate but added that summer is not the best time for a study of this kind. Selectmen renewed licenses for a six-month trial period ending November 1.

Richard Terzian, owner of Green Taxi of Winchester and president of the taxi owners' association, wants to see a clamp down on the number of licenses issued. "We're losing money year after year," he said. "And the reason is there are too many licenses."

Sullivan's mother, who was also at the hearing, asked the board to consider holding her son's four licenses in abeyance rather than eliminating them. "In terms of age and general business conditions, there could be a change at any time."

Arthur Dunbar suggested going through the winter and see how the situation goes. "I do not at this time favor putting a cap on the number of licenses, but I would like to see why the association thinks the number should be limited."

Lt. Crawford assured the board that he would keep a record of any complaints received in the next few months.

Selectmen urge $62,000 to hire consultants for center revitalization

At the urgent request of members of the board of selectmen, the Winchester center study committee will ask the fall town meeting for an appropriation of $62,000 to hire professional consultants in an attempt to develop a plan for revitalization of the downtown area.

In a rough draft, the center study committee presented selectmen with a report of several alternative motions. Chairman Sam Perkins said that the committee, formed by town meeting, was charged only with coming up with plans and their impact on the town and not with supporting any one particular motion.

Selectmen, however, particularly Arthur Dunbar and Chairman Barbara Hankins, urged the committee to take a stand.

"There are no meat and potatoes here," Dunbar told committee members Perkins, Charles Tseckares, Al Martini, and Mike Scotti.

"Someone has got to do the huckstering," Selectman Edward O'Connell remarked.

Tseckares questioned the board. "Do we understand then that you want us to take a stand and push for a particular motion at town meeting?" The board unanimously indicated that they did.

The request for $62,000 will cover expenses in forming a five-member 'revitalization' committee, appointed by the selectmen and charged with developing a plan for the center. Expenses would be the hiring of professional consultants for both planning and beautification of the area downtown. The committee's plan, once accepted by the town meeting, would be implemented.

There were other planes set forth by the center study committee and they, too, will be presented to town meeting.

The other options are to appoint a three-member committee authorized to expend $16,000 to develop a plan for beautification downtown; to establish a three-member committee to acquire options on center properties as they become available; and to accept the committee's report and dissolve the committee.

Sam Perkins and the committee will be reworking the report, at selectmen's request, to include more information about the impact of various methods of revitalization.

In addition, the committee, through the selectmen, will ask the finance committee to transfer funds to them for printing and mailing a copy of their report to each town meeting member a couple of weeks before the November 7 fall session begins. Perkins expects the cost to be about $400.

In its rough draft, the center study committee pointed to the long history of land use planning in Winchester, beginning with the first zoning by-laws in 1927.

The report says, "Winchester center, it seems, is a symbol of the entire community and represents the community in the minds of many people. As signs of decay have set in the center is no longer generating its economic potential of the town. The town center," the report goes on, "is an important part of Winchester; it is a gathering place and social center where people meet one another. If it is a pleasant place, this social and economic contact is even stronger."

According to the report, the assessed value of all the land and buildings in the center was a little more than $4 million in 1975. In 1968, the same property was assessed at $4.6 million, a reduction due to abatements. The current tax contribution from the center of town (from Mystic Valley parkway to Skillings road) amounts to about $1.50 to $1.75 on the tax rate.

The committee further pointed to 13 mechanisms for providing funds or incentives. They are:

+ Community block grants: These federal funds for urban renewal are administered by department of housing and urban development. Because of Winchester's relative affluence and because town meeting in 1975 rejected a $25,000 grant, the center study committee feels there might be difficulty in obtaining these funds for Winchester.

+ Chapter 121 A redevelopment: An area must be declared "blighted open, decadent or substandard" in order for a private developer to come in after application to the Massachusetts department of community affairs. Corporations established under Chapter 121 A can take property by eminent domain and are authorized to purchase or lease land from the town which is located in the redevelopment area. The developer is limited to an eight percent return on his investment.

School board ratifies new list of teachers

The Winchester School Committee ratified a final list of new teachers for the 1977-78 school year Monday night.

There are 24 new instructors in all, nine of them confirmed at the Monday meeting. These appointments had in effect already been made, with the ratification being merely a formality. The committee had earlier agreed that if no objections to a particular appointment were received by the superintendent by a certain date, the appointments would be confirmed.

This procedure allowed for the teachers to be on the job at the start of school last week. However, no notice of the appointments was made public until Monday's meeting. At that meeting, the committee agreed to make the information public before school begins in the future.

The new teachers are:

At the high school:
Michael F. Antell of Norwell, English; Mrs. Susan M. Austin of Allston, German and English; Mrs. Gale Butcher of Las Vegas, Nev., English; Linda Cicariello of Somerville, foreign language (she student taught at Winchester High last year); Charlene F. Clinton of Woburn, foreign language; Mrs. Jean E. Langley of Winchester, English (she has substituted in Winchester); and Mrs. Deborah G. Stewart of Winchester, resource room (she served as a special needs instructor at the high school last year).

At Lynch Junior High School:

Mrs. Eleanor R. Agranat of Lexington, social studies; Mrs. Helen M. Johanson of Winchester, math (she has served as an aide at the high school); and Mrs. Andrea E. Tyler of Orange, foreign language.

At McCall Junior High School:

Nancy Bardaro of Medford, English (she was a teaching assistant in the Title I program at Lynch last year); David B. Juneau of Nashua, N.H., art; and Virginia D. Laats of Winchester, home economics.

At the elementary schools:

Lincoln: Robert D. Gleason of Marlborough, grade 6 (he has been a teacher aide at Lincoln and a special needs instructor at Lynch); and Cathy Shifflet of Cambridge, primary level ED class.

Noonan: Mrs. Dorothy S. Seltzer of Lexington, resource room. Mrs. Seltzer has served as a tutor in Winchester.

Parkhurst: Susan P. Lynch of Belmont, grade 3-4; Nancy Regan of Wakefield, primary level LD class (she has been a primary aide at Amherst); and Mrs. Elizabeth Sampson of Winchester, intermediate level LD class.

Washington: Mrs. Linda W. Pell of Carlisle, grade 3.

Enrollments down by 247

Enrollment in Winchester's Public Schools is down 150 from last year's projected figures, Superintendent William MacDonald told the school committee Monday night.

That means that as of Sept. 9, there are 247 fewer students in the public schools than there were last year. Total enrollment is 4561. MacDonald pointed out that the count won't be official until Oct. 1, however.

The greatest drop from last year's projections was at the elementary level, where 103 fewer students than were expected have shown up in school. Projections were off by 15 for Lynch Junior High School and 32 for McCall Junior High.

Meanwhile, enrollment at St. Mary's has increased by about 30 students to a total of 225 for preprimary through grade eight. The school reports that enrollment there has risen 63 per cent over the past three years.

Only three grades in the public schools showed any increase: second grade went up by 15, while the 12th grade increased by nine students and eighth grade was up one. Kindergarten was 52 students below projections.

Total enrollment at the elementary level is 2127, as opposed to 2330 last year. The decline breaks down as follows, by grade: grade one, down 14; grade two, up 15; grade three, down 17; grade four, down 12; grade five, down five; grade six, down 14; grade seven, down 24; grade eight, up one; grade nine, down 13; grade 10, down seven; grade 11, down two; grade 12, up nine. Special education enrollment dropped by four to 46 at the elementary level and by 11 to 17 at the junior high level.

By school, the changes are as follows: Ambrose, up 70 to 273; Lincoln, up 80 to 396; Muraco, down 25 to 311; Mystic, up six to 279; Noonan, down 28 to 171; Parkhurst, down one to 198; Vinson-Owen, up 15 to 298; Washington, down 13 to 228; Lynch, down 32 to 535; McCall, down 15 to 626; high school stayed the same.

The school board voted to allow MacDonald to add a teacher aide to the staff at Vinson-Owen, due to the distribution of children in the third and fourth grades.

Curb cut 'violations' taken to attorney general's office

Winchester may face a law suit from the state attorney general's office for alleged violations of Chapter 52B, the Architectural Barrier Law.

The alleged violations, cited in a letter sent to the attorney general's office by Winchester resident Maureen Winn, involve failure by the town to install curb cuts for the handicapped in a number of locations around town.

The present state law, which became effective in October 1974, requires the removal of architectural barriers to the handicapped under certain conditions. Regulations under this law, promulgated in June 19, require the installation of curb cuts at crosswalks when sidewalks are being repaired and also when new sidewalks are being installed.

The seven violations listed in Mrs. Winn's letter include: 975 Skillings rd. (at the Shore road intersection); 776 Route 3 (from the Arlington line to Pond street); 875 Chardon rd.; 876 Cambridge rd.; 976 Shore rd. (by Puritty Supreme); 976 Park st.; and 1076 Main st. (in front of McCormack's Pharmacy).

Mrs. Winn, herself a paraplegic, is a member of the Architectural Barrier Board (ABB), established by the state law to draw up regulations and oversee implementation of the law.

In her letter, addressed to Robert Bohne at the attorney general's office, she states: "It is my contention that although some of the violations occurred before the ABB regulations were in force, curb cuts were still mandated and were being constructed throughout the Commonwealth. As a matter of fact, the City of Worcester was taken to court for curb cut violations before the regulations existed." She notes that the city lost the case.

Mrs. Winn further points out that she has been in touch with town officials on a number of occasions about the alleged violations. She explains that she has taken her case to the attorney general as a private citizen because she feels that she has not gotten an appropriate response from those officials.

"At first," states Mrs. Winn's letter, "the head of the DPW in Winchester said that the first few violations came under Chapter 288, an older law, requires cuts to be installed when repairs or new construction involve replacing the actual curbstone. The letter continues:

"Almost a year went by before the DPW and the town council agreed that they did in fact come under Chapter 52B. At the latter part of 1976, we got a new person as director of public works, Mr. Walter Tonaszuck. His position was that since the violations occurred before he took office, they were not his responsibility. He felt particularly adamant about one piece of sidewalk work in the center of town which had just been completed during his tenure. His position on this particular piece of work was that although it definitely came under Ch. 52B, it had just been completed and would not be rectified."

She goes on to say in her letter that more recently she has been told by Tonaszuck that the work will eventually be done. However, Mrs. Winn believes the work will not be done before winter sets in and another year has passed.

"What it means now is taking away from our normal schedule, and we really don't want to do it," Tonaszuck told The Star. He expressed some reservation about going back to put in the cuts where the work has already been completed: "If we have to do it we have to do it, but it seems like a tremendous expense."

Tonaszuck also pointed out that in the spring of 1976 the town meeting voted down acceptance of a federal grant for the installation of curb cuts. "You also have the problem of the town's feeling on the whole thing," the DPW director said.

In addition, there is a committee of the town contemplating the installation of curb cuts in the center of town. The committee is due to report later this month.

The attorney general's office has just received Mrs. Winn's letter and has no comment on it as yet. According to her, it is likely Bohne would study the situation, pass the information along to the ABB, and if they interpret that violations have been made, a suit would be filed.

"Keep your eyes open and your muscles ready" are the last minute instructions to the Winchester Pop Warner team as the football season opened Sunday. The A team lost to Arlington 6-0 and the B team tied Arlington at 6.

vestment and is exempt from real estate taxes and special assessments for a minimum of 15 years. In lieu of taxes the developer pays monies to the community that amount to about 23 percent of the gross income from the property.

Chapter 121 B redevelopment: Under this section, redevelopment is handled through an independent town agency like the housing authority which would have powers of urban renewal and eminent domain. The department of community affairs administers the program, but there are no funds available at this time.

Chapter 121 C redevelopment: The town itself would be given powers of eminent domain in those areas zoned industrial or manufacturing. These areas have to be declared "open blighted areas with substantial unemployment," and Winchester would probably not qualify for this kind of redevelopment.

Redevelopment authority - corporation: Town meeting can authorize this entity and the department of community affairs can give it power of eminent domain.

Change in real estate taxation policies: Town meeting presents a bill to the legislature covering in detail all concessions and incentives to landlords and merchants. Under enabling legislation, the bill, if enacted, can be used by all political entities in the state.

Historical act: The town could get matching grants for renovating an historical building or the landlord, with certain qualifications, can get rapid depreciation for federal tax purposes.

Municipal ownership: Through direct taxation, the town can acquire property for specific but limited use.

Zoning and re-zoning: A two-thirds vote of town meeting could change zoning regulations to consolidate businesses within reasonable distances from each other.

Entertainment facility: The committee offers the opinion that a first class restaurant with a liquor license could be beneficial to the town. Clarification on procedure is needed before action can be taken.

Private investor: To induce a private investor to build and renovate the center, a number of ideas are suggested in the report: making land available at reasonable cost, seeking tax relief by a special act of the legislature or through 121 A aid, and low cost financing.

Urban systems: The state department of transportation receives funds from the federal DOT for state highway improvements. Main street is a state road — route 38 — and beautification funds might be available.

EDA grants: Through the economic development administration, funds are available for municipal improvements to be bid within 90 days after funding approval. The town would, therefore, have to pay for preliminary designs at its own expense.

There will be an article on the town meeting warrant this November to put the results of the center study committee's efforts to the town.

Selectmen Update

Selectmen covered a variety of topics in recent meetings. Some of the highlights, in addition to those already carried in this paper, are:

Nursing Home

The board noted decision 2355 of the board of appeals, giving Gershon Salter a special permit to construct a 123-bed nursing home on Lot C-1, Swanton street. The new facility to be built by Gershon of Aberjona Nursing Home, Inc., will be situated between the Parkview Apartments and the Aberjona river.

Cable Television

The CATV Advisory Committee looking into cable television for Winchester will meet with the selectmen on October 3 at 8.

The board also voted to include School Committee Member Constance D. Papas on the advisory committee on the recommendation of the school committee. John I. Rudolph of Needham, previously named a member, will instead serve in an advisory capacity. The board, while appreciative of Rudolph's efforts on behalf of the committee, wanted to have a resident actually named to the advisory board. They are hoping that Rudolph, Winchester's director of library services for schools, will continue to offer his insights and opinions.

Lotteries

Selectmen noted that effective January 1 applicants for raffle and bazaar permits will be required by the Massachusetts State Lottery Commission to pay a five percent tax. The board asked for further clarification from the state on this matter, particularly the definition of a raffle or bazaar.

The Commission is going to provide the board with forms which are to be returned to the state with the names of all applicants issued licenses after January 1 so that those persons may be supplied with tax forms and instructions.

Section 208 Water Quality

When Section 208 Water Quality Plans are received by the board of selectmen, they will be referred to the Conservation Commission and to the town engineer for review and recommendation regarding certification of the plans. The board will have 30 days in which to respond.

Auctioneers

Selectmen recently approved four auctioneer license renewals and one new one. Granted a renewal for auctioneering were Haig J. Adamian, 3 Country lane; Wilbur F. Lewis, 49 Jefferson rd.; James J. Mauro, 94 Thornberry rd.; and John F. Murphy, Jr., 29 Richardson st. A new license was issued to Paul J. Berberian, 333 Highland ave.

Shepard Court

The board accepted the petition from abutters to layout Shepard court as a public way. The board also referred the petition to the engineering department for review with the request that alternative methods of designing the cul-de-sac be prepared.

Sidewalk Orders

Cross street, northerly side abutting numbers 235 and 241; total cost estimated to be $780.

Highland View avenue, easterly side abutting number 5; total cost estimated to be $460.

Orientations for Friends Sept. 22

On Sept. 22, the Friends of Winchester Hospital will be holding two orientations for prospective volunteers. They are scheduled for 9:30 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. in the hospital board room.

The Friends is an organization whose members give their time to the hospital on a regular basis to one of the 25 volunteer services. These services cover all aspects of hospital and patient care.

Last year from our membership of 600, 300 active volunteers gave over 24,000 hours of volunteer time to the Winchester Hospital. Reese James, hospital president, has said, "The tremendous amount of community involvement contributes much to making the Winchester Hospital a quality care hospital."

The Friends are looking for persons who want to be a part of this active program. To find out more about the Friends and volunteer opportunities, come to one of our upcoming orientations. Each will include a discussion of aspects of hospital volunteering, a slide presentation of volunteers performing their duties on the various services and a tour of the hospital.

For further information, call the volunteer office at the hospital or Marie Johnson, Vice-Chairman of the Friends, 3 Thornberry rd.

Revised procedure

Committee adopts teacher evaluation forms

A new teacher evaluation form has been adopted by the school committee which would rate teachers according to a standard average for the Winchester School System.

The revised form, developed by an evaluation study committee under the direction of Assistant Superintendent Walter Gleason, was presented to the committee at their Monday night meeting.

The major change from last year's evaluation procedure is in the form to be used at the end of the year by supervisors to record teacher performance. Whereas the old forms reported performance in terms of a series of behavioral descriptions, the new version rates teachers in five categories, ranging from "not acceptable" to "superior."

The school board called for revisions in last year's "fields method" of evaluation after the administration had received complaints that the system was too imprecise.

Both the new and the old methods divide teacher performance into nine categories:

- +Student motivation.
- +Student preparation and achievement.
- +Instructional management, which breaks down into goals, evaluation, and selection of instructional materials. The selection of instructional materials further breaks down to instruction, curriculum, and needs of student.

- +Professional observation, which includes two categories: personal achievement and responsibility to school.

Under the "fields method," the evaluator had to choose, for each of the nine categories, from among a list of descriptions of what happens in each of the nine "fields." These descriptions were ordered from the most ordinary and minimal to the most sophisticated.

The evaluator had to bracket the most appropriate descriptions. Comments from teachers, school committee members, and administrators received by the study committee indicated that this method made it difficult to rank teachers and interpret their performance in relation to their peers.

Under the new system, evaluators check one of five levels of performance for each of the nine categories. The five levels are: unacceptable, below average for Winchester, average for Winchester, above average for Winchester, and superior. In addition, the report form provides space for written comments on the strengths and weaknesses of an individual teacher.

The end of the year report is supported by ongoing supervision throughout the school year. Evaluators are required to make three formal, in-class evaluations of non-tenure teachers and one formal evaluation of tenure teachers during the year. These observations include classroom observation, filling out an observation form, and a conference with the teacher.

"Generally it's fine," commented school committee member Heinrich Holland of the study committee's report, though he added, "there are a few minor points we can sort out later."

Board Chairman Robert Frank noted that the evaluation procedure has to be finalized by Oct. 1 and that once it is in place, it is frozen for a year.

The board voted unanimously to accept the new procedure.

Committeewoman Constance Papas praised the report, saying, "The categories are broad enough to be provocative and serve as a basis for a dialogue geared toward improving instruction." Gleason noted in his written report that comments from teachers, administrators, and school committee members alike indicated that the evaluation instrument should be used to improve instruction.

Gleason also pointed out that the whole procedure, at least as far as the classroom work is concerned, focuses on what the students are doing. The intention here is to avoid arguments over methods and "centers attention on the net result of teacher action, that is, student behavior."

In his presentation to the committee, Gleason asked the board to allow him to set up a committee to oversee the whole evaluation process and report at the end of the year as to how well the system operates. The assistant superintendent suggested the committee be made up of representatives from all groups concerned, including teachers chosen by the Winchester Education Association (WEA).

Frank opposed the selection of members by the WEA. "I'm concerned that if we ask the WEA to appoint members, they'll feel obliged to represent the WEA," he said.

At the time Gleason's original study committee was appointed, the WEA expressed dissatisfaction that the teachers on the committee were not chosen by the union.

However, Gleason was successful in convincing the school committee that the oversight committee would not be altering the procedure, merely commenting on it. "I think the instrument would benefit from this kind of input," he said.

The final vote to set up the oversight committee was 4-1 in favor, with Frank still opposed.

The five levels of performance are accompanied, in each of the nine categories, by "descriptions of quality." These are meant to provide the supervisor with some means of identifying where a particular teacher's performance might be ranked.

The evaluation study committee which drew up the final recommendation consisted of Gleason; teachers Maryalyn Norris and Donald Stengel; and principals Vincent Larocco and Clare Corcoran.

Mini-college opens

Every Wednesday after school at 2:30 p.m. in the cafeteria of the high school, the guidance office will be conducting a mini-college program to which all high school students and their parents are invited.

On Sept. 28, the following institutions will be represented: Nasson College (Maine) and Pomona College (California).

On Oct. 5, admissions representatives from the following institutions plan to attend: Bowdoin College (Maine), Catholic University of America (Washington, DC), Columbia University (New York), Mitchell College (Connecticut), New England College (New Hampshire), and Quinnipiac College (Connecticut).

Middlesex classes have applied arts

Classes begin next week in Middlesex Community College's division of continuing education. Courses, mostly scheduled for evening hours, will include art appreciation, textile design, silk screening, painting in various media, history of modern art. Middlesex is offering a strong program in the applied arts this fall.

Clearing house still has youth job applications

Applications for the youth job clearing house are still available at the fire station, high school, and the Dairy Barn on Main street.

The clearing house will be running throughout the winter with jobs for young people 12-18. Anyone needing an odd job done can call 729-2111 and ask Doris Nash for information.

Babysitting course to open with talk on infant care

The first session of the Winchester Jaycees' babysitter's school begins Sept. 22. The course is to run for six weeks on Thursday evenings from 7:30-8:45 at the Winchester Public Library until Oct. 27.

The first speaker will be Mary Ann Outwater, RN, who will discuss infant care and safety. She will have a baby with her to demonstrate first hand how to properly handle a small child. A question and answer period will follow her talk.

Interested sixth and seventh graders should call Mrs. Joanne LaPointe at 729-7381. Boys are encouraged to register. Enrollment will be limited.

THE WINCHESTER STAR

Serving The Community For Over 95 Years

Who cares?

Respect for the law is something the great majority of us would see as being of some value in maintaining a stable, peaceful society.

However, maintaining this value can be a struggle at times, often a frustrating exercise. We look at recent, dramatic incidences of vandalism, for example, and wonder what's to be done.

Gravestones are smashed, fire hydrants unplugged, school windows shattered, and rarely is anyone caught. What we would do to them, we say, if only we knew who they were.

A closer look at the struggle leads to some interesting observations.

Many of the town's youth, confirming the old saw about idle minds, exclaim that there is not enough for them to do here in town — no movie theater, no center for social activities. This feeling is certainly not new.

We recently came across a cartoon which ran in The Star back in 1964 on the editorial page under a commentary about youths smashing police car windows with rocks. The cartoon depicted two young men sitting on the curb with their heads hanging in their hands, while in the background were drawn tennis courts, a group playing baseball, and a few representations of other recreational activities. One youth was saying to the other — "Gee, there's nothing to do around here, let's go break some windows."

The point was well made — it's not so much a lack of things to do that's the problem, rather what kids decide to do. Of course, since they grow up with television's vicarious pleasures, stereos, cars, pot, and booze, you can't lay all the responsibility on the kids.

There are some encouraging signs at the high school in this struggle to maintain certain values. Vandalism at the school last year was down substantially from the year before. Much of the credit for this must be placed on the attitudes of the students themselves.

The student government at the high school has organized an orientation program for incoming sophomores. The older students take the newer ones on tours of the school, and this no doubt fosters a sense that the school is, indeed, their school. The upperclassmen have also held group sessions with the sophomores, explaining the rules and procedures of everyday life at the school. These are to be followed up this year by visits later in the fall term to sophomore classes, when the older students plan to answer any questions that might have arisen about the rules.

This is an exercise in self-government taken on by the students themselves which deserves praise and support from the adult community.

But this task the students have taken on must be a frustrating one in light of some of the actions of their elders. How ironic that while the adults point with dismay at the disrespect of some of the town's youth for the law, they themselves so often flout the law. Not only that: they more often seem to get away with it.

Campaign financing legislation was a long time coming, and when it finally started arriving a few years ago, it got plenty of publicity.

Yet, in last spring's town elections, more than one third of the candidates violated that law by not filing campaign finance reports. Whether or not a candidate raises and spends a single penny, reports must be filed. Seven of the 23 candidates, whether through ignorance of the law or disrespect for it, did not file any reports.

Granted, Winchester's elections do not involve astronomical sums of money. Still, the principle of accountability behind the law has been tarnished.

What is perhaps even worse, when these violations were publicly disclosed, no one, not the candidates themselves nor any other citizen, saw fit to comment on the fact. "Who cares?" is apparently the watchword of the day.

It is obvious to us that, just as the percentage of young persons causing most of the vandalism is quite small, so the percentage of adults who choose to flout the law is also quite small. But at least the kids care enough to try to do something about it. —DKF

Pictorial editorial

Welcome back — Some of Winchester's elementary school children had to face some signs of the times as they returned to school this week. The doorway above is in the Lincoln School. Windows were also reported broken Saturday night at the Mystic School — apparently by some older, though not in the least bit wiser youths. We hope last year's drop in vandalism at the high school is the start of a trend. (Staff photo)

Town watch...

A first for Mrs. Nelson

By The Observer

Winchester's own Town Clerk Elsie Nelson is about to be chosen the first woman president of the Massachusetts Town Clerk's Association in the organization's 55-year history. The honor will be made formal at the group's fall meeting in Williamstown Oct. 5-7.

Mrs. Nelson, who has also served as first and second vice president of the association, will also be receiving her 20-year pin at the meeting.

A Winchester native, she has been town clerk here since 1957. She graduated from Winchester High School, married and settled down here, and she has been working in the clerk's office since 1952. She became assistant town clerk in 1954.

She lives on Pond street with her husband Alfred, and she has two children — a son and a daughter — and four grandsons. Our congratulations go out to her.

Winchester's about to go into the recycling business.

Down at the transfer station they're beginning to sort out reusable materials — aside from the bottles, cans and papers already being recycled — and the town hopes to start selling the stuff back to the public.

A few items have already been sold, according to Town Manager Thomas Groux, but for now the selling has stopped. The idea is to lessen the amount of material the town has to pay to be hauled away after it runs through the compactor (it costs $12 a ton to have it hauled).

Many of the items brought to the facility — furniture, old televisions, etc. — have some value to someone, and Groux has directed the DPW to come up with a system for auctioning off the goods. "We want to make sure we aren't selling anything unhealthy or dangerous," says Groux, who adds that the town wants to set up a regular system to avoid having town employees accused of selling things on the side.

One of the DPW's CETA workers is sorting through materials which might be saved and later resold. The money, Groux says, would go right into the town treasury.

"I'm not even sure we should be in the business, but we shouldn't be paying to haul stuff that people may want," explains Groux.

Winchester's football season gets underway this weekend with the opener against Natick at 1:30 p.m. on Manchester Field. On top of a new name at the high school, and a new symbol, the Red and Black Sachem, the team could use as much local support as it can get. Let them know the spirit's there.

With the opening of schools, drivers are asked to be particularly cautious. Because of the closing of Wyman School and the fairly large number of students who will be attending schools out-of-district under the open enrollment plan, many students will be walking to school in different traffic patterns than in years past.

Safety will be stressed in the schools by the administration and in programs sponsored by Safety Officer John McKinley. The cooperation of all drivers is also necessary to insure safe travel for students going to and from school.

New dump licenses must be secured at the board of health office before refuse can be moved or disposed of.

For the convenience of the public, licenses can be purchased at the entrance to the transfer station area, effective Saturday, September 10th, and for at least four additional Saturdays.

Cost of the license is $1.00 and registration number of each vehicle registered at address of applicant must be given in order to receive identification sticker for the vehicle.

You can't dump without a new sticker on your car. The old ones expired August 31!

For all the criticism they receive, the school committee heard an encouraging note at their Monday night meeting.

Superintendent William MacDonald read the board a note from a grateful parent expressing her pleasure over the effects of CLIP, the new Career-Life Information Program at the high school.

The woman said her son, who had been having thoughts about dropping out, entered the CLIP program and, along with encouragement from teachers, graduated with the class of 1977 in June. In fact, she said, her son is thinking about continuing his education.

There's a success story for you.

Medford C.E.T.A. will receive approximately $749,835.00 in federal funds to establish youth employment and training programs over the next year, according to planning estimates.

The Youth Employment and Training Program (Y.E.T.P.) will provide youth, especially low-income youth who have severe employment handicaps, with a variety of work and training opportunities. Unemployed, underemployed, and in-school youth (14-21) will receive a wide range of services through Y.E.T.P., including classroom, on-the-job, and other training programs.

Medford C.E.T.A., of which Winchester is a part, will also be eligible to submit proposals in competition with 16 other C.E.T.A. subgrantees for some 1.6 million dollars available for community improvement work projects under a second program created by the legislation, the Youth Community Conservation and Improvement Projects (Y.C.C.I.P.). Y.C.C.I.P. will provide with unemployed youth (16-19) with constructive work experience and on-the-job training in public service jobs created by funding projects which produce tangible, lasting, and beneficial community impact.

Projects under both programs will begin in the winter and will last through next fall. Youths are expected to be able to apply for the new programs in December. News announcements will be made when the application process opens. Existing C.E.T.A. youth programs will continue in addition to these new programs.

Cut off funding

EDITOR OF THE STAR:

Senator Rotondi (The Star, Sept. 8) correctly states that the Doyle-Flynn bill is the result of a recent Supreme Court decision which specifically gives the states the power to cut off public funding of abortions. The bill, therefore, is a constitutional response to a fiscal issue — funding of abortions. If the fiscal issue was funding of plastic cosmetic surgery, would Senator Rotondi tell us that it is sheer hypocrisy to cut off state financing of plastic cosmetic surgery for the poor when tax dollars will continue to subsidize such surgery for the well-to-do because state employees are covered by health insurance that encompasses such surgery?

On September 4, I was one of a group of concerned citizens who delivered 3878 petitions to Senator Rotondi's home. These petitions came from voters in all parts of the 4th Middlesex District. The 3878 voters asked the senator not to vote tax dollars to fund abortions. The previous week 900 petitions asking the senator to support the Doyle-Flynn bill were delivered to him at the State House from an Arlington citizen.

Since the 3878 petitions delivered to Senator Rotondi's home were presented to him after he prepared his statement for The Star, it would seem that his constituents are no longer evenly divided on this issue of public funding of abortions, but rather that there is a plurality of at least 3878 in favor of the Doyle-Flynn bill. It is the hope of these voters that Senator Rotondi will respond to their request and vote to cut off public funding of abortions by supporting the Doyle-Flynn bill.

Happy 30th!

EDITOR OF THE STAR:

In view of the fact that Mary E. and John F. Murphy Jr. were celebrating their 30th wedding anniversary, the residents of the Mary E. Murphy Apartments decided it would be most fitting to share a party with them.

We know that without Mary Murphy's "Don't Give Up The Ship" attitude the complex would never have come to Palmer street. We who live on this beautiful spot are glad she persevered and was fittingly rewarded by having the apartments bear her name.

The get-together party was held in the community hall on Wednesday Sept. 7, the large turnout making it a complete success.

All the food was prepared and served by the residents — even a birthday cake for the 30-year anniversary bride (complete with bride and groom).

There was resident participation in the social hour, but the highlight of the evening was Vivian Jones playing the piano for a sing-along of the old time (yesteryear) favorites.

The Mary E. Murphy Apartments residents wish Mary and John continuing Good Health and Happiness.

The worst

(Ed. note: A copy of this letter was sent to the Winchester Highway Department by Mr. Cardullo.)

EDITOR OF THE STAR:

I think that you should know that this summer I drove 16,000 miles all over the United States. The worst road that I encountered on the entire trip was Arlington street.

It was my belief that this summer you would surely repave it. But no, I returned to find it worse than when I left. Gentlemen, what are you waiting for? An accident? That street is a disgrace (and a danger) to the town of Winchester. I might also add that for the kind of taxes that we pay in this town it is also unnecessary.

I certainly hope that you will give this matter priority attention and that we will not have to go through another winter with the Arlington street ruts.

A quarter a dream

By Karen Whittlesey-First

There are several sure signs of approaching fall — the school clothes, the changing leaves, the apple picking. But there's one that really gets me into the fall season and that's the long list of garage sales in the classifieds.

Summer is the doldrums as far as finding a good garage sale goes. The season is September after Labor Day through to the end of October and then Patriots Day until school gets out.

What a delight to the eye to see that long, long list of treasure troves, all within easy driving distance of Winchester. There were so many last fall that I limited my bargain hunting to those garage sales in Winchester. It took all day Saturday to cover them all.

And the price is cheaper than a movie at one of Boston's fine downtown cinemas. For a quarter you can buy a dream. Like that six-foot long rabbit with one eye. It spent months on a teenager's bed, long ears perked up to catch every phrase of a two-hour phone conversation before she went downtown to meet the person she'd just been talking to. It was there when she got back, too, teary-eyed from some adolescent catastrophe.

Like that Monopoly set that had all the money missing but the houses and hotels were still there. The houses from our set had long since fallen down the hot air vents in the living room floor. The hotels probably ended up providing fuel for the burner through most of last winter.

Like the red suspenders which are perfect with your denim skirt. Just the touch you needed.

EDITOR OF THE STAR:

One of the greatest swindles in history is being played on the American people. It involves giving away U.S. property and paying billions of dollars for the privilege! This con game is nearing completion but, fortunately, there is still time for us, the tax-paying citizens who are going to end up footing the bill, to thwart the scheme.

In spite of the Mickey Mouse wording of the new Panama Canal Treaty giving the U.S. a small vestige of control of our canal for a limited amount of time, the end result is surrendering our control of territory vital to its defense. We are told the canal is "obsolete." If so, why did the number of warships that passed through it jump from 284 in 1965 to 1504 in 1969, one of the Vietnam war years? Who's kidding who? The 1903 Panama Canal Treaty made it quite clear we have complete sovereignty over the Canal Zone.

"The Republic of Panama grants to the United States all the rights, powers and authority within the zone...which the United States would possess and exercise if it were the sovereign of the territory within such said waters and land are located, to the entire exclusion of the exercise by the Republic of Panama of any such sovereign rights, power or authority."

Communist-trained dictator Tonijos has publicly proclaimed Panama's solidarity with communist Cuba. Why would any U.S. senator, who has sworn to uphold the best interests of our country, turn over control of our vital waterway to such a man?

The Associated Press recently stated Tonijos accepted a U.S. "offer" to increase the amount the U.S. pays for use of the canal to 50 million a year from 2.3 million. In addition the U.S. has promised "hundreds of Millions" of dollars in "additional aid" during the life of the proposed treaty which is to run until the year 2000! I can't help but wonder about the loyalty of these men who are "offering" to give away my hard earned tax dollars. Just which country's interests are they working for?

Tonijos declared September 11 a Panamanian national holiday in celebration of the new treaty. Does he know something we don't know?

The treaty, fortunately, has yet to be approved by our Congress. Our senators must approve the treaty and our representatives must vote to give away vast sums to an anti-American dictator.

Let them know we don't need, don't want and can't afford a new Panama Canal Treaty. Rupert W. Kuglin

Improved

EDITOR OF THE STAR:

With so many spots suffering from neglect or vandalism, it is nice to see at least one place improved. Town officials are to be commended for the clean up and paint job at Wedgemere Station. A little picking up in the parking lot is needed but the appearance is greatly improved. It is, I suppose, too much to expect anything but boarded up windows rather than glass in these days of vandalism.

This leaves the Winchester Station standing apart as the most unsightly place in town. The station is the victim of both vandals and litter-bugs. Last winter with the waiting room open, at times, it became so deep in beer bottles and other debris that one Saturday morning, equipped with trash barrels and armed with a shovel and broom, I cleaned the place out. Isn't this a project which some group known for their good works, such as the Boy Scouts or Jaycees, could take over — working with the owner and town officials?

People who have lived here for many years, as have my wife and I, have always felt proud of the town and its appearance. Our concern now is that some stranger arriving in Winchester Station might conclude that, by mistake, he was at Columbia Point.

There are several sure signs of approaching fall — the school clothes, the changing leaves, the apple picking. But there's one that really gets me into the fall season and that's the long list of garage sales in the classifieds.

Like the red suspenders which are perfect with your denim skirt. Just the touch you needed.

Like the electric frying pan you could have used a long time ago but never got around to buying. At $2.50 it's yours.

There's another side to garage saling which goes beyond the mere bargaining aspect — although an upright player piano we got for $10 is probably the height of bargaining. There's something akin to the pioneering spirit when you go to yard sales and find the same people this season who were with you last season. Conversations start and comparisons are made with other sales. There's a certain easy going tone of camaraderie which must be a little like the feeling our pioneering forebears felt at a quilting bee or a housewarming.

For a quarter you can buy a dream. Like the outgrown microscope. Nothing fancy, mind you, but for another nicker we'll throw in a few slides. Maybe it will lead a budding scientist on the road to discoveries.

Like the sweater that exactly matches the green corduroys. Now that's a cute school outfit.

Like the boxes and boxes, rows and rows of books, hardbacks a quarter, paperbacks a dime. There lies the greatest dream of all — knowledge.

As the early warm days of September change to the crackling crisp afternoons of October, the refreshments change from lemonade and cookies to cider and doughnuts.

Gradually the classified listings grow smaller, until it disappears to hibernate over winter. But come the first crocus bud of spring, you can be sure some attic's been cleaned out and treasures put aside for the first warm day.

But now we wait for the fall offerings.

Opening day remarks

WEA president cites problems in education

A lack of confidence in public education was one of the major problems alluded to by Winchester Education Association President Bernard J. Silva in his opening day remarks to Winchester's teachers.

Silva spoke to the WEA on the first day of school about the need for better public relations in order to inform the community about what the organization sees as being some major problems within the system.

"There is no question that confidence in public education is losing its integrity, and community support is waning," said Silva. He added that the increase in private school enrollments is leading to a decrease in the local teaching staff.

"Money must obviously be available if parents are sending their youngsters to private school," he stated. "Also, more than ever there is an increase in expenditures for life's pleasures, and for leisure time activities. Somehow our priorities need to be redirected."

Silva also cited the need for the teachers to improve their image in the community and to "impact the power structure in this community to the point where we gain more influence. A strong public relations program is necessary if we hope to achieve for ourselves and our students the support needed to function at an optimum level."

The WEA president noted that his organization had in the past "too often abdicated the responsibility of informing the community to other groups. With that surrender goes power. We need to remind each other that all public relations begins in the classroom, and the point of contact with each student. If we accept and respect students, they will respect us, and this respect will be reflected in the attitudes of their parents."

Of the problems facing the Winchester School System, Silva listed a number of salient points, which he said "the community needs to know." These points included:

1) "That with the increased demands placed on classroom teachers (e.g. Chapter 766 and US Public Law 94-142, both dealing with special education), there is a limit to how widely a teacher can spread his or her time."

2) "That young, creative teachers are leaving Winchester."

3) "That some students do not belong in high school because they interfere with the education of others." Silva suggested pursuing other options for such students, including high school equivalency programs while working, attending school part-time, using summer school courses toward graduation, individualizing programs, and sabbatical leaves.

4) "That in the past 20 years, administrators have recommended the names of students who were serious disciplinary problems to the school committee for expulsion, but not one was expelled."

5) "That we dispute the widely accepted belief that there is a teacher surplus. If school services across this country, including Winchester, were improved to really meet the needs of our current youth, to really individualize instruction, to reduce class size, and to increase staff in art, music and physical education, we would have a shortage of qualified teachers."

6) "That to meet the changing needs of youth and help every student work to their potential, we need to explore more alternative programs." Silva suggested four possibilities: the use of a team pattern for underachievers, distributive education, an accelerated graduation plan, and a slow learners curriculum.

7) "That there has been an increase in personal property damage to administrators' and teachers' vehicles on school grounds. No protection, direction, or financial remuneration has been forthcoming."

As for the teachers themselves, Silva had a few suggestions for improving performance and the quality of education. He asked the membership to remind each other:

1) "That we give more attention to character development, values, interpersonal relations, and other qualities that contribute to the growth and self-discipline of our students."

2) "That one of the greatest tragedies of the educated world is that we have too often dissociated intellect and feeling. They have to be linked together."

The garage sale to raise funds for Winchester's ABC House did just that. Despite the rainy Saturday, the hard-working committee, headed by Carolyn Ward, and volunteers raised $1900 for items like repairs, trips home for the students, a visit to a college for the seniors. Here Jane Parry is helping Chris Haddad make a purchase. With her are Tony Johnson, a tenth grader from Memphis, and Raphael Acevedo, a New Yorker in Winchester High School's tenth grade. The ABC House is home to ten young men who are enrolled at WHS in order to get "A Better Chance" at education. They come from around the country to spend the school year here. The ABC House is at 2 Dix st.

State House roll call

This week's Beacon Hill Roll Call reviews local legislators' votes on several education-related roll calls over the past few sessions.

The House defeated 191-31 a bill clarifying students' rights and establishing some uniform procedures for expulsions and suspensions and requiring local school committees to establish written rules on student conduct, subject to approval by the state department of education. Rep. Sherman W. Saltmarsh voted with opponents, who argued the bill interferes with local school committees.

Another measure defeated by the House 162-56 would have limited inspection of school records by students under 18 by requiring parental consent. Rep. Saltmarsh voted to impose the limitation.

By 157-59, the House defeated a move to prohibit anyone from standing in school buses in the state. While supporters of the prohibition pointed to the danger of the practice, opponents argued buses are designed with standing room and pointed out the potential cost of such a measure. Rep. Saltmarsh voted against the prohibition.

The House refused to reconsider its earlier defeat of a bill making the chairman of the student advisory committee a non-voting member of the local school committee. The current law makes this arrangement optional. Rep. Saltmarsh opposed reconsideration in the 153-70 vote.

Both the House and the Senate overrode Gov. Michael Dukakis' veto of a bill requiring teachers to lead students in a daily pledge of allegiance to the flag. Both Rep. Saltmarsh and Sen. Samuel Rotondi voted for the bill.

By 176-42 the House defeated a bill clarifying teachers' rights and responsibilities in such areas as personal dress and appearance, freedom of expression, and right to peaceful assembly on school property. Rep. Saltmarsh voted against the bill, which opponents claimed was unnecessary.

Rep. Saltmarsh voted with the minority in supporting a move to reconsider the House's previous defeat of a bill providing for reevaluation of teachers every four years. Supporters of reevaluation argued the move would provide a check on the tenure system; opponents argued it cripples tenure and destroys academic freedom. Reconsideration was voted down 167-51.

The Senate approved 30-3 a measure giving public school teachers leaves of absences if they are elected mayor or to a county or state office. Sen. Rotondi favored the bill.

By a close 110-107 vote, the House defeated a move measure reducing the number of days a teacher may be suspended without a hearing from seven to three. Rep. Saltmarsh voted for the seven day period. Opponents had argued that seven days gives both sides in a dispute ample time to prepare for a hearing.

A bill to change the makeup of the state board of education from appointed to elected members was defeated in the House 185-30. Supporters claimed the board has been unresponsive while opponents said election would put more politics into the board. Rep. Saltmarsh voted against the change.

The House defeated 168-57 a measure allowing, after local acceptance by a city or town, a four-fifths vote of a city council or town meeting to reduce items in a school budget. Rep. Saltmarsh voted for the bill.

Sen. Rotondi voted against a similar bill in the Senate, which was defeated 31-3. This bill would have allowed a two-thirds vote of a council or town meeting to reduce or delete any item from a school committee budget.

Anderson reappointed to Tufts music chair

Dr. Thomas J. (T.J.) Anderson of Winchester, chairman of the music department at Tufts University in Medford and a nationally acclaimed composer, has been reappointed as Fletcher Professor of Music by the university trustees.

First awarded in 1925, the professorship is presented by the trustees' Educational Policy Committee in recognition of academic distinction. This marks the second consecutive year Anderson has been presented the award.

Before coming to Tufts in 1972, Anderson was a music professor at West Virginia State College, Langston (Okla.) University, Tennessee State College and Morehouse (Ga.) College. He received a bachelor's degree in music from West Virginia State, a master's degree in education from Pennsylvania State University and a doctorate degree from the University of Iowa.

Anderson was composer-in-residence with the Atlanta Symphony Orchestra, has written over 30 compositions for groups ranging from chamber ensembles to symphony orchestras and won national acclaim in 1972 for his orchestration of Scott Joplin's ragtime opera, "Treemonisha." He has also appeared in Germany before the International Society for Music Education and in Brazil as a lecturer for the United States Department of State.

He lives at 34 Grove st. with his wife, Lois, and their three children.

Mr. &amp; Mrs. William Archibald

Tufts scene of wedding of Miss Avakian, Mr. Archibald

Eileen M. Avakian, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob P. Avakian, and Mr. William H. Archibald, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Archibald of Brookline, were married August 20, at the Goddard Chapel, Tufts University, Medford.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a white organza gown with a bodice and cap sleeves of Venice lace. Her headpiece of fingertip length, was trimmed with Venice lace. She carried a colonial bouquet of white daisies and baby's breath. Mrs. Jerome (Patricia) Cura, South Bristo, Maine, was matron of honor for her sister, Mrs. James (Paula) Downes, Belmont, Ma., sister of the bride, Martha Archibald, Brookline, Ma. sister of the groom, and Dianne Luongo, Westwood, Ma. were bridesmaids. They were dressed alike in floral gowns with matching capes and carried bouquets of blue daisies and baby's breath.

John Archibald, Everett, Ma. was best man and ushers were James Archibald, Jr., Chicago, Ill., both brothers of the groom and the bride's brothers Mark and Kevin, of Winchester.

Father James Flaherty, a relative of the bride, performed the late afternoon ceremony with Sister M. Ann Christine, the bride's godmother, participating.

A reception followed at Anthony's Pier 4, aboard the S.S. Peter Stuyvesant.

The bride, a graduate of Winchester High School and Rhode Island College, is a teacher in Billerica. The groom graduated from Tufts University, School of Engineering and received a masters degree from Boston University. He is employed at Texas Instrument, Attleboro.

Susan Marie Casey married to Robert J. Nutile here Aug. 13

Susan Marie Casey and Robert John Nutile exchanged marriage vows at a mass officiated by Rev. Mark Sheehan at St. Mary's Church on August 13.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Haskell Casey, of Winchester. Robert is the son of Mrs. John Nutile and the late John J. Nutile, also of Winchester.

The bride wore an ivory voile gown of princess lines with a chapel length train. Bands of lace formed the high neckline and trimmed the short sleeves. A fingertip veil with fitted headpiece was also trimmed with lace. She carried a bouquet of pink sweetheart roses with a spray of baby's breath.

Marianne Anthony, of Columbus, Ohio, attended as maid of honor. The bridesmaids were Mary Powers of Winchester, Elizabeth Bodie of Chicago, Illinois, and Carol Casey, cousin of the bride, of Schenectady, N.Y.

Attendants wore ivory voile gowns with a delicate pink floral pattern. They carried bouquets of pink carnations and baby's breath with a miniature ivy spray.

The bride's mother wore a chiffon gown of pale yellow, and the groom's mother wore a dusty rose quiana gown.

Michael Turner of Melrose was best man. Assisting with the seating of guests were ushers Brian McCormack and George Murphy both of Winchester, John Cesere of Methuen, and John H. Casey III, brother of the bride.

Guests were invited to a reception at Woburn Country Club, after which the couple left for a wedding trip to Bermuda. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Nutile have since made their home in Stoneham.

The bride, a graduate of Winchester High School class of 1973, and Georgetown University, is presently working as a staff nurse at Massachusetts General Hospital. Her husband, a 1967 graduate of Winchester High School, attended both Clarkson College and University of Massachusetts. He is currently employed as a sales representative with Canada Dry Corporation.

Some owe money

School rental fees go up

Rental charges for Winchester's public school facilities are going up a few dollars this year.

The new schedule was presented to the school committee by Assistant Superintendent Jack Fallon Monday night and adopted by a 4-6 vote of the board.

In a related discussion, Fallon presented the committee with a list of unpaid balances for rental charges, some of them dating back to 1961.

Because of the statute of limitations, most of the unpaid balance will automatically be abated (i.e. the debt is cancelled). However, Fallon asked the board for some direction as to whether or not he should abate the remaining balances.

Fallon noted that one of the debtors, Pop Warner Football, has owed in the past and continues to owe the school department rental charges. The league is continuing to use school facilities this year.

A letter to Fallon from Town Treasurer Carol Thomas notes that a previous bill to Pop Warner dated from 1972 for $232 was abated in February of this year. The letter suggests, "Perhaps the school department would take into consideration further rental of schools to Pop Warner, as there is a problem collecting the bills." The accounts so far show a $252 unpaid balance from the organization.

"Pop Warner's one among many (who use school facilities), I take it, and ought to be treated the same as all of them," commented School Committee Chairman Robert Frank. Frank suggested that Fallon should be empowered to endorse the abatements for balances that have run past the statute of limitations but asked that he not sign them if they were still "collectable."

The committee voted unanimously to adopt a list of rules and regulations and to apply them "uniformly to users of facilities."

Rental fees for school facilities are as follows:

At the senior high school: for auditorium, gymnasium, or cafeteria, evenings — $25, afternoons (3-5:30 p.m.) — $20; for lockers and showers — $10; for classrooms — $15.

At the junior high schools: for auditorium, gymnasium or cafeteria, evenings — $20, afternoons (3-5:30 p.m.) — $15; for classrooms — $10.

At the elementary schools: for auditorium, evenings — $15, afternoons (3-5:30 p.m.) — $10; for classrooms — $10.

In addition, custodial fees will be charged as follows: all times except Sundays and holidays — $9 an hour; Sundays and holidays — $11 an hour.

Joan Lynch of Winchester received her diploma Sept. 9 after completing a year-long course in practical nursing at Northeast Metropolitan Regional Vocational School. She must now pass the state licensing exam before practicing her new profession.

Washington report

The full cost of plant shutdowns

By Cong. Edward J. Markey

Over the past year newspapers and public officials in the Northeast have publicized a growing concern that states in the northern quadrant of our country have slowly but surely been falling behind other regions of America in jobs and income. One newspaper writer last summer went so far as to warn that the Northeast was in danger of becoming a "new Appalachia."

The statistics have accumulated in cold but familiar detail: Industries migrate, population declines, cities suffer blight, and an entire regional economy declines. In many ways New York State and Georgia are typical of their respective regions, the Frostbelt and the Sunbelt. Georgia's rate of growth in total employment between 1967 and 1972, for example, was nine times that of New York.

New England itself has long known what it was like to lose the industries which in past years had been the backbone of our economy. In Massachusetts alone, for example, the old mill-based industries such as textiles and leather have lost over 200,000 since 1947, including over 60,000 since 1960. Shoe factories have closed in Haverhill and Brockton. Mills have closed in Lowell and Fall River.

Many scholars have seen the history of the United States in terms of the ebb and flow of migrations of industries, jobs, and population. But for our region what has mostly happened is that the industries have left, but the people stayed behind. The kinds of jobs which remained were not necessarily those which they were suited for by experience. Some significant boosts have come to our regional economy, of course. But many of our new jobs have been high-technology jobs, calling for advanced technical skills, or low-skill and low-paying jobs leading nowhere.

It is true that many plant moves or shutdowns make economic sense, in that the national economy can be said to benefit through an increase in total output through the more efficient allocation of productive resources in labor and capital. However, it is also often true that many plant dislocations obtain benefits fewer than the full costs which they impose. Normally, a firm's executives will consider only the costs and benefits their own company will receive from shifting or shutting down production in a specific location. They may easily forget that an entire community depends heavily upon the jobs and taxes which the enterprise affords.

Sometimes a move or shutdown may be influenced by tax concessions from other areas made to attract new industry. These appear as net gains to the firm. But for the area left behind, the relocation leaves in its wake higher taxes for everyone else or a decline in public services. From the point of view of the economy as a whole, no benefit was actually received. Rather, there was merely an income transfer from one group and locality to another.

There are costs which never appear on the corporate ledger book. Costs like the opportunity cost of wasted human skill, which partly show up in such payments as unemployment compensation, largely paid for by the firms which stay behind and do not shut down, and in welfare payments, paid for by the taxpayers at large. There are other costs, such as those for medical care, for heart attacks and mental breakdowns all rise significantly following plant shutdowns. And social costs fall upon the local community, for family breakdowns and crime usually rise in the wake of such economic dislocations.

Massachusetts has been paying these costs for at least two generations, if not longer. And a recent survey by the state's Office of Economic Affairs shows there is still a problem. Some kinds of action appear to be needed, to develop our national public policies so that interregional and interstate migrations of labor and capital can be less painful to the people left behind.

I am now studying alternative approaches to a solution, and I welcome your advice and opinion on how best to proceed. One possible direction is that advocated by a Congressman from Michigan, William Ford, and by Vice President Mondale, who have sought support for a law to require any firm planning to relocate or lay off a sizable number of workers to give notice to the government two years ahead of time. This bill would require a costly government study of the effects of the dislocation, and could result in penalties to the firm of loss of special tax benefits if it is shown that the move would be unjustified.

There are many criticisms of this approach. Among them is the charge that it would be tangled in red tape and impossible to administer, due to the sheer number of proposed changes in the labor force across the country. Another charge is that it would be unfair to force any firm to wait for two years before carrying out a business decision.

It could be that a more promising approach is to adopt a much simpler solution. This approach would ask a firm to weigh, at least indirectly, the full costs of its move to the society at large against the benefits the firm itself expects to obtain. The business would still be free to decide for itself whether the move is in its own best interest or not; and if it is, it would still be free to move without bureaucratic delay. But the firm would be required to pay a plant dislocation tax, set according to how much it would cost to pay its former workers a lump-sum "discharge payment" and to reimburse the community for its loss of tax revenues.

Other solutions might prove to be more desirable. I hope to hear your recommendations on this most crucial issue in the near future.

Simmons Club

The Simmons Club of Boston will begin its 1977-78 season on September 25 with an open house at the Garland Center, 408 Commonwealth Ave., Boston. Winchester alumnae Mrs. Lawrence Tobiason is on the executive board of the Simmons Club. Meetings are open to all alumnae in the greater Boston area.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rae

Lynda Lyons, Robert Rae married at St. Mary's Aug. 27

Lynda Louise Lyons and Robert Reynolds Rae, Jr., were married at St. Mary's Church on August 27.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis C. Lyons of 33 Grayson rd. Her husband is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert R. Rae, Sr., of Rochester, N.Y.

The bride wore a gown of white silk organza, high empire mandarin neckline, sheer bodice with venetian lace applique at neckline and body of gown with heavier applique at hemline. Her veil was flower spray work with a lace edge mantilla of organza. She carried a bouquet of white roses, stephanotis and baby's breath. Marie Hanna, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore a mint green tiered chiffon gown and carried yellow roses, white daisies and baby's breath. Similarly gowned were the maid of honor, Paula Rowe of Winchester, Mrs. Nancy Hargrave and Cynthia Rae of Rochester, sisters of the groom.

Thomas Rae of Rochester, brother of the groom was best man. Assisting as usher were Harold P. Hanna of Canton, Timothy Hargrave of Rochester and Mark Zander of Naples, Florida.

The bride graduated from Westfield State College and is a teacher in North Reading public schools. The groom graduated from Babson College and is employed by National Cash Register Company of Newton.

Following a reception on the patio at Anthony's Pier 4 Restaurant, the couple left for a wedding trip to Bermuda. They will be making their home in Winchester.

Demsey graduates with high distinction

David Demsey of Washburn, Maine (formerly of Winchester) graduated with high distinction from the University of Maine at Orono this June with a Bachelor of Science degree in Music Education. He was on the Deans' List all eight of his semesters there, and was elected to the Kappa Delta Pi and Phi Kappa Phi honor societies. Demsey was an active performer with the university bands, orchestra, and 20th Century Music Ensemble. This fall, he will be continuing his saxophone studies and working in New York City, with plans to earn a master's degree in performance.

Concord art show

An exhibition of the New England Sculptors Association is opening at the Concord Art Association at 15 Lexington rd., Concord on Sunday.

NE Voke to operate pre-school

The Northeast Metropolitan Regional Vocational School will run an early childhood laboratory school this fall. Of the 48 children, aged three to five, to participate, Winchester's quota is three.

The children will be given a two-hour program three days a week, Monday, Wednesday and Friday, under the supervision of an instructor who will be training high school juniors and seniors in a nursery-kindergarten aide program. There will be a slight weekly charge to cover the cost of materials.

The 48-child limit is set to make for a maximum of 24 children in the morning and afternoon sessions. Preference will be given to those children who were not enrolled in this program in previous years; however, all applications are invited.

Parents wishing to enroll a pre-school child must send to Northeast the following information on a sheet of plain paper: date of application, child's full name, age, sex, exact date of birth, parent's name, address, and phone number, and whether the morning or afternoon session is preferred. The child must be no younger than three nor older than five as of Sept. 15. The information must be in writing and will not be accepted by phone. Deadline for applications is Sept. 23 at 3 p.m.

The names of applicants will be drawn by lot. Acceptance to the program will be made according to the community in which they live and the number allowed by quota.

An interview at the school, where parents will be given more specific information about the program, will follow the selection. Parents of participating youngsters will be required to provide transportation to and from Northeast.

Free milk, meal program set for eligible children

School children unable to pay the full price of milk and meals served in schools under the national school lunch program are eligible to free and reduced price meals and milk.

The following examples of eligibility criteria have been adopted by local school officials:

If the family size is two, free milk and meals are available if the maximum gross income is less than $5160; reduced price if income is between $5161 and $8050.

For a family of four, the free program is available if the maximum gross income is $7610; reduced price between $7611 and $11,880. For a family of six, the income limits are $9680 for free meals and between $9861 and $15,380 for reduced.

Complete information regarding eligibility is available from the superintendent's office. All applications are confidential. Families whose incomes do not meet the criteria may be eligible if there are special hardships due to unusually high medical expenses or shelter costs.

Adult ed. at WHS to start week of Oct. 10

The fall session of the Winchester Adult Education Program will begin during the week of Oct. 10. Registration will take place at the high school during the week of Oct. 3.

As has been the case in the past, there will be a variety of course offerings, including at least two new courses, one dealing with simple and practical auto mechanics, and the other with cardio-pulmonary resuscitation (CPR). The latter is to be taught by a certified Red Cross instructor.

A course description brochure will be available at the high school by the week of Sept. 26. All inquiries concerning the program should be made to the director of adult education, 80 Skillings road rd., or call the high school, extension 31.

The school committee has yet to take up the matter of fees to be charged for this year. The subject should be on the agenda for the next regular meeting Sept. 26.

McCall new parents coffee today at 2:30

A coffee for families who are new to McCall Junior High School will be held today at 2:30 p.m. in the school cafeteria.

Joseph Forte, principal, will be present to introduce the teachers, guidance personnel, and department heads to the parents of new pupils. There will be a question and answer period following an explanation of school policies and programs.

Hostesses for the afternoon will be McCall Parents Association executive board members.

National Guard to hold open house

On Saturday and Sunday from 10 a.m. — 5 p.m. Troop A 1st Squadron, 26th Cavalry, Massachusetts Army National Guard, located at Camp Curtis Guild on Haverhill street in Reading, will hold an open house.

There will be movies, military vehicles, training equipment, radios, refreshments and people to answer your questions about the guard. Camp Curtis Guild is located at the Reading-Wakefield line, just off Route 128.

Yoga classes

New classes with the Ivanhoe Integral Yoga Group start Sept. 16 at 10 a.m. in the assembly room of the Belmont Memorial Library. There will be 12 sessions. Everyone is welcome, and participants should come with loose clothes and a mat. The classes are to be taught by a qualified instructor.

Lexington Gardens has talks on bulbs

Lexington Gardens, 93 Hancock st., will present two free talks on the selection and planting of bulbs in the fall for winter and spring bloom. The talks are Friday at 7 p.m. and Monday morning at 10. No reservations or tickets are needed.

Story hours for pre-schoolers to begin October 4

"Once upon a time"...these are magic words that transport children to another world. More than that, however, story hours introduce boys and girls to their vast heritage of literature. In the library it brings friendship and a bond of understanding between librarian, book and child as well as a group-learning experience.

The Winchester Junior Library is now registering youngsters for the fall pre-school story hour sessions. The series will begin on October 4 and will continue for seven weeks. The groups meet once a week on Tuesday or Wednesday or Thursday mornings from 10:00 to 10:45, or Wednesday afternoons from 1:30 to 2:15. Children who are four years old, or will turn four by January 1, 1978, may be registered in the Junior Library.

Mrs. Twitchell, Children's Services

Librarian, invites children to participate in games, finger plays and singing as well as see films and listen to stories in a small group situation in preparation for their soon-to-come kindergarten experience.

Coop school is into 10th year

The Neighborhood Cooperative Nursery School, Inc. will open Monday for its 10th year of non-profit operation.

Orientation for parents will be held Sunday at 8 p.m. in the Vinton Room of the First Congregational Church.

Openings are still available for four-year-olds and in a new class for older three-year-olds and younger four-year-olds. Classes will be held as follows:

Morning three, Thursday and Friday; morning three and four, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday; afternoon four, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.

Further information may be obtained from Mrs. Sue Fronk, 34 Hiawatha rd., Woburn.

Youth hockey tryouts begin

Winchester Youth Hockey is offering a varied program for the boys of Winchester during the 1977-1978 season. Tryouts are now underway for the traveling teams which will play in the Middlesex League. Starting in October, clinics are planned for both beginners and skaters desiring to improve their skills. In November, the intermural program will get underway for all boys between the ages of five and 16.

Traveling team tryouts

September 18 Midget, USA Rink, 7:20 a.m.; Bantams USA Rink, 8:30 a.m.; Squirts and Mites, USA Rink, 9:40 a.m.; Peepees, USA Rink, 10:50 a.m.

September 25, Midgets, USA Rink, 7:20 a.m.; Bantams, USA Rink, 8:30 a.m.; Squirts and Mites, USA Rink, 9:40 a.m.; Peepees, USA Rink, 10:50 a.m.

There are openings in all age groups and boys are encouraged to participate in these tryouts. Two teams are planned for each age group in the Middlesex League, and any adults with hockey experience who would like to assist in coaching these teams is urged to contact one of the Directors.

Fall Clinic

Plans are being finalized for the fall clinic which will begin on Sunday, October 2 and run for seven Sundays. These clinics will be open to all, both resident and non-resident. Details of the clinic will be published in future editions of The Star. The clinic will be an excellent conditioner for the boys participating in the intermural program that follows.

On Sunday, October 2, a flea market benefitting Winchester Youth Hockey will be held at the U.S.A. Rink. At the same time a sport equipment recycling sale will take place. Any sport equipment in decent condition that has been outgrown or no longer used may be put up for sale and you can recover part of its original cost, those who donate equipment will keep 75 percent of the price that is set.

Flea market tablespace will be available at a modest price and the central location will surely attract customers that scattered yard sales would never reach.

Lisa O'Halloran named commodore

On September 2, at the annual meeting of the West Dennis Yacht Club, Lisa O'Halloran, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James P. O'Halloran, 20 Mayflower rd., was elected commodore of the Junior Yacht Club.

Lisa was also awarded a silver cup for finishing third with her father in the summer series of beetle cat racing. During the Labor Day Special race Lisa and her father were awarded matching Paul Revere Bowls for winning the Geraghty Cup Special Point Race. Lisa is in the eleventh grade at Winchester High School.

Pop Warner A loses to Arl., B team ties as season opens

In a hard-fought, well-played football game, Winchester "A" team lost their season opener to Arlington. After Arlington scored in the late stages of the first quarter, Winchester's defense was tough, not allowing Arlington much penetration into their territory. It was a case of first game jitters with the Winchester offense, along with some untimely penalties, that made the difference.

Excellent passing by both quarterbacks, Joe Donlon and Chris Kelley, almost pulled the game out for Winchester in the closing minutes of the fourth quarter but they were stymied by a pass interception. Excellent on defense were Chris Wagstrom who, in his first football game, had a key interception and return to shut out a scoring threat by Arlington. Adam Hirshman who made numerous unassisted tackles. Bill MacMillan who also turned in many tackles along with a few quarterback sacks. Capt. Jeff Tinkel, Greg Kirk, Jim Peely, and the rest of the defensive unit.

On offense, along with the passing of Donlon and Kelley, was the fine running of Adam Hirshman, Ted Guthrie, Chris Rogers, Mark Kenney which was all made possible by some excellent line play by Joe Russo, Don Hoffman, Mark Merritt, and the rest of the line.

The support the boys received from the many parents in the stands was outstanding, and the spirit of the boys who never quite giving a one hundred percent effort, shows that Winchester Pop Warner is alive and well and on the upswing again.

In their season opener, Pop Warner "B" team tied Arlington 6 to 6. With consistent defense, led by Kevin Shattuck and Richard Kenney, Arlington's offense was completely shutout from scoring, with their only score coming on a pass interception late in the second quarter.

Arlington led 6 to 0 at halftime. The Winchester team never lost their spirit or their enthusiasm throughout the entire game. The Winchester team scored late in the fourth period on the "Hoffman Connection" — Chris Tim to knot the score at 6 all, which was the final score. Offensive standouts were: Ivan Adler, Pat Murray and Tommy Schultz.

Next Sunday, all three teams A, B, and C, will travel to Melrose for their first league encounter against what will be a big test with Melrose being rated as one of the teams to beat in the Middlesex League. Kick-off times for the games is as follows: "C" 11:00 a.m., "B" 12:30 p.m., and "A" 2:00 p.m. at Melrose High School Field. We hope that the turn-out is as good as it was this day, or even better. Next home game is Sunday, Sept. 25 against Stoneham all three teams.

Bill Macneil of Winchester, with a final point standing of 193, placed fourth in the New England Amateur Grand Prix of Tennis, a series of more than 60 individual tournaments held throughout New England this summer. Macneil was defeated by Jeff Parker of Weston in a playoff round August 27 in Natick, 7-6, 4-6, 6-3.

Hagedorn wins WBC Dillon Cup

Amassing a total score of only 2.25 with three straight wins, Fred Hagedorn of Lexington took first place in the annual N-10 Dillon Cup Series held at the Winchester Boat Club over Labor Day weekend.

Providing keen competition in this event were brothers Edward and Peter Mills of Rangeley Road who placed second and third respectively out of a total of fifteen boats.

A Public Service of This Newspaper & The Advertising Council

The Winchester Swim Club wrapped up its season with a tennis tournament for all ages and combinations. Finalists in the girls 17 and under doubles matches were, from left, Ada Pollino and Marissa Gulino (who won, 6-2, 6-4), and Veronica Karp and Amy Maxwell. Ms. Pollino beat Ms. Maxwell 7-5, 4-6, 6-4 to win the singles competition.

Fall tennis starts

Most seeds prevail in tourney

By James R. Stewart Jr.

In general, the 1977 Winchester Fall Tennis Tournament followed routine channels, but there were some unusual ramifications that were not according to the book.

As the tournament schedules were posted at the William S. Packer Tennis Courts on Palmer street, 226 individuals or teams made the list of entrants in men's and women's singles, senior men's singles (an innovation, this year), men's and women's doubles and mixed doubles. All events were not scheduled to get underway last Saturday, but, as it turned out, Jupiter Pluvius was the only winner that day. However, on Sunday, the Saturday matches began with men's singles, men's senior singles, women's singles and men's and women's doubles playing their initial rounds.

In men's singles, where the second seed was defaulted in the first round for not being at the courts within the 15-minute default time and in the men's doubles, where the fifth seed of Vandy French and Paul Mulloy were ousted by Jim Phillips and Tad Bannister, 11-9 form followed seedings, as did all other events scheduled.

In the men's doubles, Carlson and Julian were the only team that had to go to three sets to advance over Estridge and Laureano, after the initial round in which the matches were pro-set competition. Seedings, in order, in this category are: Aldrich & Elio, Parker Gray & Dick Kadesch, Jr., Carlson & Julian, Martin & Dunn, French & Mulloy, MacNeill and Whit Gray, Samoiloff & Ellis, Skehan & Scanlon, Allard & Wiseman and Cori & Powers.

Women's singles completed their first round, predictably, as Sue Cowen, Stella Gallant, Pinky Samoiloff and Cynthia Daley comprise the seed list, in that order. Only five matches were played Sunday.

Women's doubles teams played three matches on Sunday, and will be continued during the week, as will some of the women's singles matches. In this event, seedings are as follows, numerically: Joan Richardson & Peggy Wiseman, Sue Cowen & Dede Cunningham, Cynthia Daley & Bobbie McNamara and Anne Perry & Marlene Rothmann.

In men's singles, Chris Stanton was the beneficiary of the lateness of Carmen Elio and advanced to the second round by default. Other seeds had little trouble in gaining the second round as the seed list reads as follows: Bill MacNeill, Carmen Elio, Wil Aldrich, Ted Martin, Tom Dunn, Ray Champoux, Nick Julian, Parker Gray, Chris Scanlon, Steve Powers, Brooke Green, Doug Carlson and Vandy French.

The new senior men's singles competition (45 years and older) shows Charlie Watson heading the seed list followed by Bobby Horne, Bill Bird, Shep Holt and Fred Julian.

The tournament committee, headed by Wil Aldrich, president of the sponsoring group, the Winchester Tennis Association, did a great job in getting so many matches concluded on Sunday, after the entire Saturday schedule was rained out, and according to Mr. Aldrich, all events are now on schedule, with the first rounds of the mixed doubles starting Saturday.

On Friday evening, September 16, the time for reporting to the courts for matches will be posted at the Packer courts. It is incumbent on players still in the competition to check their start times and be at the Packer Courts as scheduled. The 15-minute default rule will be enforced as it was this past week-end, in all fairness to players abiding by the reporting stipulations.

Early Birds open bowling season

The Winchester Early Birds Bowling League opened its 1977-78 season Sept. 8 at the Turnpike Bowladrome on Route 2.

The league meets Thursday mornings at 9:30 a.m., and new bowlers are welcome and should contact Diane Couture, 21 Old Colony rd., Arlington.

Square dancing for kids 8-12

The only children's square dancing group within 30 miles is starting the season tomorrow night at the Linscott Elementary School, Elm and Main streets, Woburn. Winchester boys and girls between 8 and 12 are invited beginning at 7 p.m.

Note: The Massachusetts open meeting law states that notice of public meetings must be posted no later than 48 hours before the meeting.

Open gym at WHS underway Mon.

The high school's open gym program will begin its fifth season Monday.

The gym will be open to Winchester residents only, with some type of identification required. On Monday and Thursday evenings the gym will be open from 6-10 p.m. for adults only, age 18 and older. On Friday evening the gym will be open from 6-10 p.m. for any Winchester student in grades 9-12, as well as adults.

To use the gym there is a nominal fee charged, with the option of a daily fee or an annual fee. This year's fees will be the same as in the past. You are asked to bring a check or money with you the first time you use the gym. These monies help defray a large percentage of the cost of keeping this facility open year round. It reduces the cost of equipment, supervision, and electricity for this program.

Many activities are possible at the high school gym. Basketball is the most popular activity, but many residents participate in weight training, paddleball, and jogging. Basketballs, volleyballs, paddles, and paddleballs are available at the gym for everyone.

The number of people using the gym has been impressive. On most nights all courts are used; but, since the gym is so large, seldom must anyone wait long for court space, says Director Francis J. Lane. There are no reserved courts or scheduled games—all courts are used on a "first come, first served" basis. The gym supervisors also at times restrict all basketball games to half-court under crowded circumstances. This has prevented few if any problems according to Lane.

The locker and shower rooms are again open but only during the Monday and Thursday sessions. Towels and soap are not provided. Also, you are asked not to leave money or valuables in the locker room since there are no locks on the lockers. Valuables may be left at the desk.

The gym will be open Saturday and Sunday afternoons in addition to the evening schedule, but not until Oct. 22. There will also be special daily vacation week schedules during all school vacation periods. The basic schedule for 1977-1978 will then be as follows:

Monday, 6-10 p.m. adults only.
Thursday, beginning Sept. 22, 6-10 p.m. adults only.

Friday, beginning Sept. 23, 6-10, high school age and adults.

Saturday, beginning Oct. 22, 1-7 p.m. high school age and adults.

Sunday, beginning Oct. 23, 1-7 p.m. high school age and adults.

Any boys and girls not of high school age may not use the gym unless accompanied by an adult family member, and this applies to weekends only. No one under 18 is allowed in the gym on Monday or Thursday evenings.

The gym was not designed for young people. This, combined with a normally crowded situation, necessitates close supervision of all young people by adults, or they might interfere with other gym users, risking possible injuries.

The entrance to the gym will again be from the rear entrance, and parking will be in the rear parking lot. This is the area near the tennis courts and railroad tracks.

Boat Club holds contests

Labor Day was celebrated at the Winchester Boat Club with land races, swimming events, volleyball contests, model sailboat racing, and a vice commodore's party held on the club grounds.

Vice Commodore and Mrs. Arthur F. Gast of 3 Ardley pl. hosted the special events and evening party with the assistance of various club members.

In the morning land races, supervised by Phil Stackpole, winners in the 20 events were as follows:

For girls: 25-yard dash, age 6-7, Meghan Guarnotta; wheelbarrow race, age 8-9, Mary Pat Furey and Kara Buckley; sore toe race, age 10-11, Lynda Lee and Jennifer Poirier; sore toe race, age 12-13, Kim Donlon; 3-legged race, age 8-9, Julie Guarnotta and Karen Chiara; age 10-11, Allison Hagge and Denise Chiara; age 12-13, Beth Abate and Jane Wiseman; spoon ball race, age 4-5, Andrea Fiorentino; age 6-7, Charlotte Reece.

race, age 4-5, Kevin Guarnotta, age 6-7, Mike Bowers.

For both: Candy race, age 3 and under, Sean Curtin; sore toe race, age 8-9, Julie Guarnotta; balloon race, age 8-11, tying for first were Kat Lee, Mike Conley and Chris Guarnotta.

Volleyball matches, directed by Barbara Charlson, found eight teams competing. The members of the winning team were Joe Connolly, and Ann Connolly, Mary Adams, Bill Curtin, Tom and Zita Legere, and Ann and Norm Towle.

Swimming events included life jacket relays, a greased watermelon contest, and a money balloon dive. They were directed by and announced by Richard S. Cresse, assisted by his son Peter, who is head lifeguard at the club.

The following were winners in the various events:

Kickboard for age 6 and under, Alison Towle; battle of the sexes race for age 7-12, won by the girls; lifejacket relay for age 7-8, Greg O'Connor, Mike Cahill, Kevin Connolly and Jim Bowers; ping pong relay for age 9-10, Kat Lee, Kate O'Neill, Chris Hewitt and Maryann Fallon; sweatshirt relay for age 11-12, Eileen Mahoney, Lynda Lee, Chris Hewitt and Paula Ricciardelli; two-person swim for age 13 and over, Lynn Van Ummerson and Ann Porrell; underwater swim for age 11 and over, Jean Cresse; and family relay, the Skehan family.

Macaulay moves to Melrose store

The firm will continue to offer home pickup and delivery service for the convenience of its customers. They carry a complete line of vacuums, accessories, and parts and service, as well as Hoover Factory authorized warranty service.

The grand opening of the new store was Sept. 12.

Smokers Anon.

Smokers Anonymous, a non-profit organization, is coming to Symmes Hospital in Arlington to carry on a 10-week seminar starting Sept. 19 at 7:30-9:30 p.m.

Registration will be at the hospital the same night at 7 on a first-come, first-served basis.

Boat Club gives awards to team for good season

The Winchester Boat Club Bullets recently held an awards banquet at the club, where more than 100 people feasted on pizza and ice cream. The season was a successful one as the team swam hard to a 7-3 record.

The following awards were presented to members of the team:

Kat Lee — 10 and under girls most valuable swimmer.

Stuart Charlson — 10 and under boys most valuable swimmer.

Mary Cresse — 11 and over girls most valuable swimmer.

Ned Towle — 11 and over boys most valuable swimmer.

Charlotte Reece — 10 and under girls most improved swimmer.
Jimmy Bowers — 10 and under boys most improved swimmer.
Patty Ricciardelli — 11 and over most improved swimmer.
Matt Going — 11 and over boys most improved swimmer.
Mike Connolly — most helpful.

Troop 503 to meet

Troop 503 will start its 59th year when it holds its first meeting of the season Tuesday at the First Congregational Church. The meeting starts at 7:30 and is open to all boys 11 years of age or older.

Scouting advancement is a prime effort of this troop and merit badge and skill award classes will begin almost immediately.

Parents are also invited to this first meeting of the season.

Let A "Pro" Sell It

Selling your home yourself is no easy undertaking. Basically, it means attracting the right prospects — people who are ready, willing, and financially able to buy. Not those who are curious to see what your furniture looks like from the inside.

You can attempt to make this sale yourself, or you can have someone else handle the difficult negotiations. Frankly, the best way to market your home — probably your most valuable asset — is the professional way. Just as you would go to a doctor or a lawyer for medical or legal aid, you will want to go to a Realtor for assistance in selling your home.

His technical skill, business experience, list of bona fide prospects, contacts with financial institutions, and professional reputation are all at your disposal to expedite the sale of your home at the best possible price. This is the reason why, nationally, 75 percent of all homes are sold through professionals.

If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone or drop in at ANN BLACKHAM & CO., 11 Thompson St., Winchester. Phone 729-1663. We're here to help!

Theater group plans fall play

Winchester Unitarian Players has chosen The Royal Family by George Kaufman and Edna Ferber for their fall production. The play deals with the hilarious adventures of the theatrical Cavendish family, who closely resemble the legendary Barrymores, and its revival in 1975 was a hit on Broadway and also in Boston.

The director of this fall production, scheduled for November 3, 4 and 5, will be Robert Storer of Winchester, well known in amateur theater circles for his many shows with the Unitarian Players. The large cast of ten men and six women offers many interesting roles. Tryouts will be held at the Winchester Unitarian Church, Metcalf Hall, Sunday at 3 and Tuesday at 7:30 p.m.

The next meeting of the Winchester Community School Association will be held Oct. 13.

At the last meeting, CSA President Elaine Elio introduced the new board officers and explained the background of the CSA to the new members.

Among topics discussed at the meeting were upcoming evening meetings in the various schools with school committee members; a proposed "art-in" to display students' work; the progress of the health education committee; and the teacher convocation held earlier in the month, which was hosted by the CSA. Also noted was that the organization gave a $100 music scholarship in June to Karen Anderson, WHS '77.

Seton Club holds dinner in Saugus

The installation banquet of the Seton Club for widows and widowers will be held Saturday, September 24 at the Blessed Sacrament Church hall, 14 Summer St., Saugus.

Music will be provided by Dick Brogna's orchestra from 8 to midnight. Additional information may be had by writing to the Seton Club, Box 978, Saugus, Ma. 01906.

Music program

features folk,

blues at church

On Friday, September 23 at 8 p.m. Steve and Lois Rose of Stockbridge, Mass. will perform at Crawford Memorial Church, 34 Dix St.

Their program, to be held in the auditorium, blends folk and blues, some of which are Steve's original compositions.

Refreshments will be served during the program. A small admission will be charged and the public is welcome to attend.

Women's luncheon

at Chidley Hall

The First Congregational Church Women's Association opening luncheon will be held Sept. 28, at Chidley Hall.

The Rev. Oliver K. Black will be speaking about and showing slides of life in Turkey.

Punch will be served at 12, and lunch at 12:30. To make reservations call Sally Templeton or Doris Butters by Sept. 23.

Congregational to hold first of day events series

The first of a series of Sunday all-church events will be held in Chidley Hall at the First Congregational Church Sunday from 5:30-8 p.m.

Following supper, the program consists of a one-act play entitled "The Box," with two teenage boys, David Gardner and Chad Rosenberger, as the actors. The drama is designed to appeal to all ages.

For the supper families are asked to bring casseroles, single persons to contribute money, with the committee providing rolls, dessert, and beverages.

This and future all-church events are under the general direction of the Minister of Family Life, Ruth Fish, assisted for the first event by Lyn and Richmond Gardner, Lawrence and Hazel Fipe.

Future events will provide different dimensions of food and activity, with the aim to involve all ages.

Other activities include the Forum picnic on Saturday and the first Sunday meeting of Forum on the following day: the first regular choir rehearsal Sept. 22; regular Church School classes Sept. 25.

As of Sept. 6 more than $6600 had been contributed to The Steeple Fund devoted to renovation necessitated by a spring storm.

Ecumenical Assoc. next meets 23rd

The Winchester Ecumenical Association held its first fall meeting Sept. 9 at The Church of the Epiphany.

Members present reported briefly on their respective summer activities, shared in a period of worship, and discussed plans for the coming year. The latter in-

Masonic symbols

There will be an illustrated lecture Sunday at 3 at the Museum of Our National Heritage about Masonic symbols in American decorative arts. Barbara Franco, curator of collections at the museum, will be the lecturer. The museum, 33 Marrett rd., Lexington, is open free to the public.

Future meetings will usually be held on the second and fourth Fridays of each month from 1:30 p.m., with the nine churches involved taking turns in hosting the meetings.

The next meeting will be held at the First Congregational Church Sept. 23.

The projected program includes a period of worship, personal sharing, and introduction of himself by Rev. James J. Haddad of St. Eulalia Parish, reports on the Senior Association and the Winchester Interagency Council, and reports on what is happening on the state and national levels of the Episcopalians and Baptists by the Rev. M. Jeanne Sproat and Rev. Howard A. Krueger.

Foley daughter

Megan Belinda was born August 28 at Winchester Hospital, the first child of Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Foley, 20 Sunset rd.

Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Foley and Mr. George Bennett, all of Winchester.

Open house at Pottery Workshop

A pottery school is opening in Winchester Oct. 3. Operated by Dorothy Spaulding, the new school, located at 618 Main St. will be known as The Pottery Workshop. Instruction will be offered in use of the potters wheel, hand building, glazing and firing.

The Workshop will hold an open house Oct. 1, from 10 a.m. - 4 p.m. for anyone interested in seeing the potters wheel in action or examples of what can be achieved with this craft. Potential students or those just curious about the field can register at that time for a free lesson. Both day and evening classes will be given.

People 10 years or older, either experienced or newcomers to the world of clay may sign up. First timers begin immediately with real studio clay as they see and feel how the material is kneaded and wedged into the proper working state. This is followed by preliminary wheel exercises showing how "thrown" shapes emerge as the clay mass rotates around and around under control of the hands and fingers. As the course continues, the student learns how larger and more complex objects such as bowls and vases are made.

Creating shapes is only one aspect of the potters art. Adding color to the pieces through the use of glazes and slips can add an equally important artistic contribution to the final result. This aspect of the program provides a first hand feeling for the depth and richness of color that is a part of the ceramic art. The firing procedure needed to achieve these effects will be explained and demonstrated using the material created in class.

Dorothy Spaulding received a bachelor of science degree from the University of Massachusetts with a major in organic chemistry. She has trained at several pottery schools and is an active potter for her own studio.

The Pottery Workshop is equipped with five wheels, a large reduction kiln, and a variety of smaller tools for working and processing ceramic materials.

'Enriched Flavor' Tobacco!

MERIT technology making "good taste" a reality for low tar smoking.

There is a way to pack flavor—extra flavor—into a low tar cigarette. MERIT proved it.

By cracking cigarette smoke down into separate elements, researchers were able to isolate certain "flavor-rich" ingredients that deliver taste way out of proportion to tar.

The result was 'Enriched Flavor' tobacco. Tobacco that delivers the kind of taste smokers can switch to. And stick with.

"Several months ago, I tried Merit, and have been smoking them ever since. They are the first low tar cigarette that actually tastes good."

This kind of smoker enthusiasm is typical of what smokers are saying about the taste of MERIT.

"MERIT is the only brand in low tar to give me the flavor and satisfaction that I had been looking for."

Only one cigarette has 'Enriched Flavor' tobacco. And you can taste it.

Subcommittees out

Committee votes changes in school budget procedures

With the 1977-78 school year barely underway, the school committee is already working out the schedule for preparation of next year's budget.

The committee accepted a memorandum from Assistant Superintendent for Administration Jack Fallon Monday night which outlines a budget review schedule and summarizes the procedures.

The memo recommends some changes over last year's procedure, including the elimination of subcommittees of the school committee from the initial preparation of the budget.

After initial approval of the major portions of the budget, the school committee will then take the document to the town manager and the finance committee; the two committees would then meet in full to discuss the budget.

In accordance with the charter, the school committee would then hold a public hearing, react to that input, and take a final vote on the budget. The document is then to be turned over to the town manager, who will then include it in his total budget submitted to the finance committee.

Fallon pointed out in making his recommendation that a lot of the materials hashed over in subcommittee seem to end up being re-hashed by the whole committee.

School board member Connie Papas agreed. "I did not feel the subcommittee meetings were all that fruitful," she said, calling last year's procedure "somewhat of a disaster." She said she felt the subcommittee procedure was one reason the budget did not get out on time.

Fallon proposed a number of other procedural changes meant to expedite the budget procedure, including the limitation or elimination of audience participation in the initial budget discussions of the school committee. He also suggested that those individuals most closely involved with particular programs be present when the committee discusses their portion of the budget.

However, Fallon was not so sure of the overall results of these changes. "This (new procedure) may have some optimism built into it, since we haven't done what we thought we would do by Sept. 15."

"Our goal is to do it right even more than to do it on time," said Chairman Robert Frank, who asked the administration to present the committee with the major policy questions involved in the budget as soon as possible. He emphasized that the board should spend its time on the policy issues and leave the mechanics of preparing the numbers to the administration.

More than 50,000 pages of budget information were printed last year before the final budget was approved, according to Fallon, who said too many persons were looking at the budget at the same time.

"The input in the past has been unmanageable," Fallon said.

"You're forcing us back to the adversary position," criticized FinCom Chairman Alice Mirak, who, along with other FinCom members, attended Monday's meeting to discuss the budget.

Mrs. Mirak felt the new system did not allow enough access to the budget procedure by the FinCom. "We don't get to see it until you've come close to a position on the budget."

Fallon disagreed. He pointed out that the school committee would only be taking a preliminary position, and that the new procedure allowed for FinCom input well before the first of the year.

Asked by Mrs. Papas how she saw the FinCom's role in developing the town budgets, Mrs. Mirak responded that her board would be involved "somewhat more than in the past."

Though there was some question as to how deeply involved the FinCom should be in the preparation of the school budget, most agreed that the board should have some input well before any final vote by the school committee.

"We're saying basically that once you have climbed into the bathtub with us (and worked on the budget), it will be harder for you to turn around and stick a shiv in our back," said Frank to Mrs. Mirak.

Frank invited FinCom members to attend the budget sessions to hear the school com-

Second DPW forum draws light response; board to look further

A group of about 30 town employees and interested townspeople Tuesday night attended the second forum called by the board of selectmen to listen to complaints of alleged mistreatment, harassment, and misconduct on the part of Department of Public Works Director Walter J. Tonaszuck and Town Manager Thomas J. Groux.

Although Selectmen Chairman Barbara S. Hankins encouraged those disgruntled employees present to air their complaints, only a handful spoke up. Of those who did rise, Mrs. Hankins allowed only a couple to be specific in their complaints because of pending grievance procedures. It has been the announced policy of the board of selectmen to refrain from discussing in public any matters which may come before them in the grievance procedure.

Vincent Carroll, one of the commissioners who put together the charter which the town accepted in 1975 and which calls for the organization of a department of public works, pleaded with workers to speak up. "The problems in the DPW are such that if they are not resolved in a reasonable time, we will move to do away with the charter in its entirety," he told the assembly in the high school auditorium.

Paul Gangi, an employee who has lately joined the bargaining sessions between the town employees association (TEA) and the town, commented, "The reorganization came in piecemeal. All the heads should have been in before the reorganization started. It seems that day to day we have a different boss."

Mrs. Hankins explained that the charter called for the reorganization but that town meeting was the body which approved the appropriation to allow the reorganization. "We thought we needed something concrete for town meeting to fund and there was no guarantee of payment if we hired the bosses before town meeting. It's a little like trying to decide which comes first, the cart or the horse."

Commenting on the change of supervisors which the transition period has produced, DPW Director Walter J. Tonaszuck said, "Because of the failure to get an operations manager for buildings and grounds, we have had to make some adjustments. We have made several attempts to provide a liaison with the garage workers."

The first comment about a grievance procedure came up when William Crowley, an employee for 28 years, asked, "Why was I harassed into an early retirement? I'm being discriminated against." Mrs. Hankins stopped him and said she would request a complete report from Tonaszuck about circumstances leading to Crowley's retirement.

Another long-time employee, Richard Horn, jumped up to say, "I'm being harassed too." He added that he felt Tonaszuck was forcing him to do something "unethical" although Mrs. Hankins again interrupted the comments because of possible grievance proceedings.

Gangi complained that, as a town meeting member, he did not comment publicly about lack of information about the reorganization when it first came up. As a member of the negotiating team, however, he felt that the information was not made clear to him during bargaining sessions.

Mrs. Hankins commented that press coverage had been extensive since talk about reorganization first started last December. "Perhaps I was wrong to assume that those negotiating would ask to see the documents. The board has regretted to this day not sending out the reorganization chart to town meeting members earlier." Last year, town meeting members received two budget books, one the town manager's proposals and the other the finance committee's recommendations. For this past session, however, only one document was distributed to the members.

Gangi said there had been no discussion of the reorganization during negotiations with the TEA. Selectman Arthur Dunbar, however, said that he brought it up himself to the union president and union representatives, but did not have the final form which the reorganization would take. "We were still in the process of drafting final plans," he said. "Maybe I was at fault for not forcing it out at negotiations anyway."

Vincent Carroll spoke again to inquire about the removal of two cemetery workers who, after writing a letter of complaint to The Star, were transferred out of the cemetery department.

Mrs. Hankins said, "One of the two men in

Traffic problems on Wildwood

Selectmen adopt a 'wait and see' attitude

More than 100 residents of the Wildwood street area confronted selectmen and police Monday night with the "intolerable" traffic conditions on their streets.

Led by Dr. Paul McCarthy of 64 Wildwood st. and David C. Pywell of 44 Wildwood st., a dozen residents deplored the danger of Wildwood street and its intersections, in particular singling out Wildwood-Woodside and Fletcher-Palmer-Wildwood as sites of dangerous driving practices.

"We are here," McCarthy told the board at the public meeting called by selectmen, "to help the motorist and the pedestrian in our area."

Pywell added, "We are concerned about speed, increased traffic, and children on the street."

He set the tone of the hearing by asking directly, "What action can be taken by the board of selectmen with regard to lights and signs on Wildwood street?"

Selectmen Chairman Barbara S. Hankins replied that the board can order better enforcement of traffic laws, which has been started by Chief McHugh's direction. The board can also order additional street lights or have existing illumination increased. Although the board could vote for additional stop signs, Mrs. Hankins reminded the assembly that the state department of public works would have to approve any changes.

Referring to the proposed federal TOPICS program which would alter the intersection at Cambridge and Wildwood, Mrs. Hankins said that the board will vote on October 4 whether to recommend that TOPICS put in a left-hand stacking lane and take about 120 square feet of land to make turning easier at that intersection.

Robert Johnson of 1 Woodside rd. countered, "Anything that tends to improve access to Wildwood street will make our problem worse."

Another resident of the area, Gady Yagjian of 47 Wedgemere ave., agreed with Johnson's statement and added that his street is an alternative road for traffic wanting to avoid the lights at Cambridge and Church in order to go from Church street to Wildwood street.

After hearing suggestions from several residents for putting up four-way stop signs, adding speed bumps, and putting in speed dips in the road, Mrs. Hankins called on Police Lieutenant James Cogan who presented statistics gathered since February.

According to police reports there have been 291 cited violations on Wildwood street between February and September 16. The violations include only those issued on Wildwood street itself and its intersecting ways. Lt. Cogan broke down the citations like this: for speeding 111, for red light violations 8, for stop sign violations 144, for driving under the influence 2, and for other kinds of violations (mostly things like no headlights and the like) 26.

A more complete breakdown of the speeding violations brought gasps from the audience. In February there were 0, March 2, April 3, May 0, June 8, July 6, August 79, and September up until the 16th, 16. The surprisingly high number of cited violations in August was due, Lt. Cogan said, to the increased surveillance. He said there were three cruisers with radar on Wildwood street and that police have continued patrolling the streets in that area of town.

Mary Maguire of 115 Wildwood st. asked about using private driveways for cruisers since police indicated that parking on Cambridge street itself for radar surveillance was dangerous and not feasible. Lt. Cogan said that radar equipment used in Winchester cruisers requires a clear view of the road and so private driveways would not be a good setting for radar surveillance.

Lt. Cogan attributed the improved traffic conditions in the last two or three weeks to Chief John P. McHugh's wish to "bring Winchester back to the time of Chief Rogers." Chief William Rogers was known for his strict enforcement of laws, particularly traffic laws, during his tenure as chief between 1930 and 1947.

"In the time of Chief Rogers," Lt. Cogan said, "when you hit the Winchester line, you knew you'd better slow down."

Barbara Charlson, a resident of 46 Cabot st., inquired, "I think we may be focusing on the wrong thing here. Wildwood street is not a major artery. Church street and Cambridge

At a public hearing Monday night, called by selectmen, more than 100 residents of the Wildwood street area aired their concerns about traffic on their street. One suggestion was to put three stop signs at the intersection of Wildwood and Woodside, a spot generally acknowledged to be one of the danger zones along Wildwood street.

question has brought a grievance quite recently and it would not be appropriate to discuss it now. The reorganization chart indicated that there would be fewer individuals in the cemetery department than previously, but that is all I will say about it now."

Carroll countered, "Is it not true that the purpose of this meeting is grievance?"

Again Mrs. Hankins said, "Yes, but under formal grievance there are procedures we must follow."

The other man involved in the cemetery matter, Gerry Giromini, addressed the group. "I have no grievance asking why I was transferred from the cemetery. That's the director's right. In all honesty, I've been treated fairly in the highway department, but I do want to know why I was transferred."

Mrs. Hankins explained that skills may be needed in departments other than the one in which the worker has been employed.

"It seems to me there's an atmosphere of suspicion here," she said. "People are not talking to their supervisors or to the director. This board would like you to talk to them."

She urged several times during the one and a half hour meeting that anyone could discuss any problems with individual members of the board. If the board were to meet with an employee as a group, it would constitute a public meeting, requiring posting and opening the session to the press and public. "Some of you may have matters

Victim is ok

Local officer suspended after accidental shooting

A Winchester man was accidentally shot by a local policeman on the afternoon of Sept. 11.

Ronald Maggio of Spruce street was treated and later released from Winchester Hospital for a chest wound sustained when he was accidentally shot with a .22 caliber revolver by Officer James Gallant. Maggio, 21, was back at his landscaping job the next Wednesday.

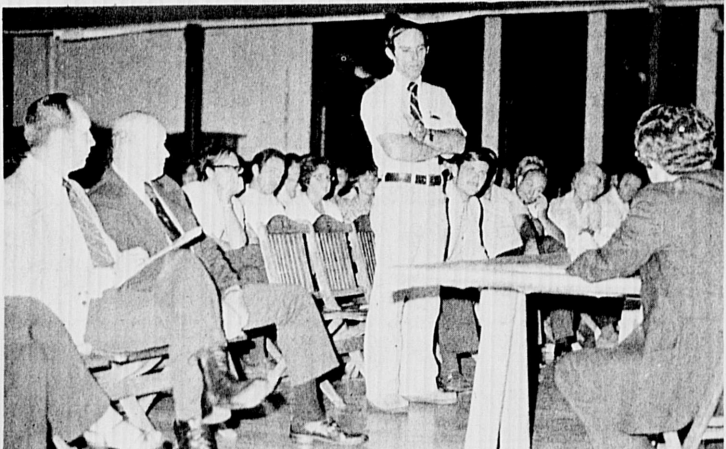

Off. Gallant has been suspended "for a period of time" for carrying an unauthorized weapon, displaying a weapon, and discharging the weapon.

Off. Gallant and Off. David Johnson had pulled their cruiser into Bossi's Exxon by the rotary in Winchester Center when Maggio walked up to speak with them. Apparently Maggio and Off. Gallant were well acquainted. Maggio asked Gallant if he had any guns for sale. The officer responded in the affirmative and reached to pull out a Smith & Wesson .22 caliber revolver. As he passed the gun over to Maggio, who had his head in the window, the revolver went off and a bullet entered Maggio's upper left chest.

Witnesses outside the car said they heard a light pop, like a firecracker. Maggio himself said the wound felt like a burn. Off. Gallant and Johnson were unaware of what had happened until they saw the blood spotting Maggio's shirt and the expression on his face.

Town Hall lot closed for fair

The Town Hall parking lot will be closed from midnight on Friday, Sept. 23, until Saturday, Sept. 24 at 5 p.m. This is to allow the Winchester Jaycees-ettes to hold their ninth annual flea market, which opens at 9 a.m. to the general public and at 8 a.m. for dealer set-up.

Chief John P. McHugh, Lt. James Cogan (both on the left) and Town Manager Thomas J. Groux (back to camera) listen as David Pywell urges the board of selectmen to alleviate the traffic problems on Wildwood street. More than 100 residents of that area showed up at a public hearing Monday night to hear Chief McHugh and Lt. Cogan say that increased police surveillance is cutting down the number of speeders. The board, faced with decisions about a federal and state traffic control program (TOPICS), will decide in a month what they can do if the Wildwood street situation does not improve.

commission, spoke about the situation, commenting on misinterpretation and misunderstanding of its intent. "I think the town has gotten damn good service but now we're getting less good service and I want to know why. It disturbs me that certain attributes are given to the charter which are not there. I'm concerned about what kind of service we'll get after the 59 CETA employees leave."

Miss Hewis's most adamant statements were directed to selectmen. "You do not know the power you now have," she said. "You are responsible for setting the policy of the DPW and you do not recognize your own authority."

In particular she cited decisions like how much contracting the DPW can do and what can be done "in-house", and personnel hiring practices.

In a meeting which jumped from philosophical discussion to specific questions, punctuated with grievance matters, a couple of other employees took the floor.

Norman Doucette asked about policy during snow and ice storms. He questioned whether town employees are required to be on 24-hour standby during a storm. Mrs. Hankins said that until now that had been the policy of the highway department, but under the reorganization which grouped all DPW workers, all able-bodied employees are to be available for snow and ice removal duty when necessary. "All DPW workers fall under work rules permitted under the union contract," she said.

Paul Gangi asked about letters of reprimand leading to firing. "Does the town own you (DPW employees)?" he asked the assembled workers.

Mrs. Hankins said the board would address the question of snow and ice duty.

Gromini put the question differently. "Really, Mrs. Hankins, you have no idea what it's like. How much authority do they have over us?"

Some discussion followed, initiated by Vincent Carroll, about which doctor an employee should be sent to if there are suspected medical problems associated with an employee's performance. There was talk about being docked for sick leave if an employee goes to the hospital for treatment of an injury received on the job. It is the policy of the town, Mrs. Hankins said after the meeting, that hospital time is deducted from sick leave time until workmen's compensation takes over after seven days of unemployment.

There were some surprised gasps when Mrs. Hankins, seeking clarification during the discussion about hospital time, asked Tonaszuck, "If I'm chopping down a tree and I cut off a finger, am I docked sick time to go to the hospital to have it sewn on?" Tonaszuck replied in the affirmative. Mrs. Hankins said, "I think this is something the board would like to talk about."

Further clarification of the union contracts and workmen's compensation will be sought, Mrs. Hankins said after the meeting. The forum completed, Mrs. Hankins thanked the town employees and again urged them to contact any one of the selectmen to talk over problems.

mittee's reasoning during the development process. He also asked Mrs. Mirak to submit any policy questions from the FinCom as soon as possible.

The recommendation that the audience not be allowed to participate in budget discussions prior to the preliminary draft was approved as a guideline but not established as a formal policy. "It's a bit too hard-nosed for a formal policy," commented committee member Heinrich Holland.

Jack Noble cautioned that persons involved with a particular school should be informed early on of what the school committee's priorities and budget limitations are. "We have to be realistic and truthful with these people," said Noble, who added, "I think in the past there have been priorities set, and they were not always set by the administrators."

According to the budget timetable established last year by the rules committee of the town meeting, the final school budget is scheduled to be in the town manager's hands by the end of the first week in February. The proposed school budget should be in print before the first of the year, with a public hearing to be held shortly thereafter.

The Massachusetts Open Meeting Law establishes that most meetings of public bodies are to be open to the public. This means anyone can attend, and whatever anyone who attends such a meeting says is a matter of public record, whether there are 100 persons in the audience or no other persons at all at the meeting.

Gromini asked, "What incentive do we have to work? This is our general feeling." Mrs. Hankins answered, "I'm not saying it's right or wrong, but the feeling in the past has been that up until two years ago various departments didn't have a very good public image. streets are the major roads in this area and we should improve traffic flow on these roads. What can the selectmen do here?"

Barbara Hankins responded that she felt that the corner of Cambridge and Church is a school crossing corner to the Ambrose School and that any changes there such as TOPICS proposals would have to be weighed "very carefully" by the board of selectmen. "The last thing we want to do is to encourage more cars during school hours" she said.

At this point in the hearing, Town Manager Thomas J. Groux spoke about the traffic problem, citing that state DPW approval is needed for changes to occur. He recommended that the selectmen and the Winchester police take a look at the statistics. "Consider," he said, "that the number of accidents and personal injuries has been minimal considering the amount of traffic on Wildwood street. Speeding is the problem. Lights and stop signs may not be the best long-range plan. They could just serve to squeeze traffic into another part of town."

Several of the residents had suggested putting four-way stop signs at troublesome intersections like Wildwood and Woodside. Groux recommended continued surveillance.

A voice from the front of the Town Hall auditorium called out, "That's totally unacceptable."

Barbara Hankins banged her gavel heavily and told the group, "It has been our general procedure not to take action on the evening of a public hearing but to wait and discuss the proceedings. In four weeks we will make our recommendation after consideration of the statistics." She said it was "only fair" to allow more time for police to crack down on speeders.

Chief McHugh spoke about his role in this traffic problem. "I have approximately 85 miles of road in this town to patrol, using the three E's - education, engineering, and enforcement - to benefit the town as a whole. I would like to see, indeed it is my dream to see, a return to the reputation Winchester used to have as a safe town."

of trucks passing through on Wildwood street, which is posted No Commercial Vehicles, does not have "top priority in the hierarchy of problems in this area."

Both Rep. Sherman W. Saltmarsh, Jr., and Sen. Sam Rotondi offered their services as far as getting matters through to the state DPW. Rotondi told the group that the state DPW had made a study of the Wildwood area and found that the 30 mile per hour speed limit was a good one. "Maybe a step-up in enforcement will help," Rotondi also wondered aloud if there might not be a problem indigenous to Wildwood street itself which causes traffic problems and not just speeders.

Saltmarsh, thanking the board of selectmen for holding the public hearing, said, "Enforcement in the long run is the best deterrent you can have." He also suggested the possible purchase of a new kind of radar which is operated manually and does not need the visibility requirement which the currently used radar set-ups need.

The meeting was concluded with no definite plan of action set by selectmen other than to keep a very close eye on the streets in the next four weeks. As Mrs. Hankins gavelled the meeting to adjournment, the audience broke out into spontaneous applause.

THE WINCHESTER STAR

Serving The Community For Over 95 Years

The economic factor

The Doyle-Flynn anti-abortion bill has been defeated, but the battle is not over yet. The bill, which would have prohibited the use of state Medicaid funds for abortions, except in cases where there is a threat to the mother's life, was killed when the Senate refused to override Gov. Michael Dukakis' veto.

The vote was 22-17 to override, less than the required two-thirds majority. Sen. Samuel Rotondi, who explained his views in the Sept. 8 issue of The Star, voted with the 17 to sustain the veto.

The next fight, which may turn out to be a long one, is over an amendment to the state's supplementary budget, also drawn up by Reps. Raymond Flynn and Charles Doyle. This amendment goes a bit further than the original bill: it would prohibit both the use of state Medicaid funds for abortions and the funding of abortions through state health insurance programs for state employees, legislators, retired state employees and municipal teachers.

Gov. Dukakis has vowed to veto the supplementary budget if such an amendment is attached. Reps. Doyle and Flynn have said they will continue to attach such an amendment every time the Governor sends in a new supplementary budget.

While the battlefield at the State House grows smokier with side issues — like the state employees' pay raises included in the supplementary budget — one fact remains clear: Abortion is legal.

In Roe v. Wade (1973), the US Supreme Court declared that women have a Constitutionally-guaranteed right to privacy, which includes the decision to have an abortion or carry a pregnancy to full term.

But without the potential financial support of the state, economic realities make a sham of this Constitutional right. By cutting off all Medicaid funding for abortion, the state is, in effect, saying, "It's ok to have an abortion, if you can afford it."

Anti-abortionists argue that by providing funding, the state is encouraging women to have abortions. But the state is not going out and soliciting abortion. Nor is it saying that abortion is necessarily right.

What Medicaid funding for abortion does is insure that a woman's choice to exercise a Constitutional right is to be based on a personal and moral decision rather than on economic grounds. Given the economic inequalities of the system, and the very personal and moral nature of the decision, it is appropriate that the decision, and the responsibility, rest with the individual.

Though the latest attempt by Reps. Doyle and Flynn is a revised version of their original bill, we would hope that Sen. Rotondi will remain conscious of the overriding influence of economics on this issue and continue to oppose such legislation. — DKF

Town watch...

No more warnings

By The Observer

Normally mild-mannered Dog Officer Nick Molea waits to pounce on delinquent dog owners until he's given warnings of violations.

No more. Nick will not, repeat, not send out warning notices to dog owners who still have not remembered to keep their pooches on leashes and to have them licensed at the Town Hall.

To the more than 200 of you out there who think you can get away with violating the law, Nick warns that a first offense is $10 fine, a second is $15 and a third is $20. After that you'll be taken into court.

For school teachers, youth group leaders and senior citizens organizations: the Boston and Maine Railroad is offering group discount fares on day trips for groups who buy their tickets a week or more in advance.

The fares are 20 per cent less than the half fare which children and senior citizens are otherwise entitled to. The special fares are available on commuter rail services both north and south of Boston.

Group fares are for a minimum of 20 persons, including two escorts. For each 10 persons, there must be at least one escort who is 19 or older.

Arrangements may be made from 9 a.m.-3 p.m. Monday through Friday by calling 227-5070.

A mother-daughter team, former residents of Winchester, have come out with a book of poetry, entitled "Remembering Coastal New England."

The author is Jacqueline Langdon (Sibley), who lived at 48 Lloyd St. for more than 20 years. The book is illustrated in pen and ink by her daughter, Jennifer Sibley (Boyle). The poems are mostly reflections about life and times she and her family spent on the Maine coast.

Ms. Langdon, a mother of four, has a background in acting as well as writing—she graduated in drama from the New England Conservatory of Music and was well known here in town as a director of the Unitarian Players. She has performed on stage, radio and television and has written, produced, and directed plays, including her solo dramas, "One Woman Show," which she has performed throughout the Eastern United States. This is her first published book of poems.

Her daughter graduated from Mass. College of Art and is a three-time winner of the George Heller Memorial Scholarship and a traveling scholarship to Europe. Taking after her mother, who is also known as a watercolorist, she is a free-lance artist who has had her works shown at the Farnsworth Museum in Rockland, Me. and at the Deep Cove Gallery in Port Clyde, Me. Her calligraphy and illustrations of pastoral Maine scenes add much to the mood of the book.

Jennifer also was twice a recipient of the Winchester Art Association Scholarship. She graduated from Winchester High in 1971.

"Remembering Coastal New England" is published by Thomas Murphy of Kennebunk, Me.

Letters from readers

Common sense

EDITOR OF THE STAR:

There seems to be a never ending plan to squander the taxpayers' money in this town as is apparent in last week's paper regarding the selectmen's urge to hire consultants for center revitalization to the tune of $62,000.

All it takes is good common sense instead of dollars to solve the problems in Winchester Square. It has been studied to death over the years by consultants, most of whom are genuine phonies. We have spent thousands and thousands of taxpayers' dollars on studying the square and all these studies have since been gathering dust.

I, for one, will not participate in a scheme whereby a "gift" of $62,000 will be given to consultants. I urge all town meeting members to vote "no" on this article.

I sponsored an article a few years ago to remove the parking meters for a trial period to see if it would stimulate business in our town, but the article was opposed by the board of selectmen. While it is obvious that the town uses the meters as a source of income, they overlook the fact that this might be one of our problems. While the town counts the pennies from the meters, the merchants are being hurt because many people prefer the big shopping areas free of the "one-armed-bandits" where parking is no problem.

As a result of abatements to the property owners in Winchester Center, the town loses over $48,000 per year in taxes. This amount far exceeds the gross revenue from parking meters. Stoneham and Reading never had meters, and Wakefield removed them some time ago. All three of these centers are doing well. Note too, that Wakefield and Reading also have train stations, showing the removal of meters does not lead to clogging of the business areas.

Something as simple as removing meters would be common sense although common sense is a rare commodity, it shouldn't cost us $62,000.

Talent here

EDITOR OF THE STAR:

Noting the $62,000 cost of hiring consultants to design a new downtown area in Winchester causes me to wonder just why consultants are needed. Don't we have enough raw talent here in Winchester to visualize the need and design the cure for our shabby downtown area?

I am reminded of a report in TIME magazine several years back about a consultant firm that was hired by the National Broadcasting Company to design a trademark and who came up with a solution in (I think) somewhere around eight months that cost NBC some $750,000 and consisted of "two squares" joined together by the northwest upper corner of one to the southeast corner of the other to form a sort of rough capital N.

It seemed incredible to me that any firm or individual would need almost of year and 3/4 of a million dollars to think up that very simple idea. (You see it every night on NBC Nightly News on your TV.) An expert is just a guy from another town!

Before retiring I was employed in a sales capacity by the largest dental manufacturer in the world. We never seemed to have need for any consultant—we thought, and rightly, that we had right there in our own management group sufficient ideas to nix the hiring of any consultants or so-called experts. Who knows better the needs of a corporation than its own personnel?

I sincerely hope that Winchester, in thinking about hiring some consultant firm, to plan its downtown area at a cost of an estimated $62,000 can find out some brains right here in town who know their downtown area backward and forward.

Eight or more months to think up a couple of rectangles seems to me to be a bit much. The Star might lead the way by organizing a campaign to think up suitable and imaginative ideas with reasonable prizes for winners. The talent is here. Use it!

J. Ken Macneill
31 Palmer St.

Responsive

EDITOR OF THE STAR:

Senator Sam Rotondi clearly stated (The Star Sept. 8) his reasons for voting against the Doyle-Flynn bill which would withhold State

Medicaid payments for abortions for the poor. To me it seemed he was very discerning in isolating the issue as not one of the morality of abortions but one of not discriminating against the poor. The Supreme Court has ruled that abortions are legal and Doyle-Flynn cannot change that fact in spite of their vilification of Gov. Dukakis' veto and those who side with him.

I'm sorry to read in Sunday's Boston Herald American that Rotondi "was told from the pulpit during a Catholic Mass to re-evaluate his Christian ethics." This kind of pressure as also indicated in two recent letters to The Star (illogical and in one case inaccurate) is unfair to the conscientious way Sam Rotondi is handling his responsibilities as a State Senator.

In contact with him on other issues I have found him responsive and thorough. He often spends Saturdays in local sessions throughout his constituency listening and explaining to the people on many matters.

Arthur Pratt
1 Salisbury St.

Sensible

EDITOR OF THE STAR:

I read your news item (Star 9-15-77) on curb cut "violations" with interest. Certainly a slanting curb is needed for the handicapped. But what a complex and expensive way of achieving them, by excavating and replacing the curbs.

Throughout the Scandinavian Countries curb cuts are everywhere, but they use blacktop on an incline plane between the curb and the street. About two wheelbarrow loads would take care of any spot in town. Why can't we be sensible and solve the problem this way without fanfare and at a minimum cost? Why do we have to seek a federal grant for this?

Arthur M. Cochran

Only fundraiser

EDITOR OF THE STAR:

It is that busy time of year again when summer vacations are over, the children are all back in school and when the annual Winchester Jaycee-ette Flea Market will take place. The Flea Market is our only means of raising the money to carry on our work and yearly projects in the community.

Since June 11 enthusiastic committee members have been planning and working very hard to make this ninth Flea Market on Saturday, September 24th from 9:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. at the Town Hall parking lot as successful as the ones in the past.

Dealers from as far away as New Hampshire and Cape Cod as well as local residents, clubs and organizations will be coming to sell antiques, jewelry, wood products, copper products, stained glass ornaments and other general Flea Market items. The chuck wagon will also be in operation serving hot coffee and donuts, hot dogs, chips and a cold drink. Beside the chuck wagon there will be a salad bar where a tossed salad served in Syrian Bread can be purchased.

The Salad Bar is one of three new features presented this year. The other two are children's face painting and a drawing for a 3 x 5 Oriental rug donated by Koko Boodakian and Sons of Winchester.

Candy strippers

EDITOR OF THE STAR:

Two Winchester teenagers served as Candy Strippers at Symmes Hospital, Arlington during July and August. Maureen Scall and Leslie Wright earned points for giving 50 hours of service to the hospital. Their time was spent freshening patients' ice water, delivering flowers, running countless errands, and serving supper trays.

Both of these young ladies proved to be willing and dependable and their service to the hospital is greatly appreciated.

Bay state roll call

Sept. 5-9

The Senate had a busy session this week, and their 22 roll calls boosted the session's total to 227.

The Senate overrode nine vetoes of individual items which were vetoed by Gov. Dukakis in the $4.2 billion fiscal 1978 budget. The vetoes, totalling $824,000, were of some 65 jobs including probate judges and registers and their assistants and clerks in various county courts.

Opponents of the jobs argued the legislature should wait for the Cox Committee Court Reform Package and said the positions were not urgently needed.

Supporters of the jobs said the case overload in the courts made the jobs a necessity.

Sen. Samuel Rotondi voted to override all nine vetoes, including jobs in the following areas: Superior Court Bristol, Essex, Hampden, Middlesex, and Norfolk, Plymouth, Suffolk and Worcester Counties.

Sen. Rotondi voted in favor of tabling a bill which would make several changes in dog, thoroughbred, and harness racing regulations. The bill, however, was not tabled. The changes would extend the number of days each event may run during the year and would give the track another one percent takeout for track improvements.

By a 23-15 vote, the Senate approved the bill prohibiting the use of public funds under the Medicaid program for abortion, except in cases where it would prevent the death of the mother. Sen. Rotondi voted against the bill.

In the House, 20 roll calls were held, raising the session total to 425.

The House refused to suspend the rules (by a 128-94 vote) to allow introduction of an order requiring the House Ethics Committee to make its recommendation regarding the creation of an ethics code for elected officials by Sept. 30. Opponents successfully argued that the issues involved are complex, and that it would be unwise to tie the committee's hands by imposing a deadline. Supporters of the motion argued the committee has been at work for six months and that the end of the session is approaching.

Rep. Sherman W. Saltmarsh Jr. voted to suspend the rules and consider the order to the committee.

Barely defeated in the House was an amendment to a bill which gives life tenure to the chairman of the Fall River Board of Election Commissioners. The amendment would require a local referendum to be held on the question at the next city election.

Supporters said the bill is political and unfair to the electorate; opponents argued the job, recently merged with the duties of the city clerk, should be free from political pressure. Rep. Saltmarsh voted in favor of the referendum.

The House gave final approval to a bill barring the use of public funds to finance abortions, except in cases to prevent the mother's death. Rep. Saltmarsh voted for the bill. The House vote was 145-63.

The House reconsidered, then defeated a bill allowing insurance companies, agents, and brokers to withhold from settlements an amount equal to any premiums overdue for more than 90 days.

Rep. Saltmarsh voted to reconsider (the bill had already been passed when reconsideration was voted).

By 144-71 the House refused to reconsider earlier passage of a bill restructuring the State Ballot Law Commission. Supporters of reconsideration objected to a provision moving the deadline for filing candidacy papers with city and town officials from late June to early May, claiming the change does not allow enough time for new candidates, giving incumbents an unfair advantage.

Those in favor of the original bill argued the deadline is needed to ensure due process because of new laws concerning rejection of nomination papers because of disputed signatures. Rep. Saltmarsh voted to reconsider.

Rep. Saltmarsh opposed a move, passed by the House 130-79, which allows certain changes and repairs to existing, on-premises signs without special local approval.

The House defeated 124-80 an amendment to a bill increasing property tax exemptions for certain persons over age 70. The bill basically changes eligibility criteria for exemptions by reducing the amount of assets allowable for eligibility, and then exempts the value of the home from being counted. The amendment would require any money lost to cities and towns, because of the bill, to be reimbursed by the state.

Rep. Saltmarsh favored reimbursement.

Friendships

EDITOR OF THE STAR:

I have this month completed my first year of business here in Winchester.

Saying thank you does not cover the warm friendships I now enjoy. It doesn't begin to compensate all of you who have made my shop possible—but it does show you that I care.

Thank you!

snowfall, and wind speed will also be reported in the metric system. It won't be bad, though. If you want to know how warm it is next summer, all you will have to do is take the official temperature, subtract 32, multiply by 5, divide by 9, then thank Big Brother for making it so convenient to tell why you're hot under the collar.

You do have an alternative. Remember the road signs, and protest now to your congressman and senators.

Skaters

EDITOR OF THE STAR:

Why fill in the area between the Knights of Columbus building and the new senior citizens' building? This land could be developed into a place for children to skate, particularly where the town has made water available.

It was a fine sight to watch children learning to skate with the help of their parents—a typical New England scene.

We have enough shrubbery about. Why deprive youngsters of sound activity?

Club fees approved by selectmen

Selectmen set some fees Monday night and heard of a couple of appointments.

At their regular night meeting, interrupted by nearly two hours of the Wildwood street public hearing, selectmen accepted the recommendations for fees which James Vanar, staff assistant for budget and purchasing, researched. The board had previously set fees which came under their jurisdiction and which were not subject to statutory maximums and minimums.

The newest batch of fees include: Sunday entertainment license: after 1 p.m. a fee of $2 for a single Sunday and $50 for an annual; before 1 p.m. a fee of $5 for a single Sunday and $100 for an annual. Auctioneer license: for a special auctioneer's license for someone not a resident of Winchester $10 and for a resident $15. Common victualler's license: for a new license $20 and for a renewal $15. Club license: a fee of $100 for both new and renewed licenses.

Town Manager Thomas J. Groux advised the board of two appointments like was making. He named James W. Cruwys of 23 Nathaniel rd. to the position of engineering assistant. Cruwys had been working in the engineering department on a temporary basis since September 1975.

Groux also appointed Richard D. Birchall of 4 Taft dr. to the position of draftsman-transitman in the engineering department.

In other matters relating to appointments, Groux said that new job description and advertising notice for the unfilled operations manager of buildings and grounds have been posted. After A. Paul Graffeo turned down the appointment several weeks ago, the language in the notices was revised, at selectmen's request, to allow experience at a job to count toward educational requirements. The job is still vacant but has been posted and advertised.

Groux also asked the board to vote approval for extending the length of a CETA project in which 20 laborers and skilled laborers are employed in a special project to clean up and maintain town buildings. The original contract was to run out in January but with the board's approval the extension will carry the project to July 7, 1978.

In addition to their regular meeting Monday night, selectmen have scheduled a joint meeting with the finance committee for tonight at 9 in the first floor conference room of the Town Hall.

Expected to be on the agenda are the following items: budget timetable, outstanding bills, improvement of communications between the two boards, unemployment insurance for town employees, and a philosophical discussion about places to make savings.

Another item expected to be on the agenda is an initiative petition which would give voters a voice in collective bargaining. The petition says that any award by an arbitrator, after regular collective bargaining channels have been completed, can be put on the ballot for funding at the next state or town election. Boards of selectmen would be the perpetrators of the referendum.

The petition is sponsored by the Mass League of Cities and Towns and by the Massachusetts Selectmen's Association.

Local cases are settled in court

A number of dispositions were handed down recently in Woburn District Court for past arrests made in Winchester.

On Sept. 14 John Piantadosi, 23, of Olde Village drive, was found guilty and sentenced to one year's probation for malicious damage to property. He was also fined $200 for court costs.

Mark Hodgson, 23, of Highland avenue, was found guilty Aug. 30 and sentenced to six months probation. Hodgson, arrested in July for driving under the influence, leaving the scene of an accident, and possession of marijuana with intent to sell, also entered an alcohol case program, which is a voluntary step.

A Somerville man arrested for motor vehicle violations was found guilty and fined $25 for operating an unregistered vehicle. For other violations he received suspended sentences. Also fined for motor vehicle violations was a South Easton man: he was ordered to pay $212.50 for keeping an unregistered, uninsured link belt crane and attaching plates to the vehicle. Other charges were filed, and the case is being appealed.

Red Cross plans

First Aid course

Winchester Red Cross is now receiving applications for the October course in First Aid and Personal Safety. The class will be taught by Hubert LeFever, chairman of the Chapter's Health and Safety Services and an experienced instructor in first aid.

The course will begin Oct. 11, at the Red

The Massachusetts League of Women Voters held its day-long fall conference in the Winchester Town Hall last week, and the main topic of discussion was financing government. Sen. James Kelly Jr., chairman of the ways and means committee, is shown above at the podium giving the state perspective. Franklin County Treasurer William Powers, Boston Deputy Mayor James V. Young, and Arlington Selectwoman Margaret H. Spengler each spoke on their respective levels of government. (Staff photo)

Cross chapter house on Church street and will run through six sessions in the next two weeks, from 7:30 to 10 a.m.

Because of the nature of this course and the size of the chapter house, enrollment is limited and advanced registration is required.

The course is free but there is a small fee for the materials and books used.

Concert for benefit of Queensmen Corps.

Oct. 21 at 8 p.m. at the Winchester High School auditorium, the second annual performance of "An Evening of Melody" will take place as a benefit for the Immaculate Conception Queensmen Drum and Bugle Corps.

The show will feature several priests

Seniors seek donations for Fall Fiesta Fair

A month remains before the second annual Fall Fiesta Fair held under the auspices of the Winchester Seniors' Association at St. Eulalia's Church Hall on Oct. 19 from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

There will be gifts of all kinds from handwork to buys at the silent auction. Homemade treats will be found on the food table. White Elephants, knit goods, Christmas decorations, potted plants, jewelry, a children's department, boutiques, and the Wishing Well are being readied for the selection of buyers.

Reservations must be made for the luncheon by calling the office of the Council on Aging, 729-2111. Transportation will be provided for those who request it.

Progress is being made but more salable items are needed for all of the tables. Everything that can be donated to help with this endeavor will be accepted. Many hands make light work. Call 729-2111 if you wish to have articles picked up.

League women hear talks on govt. finance

The Fall Conference of the LWV of Massachusetts took place at Town Hall Sept. 15. More than 600 members were present. The meeting was welcomed by Barbara Hankins, chairman of the selectmen and a League member.

The subject of the meeting was perspectives on financing government. The speakers were: Margaret H. Spengler, selectwoman, Arlington, giving the town perspective; James V. Young, deputy mayor-collector-treasurer, Boston, giving the city perspective; William J. Powers, Franklin County Treasurer for the county; and James Kelly Jr., chairman of the Senate Ways and Means Committee, for the State.

Mrs. Spengler spoke about the need for expert knowledge on the part of the selectmen and other town officials, and felt that the problems of the towns were often not a lack of money but the best way of managing what they had. She suggested a manual to be put out by the State describing the different positions held by government members, their scope, duties and aims. This would result in better and more budget saving management in the towns.

Young described the problems of the City of Boston, the limited tax base, the number of tax-free structures and property in the city, the great number of non-residents who use the services of the city, and the limited control the mayor has over his budget. He said the city must have goals and set priorities for what they wanted done. He was in favor of the proposal, now before the Legislature, for the classification of property by use instead of valuation.

Powers spoke of the budget arrangement of the county in western Massachusetts, which serves many small towns. Consolidating functions and services save money and helps efficiency, for example having regional schools. The largest part of the budget is earmarked for the county courts.

Kelly pointed out that many measures advocated by the Legislature to alleviate the problems of the City of Boston were defeated by the urban members. He added that more money was taken by the Federal Government in taxes than all state or local taxes put together. He felt that good services and qualified people should be demanded by the citizens of Massachusetts. One specific proposal he favored was to transfer the Boston and Massachusetts pension plans to Social Security.

Bay state roll call

Sept. 12-6

The Senate gave initial approval 22-13 to a bill adding 325 days of dog racing, 96 days of harness racing, and 40 days of thoroughbred racing in the state. The bill also gives an additional one-half of one per cent takeout to the track to be used for capital improvement, and one-half of one per cent to the city or town in which the tracks are located. Sen. Rotondi favored the bill.

By five votes, the House gained the necessary two-thirds margin (151-70) to override Gov. Dukakis's veto of the bill prohibiting use of state Medicaid funds for abortions. Rep. Saltmarsh voted to override.

By 149-73, the House defeated a bill legalizing the manufacturing of slot machines and allowing non-profit civic and charitable groups to use them to raise money. Rep. Saltmarsh voted against the measure.

The House gave initial approval to 125-98 to a bill granting life tenure to the chairman of the Fall River Board of Election Commissioners. Rep. Saltmarsh was opposed to this bill.

An amendment to a revised bill increasing property tax exemptions for persons 65 and over was adopted by the House 158-62. Rep. Saltmarsh voted for the amendment, which requires the state to pick up any extra cost imposed by the bill on communities. The bill raises the amount of the exemption from $350 to $600 and allows each community to raise the amount of the exemption, provided it is uniform throughout the community and is approved by the state tax commission.

The bill also changes eligibility criteria for exemptions by reducing the amount of assets allowed for eligibility and then exempting the value of the house from being counted.

The House defeated 138-85 a motion to suspend the rules to allow consideration of an order requiring the House Ethics Committee to make its report on the creation of an ethics code by Sept. 23. Rep. Saltmarsh voted in favor of suspending the rules to allow consideration of the order.

Troop 507 plans orientation Mon.

Scout Troop 507 will hold orientation and registration for new members at 7:15 tonight at the Lincoln School gymnasium. Parents also are invited to attend. To be eligible for membership a boy must be in the fifth grade or be at least 11 years old. Troop leaders will be available to answer questions about scouting and to discuss the troop's program, which will emphasize camping, hiking and teaching outdoor skills. Regular weekly meetings will begin on the following Thursday, Sept. 29, at 7:15 p.m. at the Lincoln School.

For further information call 729-6412.

Special ed., enrollments on Monday agenda

The next regular school committee meeting is scheduled for Monday evening at 7:30 at the Sanborn House.

On the agenda are an "objective demonstration of the success of the special education program;" a request to permit adults to attend underenrolled classes at the high school; superintendent reports on ratios, enrollment, and future projections; a curriculum report on the adult education program; and a request for a teacher aide at the Mystic School.

The school committee will be meeting with the board of selectmen Wednesday at 8 p.m. in Town Hall.

Trails trips for children begin in Oct.

The Winchester Trails field trip program for elementary school children will begin next month. Pupils will have a chance to see outdoors some of the things they are learning about in the classroom.

Fourth graders will be going to Long Pond in the Fells. Third graders will be offered a choice of new sites — the Town Forest, Nike Site, and Andrews Hill, which is up behind Parkhurst School.

Mrs. Frances Ver Planck, who has been with the Trails since its beginning eight years ago, is planning the guide training walks during the week of Sept. 26. Leaders refresh their knowledge of the area each year to keep abreast of the ever-changing scene and to study new sites to be visited. New leaders are always welcomed by the Trails.

Louise Ahern will be scheduling the walks next week.

Tri-Community's annual meeting set for Monday

The annual meeting of members of Tri Community Health Services, Inc., will be held Monday at 7:30 p.m. at the Hancock Church Parish Hall, 1912 Massachusetts Avenue, Lexington.

All residents interested in the delivery of home health care in Winchester are invited to attend the annual meeting.

Elections to Tri Community's board of directors will be held. A new slate of officers for 1977-1978 will be nominated and voted upon. The board is comprised equally of members from Winchester, Lexington, and Arlington — the three communities served by the non-profit United Way agency.

Anna Dumurjian, president of the board, and Jayne Tapia, professional director, will give their annual reports. Treasurer Leo Grace will present the treasurer's report and auditor's statement. The membership will hear management consultant Brand Saxenian present his evaluation of the agency's operations.

Special recognition certificates will be given to volunteers who have assisted at various clinics and testing programs in Winchester, Lexington, and Arlington.

Persons interested in volunteering for various Tri Community Health programs are urged to attend the meeting on Monday or call Jayne Tapia at 862-6404.

Reservations due for testimonial for Jake Horn

The committee in charge of the Jake Horn Testimonial Dinner Dance, scheduled for Oct. 1, advises that all reservations must be secured by Saturday.

It is also recommended that anyone wishing to be seated with the following groups call from the committee members as listed below:

VFW and American Legion, Sons of Italy, and Christopher Columbus Lodge — Warren Bolivar, 729-0450; James Rae, 729-6647; Ralph Fiore, 729-5461; John Sullivan, 729-0290.

Woburn Section — Mrs. Timothy Walsh, 933-2022.

Winchester Elks — John Mawn, 935-1238 and Jack Monteith, 729-1065.

Immaculate Conception Drum and Bugle Corps — Bernard Boyle, 729-6636.

Town employees and Town Hall, and the Knights of Columbus — Henry Murray, 729-8090; Richard Horn, 729-6058; and Paul Gangi, 729-7918.

Police and fire departments — Roland Roy, 729-6255; Angelo Amico, 729-1082; or John Regan, 729-8641.

General committee information — John Hennelly, chairman, 729-1841; Ken Cullen, 729-3232; and Creighton Horn, 729-5347.

Tickets will not be available at the door — all seats are reserved.

This intersection of Wildwood street and Cambridge road is one of five locations for a proposed TOPICS program which would seek to increase traffic flow and safety. The federally and state funded program would put in a left-hand stacking lane here and take about 120 square feet of land to making turning easier. This and the other intersections came up for heated discussion a week ago at a public hearing.

Board members take stands on TOPICS program

Selectmen responded individually to last week's TOPICS hearing which sought public opinion on traffic changes the state wants to make at five intersections in town.

The five are: Bacon and Church, Wildwood and Cambridge, Mount Vernon-Washington-Mystic Valley parkway, Washington-Forest, and Cambridge-Pond. TOPICS (Traffic Operations Program to Increase Capacity and Safety) is funded with federal and state monies.

The board will vote October 5 on what they find acceptable, if anything, in the TOPICS program, and present it to the state.

Individually the five said: Richard Wilsack: "I want to see a focus on improvements without overhangs. I am not in favor of the work at Bacon and Church or Wildwood and Cambridge. As for the Town Hall intersection, perhaps islands would solve the problem. At Forest street I am not in favor of changing the width. I do see a need for a light at Pond street."

Arthur Dunbar: "I am completely opposed to all TOPICS programs. I cannot understand why we have to accept a state design. I favor new hardware and new lights and controls without the cosmetic surgery of TOPICS."

Edward O'Connell: "I am opposed to TOPICS in its totality. I would not inflict it on the residents of this town for the sake of adding to the flood of cars coming into town."

Harry Chelato: "I favor lining off Pond street and checking with the safety officer as to the number of children using Forest street on their way to school. I would hate to lose the town the way it is."

Barbara Hankins: "It is incumbent on us to find out what costs are to do it ourselves before a final decision. I think we need to do something at Pond street, the Town Hall intersection and Forest street but I would be opposed to the Town Hall proposal unless the potential problem at Myrtle street is resolved. I will bow to public opinion on the Cambridge-Wildwood intersection and I am opposed to the Bacon street work as being a detriment to the community as a whole."

The town manager told the board to submit its recommendation to the state, realizing that TOPICS is interested in projects costing at least $100,000 which would greatly improve safety.

Wellesley Club forum Oct. 13 on Americana

What is the "look" of Jacobean, William and Mary, Queen Anne, Chippendale or Empire?

The American Arts Forum sponsored by the Winchester Wellesley Club invites the town to a display and discussion of American history and habits in the decorative arts on Oct. 13, at the Parish of the Epiphany Hall.

Co-ordinator Nancy Hudson has planned a full day program similar to Green Day '76, to explore one topic in a theoretical and practical way. Jonathan Fairbanks will speak in the morning at 10:30 on decorative arts styles in architecture, furniture and the minor arts. Fairbanks is the curator of decorative arts at the Boston Museum of Fine Arts.

At 12:45 the audience will view what is on the current market in prints and paintings and learn about the process of collecting art from Caron LeBrun Danidien, who is vice president of the Arvest Gallery on Newbury street. She is also the art critic of the Christian Science Monitor and has held the same position on the Herald Traveler and Herald American, and frequently serves as judge or jury member for regional art exhibits.

A club committee chaired by Ann McGovern and Grace Chase is planning the gourmet salad bar luncheon to be served at the noon intermission. Wine, coffee and dessert are included.

Ample opportunity to browse among objects selected from American inspired reproductions at the Museum of Fine Arts Gift Shop may give someone a pre-holiday inspiration. Mary Jane Grasty, in charge of the display, has chosen paper goods, jewelry, needlework, prints, books and gift objects from the Museum Shop's authentic Americana. A large and colorful print will be given away as a door prize.

The Wellesley Club kicked off its fall event — an American arts forum — with a meeting last week to plan the full-day program October 13 at the Church of the Epiphany. Shown here working on the committee are Mary Jane Grasty, Alice Mirak, Nancy Hudson, Ann McGovern, Susan Vrotsos, Grace Chase, and Margie McIndoe.

Committee members who have been planning American Arts Forum since last spring introduced club members to the benefit at a wine reception hosted by Jane Twitchell last week.

Mrs. Twitchell's home, an authentic reproduction of the 17th century Parson Capen house in Topsfield, illustrated for club members the charm of period paneling, pewter and simplicity.

Ticket chairman Margie McIndoe has repeated last year's popular Green Day price and again included a discount for senior citizens. Every member of the Wellesley Club has tickets to the American Arts Forum; or you may call Jane McClellan, ticket co-chairman, 729-2735 after 5 p.m. Proceeds from the benefit will be divided among the Winchester Scholarship Foundation, Wellesley College and the Wellesley Student's Aid Society.

Juniors, seniors invited to tour Wellesley College

An afternoon tour of the Wellesley College campus is being offered to interested high school juniors and seniors on Tuesday, October 4.

The trip will include lunch at the student center and visits with students in the dorms as well as a full view of the campus and a chance for questions and discussion at the admissions office.

Cars will leave from Winchester High School at 11:30 a.m. following the release time dismissal and will return students to Winchester about 4.

Students may sign up for the tour at the guidance office at the high school or by calling Mrs. Lane McGovern, 12 Dartmouth st., representative of the Winchester Wellesley Club, the sponsor of the trip.

Church group starts season with Monday meetings

The Sodality of Our Lady of the Immaculate Conception Parish, of Winchester and Woburn will begin the Fall and Winter program with meetings taking place on the second and fourth Mondays of each month. The meetings will include spiritual and social renewal for the members. An active program has been planned.

The first activity of the 77-78 season will take place on Monday, with Mass at 7:30 PM in the church, followed by a "Minstrel Night" social in the Parish Hall.

The first fund raising event will once again be the Holly Fair, which is scheduled for Nov. 19 and 20. The co-chairladies will be Mrs. Mary V. Connolly and Mrs. Lorraine Carey. The Christmas Social Dec. 12, will be different this year and will take us through a stroll in the past.

"I have tried other brands of cigarettes and have the almost full packs in my cabinet to prove it. MERIT is the first different brand I have liked and the tar and nicotine level is hard to believe."

—Ms. Mary A. Shufon
Troy, New York

"I was amazed! I can't believe that a low tar and nicotine cigarette can taste so good."

—J. Thomas Ellicott, Jr.
North Palm Beach, Florida

"After smoking for 25 years and desperately looking for a low tar and nicotine cigarette that tastes like a cigarette, EUREKA—MERIT."

—Mrs. Elaine R. Turiano
New Brunswick, New Jersey

"Bingo! This is really the first low tar cigarette that I can taste."

—James E. Yates, Jr.
Johnson City, Tennessee

"Well, a pack of Merit cigarettes caught my eye. It was the yellow and brown stripes. I broke down and bought a pack. I tell you that they are fantastic!"

"...if you can change me, you can change anyone."

—Mrs. Bonnie Lindsay Bridgeport, Connecticut

"I think you people have come out with the best menthol cigarette yet."

—Robert E. Wright
Columbus, Ohio

"I want to thank you for producing a cigarette which actually lives up to its advertising—low tar and full cigarette flavor."

—Irene Feiffer
New York, New York

"We tried most of the new ones, but none seemed like you were smoking at all, until MERIT."

—William L. Platter
South Plainfield, New Jersey

"I have tried some of the low tar and low nicotine cigarettes, but never cared for them until MERIT was put on the market. I really enjoy them very much and I just wanted to say thanks for a nice cigarette."

—Mrs. Rodney Rice
Indian Orchard, Massachusetts

"As a cigarette smoker for some 60 years, I wanted to compliment you on your fine product, MERIT cigarettes."

—Mrs. Frederic Shaw
Jenkintown, Pennsylvania

"I've been smoking MERIT for 2 months (when the store has them) and two of my neighbors switched to MERIT MENTHOL. We're all delighted."

—Gene L. Hodges, Jr.
Charlotte, North Carolina

"It should be called the T.T.T. cigarette (true tobacco taste)."

—Mr. J. W. McLeod
Manning, South Carolina

"I have to admit I was skeptical because I had tried several low tar cigarettes. After smoking one pack, I was really amazed...they are as good as the cigarettes with higher tar."

—Mrs. Brenda Clark
Opelika, Alabama

"I have been searching for a low tar cigarette for some time now. All others I've tried have no taste...I'm a MERIT man."

—Ray Echard

Booters down Melrose, 3-0, tie Stoneham to open season

by Kelly Gately

Winchester High Boys Soccer team started off the season in style with a strong 3-0 victory over Melrose, but they tied a heartbreaker to Stoneham with a score of 2-2 after being ahead 2-0.

The rain didn't seem to bother the Winchester High Boys' soccer team in their season opener against Melrose in a 3-0 victory.

Led by tri-captains George Casey, Mark Mulvaney and Mark McGoldrick, the Sachems had control of the game from the start. The game was played with a combination of strong defense and offense.

There were many scoring opportunities in the first quarter, but they couldn't seem to find the net. Willie Strazzullo hit the crossbar on a corner and Jackie Driscoll hit the post. Although Winchester totally dominated, the score remained 0-0 at the end of the first quarter. In an attempt to score the season's first goal, Winchester made a lot of mistakes resulting in many penalties. As a result of a penalty against Melrose, Winchester broke the ice in the second quarter. Mark McGoldrick put one in with a strong kick up into the right-hand corner to make it 1-0. Melrose remained scoreless at the end of the half with strong defensive play by full backs Paul Maxwell, Mark Mulvaney, Tom Mitchell and goalie Paul Frink.

Near the end of the third quarter Sachem halfback Strazzullo looped one over the reach of the Melrose goalie and it was 2-0.

Winchester's forward line of Jim Oliver, Jackie Driscoll, Mark McGoldrick and Bubba Sandford applied pressure to the Melrose goalie all during the game. Winchester finished up the scoring in the last quarter with two nice passes from Mulvaney to McGoldrick to Driscoll, who scored the third goal on a breakaway.

The team coached by Gene Bouley made it look easy in defeating Melrose, but ran into some problems against Stoneham.

Coming off a strong defensive game against Melrose in the season opener, a lapse in the Winchester's defense proved costly as they tied a tough one with Stoneham 2-2.

From the beginning it looked as if Winchester would chalk up another one in the win column, when they broke on top 1-0 early in the first quarter. Driscoll scored on a shot which hit the goal post and deflected.

Winchester's defense was really strong and halted all scoring threats in the first half.

Mulvaney made a nice pl in blocking an in-direct kick.

Winchester's forward line had many chances and finally put one by the goalies in the beginning of the second quarter. Driscoll again scored from a nice pass by McLaughlin to go ahead 2-0.

The score remained 2-0 at the end of the half with some fine defensive plays Mulvaney and Mitchell. Then came the downfall.

Winchester continued to play well, but penalties hurt them. Then on a corner kick by Stoneham's Shannon, the ball drifted up and over Sachem goalie Paul Frink into the upper corner to make it 2-1.

The Sachems continued to put pressure on Stoneham, but failed to put it in. Driscoll, Oliver and Casey were playing well, but the score remained the same.

With less than three minutes to play, Stoneham rushed down the left side and with the goalie down, Steve Sullivan put it in to tie 2-2 and that was it.

Winchester had the chances, but just couldn't get the break they needed. It just wasn't their day.

Boat Club hosts N-10 boat race

With weather conditions ranging from light southwest winds and rain showers on Saturday to gusty northwest winds and clear skies on Sunday, the Winchester Boat Club acted as host for the National Ten Association (N-10) senior regatta on the Upper Mystic Lake September 10-11.

This event, for those aged 18 and older, registered 18 entrants from five boat clubs in eastern Massachusetts.

Taking first place in this two-day, five-race regatta was John Kelly, former WBC instructor now sailing out of Cottage Park Yacht Club, with an overall score of 5.00 points; second, Ed Lally, also of Cottage Park Y.C., with 8.75 points; third, Jack Gannon of the Winchester Boat Club with 17.00 points.

With Commodore Gerard P. Donahue and race committee of Ralph and Berta Swanson, Betty Hill, and Norm Towle in attendance, Noel Thyson, first mate of the Winchester N-10 fleet, presented awards to winners after the completion of the final race Sunday afternoon.

Swim Club holds tennis tourney

A tennis tournament was one of the festivities held over the holiday weekend at the Winchester Swim Club, with a supper following at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Corf of Thornberry rd.

Winners of the women's doubles: Ann Ferry & Marlene Rothman; Men's doubles:

Brooke Green & Will Aldrich; Women's doubles consolation: Ginny Del Vecchio & Diane Gaeta, (winners against) Marguerite Burns & Joan Irving; men's doubles consolation: Joe Cincotta & Charlie Gulino (6-1, 6-3, 6-4) against Bill Ferry & Frank Barratta; mixed doubles: Ann & Bill Ferry (7-6, 5-7, 7-6) against Dawn & Ken Hudson.

Defense strong

By Jon Kalman

The Winchester football squad opened the 1977-1978 season with a hard fought 6-0 win over the Natick Redmen.

The game proved to be a real battle, and was won on defense. Winchester, a team noted for its outstanding backfield, proved to the league that it has a defensive squad to be reckoned with too.

From the outset the Sachem's defense had to hold down the fort, as Natick's defensive end Ron Biagi, blocked Brian O'Connor's punt attempt in the early going. Here the Sachem defense first established themselves, forcing the Redmen to punt.

Throughout the quarter both teams suffered from first game butterflies. Natick quarterback Anthony Armata got his team rolling late in the quarter; but he was intercepted by an alert Dave Guarnaccia, who picked off a pass fumbled when a Natick receiver was hit hard by Junior Nick Fitzgerald.

The Sachems began the second quarter with two quick first downs. Quarterback Don Allard finally got things in motion, but on the next two plays he was sacked for losses totalling six yards. Winchester was forced to punt, and O'Connor came through with a high spiral for 43 yards.

Natick running backs Lee Littlefield and Bill Sticka, aided by a penalty, ran for a first down, but it was all they would get as tri-captains Wayne Maggio and John Della Grote hit Lee Littlefield hard, forcing him to fumble. Sachem Harold Murphy recovered the loose ball on the Winchester 45 yard line.

The Sachems failed to capitalize on the good field position as Mark O'Neil was tackled for a loss of three by Natick co-captain Dave Reilly, who played an excellent game for the Redmen.

Forced to punt, O'Connor booted another long 40-yarder, but Natick was called for roughing the kicker, and it was Sachem's ball on the Natick 32 yard line.

Tom Murray, who played an exceptional game on both offense and defense, ran twice for 11 yards. Two plays later Allard swept around the left side for 20 yards and a touchdown.

The extra point attempt by O'Connor was blocked. The 6-0 score remained unchanged as the first half ended with Allard intercepting a desperation bomb by Armata.

Natick began the third quarter with the ball on their 38 yard line after a short kickoff by O'Connor. Winchester's defense was called upon to dig in immediately as Armata broke loose for a 27 yard run during the first series.

After a total gain of four yards on the next two plays, Natick's Armata was sacked with a 10-yard loss as Nick Fitzgerald burst through the line untouched.

On the punt by Biagi Winchester receiver Mark O'Neil fumbled the ball which was recovered by Natick on the Winchester 13 yard line.

The Sachem defensive unit held the Redmen to just one yard on the next four downs as Winchester's Gerald Dibiasi, Craig Hanchett, Brian O'Connor, Wayne Maggio, and John Della Grote stopped the Natick runners cold.

The fourth quarter proved to be no offensive showcase until Natick Head Coach Thomas Lamb substituted junior quarterback William Flutie for starter Armata.

And what a move it was as Flutie wasted no time in connecting on a 10-yard pass to Al Lamy and running for 34 yards three plays later, until he was finally stopped on Winchester's 17 yard line by Nick Fitzgerald. Flutie brought his team inside the five yard line, but Winchester's defense would allow no more.

The Redmen threatened once more with 56 seconds remaining, but it was useless as the Sachem's entire defensive unit combined to stop the scrappy Natick team.

It was a good team win for the Sachems, with special plaudits for the stellar play of the defensive unit.

QB SNEAKS.... Conspicuously absent from Saturday's game were star running back Anthony Davis, sidelined with a sprained ankle, and Craig Bradley, out for three games with strained knee. Davis's service is expected next week during the Sachems' meeting with the Burlington Red Devils.

Replacing the injured Davis was junior halfback Sam Bellino. He played a fine game, highlighted by a 17-yard gain in the fourth quarter.

Leading ground gainer was Tom Murray, who had "an excellent game," according to Head Coach Manny Marshall.

Named by the Winchester coaches for outstanding play were Back of the Week, Tom Murray; Most Tackles, Wayne Maggio (9); Quarterback Sacks, Murray (2), Fitzgerald and O'Connor; Most Hustle, Fitzgerald and O'Connor; and Causing Fumbles, Gerald Dibiasi, John Della Grote, and Tom Murray.

Youth hockey tryouts

Final tryouts for the hockey teams representing Winchester Youth Hockey in the Middlesex League will be on Sunday morning at the USA Rink. Times are: 7:20 am Midgits; 8:30 am Bantams; 9:40 am Squirts and mites; 10:50 am Pee Wees.

There are still openings at all age levels and any boy with talent has the opportunity to make a team.

On Sunday, October 2, the fall hockey and skating clinics will begin. Because the spring clinic was so well received, the directors of youth hockey will conduct two sessions, one for beginners and the other for skaters who would like to improve their hockey skills. This seven-week program which is open to both residents and non-residents will feature personalized attention to those requiring it. The clinics are not only an excellent learning experience and body conditioner, but also the ideal way to prepare boys for participation in the intermural program which follows the clinic on November 20.

On October 2, a flea market will be held at the USA Rink to help subsidize the youth hockey program. Space will be available at a modest price for anyone wishing to unload accumulated "treasures" and realize a profit in time for Christmas shopping. A special feature will be a recycling of sports equipment sale. Those who donate goods will realize 75 percent of the price they set with the other 25 percent applied to help defray the expenses of Youth Hockey.

Finalists in the Winchester Swim Club's recent tennis tournament in the 14-and-under singles category for girls were, Mary Baratta of Arlington, at left, and Nancy Lane of Winchester, who won the final round 7-6, 6-7, 6-4.

Mr. and Mrs. James E. Chute, Jr.

Karen Vincent married to James Chute at St. Mary's

An ecumenical service at St. Mary's Church on June 23, united Karen Vincent and James E. Chute, Jr. the ceremony was performed by Rev. Bernard Hoy of Sacred Heart Church in Lexington and Rev. Howard Krueger of the Baptist Church in Winchester. The bride is the daughter of Mr. & Mrs. George Vincent of Bacon st. and Mr. Chute the son of Mr. & Mrs. James Chute of Horn Pond Brook rd.

The bride wore a white Polorganza gown. The V-Neck and cuffs of her bishop sleeves were defined by Venice lace and pearls. She had a long camelot veil of silk illusion and Venice lace. She carried a bouquet of white miniature carnations with pink sweetheart roses and baby's breath.

Mrs. Susan Campisi, two sister of the bride was maid of honor. She wore a blue polyester knit dress with a lattice work top and matching jacket. The bridesmaids were Miss Deborah Vincent, sister of the bride; Mrs.

Dorothy Gilbert of Stoneham, sister of the groom; Mrs. Barbara Johnson of Wilmington and Miss Ann Comita of Winchester. They wore matching gowns in rainbow colors and carried bouquets of daisies with baby's breath and miniature carnations to match their dresses. In their hair they wore miniature carnations on a comb with ribbons.

Mr. Roy Chute of Winchester, the groom's brother was best man. Ushers were Mr. George Vincent of Reading, brother of the bride; Mr. Paul Gilbert of Stoneham; Mr. James Johnson of Wilmington and Mr. John Kirk of Woburn. They wore rainbow tuxedos to match their partners gowns.

The mother of the bride wore a gown of blue chiffon, and the groom's mother wore a beige and green chiffon gown.

The reception followed at the Shearaton Rolling Green in North Andover. After a wedding trip to the Poconos, the couple are residing in Stoneham.

Newcomers Club plans party for first 1977 event

A wine-and-cheese party to be held on Sunday will be the Winchester Newcomers Club's first social function of the 1977-78 season.

The event is planned for 2 to 5 p.m. at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Joseph, 38 Pierpont rd.

The party, like Newcomers itself, is intended to help new residents of Winchester meet one another and thus build a circle of friends in the community. Therefore, a special invitation to attend has been issued to all adults who have moved into the town within the past three years.

Although the club is an organization of women, the wine-and-cheese event, like many Newcomers functions, is for couples.

Members and others planning to attend are asked to notify Mrs. Helga Biggs, 69 Bacon st., or Mrs. Laurie Minetti, 5 Grove st., by noon Saturday. To cover expenses, there will be a small charge per couple.

Mrs. Tina Rogers, Newcomers Club secretary-treasurer, reported that last week, at its first regular meeting of the new season, the club took in 20 new members. Many of them also signed up to participate in special club-sponsored activities. Such activities, which are now being organized, include bridge, tennis, arts and crafts, and diners' groups.

Jaycees dinner meeting Tuesday

The Winchester Jaycees will hold a dinner-meeting on Tuesday at the Holiday Inn in Burlington. Cocktails will be served at 6:30 p.m. and the meeting begins at 7:30 p.m.

Anyone interested in attending the meeting please contact Tom LaPointe, 729-3735, by Sunday.

Elaine Molea, Joseph Gelozzi married July 30 at St. Mary's

Elaine Theresa Molea, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dominic Molea of 29 Marion Street exchanged wedding vows with Louis Joseph Celozzi, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mario Celozzi of Milford, Mass. on July 30 at St. Mary's Church in Winchester. The Reverend Bernard Hoy officiated at the 6:30 p.m. ceremony.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, and her sister, Nancy, served as maid of honor. Another sister, Janice Porell of Fairmount Street, Lynda Lyons of Grayson Road, and Nancy Deangelis, formerly of Winchester, were bridesmaids. Peter Macchi of Milford was the best man. Francis Small, Joseph Plickta, both of Milford, and Robert Wedemeyer, of Fort Devens, Mass., ushered the guests.

The couple plans to honeymoon in San Francisco and Hawaii.

Junior Guild fashion show October 15th

Members of The Junior Guild of the Infant Saviour met recently to discuss final plans for the annual Fashion Show and Luncheon to be held on Oct. 15 at the Copley Plaza Hotel, Boston, featuring the fall and winter collection of Saks Fifth Avenue.

Hist. society to take tours of old homes

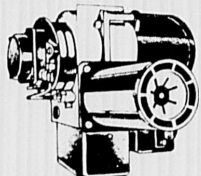

The Winchester Historical Society will conduct a field trip to the Essex Institute in Salem at 1:30 p.m. on Sunday, Oct. 2. Allen Hill will be the guide through three homes; one each of early 17th, 18th, and 19th centuries. Please call Sarah Gold at 729-2547 for reservations. Participants will meet at the Archival Center at 12:30 p.m. Refreshments will be provided.

Jamaica is one of the least expensive vacation spots around, and there are many sorts of package tours available. Jamaica's most complete resort is called Rose Hall. There you will find things like round trip transfers from the airport, welcome drinks, donkey races, beach parties, shopping, discounts, and so much more. Tennis, bars, private beaches, people with smiles of Jamaican sunshine, all sorts of possibilities for night-life — what more can you ask for on your next vacation?

Consult us at MCGRATH TRAVEL SERVICE, 14 Eaton Avenue, Woburn. For a joyous vacation on a joyous island, come to Jamaica, the mountain-prairie-seacoast island where the whole idea for Caribbean vacations began. There are things to do here you can't do anywhere else in the world. Call 935-0600. Open Monday-Friday 9-5 Saturdays and evenings by appointment.

TRAVEL TIP:
Two bathing suits, one to wear, and one to dry — they make a good vacation complement.

Local artisan in photo show

Photographs by Robin Gile will be shown from September 24 through October 21, at the Tickner Library, Boylston Hall, at Harvard Yard. The show is sponsored by the Modern Language Center at Harvard, and will include an assortment of Ms. Gile's portrait and landscape studies.

Ms. Gile, an Arlington resident, attended the New England School of Photography in Boston, and has been freelancing now for three years. It is at her store, The Artisan's Gallery, located at 47 Church st., that she has her studio.

Katherine Wynn, Mr. Raphael married in candlelight service

Mrs. Katherine Raphael

Katherine Anne Wynn and Alan Thomas Raphael were married August 19 in a candlelight service at the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church, with Rev. John Chilton of Hull, England, performing the ceremony. A reception followed at the Harvard Club of Boston.

The bride was attended by her cousin, Susan Hodge, of Augusta, Georgia as maid of honor and by Mrs. Alan Wynn of Winchester as matron of honor. The bridesmaids were Constance Raphael of Winchester, sister of the groom, Kathryn Jackson of Macon, Georgia, Vivian Stephenson of Tampa, and Kathie Komp of Boston.

William Raphael, brother of the groom, was best man and ushers were David Raphael of Winchester, brother of the groom, John Shanahan of Newton, Alan and James Wynn of Winchester, brothers of the bride, and Windsor Hodge of Augusta, cousin of the bride.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. Corey Wynn of 8 Chisholm rd. She attended the Winchester schools and received her bachelor of fine arts degree from Wesleyan College, Macon, Georgia. Mr. Raphael is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Raphael of 14 Oxford st. He attended Winchester schools, graduated from Northeastern University and is a civil engineer with Stone and Webster Incorporated in Shoreham, N.Y. The couple is residing in Rocky Point, N.Y.

Cote named National Merit Semifinalist

Owen R. Cote Jr., a student at Belmont Hill School, has been named a National Merit Scholarship Semi-finalist. Cote is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Owen R. Cote of 11 Prospect st.

He earned the position as a result of scores on the standard Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test and the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test. He is among 15,000 so honored, representing the top half of one per cent of the nation's most academically talented young persons, according to the National Merit Scholarship Corporation.

English chairman to discuss pilot program at Lynch

Fran Russell, director of English for the Winchester school system, will discuss the seventh grade pilot English program at Lynch Junior High School on Wednesday from 7:30 to 11.

For the first time all seventh grade Lynch students will participate in a pilot English language laboratory. Focus of the program will be on the reading and writing skills associated with language processes required in the total school experience.

Each student will be involved in the production of language in the four major content areas — English, social studies, science, and mathematics.

Emphasis will be on such skills as following directions, reading for main ideas and for detail outlining, and drawing conclusions.

An activity log will be maintained by each student. Progress reports will be mailed home three times during the school year.

Parents of seventh graders are especially invited to attend the discussion. Other interested parents are welcome.

The Massachusetts Open Meeting Law establishes that most meetings of public bodies are to be open to the public. This means anyone can attend, and whatever anyone who attends such a meeting says is a matter of public record, whether there are 100 persons in the audience or no other persons at all at the meeting.

Field hockey team routs Watertown in opener, 5-1

By Kelly Gately

Unfortunately for the Watertown Field Hockey Team, they had to face the psyched Winchester team in the season opener. It seemed as if Winchester didn't know how to lose, for everyone was thinking win, and that's exactly what they did in a 5-1 rout.

The Winchester High field hockey team coached by Marge Harvey totally dominated throughout the entire game in a total team effort. Led by co-captains Kelly Evans and Liz Fuller, Winchester pressured the Watertown goalie during the entire game.

Winchester started off quickly with Kathleen Driscoll putting one in in the first half from a nice pass by Kelly Evans.

With constant pressure by the Sachem's forward line of Becky Price, Debbie Bosco, Beth Noble, Kathy Driscoll, and Liz Fuller, Watertown couldn't get it out of their end. Then from a pass by Noble, Driscoll bewildered the opposing defense as she left them in the dust with her speed to score their second and it was 2-0.

Watertown tried to turn things around but Sachem halfbacks Linda Pierce, Kelly Evans and Sue Flaherty kept them away. Then on Watertown's only threat of the day, Watson put one by the Winchester's goalie Nela Barrow to make it 2-1, and that's the way the first half ended.

From then on, it was all Winchester. Watertown had a few chances but they were turned away by fullbacks Chris Leary, Maria Leydon and Margot Von Rosenvinge.

Sachem's goalie Nela Barrow kicked out every shot in the second half.

Then, from constant hustle by Evans, Noble and Driscoll, Winchester added another as Driscoll again put it in from the right side to make it 3-1. They weren't through yet though.

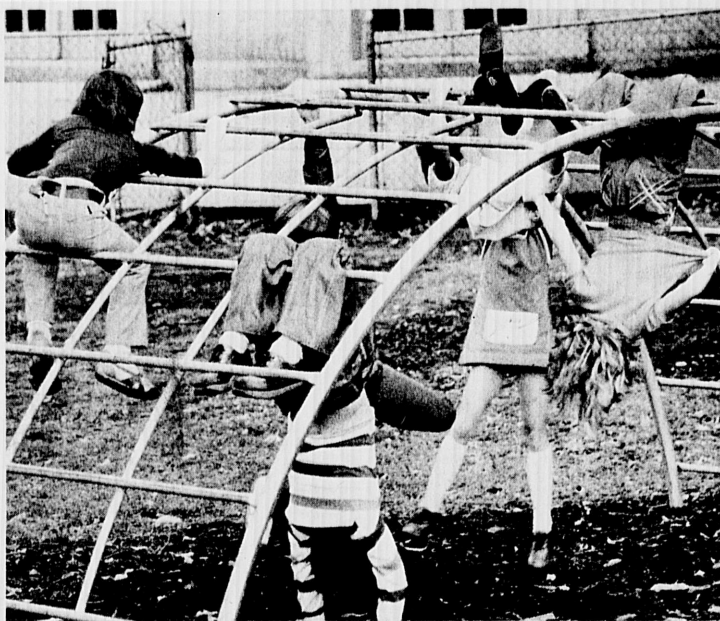

Winchester threatened to run up the score with continual pressure. Their aggressiveness paid off with Noble scoring one on a powerful drive to make it 4-1.

With less than two minutes to go Winchester still wasn't satisfied with four goals, as Noble scored her second from a nice centering pass from Tricia Shanley to make it 5-1 and that was the final score.

"They played a very good game," commented Coach Harvey. "I was very pleased."

It looks as if Winchester will be the team to beat this year, and they're ready for anyone. Starting Line-up: Sr. RW Liz Fuller, Jr. RI Kathleen Driscoll, Jr. CF Beth Noble, Jr. LH Sue Flaherty, Sr. CH Kelly Evans, Jr. LH Linda Pierce, Jr. RF Chris Leary, Sr. LF Maria Leydon, Jr. G. Nela Barrow.

Field Hockey Notes: The J V Field Hockey team also crushed Watertown by a score of 6-0. Goals were scored by Christine Driscoll (3), Kathy Heffernan (2) and Kathy Day. Friday was the day of the Driscoll's as they combined for a total of 8 goals, Kathleen (V. field hockey 3), Christine (J V field hockey 3) and Jackie (Boy's V Soccer 2).

There are lots of ways to hang loose, as these second and third graders from the Lincoln School demonstrated during recess on a warm fall day.

Four games Sat. start soccer for PeeWees

Despite the showers that occurred off and on Saturday morning, the Pee Wee Division of Winchester Youth Soccer began play with four good, strongly contested games.

Astros 4 — Dragons 1

The first half was played extremely well by both teams, especially for the first game. Good shots, passes and saves were made at both ends of the field, with the resulting first half score tied at 1-1. In the second half, the Astros capitalized on a penalty shot and proceeded to dominate play thereafter, emerging the winners by a 4 to 1 margin. Scoring for the Dragons was John Rice, while Peter Mahoney, Joseph Breen and Stuart Carlson were the Astros scorers.

Celtics 2 — Falcons 2

This game was marked by even play up and down the field. The Celtic goalie, Charles Wechsler kept his team in the ballgame with several aggressive saves. The Falcons opened the scoring on a penalty shot by David Donnellan, but the Celtics were not daunted — and evened by scoring early in the Second Half. John Donnellan put the Falcons ahead once more, but again the Celtics were equal to the task, evening the score mid-way through the Second Half. A final Celtics scoring thrust was thwarted by an outstanding defensive play from Falcon fullback, Tony Maida, who drove the ball from the goal mouth after his goalie was down and out of position. Excellent goalkeeping was turned in by Falcon goalie Bob Mistretta, as well as halfbacks Matt Kennedy and Randall Carswell.

Gulls 6 — Bears 0

The Gulls started off the season with a strong 6 to 0 defeat of the Bears. Three players from the Gulls combined their efforts in the scoring. Ricky Parker scored three times, Ed Brickley twice and Jack Mees once on a penalty kick. The Gulls' defense was strong throughout the game and kept the offense moving, resulting in the good scoring efforts.

Hawks 2 — Eagles 4

All of the teams had an excellent turnout of players despite the wet weather. The Pee Wee Division officials, who have a difficult job and who loyally show up each Saturday morning, are Delip Bokil, Sol Gittleman, Jovan Jacavic and John Meade.

Bloodmobile Oct. 5 at St. Eulalia's

On Oct. 5 a Red Cross Bloodmobile will be at St. Eulalia's Church Hall, 50 Ridge st., Winchester, from 2 to 7:30 p.m. Any person between the ages of 17, with written parental permission, and 65 years may donate blood, providing that he or she weighs 110 pounds or over and is in good health.

Any donor automatically covers himself and his immediate family for one year. St. Eulalia's Parish hopes to collect at least 125 pints. Non-parishioners as well as parishioners will be most welcome.

Rain delays town tennis play

by James R. Stewart Jr.

For the second Saturday in a row, rain forced the Winchester Tennis Association's annual fall tennis tournament into delayed action.

With all six events approaching the quarter finals, last Sunday into a flurry of action while the sun shone, after a bit of yeoman work by the park division's ground crew, ably assisted by members of Don Ellis' volunteers. As it was, only the senior men's singles, the men's doubles and the women's singles completed their round of eight.

Top seeded Charlie Watson led the seniors parade, reaching the semi-finals with a 6-0, 6-1 win over Larry Smith. He will be joined by three players among matches between Bob Horne and Joe Rosettos, Bill Bird and Jack Corf, plus either Fred Julian or Shep Holt.

In the men's doubles, victors included No. 1 seed Wil Aldrich and Carmen Elio over No. 9 seeds Don Allard and Jack Wiseman, 6-3, 6-2; No. 2 seeds Parker Gray and Dick Kadesch Jr., against Ron Keane and Jack Callaghan, 6-1, 6-2; 3rd seeds Doug Carlson and Nick Julian winning by 6-4, 6-3 over Fuller and Peterman; 4th Seed Ted Martin and Tom Dunn winning 6-2, 6-3 over Worthington and Popp; Bill Macneil and Whit Gray who defeated Ford and Merchant, 6-2, 6-2; Hank Skehan and Chris Scanlon, the No. 8 seed over Bill Ferry and Bud Johnson, 6-4, 6-3; Jack Corf and Steve Powers, No. 10 seed besting the No. 7 Seed Don Ellis and Al Samoiloff, 6-4, 2-6, 6-4 and unheralded Jim Phillips and Tad Bannister who took Bishop and Hart, 6-1, 6-2.

The mixed doubles, slated to start on Saturday, did manage to play almost through the second round, with seeds Peg and Jack Wiseman the only rated pair to fall, to Nancy Mills and Dick Santos, 6-1, 6-1. Prudy Hurne and Bob Horne upset the No. 7 seed, Leslie and Vandy French in a grueling match, 6-4, 4-6, 6-3 to be the only pair to reach the quarter finals, so far.

Bill Macneil, the No. 1 seed in the men's singles led the way to the quarter-finals in that event, squeaking out a 6-7, 7-6, 6-2 win over pesky Doug Carlson, while others had easier times of it except for Parker Gray, who, though seeded No. 8, lost to newcomer Phil Worthington 2-6, 7-6, 6-1.

Robin Jewell shook up Pinky Samoiloff, the No. 3 seed, in the women's singles, winning 7-6, 1-6, 6-2, and then led the pack into the semi-finals with a 6-3, 6-0 victory over Bev Oram. Still vying for other semi berths are

No. 1 seed Sue Cowen vs. John Byrne, No. 2 seed Stella Gallant playing Kathy Hurley, and No. 4 seed Cynthia Daley against Calista Keaveney.

Sue Cowen is also in the women's doubles semi-final, with her partner Dede Cunningham and will play Pinky Samoiloff and Ello Gorman for a slot in the finals. In the top bracket, top seeded Joan Richardson with Peggy Wiseman await the winner of the Lane Estabrook vs. Shaprut-Minnetti match, while Cynthia Daley and Bobbi McNamara, the No. 3 seeds play Joan Miller and Kathy Hurley before advancing this event to the complete semi-finals.

If all goes well with the weather and those matches incompleted as of last Sunday, it is anticipated that all finals will be played on this Sunday, September 25 at the William S. Packer Courts. There is bound to be some stellar competition from now on, and all tennis buffs in Winchester are urged to attend the last series of matches, starting this Saturday. Appropriate prizes will be awarded all finalists.

A team KO's Melrose, 33-0

In their first Middlesex League encounter, the Winchester A team scored an easy victory over Melrose, 33-0.

The first score came on the second of offensive play of the game when halfback Ted Guthrie went off-tackle for a 52-yard run. Joe Donlon threw to Mark Merritt for the conversion.

Winchester's defense, which was outstanding for the second week in a row, never let Melrose get off the ground, and they were forced to punt.

This set the Winchester offense up on their own 25 yard line. Fullback Chris Rogers took off on an option play off-tackle for a 75-yard ramble for the second TD. The Donlon-Merritt combination completed another conversion, making the score 14-0.

In the second period, Rogers, on the receiving end of a Donlon pass, cruised 62 yards for his second TD of the day. Donlon-Merritt then did the job again.

The second half saw a repeat performance as Winchester's defense held ground, leaving Melrose in a few third-and-20-to-go situations.

On a modern version of the Flea Flicker, Chris Kelley passed to Donlon, who brought the ball down to the Melrose 5, which set up the fourth Winchester TD.

Two consecutive attempts by Mark Kenney brought the ball to the three yard line, and Adam Hirshman took it in for the score. This time the conversion failed, but the score was convincing enough at 33-0.

Winchester's offense was led by the fine running of Adam Hirshman (two TDs), Chris Rogers (two TDs), and Ted Guthrie (one TD). They were helped out considerably by the offensive line, which punched holes in the Melrose defense: Jim Feeley, Joe Russo, Joe Addelsberger, Pat Gill, Don Hoffman, Greg Kirk, Jeff Tinkel, Mark Merritt, and Chris Wagstrom.

Outstanding on defense were Ted Guthrie, Bill MacMillan, Dave Fariole, Mike Gately, Chris Kelley, Brian Guarnotta, Paul Bingel, and Tom Gibbons.

The next game is scheduled for Sunday at Manchester Field against Stoneham. Game times are: C team, 11 a.m.; B team, 12:30 p.m.; A team, 2 p.m.

Infant Saviour Guild starts season with mass

Starting the 1977-1978 season for the Winchester Chapter Guild of the Infant Saviour, there will be a memorial Mass for deceased members at St. Mary's Church, Tuesday, September 27, at 11. Miss Alice O'Leary, president, will welcome Guild members and guests.

Monsignor Eugene McNamara, M.S.W. spiritual director, will be the celebrant. Rev. Mark Sheehan will be the guest soloist, accompanied by Mrs. James Daschbach, a guild member, as organist. Following the Mass, luncheon will be served at the Winchester Country Club.

Miss Mary O'Connor is the chairperson, assisted by Mrs. Frederick Connor as co-chairperson.

Divinity school has courses for laity

Harvard Divinity School is offering opportunities for study to interested lay persons under its theological opportunities program.

The theme of the lectures and discussions this year will be Commitment in Faith and Friendship. The first, to be held Thursday, September 29, at 10 a.m., will center around the biblical view of commitment through surrender of self in community.

Information on the series is available by calling the school or by contacting Enid Schmuch, 69 Lowell St., Reading.

Ms. Moulton to be installed as Unit. minister-in-training

At the morning worship service this Sunday at the Winchester Unitarian Universalist Church, there will be a special celebration service installing Frances K. Moulton as the minister-in-training at the church. The Rev. Mr. C. Leon Hopper, director for ministerial education of the Unitarian Universalist Association in Boston will preach on "Nurturing the Authentic in Ministry and Church."

representatives of the Continental and local Liberal Religious Youth groups (LRY) will be participating with newly created prose and poetry.

Frances K. Moulton has been the professional religious educator for Youth and Adults in the Winchester Unitarian Church since Sept. 1, 1976. She expects ordination as a Unitarian Universalist parish minister in September, 1979 and is studying toward that goal through the independent study program of the Ministerial Fellowship Committee of the Unitarian Universalist Association, headquarters: 25 Beacon St., Boston. As a religious educator, she has served UU churches in Madison, Wisconsin, Arlington Street Church, Boston and Plainfield, N.J.

Gasior daughter

There will be music by Sara Benson, songwriter and poet, who has written a song especially for the occasion — "A Path with Heart." The Rev. Mr. Jack Zoerheide, minister of the church and Fran's supervising parish minister, members of the congregation and choir, and

Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Gasior (Deborah Joep) of Park Ridge, N.J. announce the birth of their daughter, Rebecca Jean, Aug. 31. The grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Walter J. Smith of Winchester and Mrs. Francis Gasior of Jacksonville, FL.

Final plans are being made for the bridge and whist party to be held Oct. 4 at St. Eulalia's Manion Hall at 8 p.m. Members of the Planning committee are, left to right, front row: Terry Daugherty, Ruby Cook, Al Pine and Marion Sacca; back row: Francis De Filippo, Fr. ### St. Mary's rel. ed. classes start soon Religious education classes for St. Mary's Parish will start the week of October 3, with the majority of the classes being held in the neighborhoods. Volunteer teachers are still needed for many of the classes, including those meeting in school. The school sessions meet at 3:15 and are dismissed at 4:15.

The Confirmation Program is a two-year course. Those wishing to join the program must be in at least the 8th grade and must register at the Religious Education Office no later than September 22 in preparation for the Investiture Ceremony which will take place Monday evening, October 3 at 7:30 in St. Mary's Church. Level II of the Confirmation Program (Grade 9) will have their first class the week of October 3.

All teachers, Grade 1-9, for the 1977-1978 Religious Education Program will attend an opening meeting on Tuesday evening, September 27, at 7:30 in St. Mary's Hall.

Chatterbox officers chosen for season

New officers were selected for the Chatterbox Club at a recent luncheon. Lena DeMinico is on the nominating committee and Mrs. Josephine Rallo is on the remembrance committee. Both are Winchester residents.

Cars will leave the Dix Street parking lot promptly at 10 a.m. and return by 3:20 p.m. Lunch will be served on the premises. The retreat will be chaired by the pastor, the Rev. Walter B. Davis, assisted by other members of the ministerial staff and by some lay leaders.

Congregationalists plan leaders weekend retreat

On Saturday, from 10 to 3 p.m., key leaders of the First Congregational Church will hold their annual fall retreat at the Farrington Memorial Center off Route 128 near the junction of Route 2.

Firearms stolen in two breaks

Fire arms were stolen two days in a row from a house broken into on Chester street. On Sept. 20, at 10:56 p.m. the owner of the house discovered two revolvers and $100 in 10 dollar bills missing. The following day a shotgun and a 22-rifle were stolen. The thief entered through a cellar window on both occasions.

In other police news, at 3:55 a.m. on Sept. 20, Malden police reported via intercity radio that they were chasing a brown Thunderbird into Winchester. Unfamiliar with Winchester roads, the Malden officers lost track of the vehicle.

One half hour later, Winchester police questioned a youth they found wandering around Winchester Center. They discovered that a warrant was outstanding from MDC police in Malden District Court, arrested the youth on the warrant, and turned him over to MDC police. The car was not found, but it was believed to have contained stolen property.

A 1973 Plymouth station wagon went off the road at 2:17 a.m. on Saturday and into a rock garden at 62 Ridge st. The vehicle, as well as the garden, were damaged extensively. Police were unable to locate the driver of the car, who was to be charged with leaving the scene of an accident. When questioned, the owner said that he did not know that his automobile had been stolen at the time of the accident.

Officer Francis Manzie sustained a back injury while chasing a man he found breaking into the Winchester Swim Club on Johnson road. At 12:32 a.m. on Sept. 22, he and Officer Yeannopolis chased the suspect until Officer Manzie caught his arm and foot in a fence and fell on his back. He was treated and released at Winchester Hospital. The suspect was not apprehended.

Police & K9 cope with crowds of local youths

Police were plagued by swarms of noisy local youths this weekend in several different areas around town.

Although this problem is not a new one, police were particularly active Friday and Saturday nights with incidents occurring at the Winchester Swim Club, the USA Rink, the GMC parking lot, Winchester High School, Parkhurst School, Muraco School, Harvard street, Cross street, and Bates road. The number of young people involved ranged from 10 to 40 or 50.

At 10:30 p.m. Friday, two officers and a K-9 dog faced a crowd of 40 or 50 neighborhood youths at the Winchester Swim Club. The dog ripped a boy's left sleeve when the boy walked too close to the handler. He was not injured.

At 1:55 a.m. Saturday morning, police responded to a report of loud noise in the high school parking lot. An unruly youth was arrested for idle and disorderly conduct.

A Winchester 16-year-old was apprehended in Medford by police there for trying to cash a stolen traveler's check. He was released in the custody of his parents and persisted in cashing more stolen checks in Stoneham. He was again released in his parents' custody. His final attempt at cashing the checks in various Winchester stores resulted in his being charged, along with a 15-year-old youth, with receiving stolen property.

Twelve-hundred dollars worth of traveler's checks were taken July 30 from a Lowell avenue building. When the boys were booked and searched, police found them to be in possession of narcotics and charged them with a narcotics violation. Both youths will be haled into juvenile court for larceny.

Sailboats moored by the shore near the Winchester Boat Club rest peacefully, some listing a bit more than others, as the season changes around them, passing from summer to fall. (Staff photo)

At selectmen's meeting

Five apply to conservation board

Selectmen were "very pleased indeed" to see five applicants for a vacancy on the conservation commission, Chairman Barbara S. Hankins said at the Monday night meeting of the board. Five potential conservation commissioners sat for interviews, although the board decided to postpone making a choice for two weeks. There is a chance that through technicalities another seat on the five member board may become vacant by that time.

John Looney, a town meeting member and life-long resident of Winchester, was the first to give his reasons for wanting to serve on the commission. He said that two problems were critical to the town, acquiring land and maintaining land from encroachment and destruction. Looney has worked on the successful Save the Park effort which retained the old Wadleigh School site as a park and on the unsuccessful attempt to acquire the so-called Moss property on the west side of town. Asked what his goals would be as a commissioner, Looney replied that he would like to acquire the Moss land, some land along the Aberjona near the transfer station, and some parcels on the west side.

Bruce Georgian, whose interest in conservation was expressed on the talent bank form sent to each household along with town meeting warrants, said he believes in a "strong, active conservation commission." An active member of the Bay State Divers, a marine preservation group, and of the Audubon Society, Georgian sees a main goal of the commission to be that of a watchdog, "picking up on the destruction of land and water and encouraging public comment." Georgian has lived in Winchester several years.

George Ciampa, who also submitted a talent bank form, is a lawyer for the Environmental Protection Agency who has lived in Winchester for a year. He said that "changes can't be prevented and the conservation commission has a role in guiding those changes to comport with the entire town."

Lewis Shattuck, another talent bank applicant, is an 11-year Winchester resident who said he sees an obligation as a citizen of the town to do something to help the town. He is the manager of the Smaller Business Association of New England and a native of Vermont. He said, "The commission should have a good cross-section of viewpoints. The

The adult education program will begin at the high school Oct. 11 and run for 10 weeks to Dec. 14. The school committee accepted a list of courses Monday night and raised the registration fee, beginning in the winter term, to $20 for residents and $25 for non-residents. Fees for this fall are $15 for both residents and non-residents.

The approved list of courses and teacher stipends amounts to a total of $4445, just under half of the $9050 budgeted for the whole year.

New courses in the program this fall include: Know your automobile, securities investing, techniques of CPR, "Play of the Hand" (a bridge course), bachelor cooking (for men and women), personal use of basic math principals, tailoring and alterations, perspectives on adolescence (no charge; this course will run four weeks beginning Oct. 26 and is sponsored by the Winchester Interagency Council), and conversational Spanish.

The courses are being offered Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday evenings between 7-10 p.m., and they vary in length from one and a half to three hours per evening. All classes will be held at Winchester High School.

Two courses especially in demand are the woodworking course, popular in the past, and the new automotive repair and maintenance course. These two will be taught in the high school shop area.

Other classes range from typing and shorthand to creative writing, cake decorating, macrame, sewing, instruction in French and Italian, tennis, yoga, photography, and the Creativity Workshop and dance exercise courses.

A number of courses have been dropped because the program directors could not find anyone to teach them. They hope to line up more new courses for the winter term, including self-defense for women, karate for

Enrollments uneven

Board votes more staffing for Mystic, Ambrose Schools

In response to please from two elementary school principals, the school committee approved additional staffing for the Ambrose and Mystic Schools Monday night.

The board voted to add one full-time teacher to the Ambrose staff for grades 1-3 and one full-time aide to the Mystic staff for grade 4. The net cost of the move is about $15,220, with the money to come from unallocated funds.

At the high school, the board agreed to expand instruction in German by one-fifth of a teacher position, drawing another $2,300 from unallocated monies. An unexpectedly large enrollment in German was the justification for adding a section, which expands teacher Susan Austin's position from a four-fifths to a full-time teacher.

The changes leave $22,486 left in unallocated funds for personal services.

Ambrose currently has one first grade of 22 students, a second section with 17 first graders and 12 second graders, and a third section of 31 second graders, with an aide working the latter two classes.

Principal Robert Forest argued that this arrangement leaves about 19 second graders working with the aide. He pointed out that the aide does not have responsibility for designing the educational program or for evaluating the performance of the students. And he noted that more attention should be given to the beginning students in the first grade.

Forest said the class with 17 first graders should be treated as a first grade class, which the school administration has decided should have a 22-1 pupil/teacher ratio, as opposed to the 25-1 ratio for grades 2-6.

"I feel the best we can do for Ambrose is to create two first grades," Forest said. The change would create two classes of first graders, one with 20, one with 19 students.

Board member Heinrich Holland was not at first convinced of the need: "It seems like you have taken the numbers of the five classes (in grades 1-3, two of which are over by some, and split them into six classes, which I don't think is kosher."

Frank was also opposed at first, noting that Ambrose as a whole is presently staffed at a somewhat higher level than called for by the established ratios.

However, one Ambrose parent argued that the first grade is an especially important year for the child, and he added that the situation for the same group of children in kindergarten last year "was not ideal."

Superintendent of Schools William MacDonald backed up Forest's recommendation, pointing out that, with the open classrooms at Ambrose, Forest is faced with 133 children on the same floor.

"What really convinced me," MacDonald said, "was the uniqueness of the whole situation." He explained that Forest is a teaching principal; that Ambrose is trying to accommodate an in-service course for teachers new to the open classroom; and that there is a lot of potential for new students enrolling in the first three grades, which could further crowd the situation.

"I believe Bob Forest is asking for the addition on the same basis as an aide was granted to the Vinson-Owen School two weeks ago," said V-0 Principal Clare Corcoran in support of Forest's request.

The committee was convinced: the final vote was unanimous.

In the case of the Mystic School, Principal Martha Grenzeback explained that one teacher for the fourth grade was out with an injury, and that a second teacher has been with the class since the start of the year. She said the substitute, a fully certified teacher with an MA and experience, would be willing to stay on as a full-time aide. If the position were voted.

"As a taxpayer I know a bargain when I see one," she said of the substitute. She noted, however, that if the board voted a half-time aide, which is what the raw numbers call for, the substitute would not take the job.

If the substitute left when the injured teacher returned to work, Mrs. Grenzeback noted that the students would be facing two teachers (the original teacher and the half-time aide) in the middle of the year. Of this situation, she said, "These children I think are going to suffer severe educational dislocation."

Supt. MacDonald nonetheless recommended only the half-time aide, saying, "The only reason for taking the hard-nosed approach is that there are a couple of other areas in town where we could take a look at the ratios." The superintendent feared that similar requests for additional staffing could "snowball" if the full-time position at Mystic were approved.

Committeeman Jack Noble differed. "If a group needs an aide in the morning, they need an aide in the afternoon," he said, adding, "I think we should accept the bargain."

"If we can possibly afford it we should give kids all the educational support we can," commented board member Constance Papas, who moved that a full-time aide be appointed.

The class in question has 29 students, including five students with learning disabilities, which Mrs. Grenzeback argued makes a greater demand on the teacher's time.

The final vote was 4-1, with Frank dissenting, stating, "I don't see this as an extenuating circumstance." He pointed out that, "When we vary from the formulas, we need to have a good reason" to justify not dealing with the schools on an entirely equal basis.

MacDonald presented the committee with a chart of ratios for classes in each of the elementary schools. The guidelines set by the administration are as follows:

For grade 1, a 22-1 ratio for all schools except Noonan, where the ratio is 21-1.

For grades 2-6, a 25-1 ratio at Ambrose, Lincoln, Mystic, Parkhurst, and Vinslon-Owen; a 24-2-1 ratio at Muraco; a 21-1 ratio at Noonan; and a 22-6-1 ratio at Wshington.

Shore rd. 1-way

Beginning Monday, Shore road will be one-way OUT from the rotary. Right turns from Skillings road at the high school onto Shore road will be forbidden.

Along with the 60-day test making the street one way, there will be a change in parking procedure, with lines being painted allowing for 60 degree angle parking for one hour.

Safety Officer John W. McKinley cautions motorists to remember the temporary change. There will be an officer at the intersection of Shore road and Skillings road to assist in making the transition.

Hospital training workers in basic life-support skills

Winchester Hospital recently began a program to certify all employees in basic life-support skills. The program includes instruction in CPR, cardio-pulmonary resuscitation.

Employees learn the skills of cardiac massage, mouth-to-mouth resuscitation, and obstructed airway management. At the conclusion of the classes, participants are tested on their skills, and if they pass, are certified by the American Heart Association.

"We have many employees who already have these skills," explained Carl Olson, RN, whose inservice education department is implementing the program. "Our nurses have all been trained in CPR, and taking this course makes it possible for them to be certified."

One group of hospital employees has already completed the course. After passing the certification in basic life-support, they went through the instructor certification course, and are now teaching the members of their own departments.

Dr. Edward Haley, chairman of the department of anesthesiology, has completed his instructor certification and will be able to certify members of the medical staff.

Employees will practice their skills on Resuscite-Anne, a life-sized mannequin who responds when the proper technique is used. Slidefilms and discussions will complete the instruction. Course participants will know the correct way to perform CPR on an adult and on a child, and will be able to correctly remove an obstruction from a patient's airway.

"Not only is this knowledge helpful in a patient emergency," commented Olson, "But it is useful anywhere. Our employees will be capable of performing CPR in any emergency."

Barbara Antonini, right, who has been teaching cardio-pulmonary resuscitation to Winchester Hospital employees, had a chance to use her skills recently. She was attending a bridal shower when another woman there had a heart attack and collapsed. Ms. Antonini and another guest reacted quickly, performed CPR on the woman, and revived her. Above, she watches as students practice on Resuscite-Anne.

The rainy, dismal skies last Saturday refused to dampen the spirits of the die-hard Sacem fans as they sat through a sogging, see-saw match with Burlington at the Burlington High field. They were rewarded though, as Winchester came out on top, 7-6. (Staff photo)

Town Hall lot closed for fair

The Town Hall parking lot will be closed from midnight on Friday, Oct. 7, until Saturday, Oct. 8 at 5 p.m. This is to allow the Winchester Jaycee-ettes to hold their rescheduled ninth annual flea market, which opens at 9 a.m. to the general public and at 8 a.m. for dealer set-up.

The Schemette cheerleaders managed to keep a leg up on a clammy day in Burlington Saturday. They cheered through the rain and Winchester won, 7-6.

★ Staffing

In the kindergartens, up to 25 students make up one session with a half-time teacher; 26-30 is one session with a half teacher and a half aide; 31-50 is two sessions with one full-time teacher; 51-62 in two sessions with one teacher and one aide; and 63-75 is three sessions with one-and-a-half teacher positions.

MacDonald noted that in many instances the actual pupil-teacher ratio is lower than the guidelines. He explained that even when the ratios are low enough to demand a reduction in staffing to conform to the formula, teaching assignments have already been made and by contract cannot be rescinded.

He cited the Washington kindergarten as an example, where the 29 students, 10 less than forecast, are divided into groups of 11 and 18 children.

Another position which does not fit the actual numbers, again because of an unexpected drop in enrollment, is a half-time aide in the Ambrose kindergarten.

In other staffing matters, the board approved two new teachers, one head teacher, and two new teacher aides.

Elected to a one-fifth position at Lynch Junior High School as a physical education instructor was Mark S. Duggan. He will be responsible for a special education PE class at the school. He has taught in the SEEM class and as an special needs instructor at Lynch.

Sandra L. Fulchino was appointed to a two-fifths position at the high school to teach business. She has substituted in Winchester since 1976.

Named as head teacher for the Washington School was Michael A. Marino, teacher in grades 5 and 6 at Washington since 1973.

Assigned as teacher aides were Steven C.

Roderick, who will work in the science department at the high school; and Mrs. Margaret M. Sexton, who will work in grades 2 and 3 at the Vinson-Owen School. Mrs. Sexton taught grade 1 at the Noonan School from 1963-68 and has served here as a special needs instructor.

McCall science teacher Julie P. Coughlan has resigned as an aide to take on another position.

In another enrollment snafu, the committee voted an additional $3000 for transportation for kindergarten students. Apparently because of an unusual distribution of the students, two buses rather than one are necessary to get the students to school on time in the morning.

Explorers open house at WPD Tues.

The Law Enforcement Explorers are having an open house Tuesday at 7 p.m. at the Winchester Police Station, 30 Mt. Vernon St.

The Explorers program is for Winchester youths aged 14-21 interested in learning more about the functions of the police department. The program has been in existence for one year.

Some of the activities that the youths have participated in include: fingerprinting, photography, an emergency driving course at a skid school, tours of a state police crime lab, the Middlesex County Jail, and emergency room facilities, first aid instruction and firearm training.

For anyone interested in joining the group, there will be a few short demonstrations Tuesday, including the K-9 patrol, self defense, fingerprinting and photography.

If you have any questions, call either Officer James Pierce or John McKinley, 729-1212.

Recycling cans

The Reynolds Aluminum Recycling Company has changed its regular monthly mobile unit schedule. Local recyclers should take their aluminum beverage cans and clean household aluminum products to:

Burlington Mall by Jordan Marsh Oct. 12 from 2-3 p.m.; Northshore Shopping Center in front of Sears, Peabody Oct. 5 & 19 from 2-3 p.m.

For information on aluminum recycling call (toll-free) 1-800-243-6000.

Coopbank has new officers

The Winchester Cooperative Bank has three newly appointed officers, effective Oct. 1.

George L. Billman will be president and executive officer; Edward E. Goodwin will be treasurer of the bank; and Elizabeth A. Kehoe will be mortgage administrative officer and assistant treasurer. The announcement was made by Chairman Henry L. Clark.

Goodwin is a graduate of Winchester School. He attended Northeastern University and Business School, Boston Chapter No. 59 of the American Savings and Loan Institute, and is a graduate of the Savings Bank School for Supervisory Personnel.

He is currently a member of the Board of the Winchester Chapter of the American Red Cross, the Winning Farm, and the Winchester Rotary Club.

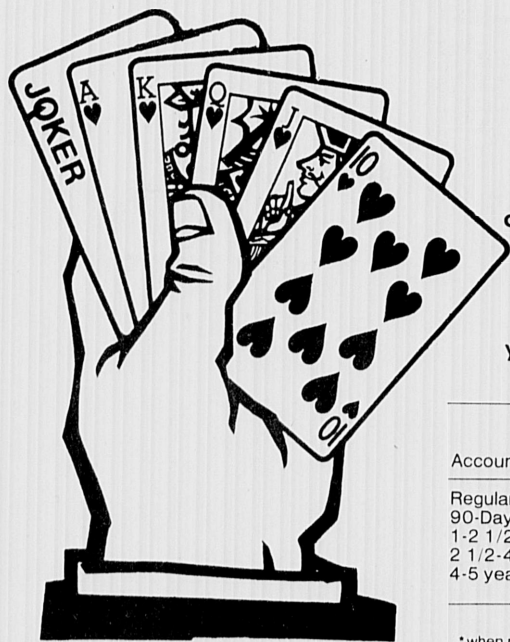

Goodwin has been a board member of the Winchester Rotary Club since 1972, and was chairman of the Rotary auction in 1976 and 1977. In 1976 he was selected to be Rotarian of the Year.

Goodwin joined the staff of the Winchester Cooperative Bank in June 1968 and was elected assistant treasurer in February 1972.

Miss Kehoe lives in Winchester, is a life-long resident of Winchester, and is a graduate of Winchester High School. She came to the bank in 1956 and has completed the full course requirements of the Boston Chapter No. 59 of the American Savings and Loan Institute.

She has served the full term on the board of directors of the institute and has completed her diploma certificate courses of the Graduate School of Savings and Loans in Bloomington, Ind.

Candidates to speak at GOP women's buffet

The annual candlelight buffet, sponsored by the Women's Republican Club of Winchester, will be held at the Church of the Epiphany Wednesday at 6:30 p.m.

The event, to which all are welcome, offers an opportunity for townspeople to hear "The Candidates—Looking to 1978." Mrs. Herbert T. Wadsworth is chairman of the buffet.

Along with candidates for governor and state treasurer will be Rep. Sherman W. Saltmarsh Jr., Winchester's representative to the General Court. Saltmarsh is serving on the legislative research council, the special committee on redistricting, the committee on interstate cooperation, the transportation committee, and the committee on banks and banking.

Three potential Republican candidates for governor will be on hand: Middlesex County Sheriff John J. Buckley, Rep. Francis W. Hatch Jr. (from the Third Essex District), and Edward F. King, businessman and founder and director of the Citizens for Limited Taxation.

For the state office of treasurer, Lewis S.W. Crampton will also address the group. An announced candidate, Crampton has served as commissioner of the Mass. Department of Community Affairs from 1973-75. During the past year he was special consultant to the House and authored the "Crampton Report" on legislation personnel reform.

Buckley has been sheriff for seven years. He formerly was director of the Mass. Council on Crime and Correction and is a member of the New England Citizens Crime Commission.

Rep. Hatch has been in office since 1962 and has been floor leader since 1971. He authored the Hatch Act of 1975 which outlines protection for the state's wetlands.

A member of the Republican State Committee for eight years, King has been active in three successful attempts to defeat proposed constitutional amendments for a state graduated income tax.

WEA, board settle issue of stipends

The Winchester School Committee and the Winchester Education Association (WEA) have reached agreement on a number of issues left over from the contract signed earlier this year.

The two groups settled on stipends for reading coordinator, head teacher, core team chairperson, and coaches for girls' sports.

The reading coordinator will receive a $1150 stipend; head teachers will get $1200; and the core team chairperson will receive $750.

Star to hold publicity talks Oct. 5th, 13th

As a public service, The Star will hold two meetings for publicity chairmen to discuss questions about press releases and pictures. The meetings will be held at 7 p.m., Oct. 5 and again at 10 a.m. Oct. 13 in the meeting room of the Winchester Public Library.

We will have a printed publicity guide available. Publicity persons from any local organizations—including clubs and schools—and other interested persons are invited to attend.

Minor injuries sustained in local accidents

Firemen responded to several traffic accidents last week.

At 7:54 p.m. on Sept. 19, a man was injured in a motorcycle accident at Church and Oxford streets. An ambulance took John Olivadotti to Winchester Hospital where he was treated and released. Engine 2 washed gasoline from the road.

Henry Shaw Jr. of Plato Terrace was treated and released at Symmes Hospital following a two-car accident at Cambridge and Wildwood streets. The accident occurred at 9:04 a.m. on Sept. 21.

Another car accident was reported Sunday at 1:34 a.m. on Everett street. A car driven by Guy Blasi of Clematis street hit an Edison pole. Blasi was treated at Winchester Hospital and released.

Firefighters extinguished several small blazes in Winchester during the week. A 1973 Dodge Dart was totally destroyed by fire on East street. Firemen responded to the call at 10:13 p.m. on Friday. On the following day at 11:33 a.m., the department received a call reporting a building fire on Cross street. Upon arrival, they found a small fire in a waiting shelter of the railroad station.

Also over the weekend, Engine 4, the rescue squad, and Ladder 1 attended to a fireplace fire at Fernway street. The fire at 11:59 a.m. Sunday was caused in the chimney by a poor draft.

Firemen this week were testing hose in the back of the station. It will take them seven or eight days to complete the check of all the hose used by the department. The pressure is tested in each hose and old hose is being replaced with new equipment.

The relaxed concentration needed for "The Inner Game of Tennis" as well as for the art of acting is sought in a creativity workshop at the Winchester Adult Education program by John Wojdowski, Rodney Wilson, Polly Keppler, Marilyn Ailshie, Tony DaCosta (on floor), Carol Brink and Terry DaCosta. The workshop process, described in the accompanying article, is an example of the many courses offered through the adult ed. program. (Staff photo)

Creativity workshop offered as part of adult education

From tennis players seeking the "Inner Game" to ball players desiring to warm up instead of to wear out the body, sports enthusiasts are discovering the benefits of yoga.

In the arts, theater groups aiming to create their own relevant works instead of reproducing commercial hits have been tuning their instruments—their bodies—with yoga. For teachers and group leaders of all age levels the workshop offers specific techniques to stimulate the learning process.

The ten week workshop begins Oct. 11, from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. at Winchester High School. Registrations, which will be limited to 16, are now accepted by mail as announced elsewhere in this issue. If space is still available, individuals may register in person at the high school on Oct. 5 and 6.

Further information on the Creativity Workshop may be obtained from adult education brochures available at the Winchester Public Library or from Paulett Taggart, Winchester Drama Workshop, 17 Ridgfield rd.

★ Selectmen

Farrell, chairman of the board, of his intention to resign but the technicality of writing the town clerk has not yet been realized. When it is, there will be two vacancies and the selectmen are hoping to fill both at the same time.

First indications Monday night were that Clampa, Looney, and Ward are in the running, each having been nominated and seconded. Selectmen Edward O'Connell was not in attendance and the board put off the vote until he could participate. Three votes are needed to make the appointment.

In other matters, the board set up collective bargaining teams to work on negotiations for new contracts with the three groups who will be undergoing talks. Arthur Dunbar and Richard Wilsack will work on the Town Employees Association contract; Richard Wilsack and Edward O'Connell on the police negotiations; and Dunbar and Harry Chelaro on the clerical association contract.

Should a firefighters contract come up for negotiation, O'Connell and Chelaro will represent the board of selectmen.

The board appointed Department of Public Works Director Walter J. Tonasuck to the vacancy on the three-member town forest committee, at the recommendation of committee member Stephen Parkhurst. Traditionally, there has been representation

Correction

In a story in last week's Star, it was incorrectly reported, on the basis of a police report, that John Piantedosi, 23, of Olde Village drive, was found guilty in Woburn District Court Sept. 14 of malicious damage to property.

There was in fact no finding at all, and Piantedosi's case was continued until Sept. 14, 1978. Piantedosi is not, as was stated last week, on probation for a year. There was a $200 court fee imposed, as reported.

Wine with dinner

In order to brighten Winchester's future and encourage business in the center, to say nothing of providing first class food and drink, this town is going to have to have a restaurant with a license to sell wine and beer. The chance is coming, maybe very soon, to see just that happen.

There are two ways of creating an oasis of good living in the midst of a dry town. One is to gather signatures asking the secretary of state to place four questions on the ballot at the next state election. The town would vote on each of the four and then the licenses could be granted to appropriate applicants.

Note the plural "licenses," because under this method, if five percent of the registered voters in the last election sign the petition, the secretary of state will put these rather wide-ranging questions to the voters: Option A to allow the sale of all alcoholic beverages in town. Option B to issue licenses for the sale of wine and beer. Option C to allow the sale of all alcoholic beverages in packages. Option D to issue licenses for the sale of all beverages in hotels with a dining room of at least 99 seats and lodging capacity of not less than 50 rooms.

The Alcoholic Beverages Control Commission says that there may be one such license for each 1000 residents in town. There is a population in Winchester of 23,000. Figure it out yourself.

With a petition of ten percent of the voters, Option E may also be put to the voters. Option E allows the sale of alcoholic beverages in restaurants and function rooms with a seating capacity of not less than 100. That one would be hard to find in Winchester.

So we have to turn to the second method of securing a license for liquor in a restaurant of high quality in the center of town.

Selectman Richard Wilsack is working on that one and with a great deal of luck, the town meeting warrant may include an article to that effect.

It works this way: The board of selectmen sponsors an article giving very, very specific restrictions to the issuance of as many licenses as they see fit, presumably a number fewer than, let's say two or three. For example, the town meeting could vote on allowing the sale of beer and wine in a restaurant to be located no more than 500 feet from the center of town, with a seating capacity of at least 50, which serves first class food.

The town meeting then approves the article and the next step is to send the approved article to the state legislature. That body approves the article verbatim and by special act under section 8 of the home rule amendment returns the question to the voters of Winchester at the next state election. There could be provision allowing the referendum at the next town election, an earlier event.

The town at large approves the question and applicants begin filing for their license with the board of selectmen.

There are several difficulties with this method, but The Star hopes to see it pursued to fruition.

First, it is the opinion of town counsel that a backer of the article is an absolute must before the state legislature would find the question acceptable. Wilsack is trying to locate persons who have previously expressed an interest in acquiring a good restaurant here in the hopes that one of them would be willing to say, "Yes, if the state passes this special act I would certainly want to apply for a license." There is no guarantee, of course, that that applicant will be the one granted the license because once passed, the article will allow anyone with the qualifications to apply to the licensing authority. But without someone specifically interested, the article will fail.

The second problem with this method is the lack of future control by the selectmen in the case of revocation or failure to renew a license already in existence. Should Restaurant Owner A turn out to run a crummy place and the police complain and the neighbors don't like it, and the whole thing is a mess, the selectmen have the option not to renew A's license to sell liquor, or to revoke it.

Owner A can, however, appeal to the ABCC. The ABCC has the final say in whether the license should be returned to the owner. Let's say, for example, the selectmen interview Owner A who wants to open a good place in town, he meets the requirement that there have to be 100 seats in his restaurant, and he looks like a good businessman who will benefit the town. The board gives him the license.

The next week he decides to turn half his restaurant into a shoe store. He no longer meets the specific requirements and the selectmen revoke his license to sell. Owner A can go to the ABCC who decide he's a good guy, doing a good business, not hurting anyone. They can give him his license back and the board can't do a thing about it.

It is incumbent upon the selectmen, the licensing authority, to be darned careful about what they do and to write into the article to begin with a limited number of allowable licenses. That way, if there should be trouble, it might be limited to only one or two places and not run wild with 14 or 15.

We wish Wilsack well in his pursuit of upgrading this town. A fine restaurant selling fine wine to complement a dinner or lunch has a place in Winchester. The clientele is here.

We need it, but we caution the board and the town meeting to look carefully at the wording of an article. — KLW-F

Pictorial editorial

Sophomore social studies classes at the high school have been getting tours of the library over the past two weeks in order to orient them to the resources available and explain the different purposes of the various sections within the library. Students have been getting tested on the information given them on the tours, information they will be using throughout their three years at the high school.

In the stove

EDITOR OF THE STAR:

As my temporary appointment to the Winchester Police Department comes to an end, I would publicly thank a few members of the department for their helpfulness and cooperation. Regrettably, I am unable to mention these individuals by name, because of the harassment which they would experience at the hands of a much larger number of fellow officers who have clearly demonstrated their opinion that "a woman's place is in the stove."

Charter changes

EDITOR OF THE STAR:

The town meeting's Committee on Government Regulations is now in the process of considering changes in our town charter and/or by-laws.

The committee urges all citizens who have any suggestions for changes to communicate these to the committee. Committee meetings have been scheduled for Thursday, Oct. 6, and Thursday, Oct. 20, at 7:30 p.m. at the Town Hall.

In addition to its regular meetings, the committee plans to hold two public hearings, probably during the period from November through January.

Persons who are unable to present their ideas to the committee in person, may mail them to: Committee on Government Regulations, David S. Mortensen, Chairman, Town Hall, Winchester.

Curriculum

EDITOR OF THE STAR:

A committee of parents, teachers, and administrators has been established to prepare a report for the school committee on the perceived strengths and weaknesses of the present Winchester curriculum.

The committee, under the guidance of Dr. Walter Gleason, the assistant superintendent for curriculum, will make a telephone survey of a sampling of parents at all grade levels.

The survey will be done during the month of October. We would appreciate your cooperation.

Rescheduled

EDITOR OF THE STAR:

As most of you noticed, it rained last Saturday causing us to postpone the Winchester Jaycee-ettes' ninth annual flea market. It has been rescheduled for Saturday, October 8 at the Town Hall parking lot from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. All dealers have been notified that their reservations will be good at that time. To the general public who came before it rained, I extend an invitation to revisit us on October 8. To all the loyal Jaycee-ettes and Jaycees, I extend my most sincere thanks for helping to set up and dismantle.

The prize donated by Koko Boodakian &

Sons, a 3 x 5 Bengal rug, will be awarded at 4 p.m. at the close of the flea market on Oct. 8.

Strict enforcement

EDITOR OF THE STAR:

As a resident of Bacon street, I read with interest the proposal of TOPICS to improve the traffic flow through certain critical areas of town by schemes to widen the roads and also of the related problem of heavy and dangerous traffic along Wildwood street.

It seems to me that Winchester ought not to embark on such plans to increase the flow of traffic through town. While it might seem that such changes could perhaps reduce traffic congestion at certain key intersections, and partially eliminate the flow of cars alongside roads such as Wildwood, seeking to bypass those areas, I suggest that far from curing the problem, such action would only worsen the situation.

The net result of any scheme to increase traffic flow, would merely be to encourage a greater volume of traffic through Winchester, thus aggravating an already difficult problem. These plans would only benefit those who use the town as a throughway, not the residents of Winchester. The problem of speeding and dangerous driving would still be with us since nothing would be done to deter those drivers. The only solution to this problem is the one outlined by the chief of police, namely the strict enforcement of traffic laws.

Why spoil our lovely residential town by even more traffic? Let's make it into a place where people can ride bicycles safely and enjoy quiet walks through our beautiful streets.

Health costs

EDITOR OF THE STAR:

National Health Insurance had better be forthcoming in January. We can't put everything on the President because Congress has to OK this I am told.

How would our grand men like to be wiped out and in debt for years because of high hospital expenses? All of these fine fellows go to a government hospital. No fee.

I know a man who was very successful and all of a sudden his wife became ill. You wouldn't believe, even with insurance and a good job, how he almost lost everything he had worked hard for, for years. Even his credit was gone because he couldn't pay the hospitals and doctors when they wanted him to.

This is just one case. If you think at all, you know how long our elderly live, mostly women. They outlive their mates by 20 years. Too bad, too. You should visit some of our rest homes where our elderly are. They need visitors, also. Why not spend some time with these old folks.

Our bigwigs have it so easy they couldn't believe what real poverty is until they get their lazy selves up out of their easy chairs and look around.

Sorry to be so blunt, but these "haves" do not care about the "have nots."

Town watch...

Warrant closes Oct. 7th

By The Observer

In the course of their regular Monday night meeting, selectmen scanned the list of potential warrant articles for the fall town meeting beginning November 7. Not all items will be included, however, because some of the boards and persons involved have not gotten their information together enough to present the article.

The board is sitting in special meeting next Friday morning at 8 for the express purpose of closing the warrant. Unless they get those articles in, and darn soon, they can't approve them for inclusion in the warrant.

A reminder: town meeting can't vote on something that's not there. Get your article to the selectmen by Monday.

Applications for $3,500 artists fellowships in filmmaking, video art, music composition, and choreography are now available at the Massachusetts Arts and Humanities Foundation.

Any artist who is a resident of Massachusetts over 18 years of age, and not enrolled as a student is eligible to apply to the Artists Fellowship Program. Applications must be completed and returned to the foundation office by 5 p.m., Monday, October 17. Several fellowships will be awarded in each field. Applications for visual artists and creative writers will be available in January 1978.

Applicants must submit samples of their work demonstrating a high level of accomplishment. Filmmakers submit up to two films; video artists submit an hour's worth of tape; composers submit two pieces of music; and choreographers may audition or submit a video tape of their work. Panels of out-of-state artists in each field will select the fellowship recipients solely according to the quality of the work. Project proposals are not required of either applicants or recipients.

The Artists Fellowship Program is one of several programs administered by the Massachusetts Arts and Humanities Foundation Inc., a non-profit organization in Boston that assists individual creative artists in Massachusetts. The Foundation is supported by funds from the National Endowment for the Arts, the Massachusetts Council on the Arts and Humanities, and local public and private sources. Applications may be obtained by writing to the Artists Fellowship Program, Massachusetts Arts and Humanities Foundation, 14 Beacon st., Boston, 02108.

School Superintendent William C. MacDonald reported to the school committee Monday night that part of the large decline in enrollments this year can be explained by students moving out of town or going off to private school.

A total of 64 students either moved away or were held back from kindergarten for another year, according to MacDonald. The superintendent said the 38 students going off to private schools was "about average" for the last five year period and for comparable communities.

Of the 64 or so moving away, he said "only a handful moved to communities right in the area, and a significant number moved some distance."

He then commented, "What this proves, I don't know." When someone remarked sarcastically that perhaps the students had been driven far away, MacDonald replied, "Maybe they had to go a long way to find a better school system."

1-800-922-8265, the Energy Phone, a toll-free telephone service offered to Massachusetts consumers by the Energy Policy Office, will open today at 10:30 a.m. in the Robert Hutchings Goddard Library at Clark University, Worcester.

The Energy Phone will offer service seven days weekly, including holidays, from 9 a.m. - 9 p.m. It will be staffed by energy students from Clark University and Worcester Polytechnic Institute.

The Energy Phone, part of the state's long-range energy conservation plan, is funded by the Federal Energy Administration.

They say you can tell a long, cold winter by the length of the woolly bear's hair. In Winchester you can tell when the police put on their winter uniforms.

The change from comfortable summery to the winter blues (take that any way you wish) this week, means the end of summer.

Fall in, with spirit

By David Funkhouser

It started out as such a dismal day. Grey, rainy, clammy — made for reading, doing the laundry, generally hanging out like a big lump of lichen on a log.

The spirit was hard-pressed to be moved. But there were pictures to take and a football game to catch out in Burlington. Fifteen minutes was spent over a second cup of coffee trying to remember if they ever called high school games because of rain.

Then one of fall's inimitable — ideals hits home: Are you kidding? In order to stop a football game, it takes weather cold enough to freeze the knees. And then I wondered, what does it take to stop a football fan?

Grumbling all the way I drove out 3A to Varsity Field in Burlington, wiping slapping. These folks must be nuts, I thought, to sit there in this downpour for two-and-a-half hours. Grunt.

All hunched up, camera tucked beneath the raincoat, I walked around the track to the Winchester side, kids filing by on their way to some rendezvous or other behind the stands, soaking wet, laughing. Hmm.

Over by the hotdog stand, at halftime, folks were smiling through their slickers, cradling steaming cups of coffee and trying to make the best of the weather.

Then the band walked past, half of them dressed in uniforms alone with no jackets for cover, showing off the red and black, their hair drenched and stuck to their foreheads, water dripping down the backs of their necks. They didn't seem to mind the rain so much.

Up in the stands sat the hard-core element — mothers and fathers, friends and girlfriends, brothers and sisters. Umbrellas were out, and hats and plastic bags, and a lot of the folks up there had already given up and just sat there, trying to ignore wet seats and chilled spines.

You couldn't tell much about how they all felt at halftime, except, well, they were there.

Then the two teams came out from the locker rooms, and a swarm of shrill sounds rose into the damp, hanging air over the field and went out to greet the players. People filtered back from the hotdog tent and the cheerleaders threw off their jackets and started leaping around, flapping their pom-poms and urging the crowd to SPEAK UP A LITTLE.

The players, mud clinging to uniforms and shirts hanging out, shoes dark with water, splashed back and forth on the sidelines. On the opposite side I could see a pair of kids on crutches hobbling back and forth, shouting to get out on the field themselves and make the play go right.

By the kickoff I forgot the rain, remembered past games in past falls, stomped my feet a bit in the mud and even on a crummy Saturday at the end of summer, the spirit came back.

Red Cross plans record four visits of bloodmobile in Oct.

For the first time in its history the Winchester chapter of the American Red Cross has set up four visits of the bloodmobile in one month. These visits will all take place in the month of October and all are open to any Red Cross blood donor.

St. Eulalia's Church, the Sons of Italy, the Church of the Epiphany, and the First Congregational Church, acting jointly, and the Independent Order of Elks will host these bloodmobile visits.

Anyone in good health, between the ages of 18 and 65 (17 with parental permission) and weighing at least 110 pounds may donate blood at any of these bloodmobile visits.

The bloodmobile dates, times of appearance, sponsors, and recruiters are as follows:

Wednesday, October 5
St. Eulalia's Church, 2 to 7:30 p.m.
Recruiters are Dr. and Mrs. Robert Carey.

Saturday, October 8
Sons of Italy Hall, Swanton street, 12 to 5 p.m. Recruiter is Mr. Gus Baldacci.

Sunday, October 16
At the Red Cross chapter house, 11 to 3 p.m. Sponsored by the Church of the Epiphany with recruiters Mr. and Mrs. James Bourne, and by the First Congregational Church, with recruiter Mrs. Lawrence Pica.

Saturday, October 22
Elks Hall, 375 Cambridge st., 10 to 3:30 p.m. Recruiter is Mr. John Mawn.

Appointments for any of these bloodmobile visits may be made by telephoning the Red Cross chapter house, 729-2300, or the recruiter for the bloodmobile.

Adventures offers concerts for kids

Winchester's elementary school parents and children are again being offered Adventures In Music via a popular series of concerts created by Zoom's Newton Wayland.

The AIM season will begin in October with the all percussion concert "Bing! Bang! Bong!" Wind chimes, brake drums, kettle drums, tuned cow bells and marimbas will clash, boom and bang as Mr. Wayland leads the audience on a fascinating tour of bang-em instruments. In November the ever favorite Pickwick Puppet Theatre will present "Arabian Nights." The music of Rimsky-Korsakov's "Scheherazade" will provide the background for the marvelous story. In February an all-Prokofiev program will be presented featuring "Peter and the Wolf" acted and narrated by six of T.V.'s Zoomers. The final concert in April features student composers, instrumentalists and dancers in "The Comedians" by Dmitri Kabalevsky.

Ticket arrangements are being handled by Mrs. Cynthia Horn, 275 Cross St. Publicity chairman is Mrs. Neil Anderson, 19 Edgehill Rd., and Town Chairman is Mrs. Gregory Lynch, 31 George Rd.

If you would like to receive study material before the concerts and at the same time help with the continually escalating cost of these

Rogers home from hospital after accident

Fifteen-year-old William Rogers of 55 Wedgemere avenue has apparently gotten the upper hand in his battle to recover from severe head injuries suffered when the bicycle he was riding was struck by a car on the night of August 22.

Rogers, who sustained a double fracture of the skull as well as a cracked pelvis, was released from Beth Israel Hospital last Wednesday and is recuperating at home, according to his mother, Lee Grant Rogers.

Ms. Rogers, overwhelmed by expressions of concern from literally hundreds of friends, reports that her son's life very likely depended on the fact that he had been in training during the spring to try out for the high school football team. Doctors at Beth Israel said he was in excellent shape.

Selectmen will consider a final vote on the controversial TOPICS program Monday night. One of the intersections which might be renovated is Cambridge and Wildwood streets, where an accident occurred Sept. 21 involving two cars. One man was taken to Winchester Hospital, treated and released. Here Winchester firefighters place the man on stretcher prior to putting him in the ambulance; the brooms are for sweeping the glass off the street. (Staff photo)

Girl Scouts plan equipment resale Tuesday afternoon

The annual Girl Scout uniform and equipment resale will be held at the home of Marretta Bruno, 7 Washington st. Tuesday from 10 a.m. - 5 p.m.

Take items to be sold to Mrs. Bruno by Monday. Persons selling uniforms and/or equipment may retain the proceeds or donate the money to a particular troop or to the Winchester Community Girl Scout Association.

Mini college

Every Wednesday after school at 2:30 p.m. in the cafeteria of Winchester High School, the Guidance Office will be conducting a Mini-College Program to which all high school students and their parents are invited.

On Oct. 5, the following institutions will be represented: Bowdoin College (Maine), Catholic University of America (Washington, DC), Colby-Sawyer College (New Hampshire), University of Chicago (Illinois), Columbia University (New York City), Mitchell College (Connecticut), New England College (New Hampshire), Quinnipiac College (Connecticut).

On Oct. 12, admissions representatives from the following institutions plan to attend:

Andover Junior College, Bryant College (Rhode Island), Holliston Junior College, University of Lowell, Massachusetts Maritime Academy, Nichols College, Notre Dame College (New Hampshire), Princeton University (New Jersey), Ripon College (Wisconsin), Salem College (West Virginia), Springfield College, University of Vermont, Wentworth Institute.

19 WHS students commended by NMSC

High school principal, Vincent E. Larocco reports that 19 senior students at Winchester High School have achieved commended student status in the 23rd annual (1978) National Merit Scholarship Program.

This honor is the result of each student's outstanding performance on the Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test-National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test (PSAT-NMQST) which was administered nationwide to high school juniors in October 1976.

Letters of Commendation were presented to Emily K. Bloch, Robert J. Brosnan, Daniel Chen, Ann M. Cowgill, Stephen E. Deininger, Susan E. Doron, John F. Fairbanks, Mark S. Krikorian, Christopher E. Landry, Maria Leydon, Gary J. Martin, Thomas J. Mitchell, Timothy R. Morgan, Warren Mouradian, George F. Parker, John Rule, Barbara A. Slattery, Karen J. Vrotsos, and Stephen J. Watts.

A total of approximately 35,000 Commended students throughout the United States are being honored by the National Merit Scholarship Corporation (NMSC) which administers the yearly scholarship competition. Students in this group represent less than two per cent of the total of graduating US secondary school seniors. Although these students scored slightly below the level required for Merit Program participants who were named semifinalists and who will continue in the competition for Merit Scholarships to be awarded in 1978, each commended student has demonstrated exceptional academic promise.

Commended students do not continue in the Merit Scholarship competition, but to increase their opportunities for college admission and financial aid NMSC has offered each an opportunity to have identifying information sent by the corporation to two higher education institutions selected by the student. In addition, NMSC makes it possible for all regionally accredited US colleges and universities to receive home addresses for commended students, on a cost basis, so that an institution may contact any of these promising young men and women directly.

held Wednesday at 9 a.m., and leaders may also refresh by accompanying this walk.

The entrance used is located at the corner of N. Gateway and Ox Pasture. Call Fran VerPlanck for further information.

Curtain and Cue fall production is 'The Madwoman of Chaillot'

Winchester High School's Curtain and Cue Drama Society will present Jean Giraudoux's two-act comedy, "The Madwoman of Chaillot" on Friday, October 28 and Saturday, October 29 at 8 p.m. in the Winchester High School Auditorium. This play is a fantasy about an eccentric aristocrat who saves Paris and the earth from the corruption of greed.

Three productions are planned for this school year. In addition to the October presentation of "The Madwoman of Chaillot", there will be a musical in cooperation with the Winchester High School music department in March. The final production of this school year will be presented in May. The Curtain and Cue will also take part in a drama festival sponsored by the Boston Globe in the spring. Any Winchester High School student who is interested in the various aspects of play production is eligible for membership in the Curtain and Cue. The director and advisor for the drama society is Mrs. Hester Keller. Tickets will be available at the door on the evenings of the performances or in advance from members of the Curtain and Cue.

Field trip is Sunday to Essex for history buffs

The Winchester Historical Society has planned a field trip for Sunday afternoon to the Essex Institute in Salem. The leader will be Allen Hill, well-known consultant in the field of architectural preservation.

The Institute, founded in 1848, has a large collection of manuscripts, graphic materials, furniture and paintings associated with the history of Essex County. There will also be a tour of interesting houses on the institute's grounds, including the John Ward House built in 1684, the Crowninshield-Bentley House dating from 1727, and the Gardner Pingree House from the early 19th century.

Those interested in joining the field trip, which will leave the Archival Center on High street at 12:30 on Sunday afternoon should call Mrs. Harold Gould of 21 Jefferson rd. for reservations or further information.

William G. Brink of Winchester received a doctor of chiropractic degree from the Logan College of Chiropractic in Missouri. Brink was among 96 DC recipients who completed nine semesters of classes and a 16-month internship in the college's outpatient clinic.

Field hockey drops two to Melrose and Wakefield

By Kelly Gately

After a strong showing against Watertown in the season opener, Winchester High Girl's field hockey team just didn't seem to have it last week as they lost two games against Melrose and Wakefield, 4-1 and 3-1.

In the 4-1 loss to the strong Melrose team, the score is misleading. Without the excellent play of Sachem goalie Nella Barrow, the Melrose team could have run away with it. She stopped many of Melrose's shots, which seemed like easy goals.

In the early moments of the game, the play went back and forth with no real scoring threats until Melrose broke down the field with a big rush. The halfbacks got caught upfield, but fullback Maria Leydon broke it up at midfield with a good steal.

Winchester had some chances but were stopped by some fine work by the Melrose fullbacks. Of their few shots, most went wide. Melrose finally broke on top late in the first half when McGee put one in after a pile up in front of the net.

Barrow kept the score down in the first half with some crucial saves in the front of the net.

Melrose started off the second half quickly when McBride scored on a high shot into the corner after a nice centering pass to go ahead 2-0.

Melrose continued to put pressure on Barrow as they hit the post. Melrose went up by three when, again open in front after a centering pass, Tambini powered one by.

Winchester's offense wouldn't quit as they tried to come back. Noble and Driscoll had some chances but the Melrose defense was tough.

After Barrow was stunned by a high shot which hit her helmet, Melrose's Tambini scored into an open net to conclude the Melrose scoring.

The Sachems finally got fired up, as Liz Fuller carried the ball down the right wing, dodging the Melrose defense, and made a good centering pass to Kathleen Driscoll who scored in front to finish off the scoring at 4-1.

Against second ranked Wakefield, Winchester again had second half problems.

The Sachems started off strongly putting pressure on the Wakefield goalie, but couldn't put one in. Good defensive work by Mary Russo, Margot Von Rosenveing and Maria Leydon kept the score even at 0-0 but not for too long.

Wakefield broke on top 1-0, when Trudeau put one in on a nice centering pass. Sachem goalie Nella Barrow kept the score at 1-0 at the end of the half with some good saves.

As in the Melrose game, Wakefield started off quickly. Wakefield's Pankratz scored on a fast rush up the left side to make it 2-0.

Becky Price, Kelly Evans, Linda Pierce and Kathleen Driscoll showed some good hustle for the Sachems. Beth Noble and Mary-Claire McCarthy were very aggressive, but the Winchester attack couldn't score.

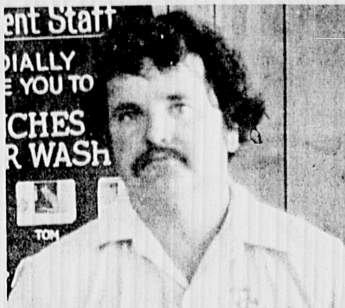

Wakefield scored again when Roos put one in with a crowd in front of the net and it was 3-0.

Winchester wouldn't give-up though, as Kathleen Driscoll broke away with only one defender to beat. She dodged by nicely and put one into the corner to make it 3-1, but it was too little, too late. Wakefield held on to win 3-1.

Winchester will try to get back on the winning track with a big game against Woburn. Woburn is ranked number one.

Field Hockey notes: The J.V. Field hockey team coached by Miss DiPietro tied Melrose in a scoreless game and lost a close one to Wakefield 2-1. The lone Sachem goal was scored by Christine Driscoll.

At the Melrose game, Winchester provided the half-time entertainment with a combination cheerleader and tumbelette group.

Thomas E. MacLean has been appointed assistant manager at the Shield System, Inc. car wash, 783 Main St., by owner-manager Ronald Campisi. MacLean handles equipment maintenance, directs wash employees, and is on hand to greet customers and explain the system's services. He lives in Bedford with his wife Ruthann and daughter Jennifer.

Doubles to come

Julian is town champ as town tennis moves indoors

by James R. Stewart Jr.

Nick Julian, 21 Bellevue ave. became the new Winchester Men's Singles Tennis Champion last Sunday as he defeated Philip Worthington, 6-1, 6-1.

Julian, one of the fine crop of tennis-playing sons of Fred Julian, confounded the seedings, where he was placed seventh, by sweeping to victory without losing a set. His closest match was with former champion Bill Macneil, 7-6, 6-4.

Worthington opened some eyes, too, as a first-time competitor, coming from a qualifying match to brush aside eighth-seeded Parker Gray in the third round, 11th seed Brooke Green in the quarter finals and ninth-seeded Chris Scanlon in the semi-finals.

Due to the excess of moisture on the 17th and 24th, the final rounds of all six events in this tournament had to be played indoors. The Winchester Indoor Tennis Center provided excellent facilities in this emergency. Managers John Koslowski and Doug Anderson were most helpful in making courts available for the Committee, beset with dire circumstances.

The senior men's singles title cup carries the name of Charlie Watson as the first engraving in this competition. Watson defeated Bob Horne in a grueling three-set match, replete with exciting rallies, 3 - 6, 7 - 6(5-3), 6 - 1. As the first and second seeds, Watson and Horne made the seeding Committee look good.

Sue Cowen continued her domination of the Women's competition, besting Stella Gallant in the singles, 6-3, 7-5, and teaming with Dede Cunningham for a doubles victory over Joan Richardson and Peggy Wiseman, 7-5, 6-1. The Cowen cup cupboard must be overflowing by now. Though she was extended to three sets in her first encounter with Meg Harris, Cowen breezed through her other matches until Gallant took her to the final set of this event. On the other hand, Gallant had relatively easy sailing until the final. The Cowen-Cunningham duo lost only eight games in three matches before stuttering to their final win.

Top seeded Wil Aldrich and Carmen Elio suffered a scare in their final match against second seeded Parker Gray and Dick Kadesch Jr. The ultimate losers took the first set 7-5, and were in front by three games in the second set before Aldrich and Elio were able to muster their forces and even the match at a set apiece, winning the second set by the same 7-5 score.

The third set, however, saw the practiced teamwork of two experts pay off for a convincing 6-3 victory for the title. It was notable, during match play, however, that the titlists were taken to three sets by third seeded Doug Carlson and Nick Julian in the semi-finals and by Hank Skehan and Chris Scanlon in the quarters.

The mixed doubles competition winner is still in doubt. Last Sunday, semi-finalists were decided, only, with that round and the finals scheduled for Saturday.

In the upper bracket, unseeded Prudy

Horne Jr. and Bob Horne will be pitted against also unseeded Glenda and Brooke Green. In the lower section, form also fell apart as Sandy Pomeroy and Doug Carlson reached the finals last week-end with a 7-5, 6-2 victory over fourth seeded Bee Gonella and Jim Phillips.

The Pomeroy - Carlson combination eliminated the top seed of Brenda Johnson and Carmen Elio in the third round and the sixth seed, Pinky and Al Samoiloff in the quarter finals, albeit in three sets.

The Hornes knocked off the second-seeded Sue Cowen and Chris Scanlon in the quarter finals and the seventh seed, Leslie and Vandy French in the third round.

The finals therefore, will be between Sandy Pomeroy - Doug Carlson and either the Hornes or the Greens. The location of the finals will depend on the weather, Saturday or Sunday and outdoor court conditions.

Throughout this extended tournament, the committee of the Winchester Tennis Association has had the utmost cooperation and understanding action of the players involved. There were few complaints, and for their wholehearted support, Chairpersons Wil and Pat Aldrich expressed their deepest thanks.

Praising the tournament committee, Aldrich stated that the festivities would not have been conducted as well without the help of Joan and Bill Bird, Cynthia Daley, Bill and Ann Ferry, Bob and Stella Gallant, Terry Fuller, Dave and Joan Miller and Jack O'Callaghan. And the Umpires for the final matches, the Birds, Jim Stewart and Jack Corf deserve plaudits for jobs well done.

Jeannette Trowbridge weds Bruce Stebbins in Hingham

Jeannette Hulbert Trowbridge and Bruce Halcot Stebbins were married September 10 at St. John the Evangelist Episcopal Church in Hingham.

The bride, of 19 Lafayette ave. in

Mrs. Jeannette Stebbins

Hingham, is the daughter of Mrs. Newton Claypool Trowbridge and the late Mr. Trowbridge. She was given in marriage by her brother, Eliot Deland Trowbridge. The Rev. John M. Gallop officiated at the double ceremony in the church decorated with pedestal arrangements of pink and white roses and ferns.

The groom, whose residence is 163 State st., Montpelier, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Donald Stebbins of 29 Oxford st.

ribbon inserts and a small satin bow at the back. Her flowers were a cascade of white roses with Stephanotis, edelweiss, and ferns.

Mrs. Peter W. Gammons of Hingham was matron of honor for her sister. She wore a full-skirted mauve pink gown with a deep flounce and a contrasting hand embroidered long-sleeved white blouse. Her headpiece was a semicirclet of pink roses. Mrs. Gammons carried a natural basket with cascading pink roses, baby's breath and ferns.

Bridesmaids were Miss Leslie Haydon Trowbridge of Weymouth, sister of the bride, and Mrs. Holly Gudelsky of Maryland and Mrs. Lori Aikens of New Bedford. They wore white voile gowns with mauve pink and moss green flower print. The deep flounced gowns had draw string scoop necklines and bell sleeves. They wore a semicirclet head bands with pink carnations and ferns. The bridesmaids carried natural baskets of cascading miniature pink carnations, baby's breath and ferns.

James Paul Wheeler of Winchester was best man and ushers were Mr. Craig Barret of Hartford, Mr. Craig S. Leslie of Bowling Green, Kentucky, and Mr. Walter M. Benham of Harvard, Mass.

The bride's mother wore a long sleeved, full length rose pink matte jersey gown with silk roses at the waist. The groom's mother wore a long sleeved, full length moss green matte jersey gown with cymbidium orchids.

The bride attended Hingham High School, from which she graduated in 1973. She also received a bachelor of science degree in 1977 from the University of New Hampshire, with a major in environmental sciences. She is employed by the Vermont Natural Resources Council as an editorial assistant.

The groom, who graduated from Winchester High School, earned a bachelor of arts degree in English from American International College in Springfield in 1974. He is news and music director of radio station WSK1 in Montpelier.

Following a reception at the Cohasset Golf Club, the couple went on a wedding trip to Maine. They will be making their home in Montpelier.

Mrs. Elizabeth Jaskulski

Lydia Greene, Steven Mood plan to marry

Elizabeth Hall wed Sept. 17th at Unitarian

The Unitarian Church was the setting, for the wedding of Miss Elizabeth Ann Hall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur H. Hall of Winchester and Derek Cichon Jaskulski, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Jaskulski of Pelham, N.Y.

The Reverend Jack Zorheide officiated at the 2 p.m. ceremony which was followed by a reception at the home of the bride's family.

Escorted and given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of ivory silk organza styled with a Queen Anne neckline. The high rise bodice was banded with Venice Lace from the neckline into the skirt.

Miss Polly de Mille and Christopher Dietemann were the honor attendants. Bridesmaids were Miss Barbara Benz, Miss Sarah Brim, Mrs. Meredith Appy, and Miss Martha Newcomb. John Wright, David Caldwell, Barry Spaulding, and Stephen Griffin served as ushers.

The bride is a 1976 graduate of Smith College and graduated from Abbot Academy in 1972. Her father is treasurer of the C. & H. Company, an industrial real estate company.

Mr. Jaskulski received a bachelor's degree from Amherst College in 1975 and a master's degree in Political Science from Columbia University in 1976. He is a commodities broker with Merrill, Lynch, Pierce, Fenner and Smith. His father is a portrait photographer with Bachrach Studios in New York City.

The couple plans to take up residence in Cambridge, Mass.

League coffee open to new membership

On Friday at 9 a.m. the League of Women Voters of Winchester will welcome new members to their annual coffee at the home of Mrs. Stanley Ruta, 9 Ridgely rd. Everyone is welcome. An invitation is not necessary.

The League studies and takes action on a broad range of topics such as energy and the environment. Prospective members will be able to ask questions about these topics as well as other things that interest them regarding the League. You will not be under any obligation to join, but the League will welcome new members.

Anyone interested in attending or who needs a ride may call Mrs. Theodore Wood 729-4976 or Mrs. Stanley Ruta 729-4513. Arrangements for babysitting may be made by calling Mrs. Richard Gies, 729-6768.

Symmes' 25th well attended

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Symmes of Winter Park, Fla., formerly of Winchester, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary on Sept. 3, at the home of their eldest son, Brigadier General Kenneth R. Symmes and his wife, Norma.

The celebration took place at Fort Huachuca, Ariz., where all seven of their children were able to gather. Brigadier General Symmes' children, Karen, Susan, and Steven arrived from Colorado, but their youngest son, Russell, was unable to attend as he was at football camp at Arizona State University.

Virginia White, their eldest daughter flew in from Woburn, but her son, Chip, had already started college at Susquehanna University in Pennsylvania, and could not attend.

Debby and her husband, Charles Sarto

Walsh of Woodland Hills, California and their four children, Jeffrey, Carolyn, David, and Elizabeth, were all there for the occasion. Priscilla and her husband, Robert W. Klein, flew in from Burbank, Calif.

Stowell and his wife, Janice, and their four children, Stephanie, Jeffrey, Gregory, and Jonathan, arrived from North Plainfield, N.J. Roger and his wife, Margaret, and the youngest grandchild, Cathy, arrived from Jacksonville, Fla. The youngest daughter, Libby and her husband, Ben F. Smathers, came from Orlando, Fla., and completed the family circle.

Carmen Pous Riba of Mexico City and her daughter, Dr. Carmen Pous Pena, who was a member of the Symmes family for a year while attending Mystic School, also attended the celebration. Many cards, gifts, and congratulatory messages were received by Betty and Russell Symmes.

Rotondi committee to hold reception for election fund

The Committee to re-elect Sam Rotondi State Senator today announced plans for a reception to be held in the senator's honor at the Montvale Plaza in Stoneham Oct. 13.

Dr. Gleason to be guest speaker at Newcomers mtg.

Walter P. Gleason, assistant superintendent of schools for curriculum and instruction here, will be guest speaker at the October meeting of the Winchester Newcomers Club.

The meeting is scheduled for 8 p.m. Tuesday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Minniti, 5 Grove st.

Dr. Gleason is a former elementary school principal, having served in that capacity in Conway, N.H., Natick, and Weston. He has taught at Boston and Tufts Universities. He also has done extensive work in learning psychology and educational television.

A director of the Massachusetts Association of Supervision and Curriculum Development, Dr. Gleason has a B.S. degree in economics and an M.Ed. degree in curriculum. His doctorate is a D.Ed. degree in curriculum and psychology.

Mrs. Jan Carrigan, Newcomers president, said the program would be of special interest to new residents with children of school age. Husbands of club members are urged to attend. At the same time, she issued a special invitation to all adults who have moved into Winchester in the past three years.

Light refreshments will be served following the program.

Members and guests planning to attend the meeting are asked to notify Mrs. Minniti by noon Tuesday.

Raymond J. Kenney Jr.

Kenney assumes presidency of Mass. Bar Assoc.

Former Town Moderator Raymond J. Kenney Jr. of 5 Salisbury st. has become the 46th president of the Massachusetts Bar Association (MBA). He has served as president-elect for the past year.

A partner in the Boston law firm of Martin, Magnuson, McCarthy & Kenney, he is a 1958 graduate of Boston College Law School.

Kenney was chairman of the Judicial Nominating Commission of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts from 1975-77 and Winchester's moderator from 1972-77. He has also served on the town's finance committee and was chairman of that board from 1970-71. In 1971-72 he was a representative to the Metropolitan Area Planning Council.

Born in Boston, Kenney earned his undergraduate degree from Boston College in 1953. He served in the army as a first lieutenant for three years before attending law school.

He has been an instructor at Boston University Law School and for the Mass. Department of Education University Extension and a lecturer with Mass. Continuing Legal Education, Inc. He is a fellow of the American College of Trial Lawyers, the American Bar Foundation, and the Mass. Bar Foundation.

From 1965-72 Kenney was an associate editor of the Mass. Law Quarterly; he was editor in chief from 1973-76. He is a member of the American, Mass., Middlesex and Lowell Bar Associations and of the House of Delegates of the American Bar Association. He is an author contributing to the Martin & Hennessey Automobile Law and Practice. Kenney's practice is primarily in the area of civil litigation, chiefly on behalf of insurers.

He is a incorporator of the Winchester Savings Bank and was a director of the local chapter of the American Red Cross from 1968-71.

He lives with his wife Claire and their four children, Marianne, Raymond, Stephen and John.

Mid-life women topic for first NOW mtg.

Dr. Roslyn Barnett will be taking a look at women in mid-life from a psychological point of view at the first general meeting of the Lexington area National Organization for Women, of which Winchester is a part.

The lecture, held at the Methodist Church, 2600 Mass ave., Lexington (between Lexington center and route 128), will be followed by group discussion and refreshments.

For information call Fran McClintock at 34 Fells rd. or Binnie Backer at 124 Church st. Transportation will be available.

Diet Workshop at Crawford Church

The Diet Workshop classes, which have been meeting weekly at the Church of the Epiphany, will now be held at the United Methodist Church on Church street starting Oct. 6 at 9:30 a.m. and 7:30 p.m.

Visitors will be welcome without charge at the Oct. 6 class. New members may join at any meeting. For more information, contact the Diet Workshop, 177 Woodlawn st., Wilmington, 01887.

Mites defeat Newton 5-1 in season opener

The Winchester Mite hockey team opened their season Saturday at Burlington Ice Palace with a 5-1 win over Newton. Newton was the 1976 Mite Champion of the Middlesex Youth Hockey League.

Winchester's Derek Sullivan opened the scoring in the first period after 4:45 had been played. The goal came after a well-executed rush down the left wing.

Only 40 seconds later, Greg Winn picked up a loose puck in his own end and beat Newton's goalie on a wrist shot.

The second period score came 9:38 into the period when Pete Regan and Billy Coppino assisted Scott Paine with his first goal of the season.

In the third period, Winchester scored eight seconds after the face-off with Pete Regan shooting a long wrist shot from the blue line. Regan scored another goal with a wrist shot from the slot.

Goalie Kevin Boyle was beaten with 20 seconds left to play by Newton's Michaels, who knocked in a loose puck for the only Newton goal. Boyle had a number of outstanding saves, robbing Newton twice on breakaways.

Winchester's David Butt, Sukjong Chung, Ted Dever and Marc Todisco played solid defense. A new line of Timmy Day, Matt Quill and Marc Falzano showed great promise while playing against Newton's first line.

The Mites' next game will be played at 3 p.m. this Saturday at the USA Rink in Winchester against Woburn.

Winchester High School's soccer team lost to Watertown but managed to hold on against a tough Belmont team last week. On Tuesday they tied Burlington 3-3, to make their record 2-1-2 for the season. Here an unidentified lineman makes a corner kick in Saturday's 2-1 win over Belmont. (Staff photo)

Tie Burlington, 3-3

Soccer outlasts Belmont, 2-1, then loses to Watertown, 1-0

In a close game Winchester High Boy's soccer team slipped by Belmont 2-1. Belmont came close to tying it late in the game, but Winchester held on to win.

Winchester broke on top early in the game, when David McLaughlin scored from a nice pass by Jim Oliver.

Winchester took the lead again in the second quarter. On a nice pass from Jack Driscoll, Jim Oliver put one in from the left side. Winchester's defense then took over.

The score was kept at 2-1 at the end of the first half with great defensive plays by Jim Gebhard, Robert Horn, Mark Mulvaney and goalie John Waite.

For most of the third quarter the play went back and forth with no real scoring threats. Belmont had one chance when the ball was lying just in front of the Sachems' goal line. George Casey made a fine play and saved a goal by quickly clearing the ball out. But Belmont wasn't through yet.

Belmont put the pressure on in the fourth quarter, as they came close to scoring the tying goal. Two corner kicks were headed just wide and a shot from a breakaway went just over the net. Then with less than one minute left in the game, Belmont had a clear shot in net but Waite made a game saving dive to end the game.

Soccer notes: Winchester High Soccer team dropped one to Watertown 1-0 Sept. 20, which now makes the record 2-1-1. J.V. Soccer team coached by Don Latham tied Belmont in a scoreless game.

introduced gradually and both skills will be developed at each youngster's individual pace.

For the advanced youngster who can skate and would like to develop hockey skills, a separate clinic will emphasize power skating, stick handling, maneuverability, checking and, of course, how to turn on the red light by shooting the puck into the net. Intensive instructions for those wishing to be goalies will be a feature of this clinic.

Safety is of prime concern, therefore, participants are expected to wear protective equipment such as helmet, mouth guard and pads. The instructors or the Sports Shop will be happy to explain what equipment is necessary.

Registration for the clinics will be on Sunday, Oct. 2 at 8 a.m. for both the beginners class and the advanced group. The clinics are open to both residents and non-residents.

Sachems to go against Reading in third contest

The Winchester Sachems go after their third victory of the season Saturday afternoon against Reading at Manchester Field.

The last two have been close, defensive struggles, with the Sachems coming out on top 6-0 over Natick and 7-6 over Burlington. Poor weather has kept the crowd down the past two weekends, but the team still needs as much support as it can muster.

The starting lineup for Saturday's game is as follows:

Offense

Ends — Brian O'Connor & Harold Murphy.
Tackles — Gerald DiBlasi & John Della Grotte.

Guards — Wayne Maggio, Toby Daley, Steve Smith.

Center — Kevin Foley.

Quarterback — Don Allard.

Fullbacks — Tom Murray & Dave Downing.

Halfbacks — Scott Farrar, Anthony Davis, Sam Bellino, Mark O'Neil.

Defense

Ends — Nick Fitzgerald, Mike Wise, Craig Hanchett.

Tackles — Joe DiBlasi, John Della Grotte, Brian O'Connor, Tom Connolly.

Noseguard — Bill Monson.

Linebackers — Wayne Maggio, Tom Murray, Mark Barry.

Defensive backs — Dave Guarnaccia, Anthony Davis, Harold Murphy.

Winchester QB Donny Allard, who some say is the best in the league, takes the ball out for an end run in game Saturday against Burlington's Red Devils. Sachems squeaked by, 7-6.

8 turnovers

Sachems slog through rain to defeat Devils, 7-6

By Jon Kalman

The Winchester Sachems clawed their way to a second straight triumph 7-6, over the Burlington Red Devils at Burlington's Varsity Field. The game was well played, considering the steady southeast downpour.

Burlington, rated eighth in preseason polls, battled number two ranked Winchester down to the final whistle before dropping the game to the Sachems.

Co-captain and quarterback Steve O'Brien established the Red Devils' running game early, as the Burlington squad marched inside the Winchester ten yard line on the first set of downs. The drive was highlighted by an exciting 42-yard run by senior back Walter Dillingham on the opening play from scrimmage.

The Red Devils seemed sure to score, but after an incomplete pass attempt, quarterback O'Brien fumbled the ball on an errant handoff and linebacker Tom Murray recovered the ball for the Sachems. This was the first of a combined eight turnovers as both teams were forced to fight the elements throughout the game.

The Winchester offense sputtered on their first possession and Brian O'Connor was forced to punt from inside his own end zone. He really got behind this one, as it sailed for 47-yards. O'Connor had an excellent punting day, averaging 42-yards per punt.

The Red Devils took over the ball on Winchester's 48-yard line and on the first play from scrimmage Dillingham was hit hard and the ball squirted loose. Alert Sachem Sam Bellino made the recovery on the 32-yard line. The Sachems moved upfield as Anthony Davis, Sam Bellino, and Mark O'Neil ran through the Red Devil line. However a fumbled pitch-out to O'Neil was recovered by Burlington linebacker Jim Gochis and the Red Devils were back in business on their 32-yard line.

Three plays later the Red Devils were threatening at the Winchester 16-yard line as Dillingham ran for 28-yards, O'Brien hit co-captain Adam Poirier for 20 yards, and a 15-yard facemask penalty went against the Sachems. Once again the Red Devils had the ball in easy scoring position.

Here the Sachem's famous "Goal Line Defense" took over, and on the next two downs Sachem defender Nick Fitzgerald sacked O'Brien twice for a total loss of 13-yards. The quarter ended with Red Devil Jeff Verzone recovering a fourth down O'Brien fumble.

Winchester's opening second quarter offense stalled and O'Connor was called to punt. A clipping penalty on Red Devil Chris Fickett's return forced the Burlington offense inside their ten yard line.

On third-and-six, O'Brien was intercepted by Anthony Davis on a fine diving catch, but the Sachems lost possession on the next down on an interception by Burlington's Brian Strachen.

Burlington gained only one yard on three plays as Bill Monson and tri-captains Wayne Maggio and John Della Grotte stifled the Red Devil runners.

Fred Delgrosso's punt was then partially blocked by Winchester's Mike Wise, and Tom Murray fielded the ball and ran back for 12 yards to the Burlington 34 yard line.

Anthony Davis then carried five consecutive times for 31-yards, and tri-captain Don Allard finished up running around right end for three yards and a touchdown. O'Connor split the crossbars for the extra point and the Sachems led 7-0.

Burlington returned the ball to the 23 yard line, but the Winchester defensive line jumped all over Red Devil co-captain Gerald Algere, forcing the fumble, and John Della Grotte recovered the loose ball.

Allard moved the Sachems 20 yards to the 18, but on third and eight he just missed connecting with wide receiver Bill Murphy for a TD. O'Connor's attempted 35-yard field goal hooked to the left to end the half with the score still 7-0 in Winchester.

The Red Devils threatened early at the start of the third quarter as Brian Strachen recovered a fumbled pitch-out on Winchester's 30 yard line. However the attack soon stalled as Sachems Wayne Maggio and Nick Fitzgerald sacked Brian for three-yard losses and Gerald DiBlasi and John Della Grotte provided key defensive tackles.

The remainder of the quarter passed quickly while both teams jockeyed for position until Red Devil quarterback O'Brien connected three times for 57 yards to end the third quarter. Adam Poirier was on the receiving end twice for 50 yards and Jack Fahey caught the other pass for seven.

The Red Devils started out the fourth by moving inside the five yard line. On second down, goal-to-go, Burlington's O'Brien fumbled and O'Connor recovered on the four to halt the attack.

Allard fumbled again on the first play, but an alert Kevin Foley jumped on the ball to save it for Winchester. The Sachems got out to the 23 yard line, aided by a pass interference call. After making four more yards, Burlington's Jim Armstrong and Chris Fickett sacked Allard for losses totalling 14 yards, and Winchester was forced to punt.

O'Connor's punt from the endzone hit midfield, where Algere returned 20 yards to the Winchester 30.

O'Brien guided the Red Devils down to the Winchester goal line and on third down swept in behind center Ron Fusco for the TD. The Red Devils then tried for a two-point conversion, but Algere was stopped on what turned out to be a game-saving defensive play by Mike Wise. Score: Winchester 7, Burlington 6.

On the Burlington kickoff by Jim Crocker, Sachem receiver Bill Murphy fumbled the ball and it was recovered on the Winchester 36 by Red Devil Jim Gochis.

With three minutes remaining, Burlington made a final drive for victory but was stopped cold on fourth down and inches by Bill Monson and an outstanding Sachem defense. Allard and the offense ran out the clock to secure another team victory for the undefeated Sachems.

Early Birds

The Warblers in the Winchester Early Birds bowling league are in first place. Team members are MaryLou Chebook and Ann Matrandola.

The Starlings are in second place. Team members are Elaine Binding and Joan Kelly. The high team series of 1177 was earned by the Doves. Team members are MaryJane Brooks, Jo Vacca and Mary Sullivan.

High three games was earned by Heather Bass with 439.

Bowler of the day was Diana Couture with a 166, and right behind her was Jackie Wert with a 165.

Congratulations to Merna Wilson who made the very difficult 4-9-10 spare.

New bowlers are welcome and should contact Diana Couture of 21 Old Colony rd., Arlington.

Pop Warner A, C teams roll over Stoneham 27-0, 6-0

In their second Middlesex League encounter, the Winchester A team defense continues to be tough, while the offense, led once again by Adam Hirschmann's two TD's for the second week in a row and excellent ball control by quarterback Joe Donlon, continued to pour it on.

Adam scored his first touchdown late in the first period, taking a handoff from Donlon and rambling 35 yards for the score. Joe Donlon passed to Mark Merritt for the conversion. Adam's second score coming in the second quarter was on a dive up the middle. Donlon to Merritt once again for the conversion. Half time score Winchester 14, Stoneham 0.

The second half was a repeat of the first with the Winchester defense not allowing Stoneham to get beyond the mid-field mark. Stoneham found itself with many third down and long situations. The defense has not allowed any of their opponents much yardage so far mainly due to the play of linebacker Ted Gutierrez and the defensive line which is anchored at middle guard by Bill MacMillan. Second half scoring was provided by full back Chris Kelley five yards off tackle. Joe Donlon to Jimmy Feeley for the conversion, and a perfectly executed pass from Joe Donlon to Ted Gutierrez with the conversion failing.

Outstanding on offense: Joe Russo, Don Hoffman, Greg Kirk, Jeff Tinkel, Joe Adlesberger, Chris Wagstrom. Outstanding on defense: Dave Fariolo, Chris Kelley, Pat Gill, Bill MacMillan, Mike Gately, Brian Guarnotta, Steve Costello.

For the second week in a row, Ted Gutierrez was singled out for the most valuable player in the game, and was presented the game ball by head coach Art Giannelli.

A big test is in store for next week, when Winchester travels to Burlington, which has been one of the perennial power-houses in the Middlesex-League. It should be one whale of a game.

The Pop Warner "C" Team played a very aggressive football game and beat Stoneham 6-0 on Sunday at Manchester Field. This was their first win of the season, having been defeated the previous week at Melrose.

Andrew Goodlatte scored the only touchdown on a 40-yard run around the right and midway through the second period.

Michael Burke, David Del Grotti, Billy Harris, Brendon Gurry, Jeffery Dwing, Keith Parry, Mark Herlihy, John Ockerbloom and Goodlatte all played outstanding football on defense and offense. The entire team played well, and the defense unit never let the opponents inside their 40 yard line.

The "C" Team will play against a strong Billerica team at 11:00 A.M. on Sunday.

Parent effectiveness course offered this fall

Dr. Thomas Gordon's Parent Effectiveness Training (PET) course will be offered again at the First Congregational Church by PET instructor Carolyn Tiffany. This basic course for parents, started in 1962 by Dr. Gordon, a psychologist, is a nationwide program designed to give mothers and fathers the skills they need for the world's toughest job - parenthood.

In this 10-session course, parents will learn skills helpful in raising children who are responsible, considerate, happy, and independent. As parents learn ways to raise self-esteem they may also learn how to listen to children's feelings and how to express their own feelings in a non-damaging way as they attempt to change unacceptable behavior. Finally, problem-solving where no one "loses" is introduced to provide a way to reduce conflict in the home.

The focus of PET is educational rather than therapeutic; through a carefully designed program of in-class learning and at-home practice, parents become familiar with new skills of communication. Many parents quickly realize that these skills are applicable to any kind of relationship. Since 1962 over a quarter of a million parents have been trained through PET courses, which have been endorsed by churches, schools, nurseries, YMCA's and many social agencies.

Who takes PET? Parents of teenagers and parents of younger children, parents with no problems and parents who see danger signals, parents who are doing a good job and want to do better; in effect any parent may derive benefits from PET.

A new PET class is now being formed to be offered on 10 consecutive Wednesday evenings, starting Sept. 28. The cost includes instructor's fee, textbook and workbook. For information, call Carolyn Tiffany at 862-4726.

Lincoln parents get together for business meeting

A morning coffee welcoming new parents and a general business meeting of the Lincoln School Parents' Association was held Sept. 20 in the school library.

William Warnock, principal, welcomed the parents new to Lincoln School. President of the parents' association, Mrs. Noreen Arcari, conducted the first general business meeting of the year.

Frances Russell, director of English for the Winchester School system, discussed parents' questions concerning the language arts curriculum in the Winchester schools. She then outlined the new elementary school English program, to be initiated this year in Winchester schools.

Ambrose board discusses plans for coming year

The first board meeting of the Ambrose Elementary School was held recently with Ms. Connie Doherty presiding as president. Plans were discussed and made for coming activities of the school year.

Robert Forest, the principal, discussed the present enrollment of the school and each class, the impact of the increased enrollment, and new members of the staff and services added to the school.

To acquaint new parents with the school, an orientation coffee was held last Wednesday afternoon. The parent association officers were introduced as well as the members of the staff. Forest discussed briefly the philosophy of the school and the remainder of the time was spent by parents visiting the open areas and acquainting themselves with the curriculum and the child's school day.

Marlboro Lights

The spirit of Marlboro in a low tar cigarette.

Lighter in taste. Lower in tar.
And still offers up the same quality that has made Marlboro famous.

Warning: The Surgeon General Has Determined
That Cigarette Smoking Is Dangerous to Your Health.

12 mg "tar," 0.7 mg nicotine av. per cigarette, FTC Report Aug. 77

A REALISTIC APPROACH

During inflation (and we're in it), there's an excellent case for investing in real estate. Most of the investment is paid for with borrowed money. Someone else's fixed-dollar savings provides your mortgage money. Even though home prices have risen several notches each year, a mortgage loan is the only way the average consumer can borrow long-term money.

This, then, is your big chance to turn inflation to your advantage. Your mortgage gives you full-price dollars to work with today. You then pay them back with cheaper dollars you will be earning for the next 20 to 30 years. On top of that, with an average 6 percent inflation rate, home values double every 12 years.

This isn't a cynical approach. It's realistic. In fact, it's one of the main reasons why many wealthy individuals continue to make big real estate investments. And you can do the same with a home that you own and need anyway.

If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone or drop in at ANN BLACKHAM & CO., 11 Thompson St., Winchester, Phone 729-1663. We're here to help!

September 1977 Work on a project you'll remember in September 1982.

This is what it's like to be an Arthur D. Little secretary. Working with creative people solving problems that often have worldwide impact.

This October, our consultants may be analyzing a possible wheat shortage in a foreign country. Reorganizing a city's public transportation system. Advising a pharmaceutical company on a packaging problem.

Governments and industries all over the world call us. We say hardly anything is none of our business. We make what we're doing our secretaries' business, by solid orientation and the chance to move from project to project.

This is an excellent place to shape your career. Informal atmosphere. Fast pace. Would you fit? Are you more than a skilled secretary? Can you type 65-75 wpm? Have you had secretarial experience? Flexible, personable, used to pressure, responsible — with intellectual curiosity and a desire to be involved?

We should talk. Our excellent benefits include tuition aid, three weeks' vacation, profit sharing, and much more.

Call 864-5770 and speak with Helen Taverna, ext. 2204, or Charlotte Evans, ext. 2243. Today.

THE JOB YOU ARE LOOKING FOR

We may or may not have right now, but we may have it 10 days from now, or 2 months from now.

During the past 16 years the only promise we ever made to job applicants is that we will not forget you, or what you are looking for.

We are a general agency and have placed Personnel in top, middle and executive management, engineering and technical positions, the data processing field, sales secretarial and general office careers. We doubt if any agency knows the insurance industry better.

There is no cost to you, the job applicants.

Sixteen years in the same office (1) finding jobs (2) locating applicants, and (3) matching them together, we must be doing something right.

The sooner you call or come in, the sooner we can begin searching.

Alden H. Symmes

Alden Howard Symmes of Bradenton, Fla., a native and long-time resident of Winchester, died unexpectedly in Melrose Sept. 21 at the age of 78.

He was born here on March 16, 1899 to Lucius R. Symmes of Winchester and Mary (Brooks) Symmes of Maine. He graduated from Winchester High School in 1917 and attended Boston University night school. He served in the army as a private.

A lifelong master mason of the William Parkman Lodge, AF & AM, he sang with the Mystic Glee Club and played several leads in the performances of Gilbert and Sullivan operettas.

While living in Winchester, he resided at 10A Winthrop st. until 1934; at 39 Kenwin rd. from 1934-37; and at 4 Ridgfield rd. from 1937-49. He also lived in Melrose from 1949-69.

From 1917-71 he worked as a stockbroker with Kidder, Peabody & Boston.

His wife, the late Ruby Payne Symmes, he leaves two daughters, Lucille S. Wilson of Cincinnati and Brenda S. Sabins of Baltimore; and a son, Robert A. of Lowell.

Rev. Warren R. Radtke officiated at services at the Trinity Episcopal Church in Melrose. Burial was in Wildwood Cemetery.

Memorial donations may be sent to the First Church of Christ, Scientist, of which Mr. Symmes was a member, at 84 Green st., Melrose, 02176.

Arrangements were by the Norris Funeral Home.

Joseph E. Coulter

Word was received here of the death September 9 of Joseph E. Coulter. Mr. Coulter died in Clearwater, Florida at the age of 90. He had resided at 200 N. Betty lane.

Born in Brockton, Mr. Coulter moved to Florida 19 years ago from Winchester. He was a member of the Episcopal Church of the Good Samaritan, Clearwater, and the Paul Revere Lodge

John F. Daly

John Francis Daly died Friday in Pomona, N.Y., at the age of 75. Mr. Daly, a Billerica resident 15 years, had lived in Winchester for 35 years.

Born in Ireland, he attended schools here and was employed as a pipe fitter for Exxon Oil Company in Everett for 35 years until his retirement ten years ago.

Mr. Daly was the husband of the late Catherine L. (Mawn) Daly. He is survived by three daughters, Mrs. Mary McCabe of Medford, Mrs. Catherine Greene of New York, and Mrs. Anne Calnan of Danvers. He also leaves 14 grandchildren and six great-grandchildren.

He was the brother of Mrs. Anne Spear of Wakefield and Mrs. Jane Creede of Revere.

A funeral mass was held at the Immaculate Conception Church in Winchester on September 26. Rev. William Cummings was the celebrant. Burial followed in Calvary Cemetery, Woburn. Lane Funeral Home handled the arrangements.

Mary S. Barboza

Funeral services for Mary S. (Shaw) Barboza, 76, of 9 South Gateway, will be conducted by Rev. John Bishop in the Church of the Epiphany tomorrow at 11 a.m.

A native of Canada and a Winchester resident for 12 years, Mrs. Barboza died Tuesday at Malden Hospital.

She was the wife of Anthony Barboza of Winchester and

Frederick Merk

Frederick Merk, Gurney professor of history and political science emeritus at Harvard, author of many books on American westward expansion, beloved teacher known as Harvard's Mr. Chips, died of a heart attack Saturday at Mt. Auburn Hospital. The 90-year-old Mr. Merk was awaiting galley proofs for a book based on his advanced lecture course, "History of the Westward Movement," at the time of his death. The book will be published this fall by Alfred A. Knopf, Inc.

Mr. Merk, who leaves a son, Frederick Bannister Merk of Winchester, was born in Wisconsin and attended schools there, going on to receive a degree from the University of Wisconsin in 1911. Since 1916 he was associated with Harvard, first as a doctoral student and then as professor.

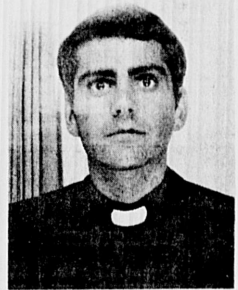

Mr. Merk held memberships in several historical societies and was honored with three doctorates.

In addition to his son, Frederick, Mr. Merk leaves his wife, Lois Bannister Merk of Belmont, a daughter, Katharine Merk Freeman of Rochester, and four grandchildren.

A memorial service will be held at The Memorial Church in Harvard Yard on October 14 at 3 p.m. Gifts in Mr. Merk's memory may be made to Harvard University for the Frederick Merk Fund, established by students in 1960 for the purchase of books in American history.

Rev. J. Mericantante to join lend-lease program in Chile

Rev. John J. Mericantante III, son of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Mericantante, Jr., of 26 Lockeland rd., has received permission from His Eminence, Humberto Cardinal Medeiros, to serve in a lend-lease program for one to two years in the archdiocese of Santiago, Chile. Father John's assignment is on the coast under the Episcopal Vicar Rene Vio Valdivieso.

Father John's temporary address until assigned to a definite parish in Chile is Compania 2075, Santiago, Chile. His trip to South America will include stops to see his sister Diane Mericantante La Marca, a former Miss Winchester and wife of the late Guy La Marca of the La Marca Construction Company, now of Fort Lauderdale. He will also stop to see his other sister, Debra Mericantante, a recent graduate of the Boston College School of Nursing now stationed at the East Jefferson General Hospital in New Orleans.

Issues for 80's is topic at Unitarian

Next Sunday, Oct. 2 the Winchester Unitarian Church will begin the October series on this year's adult-youth education theme: "Issues for the 80's: The New American Community."

Following the worship service and coffee hour Fran Moulton will conduct a values clarification session.

Theodore J. Gordon,

President of "The Future Group" contends that American lifestyle will be as different in the 1980's as it now is from the pain, divisiveness and "future shock" of the '60s. The increasing shortage of energy will affect us all in profound ways, Gordon says. "I believe that rapid change is likely to continue but (thank God) in a new direction."
